

FASTER SERVICE BY STEAMER IS HAWAII'S NEED

Michigan Says More Speed Means More Tourists; An Ideal Summer Resort

There are many reasons why one should come back to Hawaii, and Charles A. Bigelow, who left in the Matsonia with Mrs. Bigelow after their first visit here, has many worthwhile ones at his tongue's tip that will send many a friend and relative near his Bay City, Michigan, home hurrying to the islands.

Bigelow is one of the many men whose business occupies his entire attention in the winter time, therefore, he is looking for an ideal summer resort and he says he has found it here. But the Michigan visitor's best word for the islands is their hospitality and inexpensiveness.

As the president of the Kneeland-Rigelow Company, manufacturers of lumber, at Bay City, Michigan, Bigelow cannot leave when most people turn to Hawaii, and has heretofore spent his summers on the Pacific coast. This year he took a step farther and says it is still better.

But about the inexpensiveness. When Bigelow had paid every bill contracted on the islands and was about to board the boat, he said:

"I am surprised at the reasonableness of charges here. Not only do the Honolulu hotels seem to me to be quite inexpensive but at every place in the islands I found moderate rates. About the first question a traveler has to answer when he returns home is 'How expensive was it?' and if he can truthfully say it was not costly, that one remark will tend to bring more people here than anything else."

Bigelow says they are coming back next year; so does Mrs. Bigelow. They're also going to send their friends.

"It's a hard matter to convince people living so far north of the islands that it is cooler here in summer than at home, but eventually this will be discovered," declared Bigelow.

The only objection the visitor had to make and that was not a "kick" at the islands, was the number of days it takes to come to Honolulu. He says that if the Great Northern boats were running here on a regular fast schedule many more visitors would come than now.

"Many people cannot spare so much time traveling on the water," he explained, "especially if they come from the far eastern states when it takes considerable time to reach the Pacific coast. But if the time across the Pacific is cut down two days each way it makes a world of difference. I have heard many say they would come under those circumstances."

ENDOSO IS HELD WITHOUT BAIL ON MURDER CHARGE

Filipino Who Shot Nolasco in Court and Preliminary Hearing Postponed

Gregorio Endoso was formally arraigned before Judge Monsarrat this morning on a charge of killing Pedro Nolasco near the Libby, McNeill & Libby cannery at Kahaolu Tuesday morning. He is represented by Attorney William J. Sheldon and his hearing was postponed one week. He is held without bail.

There are no new developments in the killing. Gregorio tells in a straightforward manner of riddling Nolasco with bullets at close range when the latter attempted to pull a long knife from his pocket.

Arthur McDuffie, chief of detectives, believes most of Endoso's story but takes exception to a certain portion of the slayer's testimony.

"He says Nolasco invited him to bring the gun along for target practice," says McDuffie, "but it looks to me if Nolasco was after him with that long knife he would not have encouraged him to bring along a gun."

Late yesterday afternoon Police Surgeon R. G. Ayer went to Kahaolu with Sheriff Charles H. Rose to make a post mortem examination. Following this a coroner's jury presided over by Deputy Sheriff R. W. Davis found that Nolasco came to his death from pistol wounds inflicted by Endoso.

FIVE PETITIONS ARRIVE; THREE TO BE RETURNED

Quite a rush of nominating petitions for the coming representative and senatorial campaign arrived late Tuesday and today at the office of the secretary of Hawaii. Two were correct, one was unaccompanied by the requisite $10 deposit, and the remaining two were not made out in the prescribed form.

Enos Vincent filed his petition as a candidate for the house, from the third representative district, on the Republican ticket. He lives at Wailuku, Maui.

J. H. Conroy of Niumahu, Lihue, Kauai, filed his petition as a candidate for the senate from the fourth senatorial district. His petition is a sure sign that Senator Charles A. Rice is out of politics, as stated by the Star-Bulletin this week.

J. K. Kaupu filled out his petition properly, but failed to send the necessary $10 with it. He wants to run on the Republican ticket for the house, from the third district. Kaupu lives at Wailua, Molokai.

The two petitions not in order are those of J. E. Kuapuhi, sixth representative district, and D. Kaneall of Hanalei, Kauai, sixth representative district. Both will be returned to be made out properly.

All nominating petitions must be in before midnight, September 7. Chief Clerk Eben S. Cushingham of the secretary's office said today.

AD CLUB HEARS TALKS ON WORK AT CONVENTION

Returning Delegates Outline Work of Ad Men at Philadelphia at Luncheon

Three members of the Honolulu Ad Club who were in attendance at the Associated Advertising Clubs Convention at Philadelphia, spoke to the members of the Ad Club today on the power and benefits of advertising.

Charles R. Frazier brought out the fact that the delegates to Philadelphia found that the leading advertisers are using the same system that is now in force in Hawaii, and that it was pleasing to know that the leading men of the country are doing business in the same way as in Hawaii. He said that nowhere in the country could a man find better bargains, better goods and more courteous treatment than in Honolulu.

Maurice Brasch spoke on the promotional benefits that Hawaii obtains from the entertainers in the cabarets. He said that the members at the convention visited many of the cabarets where Hawaiian songs and dances were featured, and said that it will do Hawaii a lot of good. He also commented on the sales value of advertising.

John Lennox told of the many ideas that were put in force during the convention and made the statement that the advertising manager of Wanamaker's had told him that Wanamaker's first sale was $24.67. Wanamaker placed the 67 cents in the till and used the $24 for newspaper ads the next day with effective results.

Harry Decker proposed that the Ad Club set the luncheon next Wednesday as Swimmers' Day. This was voted upon favorably, and as a result Herbert Vollmer, Ted Cann, Ludy Langer and the leading swimmers of Hawaii will be the guests of the club next week.

L. W. de Vis-Norton, called upon by President Farrington, said that complete plans had been arranged for the staging of a successful Ad Club show at Hilo at the time of the Civic Convention. He announced that he would like to hear from all members who contemplated making the trip to the Crescent City.

President Farrington announced that the cruiser St. Louis would be in Hilo harbor during the Civic Convention and County Fair. Raymond C. Brown led the Ad Club chorus in the singing of the new Ad Club song, written by Moly Pearson Halos. Elmer Schwartzberg on behalf of James A. Dunbar asked that the song be sent to the Geler band with the Ad Club's compliments. He also suggested a Geer Day for the Ad Club. Albion Clark reported on the good roads question favorably.

KILLINGS SHOW NEED OF STRICT FIRE ARMS LAW

In the last 24 days there have been four murders or killings brought to the attention of the police. Counting six working days to the week, this makes an average of one every week. Three were the result of firearms carried with no regard for the law, the fourth, that of H. Emoto, at the J. B. Castle home, might have been caused by a dangerous weapon, such as a long knife, but presumably was done by a hatchet.

Whether the three which came from shooting, i. e., the mate of the Maui last month, the Castro shooting at Waipahu and the Nolasco killing at Kahaolu Tuesday, would have taken place had there been a restriction on firearms or not, the police do not care to opine. They do admit, however, that had the parties who did the shooting possessed no pistols there would probably have been no shooting.

Capt. Arthur McDuffie of the detective department was asked this morning:

"If the sale of firearms was restricted properly by law would there be as many murders in Hawaii?" He answered: "No."

PROMOTION COMMITTEE TO LABEL TREES AND SHRUBS

Before the winter tourist season is on again the Hawaii Promotion Committee will label the trees in the public parks and in semi-public places. This work has been started by the Hotel Pleasanton who have labeled the trees with the proper and scientific names.

The work will begin in the parks and will tend to induce owners of hotels where there are trees to follow the example, according to A. P. Taylor, secretary of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. Visitors as a rule make inquiries about the names of the shrubs and trees, and from a publicity standpoint this move would be more than worth while, according to the committee.

VENTURA ARRIVES Making the run from Honolulu to San Francisco in five days and 12 hours, the Oceanic steamer Ventura arrived at the coast today. She left here at 11:15 p. m. August 17 and reached the Golden Gate at 2:30 this afternoon.

'LINK' FAVORED BY BOURBONS IN 12TH OF FOURTH

But They Declare They Are "Up in Air" as to Whether He Will Be Candidate

A rousing meeting of the Democratic voters in the twelfth district of the fourth precinct was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Ben N. Kahalepuna, Puna lane, at which time the opinion was expressed that Lincoln ("Link") McCandless should be the Bourbons' candidate for delegate to Congress.

The meeting was attended by about 50 persons. J. M. Bright, president of the precinct club, presided. The club confessed its ignorance of who will be the Democratic candidate—or candidates—for the nomination for delegate, the statement being made that the voters are "unable to make head or tail out of McCandless," meaning, probably, that they do not know whether he will run, as he has not yet announced himself.

Within a few days the precinct expects to have a definite list of possibilities for the house and senate upon which to work in the coming primaries.

LIHUE PURCHASE OF MAKEE STILL NOT COMPLETED

Closing of the purchase of Makee Sugar Company by Lihue Plantation Company, forecasts of which were published by the Star-Bulletin yesterday, apparently is still uncompleted today. Inquiry at the office of H. Hackfeld & Company this morning brought the response that there was nothing to give out, indicating that details remain to be settled.

From authoritative sources it is stated that little doubt of the successful completion of the deal is felt and that both sides having made proposals, they are now working toward an agreement. Last night it was said that there was a difference of about $500,000 in the price but other information is that the buyer and seller are much closer than this.

J. L. YOUNG IS LOW BIDDER FOR PLANTERS' BLDG.

Bids for the new administration building of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association at the Experiment Station on Wilder avenue were opened at noon today by Ripley & Davis, architects, and will be submitted to the association directors at their next meeting when the contract will probably be awarded.

There were six bids submitted, of which the lowest was from the J. L. Young Engineering Company of $34,950. The others were the Honolulu Planning Mill, Ltd., $47,480; Spalding Construction Co., $41,400; Pacific Engineering Co., $39,880; Bowler & Ingversen, $38,200; the Lord-Young Engineering Co., $36,395.

The building will be a fireproof structure of reinforced concrete, measuring 60 by 90 feet and having a small basement.

HARBOR BOARD HEARS FISH-TRAPS LETTER

An anonymous letter relative to fish traps is being considered this afternoon at the meeting of the board of harbor commissioners, to whom the communication was referred by the board of supervisors, which received it. The letter, dated August 7, says:

"Gentlemen: Dear Sir: There are several fish traps being operated in the waters around Barber's Point and Pearl Harbor, which is against the law. Also there are traps near Port Kamehameha. I do not care to sign my name."

ALERT AND K BOATS AWAY ON SHORT RUN

At 9 o'clock this morning the U. S. Alert, mother ship and tender of the third submarine division, steamed out of Pearl Harbor on her regular quarterly practice cruise. She will return about Saturday. The four submarines of the third division, the K-3, K-4, K-7 and K-8, left Tuesday morning on a practice run to and around the islands of Maui, Kauai and Kahoolawe. They will also return Saturday.

REAR ADMIRAL BOUSH DEPARTS; TELLS OF REGRET

Retiring Naval Officer Considers His Stay Here Happiest Days of His Life

"This is the saddest parting that I have ever experienced," said Rear-Admiral Clifford Boush today as he stood on the deck of the Matsonia, bidding good-by to his many friends. There were tears in the admiral's eyes and it was with great difficulty that he controlled his voice while he gave his parting message to the people of Honolulu.

"I have been here more than a year and it will always remain in my memory as the sweetest and most pleasant year that I have ever spent. I have left many posts with regret, but in leaving Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands I feel that I am tearing something inside of me out by the roots; there will always remain with me a longing to return."

"I wish to thank the people of Honolulu for their many kindnesses and the many hospitalities which they have extended to Mrs. Boush and myself. Where I shall live when I reach the mainland is somewhat indefinite, but it will be somewhere near New York."

Admiral Boush during his command here has started and accomplished most of the big construction work that in years to come will make Pearl Harbor one of the great naval stations of the world. He was loved by everybody who knew him in Honolulu and his departure was deeply regretted by all his friends as is testified by the crowd that came to Pier 15 this morning to say aloha.

In honor of his departure the full Hawaiian Band was present and also the regimental band from Pearl Harbor, and with both playing lively tunes the parting was presented a merry scene, although underneath was sadness.

Hawaiian Department headquarters resembled the deserted village this morning for half an hour previous to the departure of the Matsonia, because everyone from Brig-Gen. R. K. Evans, commanding the Hawaiian Department, down to the aides-de-camp, went to Pier 15 to say goodby to Rear-Admiral Clifford J. Boush, former commandant of the Pearl Harbor naval station, who left with Mrs. Boush for the mainland today.

Gen. Evans assigned an army band to the pier to serenade the departing admiral, and scores of army officers bade farewell to the popular commandant and his wife before sailing time.

WAIALEE SCHOOL INVESTIGATED BY JURY COMMITTEE

In preparation for one section of the annual report of the territorial grand jury, a committee, consisting of C. G. Heiser, chairman; Raymond C. Brown and Robert F. Lange, members of the tribunal, on Tuesday visited the boys' industrial school at Waialeale and spent nearly the entire day there, thoroughly investigating conditions at the institution. They were shown over the school by Superintendent Frederick Anderson.

Besides investigating the industrial school, the committee visited the jails at Wailua and Pearl City. Within a few days the committee expects to investigate the public schools of Oahu, the territorial prison and the county jail.

The findings of the committee will not be made public until the final report of the grand jury is presented this fall.

Albert Arcla, accused of slapping a Hawaiian boy, was found guilty in police court and given a suspended sentence.
