SIX REGIMENTS WILL APPEAR IN GRAND REVIEW

Infantry, Cavalry and Artillery to Participate on Saturday September 30

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Sept. 26.—The 25th Infantry amusement hall has been remodeled so that it is now one of the most attractive playhouses on the island. The seating capacity has been increased by replacing the old collapsible camp chairs with opera chairs and giving a pitch to the seats by means of removable platforms. In addition two hanging boxes have been constructed, one on either side of the main entrance, that seat about 50 people each.

The plot of ground in front of the hall has been sodded so that there is but one road now leading to the entrance and this passes directly under a newly erected porte cochere, which fills a long felt want. Heretofore during the big dances and receptions, if the weather was inclement, great discomfort was experienced in getting from conveyances to the hall.

These improvements are the result of the efforts of Capt. Charles L. Willard, who has recently been relieved as exchange officer, 25th Infantry, and assigned to the Quartermaster Corps as constructing quartermaster at this post.

The troops of this post, consisting of three regiments of infantry, two regiments of artillery and one regiment of cavalry, will participate in a grand review on Saturday, the 30th inst. Col. Henry C. Hodges, Jr., commanding the 1st Infantry, will receive the review, and Col. Campson L. Falson, commanding the 25th Infantry, will command the troops participating.

The hour will be designated later, but it will probably be 10 a. m. This will offer a splendid opportunity to the people of Honolulu to witness the largest garrison in the United States comprising the three branches of the mobile forces, pass by the reviewing stand. It will also be the initial appearance of two of the newly organized regiments under the increase authorized by Congress, the 32nd Infantry and the 9th Field Artillery.

Lieut. Oliver A. Dickinson, 25th Infantry, is conducting a series of calisthenic drills for the regiment. Last week he instructed the 1st Battalion and during the present week he is engaged with the 2nd Battalion. During his detail at West Point, Lieut. Dickinson was an assistant to Capt. Koehler, master of the sword and in charge of physical training. While there he has acquired much of the mannerisms in command and instruction of Capt. Koehler, which make his drills very effective and thorough. Indeed, it recalls old West Point days and the sharp, incisive tones of the gymnasium instructor when you witness the calisthenic exercises.

The telegraphic reports of the new general officers who have just been nominated by the president have caused great satisfaction among the officers stationed here.

Brig-Gen. John J. Pershing was the senior on the list and his hard, trying duty in Mexico during the past year has well earned his promotion to a major-generalcy. Without a doubt this is the most satisfactory nomination to the service that has been made for many years.

The following officers stationed in this department are classmates of his: Col. John E. McMahon, 9th Field Artillery; Lieut.-Col. Richard C. Croxton, 1st Infantry; Col. John H. McRea, adjutant-general, and Lieut.-Col. Edmund S. Wright, 4th Cavalry.

The nominations for brigadiers are: Col. Eben Swift, cavalry; Col. Francis H. French, 21st Infantry; Col. Charles G. Treat, field artillery, and Col. E. St. John Greble, also of the field artillery.

Col. French's promotion is of especial interest to Honolulu, as he was

COALING PROVES HARDEST WORK OF ALL CRUISE

Naval Militiamen Get Taste of Disagreeable Features on Return to Port

Naval Militiamen are getting a taste of the most disagreeable part of navy routine today—coaling ship. All hands, regulars and militiamen alike, are swinging shovels and emptying coal bags, and a thick coat of minstrel make-up has been applied to everyone on the cruiser.

It is hoped that coaling will be finished by 6 o'clock tonight, but the chances are that there will be a few tons left to put aboard tomorrow morning. All hands will then turn to and clean up the ship and the 1916 cruise of the Naval Militia of Hawaii will be over.

From all angles the cruise of the St. Louis has been a success, according to Captain Houston, and the other officers of the ship. The Naval Militia contingent is also well satisfied, and no grumbling was heard from any quarter today.

"I can not speak too highly of the showing made by the Naval Militia," said Brig-Gen. Samuel I. Johnson, the adjutant-general, who accompanied the citizen-sailors on their cruise. "The men did their work with a will, and showed great adaptability under conditions that were totally new to most of them. The officers and petty officers took hold splendidly and in a remarkably short time the Naval Militiamen had fitted into their allotted places. The drills were interesting and varied, and the men return with a good working knowledge of what is expected of them aboard ship."

Sees Great Future
"I see a great future in store for the Naval Militia of Hawaii," continued the adjutant-general. "Already there is talk of forming another division, and I think there will be no difficulty in getting desirable enlistments. The Naval Militia should appeal especially to Hawaiians, who are at home on the water, and who are good natural sailors."

"If I didn't personally know every man of our small crew," said Lieut. Stover, executive officer of the St. Louis, this morning, "I really wouldn't be able to tell the Naval Militiamen from the regulars in the routine work round the ship. The Naval Militia has done very well on this cruise, which has been eminently successful from every angle. The officers have done very well, too. In the navy an officer stationed here as colonel of the 2nd Infantry and lived at Fort Shafter for nearly three years. Gen. and Mrs. French left a host of friends in the city when they left for the mainland last fall who will rejoice at this well deserved promotion."

Gen. Swift was No. 9 on the list of cavalry colonels when he had the good fortune to be selected for a star. He has always been very prominent in the cavalry arm and is an authority on the tactics, equipment and training of his branch of the service. The Swifts are an old army family, the general having two sons now in the service.

Gens. Greble and Treat have been practically serving together for many years. The former graduated from the military academy in 1881 and the latter in 1882. A friendship was established during their cadet days that has grown throughout their careers.

The 25th Infantry band will give a concert at the post schoolhouse at 6:30 p. m. today. Band leader Leslie King has arranged the following program:

1. March—"Old Glory"
2. Overture—"Edwin S. Keidan"
3. "Prelude Du Deluge"—C. St. Saens
4. Grand selection from "La Traviata"—Verdi
5. "Dance of the Seven Veils"
6. Intermezzo, "Aisha"—John Lindsay

BOYS AT FRONT WILL RECEIVE YULETIDE BOXES

For the purpose of sending Christmas cheer into the trenches of Europe an organization is to form in Honolulu Wednesday afternoon. A meeting has been called to be held in the Library of Hawaii at 3 in the afternoon and it is expected that at that time there will be so large a number of ladies present as to insure for the start the success of the project.

British, Canadian, New Zealand and Australian ladies are all especially invited to attend the meeting Wednesday afternoon, though any others who may feel similar interest in the Allies' soldiers now fighting the battles of Europe are to be welcomed. The plan is to arrange for the sending of boxes from here or at least for the sending of boxes that will reach the war front so that gifts and remembrances may be sent to as many as possible of the boys in the trenches.

Several Honolulu ladies have been considering the dull and dreary holiday season that awaits so many of the boys doing battle and these thoughts have resulted in the plan that is expected to brighten the day for many of them who would otherwise be forgotten when elsewhere all rejoice.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) FORT SHAFTER, Sept. 26.—First Lieut. William E. R. Covell, Corps of Engineers, today was examined in international law, the subject assigned him as his course in the garrison school. The members of the examining board were 1st Lieut. John S. Sullivan, 2nd Infantry; 1st Lieut. Paul S. Reinecke, Corps of Engineers; 1st Lieut. Raymond A. Wheeler, Corps of Engineers. The examination questions will be made up in Washington and the results made known to the commanding officer of Fort Shafter.

The following information has been received at Fort Shafter for the guidance and action of all who may be concerned: The commanding officer of Fort Shafter is authorized to reenlist such enlisted men as may apply after four years' service of the seven-year enlistment period, under the act approved August 24, 1916, and as issued in Bulletin 15, W. D., 1912.

The athletic officer has appointed the following enlisted men to act as officials in the Company S. Engineers, vs. Company E, 2nd Infantry baseball series, to be held Thursday, September 28, and Tuesday, October 3, both at 1:30 p. m., the second game Sunday morning, October 1, at 9:30 a. m. Sgt. Jarvis, Company H, 2nd Infantry, chief umpire; 1st Sgt. Lane, Company D, 3rd Engineers, field umpire, and Sgt. Culpepper, Company M, scorer.

Oahu College is to be congratulated in the selection and appointment of Capt. William H. Hunt as drill master in charge of the military training of the students at Puhi.

Capt. Hunt, although a recent arrival at Fort Shafter, is well qualified by past experience to undertake and make a success of this most important military duty. He is a graduate, with the degree of B. S., from the Agricultural and Military College of New Hampshire of the class of 1899, and became a second lieutenant in the 19th Infantry April 10, 1899; first lieutenant, 8th Infantry, February 2, 1901; was promoted to his captaincy and assigned to the 22nd Infantry April 3, 1908; was a graduate from the infantry and cavalry school in 1904; was assigned to the Quartermaster Corps by the act of February 2, 1901, and was recently assigned to the 2nd Infantry from the border, where he received the practical experience in the field that develops the experience of, as well as adds interest to the officer for this particular work among the young men and boys of Honolulu's most important academy of learning.

Capt. William B. Cochran, commander of the 3rd Battalion, announces that there will be battalion drill on Tuesday, September 26, at 10 a. m., followed by the battalion parade at 11 a. m. The parade of a battalion is well worth witnessing, as its formations are accompanied by the music of the 2nd Infantry band, which always adds zest and martial spirit to military functions. The 1st Battalion is scheduled for parade on Thursdays at 11 a. m.

KITCHENER'S PLAN TO PUNISH THE GERMANS

Shortly before his death, as our readers may be interested to know (says the London Morning Post), Lord Kitchener informed us that he regarded the conduct of Germany as something outside the range of human experience. His opinion was that we should do something to punish Germany for this organized treachery, and so to mark our detestation of the system as to prevent it ever happening again. Lord Kitchener's proposal was to pass a law that for twenty-one years no German should be allowed to naturalize himself or take up his domicile in the United Kingdom and the British Empire as far as the authority of the Imperial Parliament extended, or to enter into partnership in any British business, or become a shareholder in any British company.

Now Lord Kitchener was a man of a practical mind who was not swayed by passion, but considered only the public advantage, and he put this scheme before us with the idea that it might be proposed and adopted not by the Imperial Parliament but perhaps also by the Dominion Parliaments, where detestation of German methods is even more emphatic than it is here.

The American Industrial Commission to France has arrived at Bordeaux.

A German deserter who had walked all the way from the Russian front was shot down when on the point of entering Holland at Glanerbrug. He was only wounded and is now being nursed in a hospital at Gronau.

The Purpose of a Bit Brace

The first purpose of a bit brace is to hold a bit, but its final purpose is to bore a hole, accurately and quickly, with the least expenditure of time and effort.

See Our MILLERS FALLS TOOLS Window

Any bit brace will hold a bit, but if you have fine work to do or a lot of holes to bore—if you want to save time and labor—you need a good brace—a Millers Falls tool.

If you are interested in good tools of any kind, let us show you what we have.
