

DOLE BILL SURE TO BE PASSED, IS DESHA'S OPINION

Measure Now Pending Provides Salary During Remainder of Judge's Life

That the so-called Dole bill, providing for the payment to Hon. Sanford B. Dole, former judge of the local United States court, of $6000 a year during the remainder of his life, stands an excellent chance of passing both houses of Congress, is the inference gained in a letter received by a federal official from John K. Desha, secretary to Delegate Kuhio.

According to the report of the Oeaka Asahi, the backers of the American aviator, Art Smith, who failed to fly at the appointed time in that city, disappointed many thousands of people and was stoned by some of the crowd, have decided to use the sum of 14,200 yen ($7100) for charitable purposes in that city. This sum was the remainder of the collection after the promoters refunded to the ticket holders the sum of 2800 yen.

According to heavily interested stockholders it is the intention of the management of the Engels Copper Company to develop and equip the mine and to build and equip the mill and entire plant from the earnings of the company, thus adopting a policy that has been successfully followed by some of the largest copper producing companies of the United States. It is felt, it is stated, that the present opportunities, with copper prices prevailing at the highest figures, have never before been offered any company in the putting into operation such a policy. That if it has worked successfully for others at lower copper prices it should be still more successful for this company at present prices.
