Governor Pinkham's Dinner Party.
Wednesday evening Governor Lucius E. Pinkham gave a farewell dinner in honor of General and Mrs. John P. Wisser, who are leaving Honolulu for their Oakland home on June 6. The table was most artistically decorated with the pastel shades in snapdragons and lacy ferns in the same tones made a shadowy and handsome effect, and 196 silk-shaded silver candelabra gave an artistic finish to a very lovely table.

The gowns worn by the ladies were notably beautiful. Mrs. Wisser wore cream-colored chiffon with a touch of black. Mrs. R. K. Evans wore brocade cloth-of-gold shot with Indian blue. Mrs. Samuel I. Johnson wore lemon-colored lace and tulle with a bit of contrasting color. Mrs. F. S. Strong wore a handsome blue charmeuse gown with a tracing of seed pearls. Mrs. F. M. Swanzy was in an exquisite white gown. Mrs. O. L. Howell appeared in a biscuit-shade of chiffon. Mrs. C. W. C. Deering was effective in a handsome rose-point over chiffon and maline. Mrs. F. W. Coe was gowned in old blue and silver. Mrs. F. P. Reynolds was very smart in a black and white frock.

Mrs. C. S. Lincoln wore white tulle with bead trimming. Mrs. J. B. Houston was most becomingly gowned in white. Mrs. C. T. Boush wore a white net with a charmeuse slip. Mrs. B. W. Atkinson was handsomely attired in blue chiffon velvet.

Mrs. C. H. Cooper wore a shade in old blue with a fish-scale overdress, most attractive indeed.

Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper made the Governor's guests very welcome. The dancing room was colorful in red gladiolus, the hall was fragrant with masses of Easter lilies and it was an altogether delightful evening.

The Governor's guests were General and Mrs. John P. Wisser, the honor guests; General and Mrs. Robert K. Evans, General and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong, General and Mrs. Samuel I. Johnson, N. G. H.; Admiral and Mrs. Clifford Boush, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Swanzy, Colonel and Mrs. Daniel L. Howell, Colonel and Mrs. Frank W. Coe, Colonel and Mrs. Frederick Reynolds, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lincoln, Colonel and Mrs. James B. Houston, Colonel William C. Rafferty, Colonel and Mrs. Benjamin Atkinson, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant Cooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Unger Entertained.

This evening a pot supper will be given at the Courtland hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Julius Unger in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lytell. The Ungers will take their guests to see the production of "The Yellow Ticket" at the Bijou, after which all will return to the Courtland and enjoy the pot supper. Yellow leis will be at each corner with a central adornment of the same brilliant color in coropsis. After the pot supper all will motor to Heinie's and dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Lytell (Miss Evelyn Vaughan) have scores of friends in Honolulu and much is being done for this very clever couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Unger's guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lytell, the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Mettler, Mr. and Mrs. Boylan, Mr. and Mrs. Cykler, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Monsarrat, Mrs. Hannah Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Foucar, Miss Kelley, Miss Davis, Miss Halls, Miss Florence Lee, Miss Bartlett, Miss Mossman, Miss Johnson, Mr. Clarence Waterman, Mr. Persis, Lieut. Wm. Covell, Mr. Fred Ohrt, Mr. Moffit, Mr. Alexis Luce and others.

Expected From Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Cortlandt Bishop of New York are expected back soon from Honolulu and will make another stay at the Fairmont before returning to the East. During their last visit here in April they brought two lemurs from Madagascar, which have been shipped to their place at Lenox. In Pasadena they bought a German police dog. When they were in California last year the Bishops bought a monkey, which they took to their Lenox estate, so they will soon have a small menagerie there.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cartwright entertained Monday evening at one of the most original and charming dinners lately. They invited their guests for evening. A handsome green cloth covered the table. Beautiful fluted doilies were used. No usual floral piece marked the table center, but there was a miniature drinking fountain and in the rim of the bowl birds were quenching their thirst. The table gave the effect of a Roman garden.

Mrs. Cartwright is original and has a fine hand at combining colors and realizing something out of the ordinary. Tulle in the floral shades hung as a rainbow.

The evening was a pleasant one. After dinner the Bijou play was the magnet that drew the guests, after which they motored to Capt. Creighton's for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright's guests were Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Desmond Kelley, Miss Abby Buchanan, Miss Edith Williams, Mrs. James Ward Russell of Hilo, Capt. Samuel S. Creighton, Capt. J. Johnson, Mr. Alipaki Smith, Mr. Fred Ohrt, Mr. William Warren and Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Sloan of Fort Shafter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Olson's Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Olson were host and hostess at a very delightful dinner on Wednesday evening. A handsome basket occupied the table center, filled with Enchantress pink carnations and white candy tuft. Original name cards of hand-painted ballet girls, with wide pink and lavender skirts, holding small bouquets of real flowers and wearing pearl rings and each having a solitary pearl ring, made attractive souvenirs.

The Olsons' guests were Chief Justice and Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson, Justice and Mrs. Edward M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck and Mr. and Mrs. Royal D. Mead.

The June Fantasy.

Fancy dancing and interpretative dancing and, in fact, dancing of all kinds holds the popular mind and all the popular magazines devote pages to descriptions of the steps being presented in various large cities. Honolulu is, as usual, keeping right up to the minute and the beautiful Zarastura ballet to be presented as a large act in the June fantasy will be one of the finest acts ever presented here. Mrs. T. L. Bolton has been untiring in her training and, no doubt, her efforts will be appreciated by all.

To say that the ballet is being performed by 20 or more of Honolulu's cleverest and most beautiful young women assures its success immediately.

The story of Zarastura centers around a beautiful Egyptian girl, which role is cleverly sustained by Mrs. Bolton. Her father is a high priest and the part will be assumed with becoming dignity by Mr. Ernest Parker. The rest of the ballet take the parts of ladies-in-waiting, Turkish slave-girls and little flower girls, all of whom are attached to the household of Zarastura. The touch of the Orient will be apparent in scenery, costumes and the dancing itself. The music is very suitable and under the direction of Edwin Ideker will, no doubt, add much to the success of the ensemble.

Every one is interested in the tableaux vivants which are to be presented. Mrs. Harold Dillingham will arrive from the coast next week and will complete all the arrangements for this pleasing part of the program.

Signor Joaquin Wanrell, whose fine voice has become so popular, has consented to fill one place on the program. Also a male quartet, composed of the Dillingham brothers and two other young men, is sure to be a pleasing nupber. The ladies in charge are working very hard for the success of this entertainment for all desire to make the last performance in the old Opera House a gala event.

Prof. Wanrell May Give Recital.

Appropos of Prof. J. S. Wanrell's appearance in the June Fantasy, many will be interested in the career of this talented musician, who has recently come to make his home here. For the last 17 years Prof. Wanrell has been prominent in San Francisco as a vocal artist and teacher. He sang for many years on the operatic stage, where he met with high success and made for himself a reputation which gives him a place among the eminent singers throughout Europe and the Americas. Owing to his wide experience in this line he is most proficient in giving the training preparatory for the concert and grand opera stage. Madame Melba was able to discover a promising singer in our own "Peggy" Center; perhaps Prof. Wanrell will make many more such discoveries. During the last five years of his sojourn in San Francisco he has presented many of his pupils in concert and their work has been most convincing.

Music lovers of Honolulu will look forward with pleasure when Prof. Wanrell gives us his first recital.

Mills Alumnae to Celebrate.
The following cards have been sent to the friends of Mills college and promises to be a charming afternoon.

"The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Mills college in California will be celebrated at the annual meeting of the Honolulu Mills club at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Campbell on May 25 at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. C. H. Klugezel, as president of the club, asks you to be her guest on this occasion. R. S. V. P."

Mr. Vivian Dyer at Host.

Mr. Vivian Dyer gave a swimming party and supper in honor of Miss Rachel and Miss Mary White on Sunday evening. The guests were Miss Harriet Hatch, Miss Mary von-Holt, Miss Alice Cooke, Miss Beatrice Castle, Mr. Alan Lowrey, Mr. Bob Purvis, Mr. Phil Spalding and Mr. and Mrs. George Collins. This delightful affair was given at the Kalaialoa home of Mrs. Carl Holloway.

Miss Louise McCarthy a Shower Hostess.

A unique shower was given Miss Nell Conant, formerly of Kona and now residing here, on Friday afternoon by Miss Louise McCarthy. It was a "miscellaneous shower" and very cleverly arranged. Hanging from the center of the room was a partially tipped sprinkling pot with quantities of pink shower falling from it. At the shower end of the sprinkler streams of pink baby ribbon came and at the end of each piece was a dainty gift tied with ribbon and resting in a basket filled with pink shower blossom. A huge chow-bow of maline partially covered the shower pot and hung in graceful folds about the table. It was most attractive and was a genuine surprise.

Miss Conant will be married the first part of June to Mr. Alexander Porter.

Miss McCarthy's guests were Mrs. Conant, the bride elect's mother; Mrs. Charles J. McCarthy, Miss Nell Conant, the bride elect; Mrs. Robert Deming, Mrs. Thomas O'Brien, Mrs. W. J. Clark, Miss Bernice Gustine, Mrs. Bunt, Miss Ben Berkowitz, Mrs. Morrill, Miss Louise McCarthy, Miss Eileen McCarthy, Miss Temare McCarthy and Miss Margaret McCarthy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. T. Bottomley's Dinner.

Thursday evening around a table very beautifully trimmed with sprays of golden shower, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. T. Bottomley entertained at dinner for Judge and Mrs. Alexander Lindsay, British Consul and Mrs. E. L. S. Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes. Music was the pleasure of the guests for the hour after luncheon.

Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Sloan's Informal Dinner.

Sunday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Sloan of Fort Shafter entertained most informally Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lytell, Lieut. Charles Lyman and Capt. Lauren S. Eckels. A very dainty basket of sweet peas graced the table center.

The Hall-Wanrell Concert.

An appreciative audience greeted Mr. Philip Hall and Prof. Joaquin Wanrell when they presented a delightful program on Tuesday evening in Bishop hall, Punahou.

Lieut. and Mrs. F. A. Sloan Entertained.

Monday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Sloan entertained very informally at dinner for Mrs. Desmond Kelley and Lieut. Charles Lyman. After dinner the theater attracted the party.

Mrs. Arthur Mackintosh's Child's Party.

Master Alexander Mackintosh is celebrating his birthday today and in his honor his mother has invited a number of his small friends to be his guests.

The University Club Dinner-Dance.

Thursday evening the University Club members were hosts at a moonlight dance. A number of dinners were held prior to the dance. It was a delightful affair.

Miss Edna McDuffie and Miss A. Smith entertained with a boating party and swim at Haleiwa on Friday evening.

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF THE SMART SET

Capt. and Mrs. D. H. Gienty of Schofield Barracks, attended the Navy Relief Ball last week and were the guests of Col. Harris L. Roberts.

Mrs. P. G. Riley of Honolulu, who is visiting in Southern California, is visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Land of Baker avenue. Mrs. Riley used to be a citizen of Bell, having owned the property on Corona street now owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Geary. Mrs. Riley expects her husband to be in San Francisco Tuesday, May 2. He is manager of the Standard Biscuit Company in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley will return home about June 28.—Bell, Cal. Herald.

Mrs. Jack Guard has cards out for a bridge on Tuesday afternoon in honor of her sister, Miss Laura Atherton, whose marriage to Mr. James Morgan takes place in June, the traditional bridal month.

Mrs. David Stone is going to give a luncheon on Thursday of next week.

Mrs. Annie Lackland will be hostess at luncheon on Monday of next week at the Country Club.

Chief Justice and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson have gone to their Tantalus home for the week-end and have as their guests Mrs. Hugh Blairston and Mr. Corbell Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Carter of Boston, who are guests at the Moana hotel, will be in Honolulu until the first of July, to the great pleasure of their host of friends.

Mr. J. Dunbar Wright is to be a dinner host on Wednesday night of next week in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack London, who have been away for six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham are at their country home for the week-end. The Dillinghams entertain in a charmingly informal way. Their house parties and week-ends are famous.

Brig-gen. and Mrs. Robert K. Evans have taken the H. F. Wichman home on the corner of Victoria and Kinau streets. Many brilliant official and social assemblies will be held there. The rooms are large and permit of much entertaining.

Miss Rose Herbert will give a dinner at the Country Club on Monday evening.

Lieut. and Mrs. John E. Hatch, 1st Field Artillery, are very happy over the advent of a daughter, Millie Louise, who came last Tuesday morning.

The Frank Thompsons are still being showered with good wishes and flowers, for another little daughter has come to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Donohue Dougherty are receiving the congratulations and kind wishes of their friends. A wee-mitten of a girl has just come to gladden their home.

Miss Marie Ballentyne has asked a few girls in on Monday afternoon, complimenting Miss Laura Atherton.

The Russian musicians who are entertaining the patrons of the Roof Garden are very keenly appreciated.

by the music-loving people of Honolulu. They are indeed artists and it is a treat to listen to such excellent music as they render.

Mrs. Andrew Fuller was hostess at a swim and picnic lunch at Waikiki on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Wall have purchased the handsome C. G. Bartlett place at Kaala-wai and are moving in. It is a beautiful place and with the well-known artistic taste of Mr. and Mrs. Wall "The Moorings" will be one of the most attractive homes in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop are giving a house party tomorrow at their new Tantalus home, which they have purchased from the Giffards. Capt. Alexander J. McNab had as his dinner guests on Thursday evening at the University Club dance Miss Betty Case, Miss Nora Swanzy and Mr. William E. Covell.

Mrs. H. B. Morse of Kaimuki gave a luncheon on Tuesday in honor of Miss Ruby Garrett, a visitor here. Covers were laid for eight.

Refinement

Refinement is an asset that comes through years of cultivation. It is shown in no other way more than in the selection of adornment in the form of one's jewelry.

Jewelry chosen from among the Wichman stocks is sure to be, because of long experience in selecting from world markets, the culmination of refinement and appearance.
