Learn To Act

SEVERAL YOUNG GIRLS have asked the question, "Why are actresses usually so pretty? Is their beauty the reason why they have become actresses?" Or does their art make them lovely?

The last is nearer truth than the first. Of course, chorus girls exist merely by reason of their pretty faces and figures; but actresses—real actresses—have become what they are by reason of their personality. The average star is judged by her public appearance, and of course, made up carefully, she seems more beautiful. Make-up gives her a small mouth, a wonderful complexion, larger eyes and perfect eyebrows. Given features like these in perfection, and a woman must seem pretty. Expensive corsets, lovely gowns, correct positions in standing and walking, studied grace of attitude, cultivated voice—these things add to her charm.

Consequently, the woman who wants to make herself beautiful would do well to take lessons from her sister behind the footlights. She would find it greatly to her advantage if she would learn to act. For this work would teach her many essentials to beauty—first, that she must make a beautiful picture from every angle of view; second, that her voice must be low, sweet and of good carrying power; third, it will teach her control of her body, how to stand well, how to sit gracefully, how to walk—something few women know, it seems. It will teach her expression—both facial and vocal. It will show her how to control the muscles of her face, to make them express the thought in her mind, to reflect the mood in her thoughts. It will give her assurance—poise. It will develop her chest and throat; the exercises that go with every course will develop her body and she need not go on the stage!

I have a constant soreness in one side of my chest, due to a bruise received some months ago. I shall... Can you advise a healing agent?—M. G. Y.

Reply—Better see a doctor. This is not from a bruise—some congestion in the lung might have resulted from a blow or shock—best have medical care for it.

SEPARATE SKIRTS.

The separate skirt is with us once again and this season's models are lovelier than any that have gone before. For instance, one of heavy cream-colored silk with broad stripes of pale green.

Another is of French plique, finely ribbed in soft rose and white.

Taffeta skirts are much worn with separate blouses and of mohair skirts there is no end. But the latter are as little like the old stiff mohair as anything that can be imagined, being, instead, soft and silky.

All of these skirts are plaited or gathered to give fullness and are ornamented with pockets and pearl buttons.
