CEREUS DISPLAY AT PUNAHOU NOW AT ITS FINEST

With hundreds of magnificent blooms adorning the grounds of Punahou, the night blooming cereus display there Thursday night was the finest witnessed since the flowers began blossoming Sunday night.
 Coming in automobiles and by street car, many parties of flowers lovers visited the grounds and took away anywhere from two to half a dozen flowers each.
 Street cars on the Punahou line were adorned with two or three blooms, and on one car a pretty girl gave the motorman and conductor a flower apiece. "Thanks," they responded. "We're afraid to pick 'em."
 Police department officials have announced that for fear most of the flowers may be picked before the general public has a chance to see the display at its best, the grounds will be patrolled by a police officer to-night and no picking of the blooms will be allowed before 10:30 o'clock.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

Swollen hands, ankles, feet are due to a dropsical condition, often caused by disordered kidneys. Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.
 As a remedy for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation caused by uric acid—as scalding urine, backache and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, gout, it is simply wonderful how quickly "Anuric" acts; the pains and stiffness rapidly disappear.
 The very best possible way to take care of yourself is to take a glass of hot water before meals and "Anuric," the discovery of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.
 Step into any drug store and ask for a 50c package of "Anuric," which is many times more potent than lithia and eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.—Adv.

THEATRICAL OFFERINGS
COMEDY PROGRAM CLOSSES TONIGHT

A rare program of comedy is being offered at the Bijou theater for the last time tonight. This includes Charlie Chaplin in a pair of whirlwind laughs and, incidentally, it is rarely that an audience is given an opportunity to see this clever comedian in a double bill. Either of his present offerings, "Between Showers" and "The Masqueraders," would prove a delightful entertainment, while both supply further enough laughs for an entire week.
 Further comedy is on tap at the Bijou in "Green Stockings," a delightful story written around a custom in vogue in a certain section of rural England. As a photo-play this comedy is equally as great a success as it was on the spoken stage for several seasons. Scenically it is a fine offering.
 For tomorrow night the Bijou will present "The Great Divide," with Ethel Clayton and House Peters the featured artists. Charlie Chaplin will be a "hold over" with "an entire change of program." "The Knockout" is the coming Chaplin scream. "The Great Divide" is being given much publicity in the mainland press and is shortly to be revised on the spoken stage by Henry Miller and an "all star cast" in San Francisco.

THEO. ROBERTS IN A TWIN CLASSIC

A number of the "regulars" failed to put in an appearance at the Liberty theater last evening when Mark Twain's "Puddin'head Wilson" was thrown on the screen for the first time and the loss is theirs. This offering is easily one of the bright lights in the sterling program that has been presented at the Liberty and is a credit to Paramount pictures.
 Theodore Roberts, in the title role, gives a performance that entitles him to rank among the foremost Paramount stars. He surpasses his previous work and that is saying a great deal. Thomas Meighan, as Chambers, who believes himself a negro and a slave until he gets on trial for murder and is cleared by "Puddin'head" and his then "new-fangled" theory of finger prints, also does some exceptionally good work.
 "The Broken Coin" is exceptionally strenuous this week. There is fighting galore and the fights are all staged in a manner that is most realistic.
 Another, and an additional treat is the selection of the organist, working the vox humana stop, is "The Suwanee River." The voices fit these old favorites perfectly and a goodly round of applause, well earned, greeted the efforts of C. Kingsbury Young, Jr., whose work at the keyboard has won him frequent praise.

MADONNA JEWELS BASIS OF PLAY

"Sin" is a most expressive title for a photo-play and the Fox Film Corporation's feature in which Theda Bara is seen in the leading role is just as expressive as its title. Also, it is somewhat different from Theda Bara's previous "vampire" parts and brings out a different side of this versatile artist. Theda Bara appears as Rosa, an Italian peasant girl with a desire to see the great outside world. She spurns the love of Luigi, also a peasant, for the glittering promises of Pietro and with the latter leaves her home for New York.
 Life in the great Italian section of New York, familiarly known as "Little Italy," does not prove all that Rosa had anticipated and she wishes for more and better things than Pietro can supply. Chief among these are the sacred jewels from the breast of the Madonna of Mt. Carmel. Her wish, to Luigi, is a command and he steals the jewels for her.
 From thence forward the action is swift and strong with climax following climax until the end finds Rosa insane and Luigi dead at his own hands.
 "The Master Key" is a serial in which the action is also fast and furious.

TO LAY CORNER STONE FOR NEW SCHOOLHOUSE

With Mayor John C. Lane wielding the trowel the corner stone of the new concrete building at the Central Grammar school was to be laid this afternoon. Originally it was intended to make the affair an elaborate one but as the public schools have been closed for several weeks this is now impossible. City officials and Henry W. Kinney, superintendent of instruction, were to attend the ceremony, the latter to place several books and papers in the stone. The new building contains 12 rooms and should be ready for occupancy when the schools reopen in September.
