KAUAI SUPPORTS KAMEHAMEHA DAY EXCURSION HERE

Garden Island Calls Upon Residents to "Jam Steamers to Limit"

The visit of Secretary Brown to Kauai resulted in the routing of much interest in the Kamehameha Day program in Honolulu. The Garden Island says editorially:

"As we understand the matter the idea behind the program to be put on at Honolulu June 10-12 is to revive in a measure the past glory of Kamehameha Day.

"There are doubtless those among us who feel that we have enough holidays as it is. But as a matter of fact, have we? Do we give enough time to take and programs that are essentially for the amusement and entertainment of the public? Perhaps we do not, and if we did we would add much to our own pleasure in living and enhance the enjoyment experienced by the visitor to our shores.

"If we are correctly informed, there is nothing in this move to revive the sports and festivities of the former 'June 11' that would detract from the February carnival which has been so successfully built up at Honolulu. If such there was we would hesitate with our kokua; but we can plainly see that there is room and occasion and opportunity for both.

"All old residents will remember the time distinctly when 'June 11,' as it was called, was the greatest holiday occasion of the year. At Honolulu it was given over largely to horse racing—the sport of kings—which throngs of people from the islands attended and enjoyed. It was the experience of years that the weather at that period was ideal for outdoor sports, and favorable circumstances generally favored to surround the day.

"Restore 'June 11.' Why, surely, for many decades it has been the one distinctly Hawaiian holiday, and we want to see its just glory returned to it.

"We hope that Kauai people will bear in mind this effort to reanimate the interest that formerly clung to Kamehameha Day, and will join in the limit the two excursion steamers that will leave our ports for the June 10-12 program in the city."

WOULD CONTINUE LOCAL OFFICE OF SECOND DEPUTY

Reported Recommendations Urge Employment of Three U. S. Court Clerks

Recommendations have been made to the department of justice in Washington, D. C., that the office of second deputy clerk of the local federal court be made permanent, according to a well authenticated report which has reached the Star-Bulletin.

The argument has been made, it is understood, that the business of the court is rapidly growing and that three men, a clerk and two deputies, are really needed to handle the work. This increase has been especially noticeable during the last two or three years.

It is now known that the position of second deputy clerk is to continue only until the next emolument returns are made up, at which time the clerk's office will be in a position to show just how much it is earning and the amount of work it is doing. These returns are to be made June 30, this year.

The Star-Bulletin has been informed that on June 30, if it is shown by the office that its business has increased to an extent which would justify the addition of the position of second deputy clerk will be made permanent.

It is reported that the recommendations which have been made to the department of justice regarding the permanency of the office were based solely on the earnings of the office and the business done since the first of the present year and that they do not relate to the efficiency or qualifications of the present second deputy. These requisites are not questioned, says the report, as far as the department of justice is concerned.

The second deputy clerkship was created first as a typewriting position under Walter Maling, former clerk here, but gradually became a position offering steady employment. A. E. Murphy, late clerk, was instructed to discontinue the office about the time he was taken ill, but the office continued during his illness and is still in effect.

It is reported that the department at first disapproved of the appointment of Ray B. Rietow, present second deputy, but that he was confirmed in office at the request of one of the federal judges. Upon the removal of Clerk Foster Davis a telegram was sent to the department asking that the second deputy clerkship remain in effect until June 30 of this year, the report further states.

High and distance diving with special exhibitions of pyramid and apparatus work will complete the program.

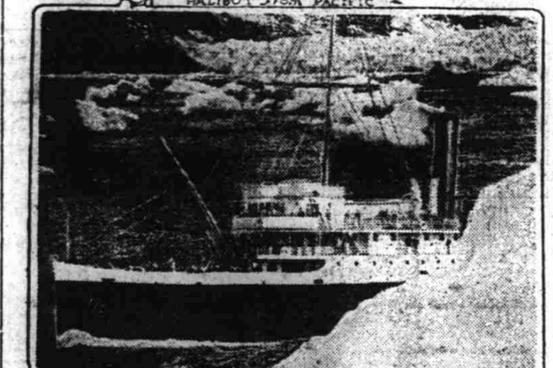

The athletic entertainment is for the benefit of the boys' clubs of Honolulu and a small admission fee is charged. The public is welcome.

TIME TO ALASKA'S GOLD CAMPS NOW IS REDUCED BY THREE DAYS

Three days have been cut off the travel time from Washington to the government railroad camps and to the 'argonauts' and tourists' gate ways to Alaska by a short cut through Canada.

Steamer service from Prince Rupert to historic Wrangell and Skagway and other Alaska ports has been established by means of which, through the great wilderness of mountains in British Columbia, the tourist can reach Alaska in record time. The Grand Trunk Pacific steamers are to be sent to Alaska after reaching Prince Rupert from Vancouver with a 'courier' to name the mountain passes and to point out the halibut fisheries on the way.

"This makes a direct route from the coast of Maine to the remote Alaskan ports—the coast of Alaska," said W. P. Hinton, traffic manager, "by way of Prince Rupert, the Pacific port which was built to order, where is one of the finest natural harbors in the world."

FROM THE ORIENTAL PRESS HERE AND ELSEWHERE

STAND ON UNMOVED PRINCIPLE.

(From the Hawaii Hochi.) Before Germanism there is no humanity nor treaty nor international law. Necessity is the only life, justice and liberty, and the great divine influence is included in this doctrine. This is the sentiment of the German nation of present day. This policy was regarded with great disapprobation by the English and French before the commencement of present war, and now they are compelled to surrender this sentiment.

When Germany trampled on Belgian rights of neutrality at the beginning of war the English government mobilized a great army and navy to protect the right and liberty of Belgium, and declared war on Germany. But the English themselves were compelled to violate the neutrality of Greece on account of necessity. Not only this, but present necessity drove England to interfere with her subjects' liberty by establishing the new conscription system, which that country never had before.

Not only this, but necessity drove Premier Asquith to become a member of the Irish parliament. The question of necessity became more powerful than that of principle. Germanism is now almost controlling the whole world, and it will be the victor of modern times soon. The country which was against Germanism before the beginning of the war has now slowly fallen under its influence.

The English sentiment of freedom is not suitable in modern times. It will lead the nation into defeat, not in war but in a new world.

PREVENTION OF DISEASE HELPED BY RESTAURANTS

Board of Health Given Aid in Their Campaign By Several Eating Places

Certificates that their kitchens are in proper sanitary condition and that precautionary methods are being taken against the spread of disease, were issued Tuesday to the Y. W. C. A. cafeteria on Hotel street, the Superior cafe on Fort street, and the Wo Fat Chop Suey house on Hotel street.

Yee Yi Chan, also a chop suey house, is to have a certificate, papers being now in course of preparation at the office of the Anti-Tuberculosis Bureau of the Board of Health.

This will make three of the city's big chop suey houses working under surveillance and in cooperation with the health board, the Honolulu Chop Suey house having been given a certificate some time ago.

"Both Yee Yi Chan and Wo Fat came voluntarily to us and asked to be placed in the list of anti-tuberculosis workers," said an official of the bureau today.

Two restaurants were caught Tuesday in a surprise visit using no disinfectant in their dish washing operations, and were warned, this being their first offense.

Ice boxes are being inspected continually in the various restaurants about town, and are found in good condition. Tin buckets which were used formerly to store everything from fruit to pan cake batter have been changed for crockeryware in every case.

The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad raised its embargo on corn on all points except points east of Pittsburg.

'YELLOW JACKET' IS PLAY GIVEN BY MILLS BOYS

Juniors of Manoa School In Sketch By Hazelton and Benrimo

On Saturday evening the junior class of Mills school will present "The Yellow Jacket," a Chinese play written by two Americans, Hazelton and Benrimo. The play was first given in New York three years ago and at once commanded the attention of theatergoers, both for its novelty and for the charm of its poetic romance. Since then it has been enacted in the leading cities of Europe as well as America, and has everywhere won a permanent place in the regard of lovers of the drama.

The authors studied thoroughly the ideas and conventions of the Chinese drama and have combined themes of universal interest with the unique method of presentation common on the Chinese stage. There is almost no scenery, changes of scenes being announced by the chorus.

While the property man and his assistants, who are said to be quite invisible, make mountains, raging rivers or snow storms at will out of the eyes of the audience. Thus the greatest appeal is made to the imagination of the audience.

The story is the familiar theme of the disinherited prince. A wicked Mandarin who has two wives, plots for the murder of the first wife and her child that he may enjoy undisturbed the love of the second wife.

But the farmer to whom the deed is given to carry out, is devoted to Chee Moo, the first wife. He kills instead the second wife's maid and passes her off for Chee Moo. Meanwhile, Chee Moo flees to the mountains with her child. But a spirit from heaven requires that she give her life for the child; for if found together both will perish.

So she writes on his baby jacket with blood from her finger and dies. The farmer and his wife discover the child and bring him up as their own. Grown to manhood he demands the true story of his birth and contends for his rights against his half-brother, the second wife's son now in possession of the Mandarin's throne. He is aided in his contest by the disguised love of Plum Blossom, the maiden of his choice and the wise advice of a loyal philosopher friend. At length triumphing over spiritual and physical obstacles he wins his throne, dons the yellow jacket of office and places Plum Blossom beside him. The play is shot through with the wise ethics of Confucius.

The play begins at 7:30 o'clock. Those who wish may attend.

Miss Harriet Congdon, English instructor at Mills who has coached the boys in the play, gives them the result of a careful study of it and of much experience with the amateur drama among college students on the mainland.
