NEW YORK WOMEN IN MOB RUSH STRIKE-BREAKERS; POLICE BATTLE WITH CLUBS

WATERFRONT QUIET AGAIN; ROWDYISM APPEARS ON WANE

Police Patrol Docks Unmolested and Men to Handle Cargoes Are Plenty

STRIKERS HAVE LITTLE HOPE OF OUTSIDE HELP

New Wage-Scale But No Recognition of Unionists is Attitude Expected

Announcement that Honolulu employers of waterfront labor are prepared to effect a new wage-scale for longshoremen may be made within the next 24 hours.

This, and the fact that there is a steady supply of labor available under the existing scale, with the result that the strike has failed to tie up cargo-handling, are among the developments of the day in the waterfront strike.

This matter of an increase in the wage-scale is known to have been under discussion for several days past and there were reports in waterfront circles this morning that a meeting of shippers and advisers had been held to complete discussion and agreement, so far as the local interests are concerned. But there are several San Francisco officers, in some cases heads of steamship and other companies affected whose consent must be gained, and the best information obtainable is that up to a late hour today the desired and expected information had not come from the coast.

Rumor differs as to what the new wage-scale is likely to be. The report most generally believed is that local men favor 30 cents an hour for a nine-hour day, with 40 or 45 cents for overtime, Sundays and holidays.

It is certain that the employers of waterfront labor are not negotiating nor intending to negotiate with the strikers, through any committee or organization. The probability is that if a new scale is decided upon, the employers will give no notification whatever to the new union, but will simply put the increase into effect, perhaps with a statement to the benefit of the public, and such unionists or strikers as seek employment and are taken will come under the new terms. In other words, the employers are not recognizing the union nor spokesmen on behalf of the strikers as an organization.

Shipping and other transportation men, commenting upon the waterfront situation today, declared that as soon as the police got some organized patrolling into effect and were prepared to stand their ground in the face of mobs, the rowdiness ceased, and there were no more exhibitions of attempts to wreck or derail trains.

They are also inclined to attribute some of the apparent discouragement of the strikers to the fact that news published this morning that the shippers' strike in Seattle had collapsed. The strikers here now have little hope, apparently, of getting assistance from mainland unions.

Two new developments today in the union's end of the stevedores' strike are of significance in relation to the general situation.

Breckons to Succeed Edvardson

The first one is that attorney Robert W. Breckons, former U. S. district attorney and now counsel for several strikers arrested yesterday and Tuesday by the police for alleged activity in the riots at Pier 19, will be named as a member of the union's arbitration committee, to succeed Jack Edvardson, who resigned yesterday because of disgust with the strikers' tactics of violence and force, to which he has been consistently opposed since the strike began.

Agitator Returns to Coast

Second in importance but nevertheless significant is the statement today by members of Honolulu Local No. 28-26, International Longshoremen's Association, that on the Matsou steamer Wilhelmnia yesterday an organizer sent here by the San Francisco Riggers and Stevedores' Union to take charge of strike activities of the Union stevedores here, left for San Francisco, returning to report to San Francisco headquarters the results of his work here.

Union officials said today that after this union organizer, whose name they would not give out, as they said he had requested them not to make it public, reaches San Francisco, his report will undoubtedly decide whether the San Francisco union will aid the Honolulu local by declaring cargoes loaded here by non-union strike-breakers unfair and refuse to discharge them at the coast.

This organizer was in Honolulu more than a month. He came on the Wilhelmnia, according to union men, on August 29, and after unloading or unloading of the local stevedores' union left for Hilo, where he looked over the field in that port. Whether he tried to organize a union there is not known, but at any rate no trouble has been experienced at Hilo to date.

Work on the Matsou steamer Manoa went along smoothly today, with McCabe, Hamilton & Renny saying they had 210 strike-breakers working here, of whom 50 are claimed to be Ha-

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Vance McCormick, chairman of the Democratic national committee, was served today with papers of summons in a suit against him for $50,000 damages by Jeremiah O'Leary, president of the American Truth Society. O'Leary alleges that he has been libeled by McCormick, the suit being based on alleged statements by McCormick accusing O'Leary of disloyalty to his country in connection with O'Leary's attack on President Wilson. O'Leary's counsel said that he intended to sue newspapers who had questioned his right and abused him for sending the telegram to the president which drew the criticism from McCormick.

Everybody invited! First returns are expected as early as 9 o'clock, perhaps earlier, according to the speed with which the first inning is rolled off.

SEPTEMBER TUBERCULOSIS RECORD LOW

There were a total of 49 cases reported during the month, of which 17 were in Honolulu. Cases last year up to this time were 186, and this year to date are 135. Cases for the past month are lower in number than at any time in 18 months.

Smiddy this afternoon, having voluntarily given himself up to the federal officials, according to the district attorney's office. He has been bound over to the federal grand jury, which meets at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

WEATHER BUREAU FORECASTS PROBABLE STORM
With a kona wind, which blew steadily most of last night and lashed the ocean into whitecaps, registering a velocity of 17 miles an hour this afternoon, and the barometer much lower than normal, the U. S. weather bureau announces unsettled weather conditions and a possible storm and rain. The barometer at 1:30 this afternoon was down to 29.85, and yesterday was also low, standing at 29.80. The relative humidity was high this morning, 79 per cent at 8 o'clock, so that a heavy rain tonight would not be a surprise to the forecasters.

HAWAIIAN MUSIC CRAZE GOOD FOR ANOTHER YEAR
That the mainland craze for Hawaiian music should continue at least another year, and that the popularity of Hawaiian songs has not yet reached the crest of the wave are predictions made at the Rotary Club luncheon today by W. D. Adams, manager of the Bergstrom Music Company, who has recently returned from the States. He told in a short and snappy talk of the immense output of songs and graphophone records by the large houses, and of the huge number of organizations engaged in catering to the taste for island music. John Macormack, the noted Irish tenor, is going to sing one of Adams' new songs, "The Isles of Aloha," for an encore throughout his winter concerts. He also announced that Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the great prima donna, is planning to visit Honolulu between Christmas and New Year's and to give two concerts there.

SAYS INTER-ISLAND PRESIDENT USED EPITHET
"Oh, damn the cattle," was the comment of James A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, when approached by G. J. Waller, Jr., concerning cattle shipments, according to the latter's testimony on the witness stand this afternoon at the utilities hearing. Waller said that Kennedy had used the words in 1914 after having been approached twice on the subject.

Cattle are sometimes slaughtered and meat sold without being passed by an inspector if Dr. Monsarrat or Dr. Case are unable to be present at the slaughter house, he said. The witness did not think Dr. Raymond's meat is ever inspected by an official. He said that sometimes the slings used to hoist cattle and calves are not placed properly, which results in the animal's dropping back to the deck. He had seen a calf's back thus broken. The meat was sent to the slaughter house and may have been put on the market, he stated. During the last two weeks the Inter-Island company has paid much closer attention to complaints than previously, he testified.

NO CLUE FOUND AS TO SEVERED LEG ON BEACH NEAR KOKO HEAD

Although the police have searched the country in the vicinity of Koko head for a clue which might lead to the discovery of some missing person to whom the limb found on the beach Tuesday night might have belonged, nothing has been learned and the officers say it will probably remain a mystery.

Deputy Sheriff Asch and Police Surgeon Ayer, who went to Koko head Wednesday, buried the leg there but held no post-mortem examination nor called a coroner's jury as two-thirds of a body is necessary to lawfully constitute a dead body.

Asch says no one in the Koko head country knew of a death or loss by drowning and nothing of that nature has been reported recently at the police department.

Ayer believes the limb came from the body of some person who had met death in the last few days but accuses a rumor of murder and dismembering by opining that the limb was torn from the trunk by a shark.

BOARD TO PROBE ADAMSON LAW IS WILSON'S CHOICE

Goethals and Two Federal Commissioners Selected By President

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 5.—On the arrival of President Wilson here for one of the important speeches of his Western tour, announcement was made of the men he has chosen as a board to investigate the workings and probable effect of the Adamson eight-hour railroad law. The three he has selected are Maj.-Gen. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal; Interstate Commerce Commissioner Edgar E. Clark and George Rublee of New Hampshire, a federal trade commissioner.

Goethals will be chairman. He said today in New York that he has not yet been offered the position officially, but that he will accept it offered, as "an officer of the army's duty is to obey."

TO HAVE TALK ON HILLEBRAND WITH GOVERNOR

Loan Fund Body Meets Today to Discuss Plans for Water Project

Because the plans and specifications for the Hillebrand Glen water project as prepared by James T. Taylor, engineer, contains suggestions for the use of 175 extra acres of drainage area besides that which feeds the Maole stream, a new angle entered into the project this morning.

This angle, which was introduced at the meeting of the Oahu loan commission this morning, was discussed to considerable extent by Taylor, engineer Fred Kirchhoff, and the commissioners in general. It is 175 acres more than Governor Pinkham gave notice of in a letter filed with the commission today quoting figures from the superintendent of hydrography for the Maole stream.

At the conclusion of this morning's meeting the commission voted to call upon the governor and present the plans and specifications. Chairman Charles R. Forbes will arrange for a conference at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

Suggestion Causes Discussion
Forbes' suggestion to see the governor before voting on the plans, precipitated a lively discussion in which A. D. Castro, commissioner, had a leading part.

"If you merely want to put this up to the governor as a matter of courtesy and to exchange views on the project, then all right," said Castro, "but if it's a get-it-sanction-or-rejection of it as a guide to what we think we ought to do, I'm opposed."

"If a study of this plan convinces me that it is feasible and proper for us to authorize it, why I'll vote for it," he added.

Forbes pointed out with some vigor that he didn't suggest the visit to the executive from that standpoint. He said, however, that the governor was entitled to the courtesy of a conference.

"If I thought that this commission didn't have judgment enough to vote for itself," he declared, "why I'd get off of it."

Castro thought the governor might say "no" to the plan, but Forbes thought not if it appeared sensible to him.

When things had grown calmer a vote was taken, instructing the engineer to change the specifications in

WOMEN STORM HEALTH STATIONS, PROTESTING AGAINST MILK FAMINE

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Five hundred women, mostly foreigners and many of them carrying babes in arms, today stormed two of the health department stations in Harlem, fearing that the milk supply was insufficient and determined to get some for their babies. The milk shortage is acute, it being estimated that there is only 35 per cent of the usual supply available.

Later in the day the Borden Milk Company, supplying a fifth of the milk used, announced that it would meet the demand of the Dairymen's League for an increase to farmers of 45 cents per 100 pounds. It is expected that this will bring more milk into the city at once.

'Mother' Jones Urges Them to 'Raise Hell!'

Noted Female Agitator's Talk Leads Them to Attack Trolley Cars; Another Small Riot By Women at Health Stations, Demanding Milk

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Five hundred women, mostly wives of street car strikers, after listening to a fiery speech by "Mother" Jones, the feminine agitator who became noted for her talks to striking miners in Colorado and Michigan, mobbed street cars run by strikebreakers.

"Mother" Jones denounced the strikebreakers, declaring that the women ought to take radical action against them. The women responded by rushing from the hall, attacking trolley cars with stones, shattering windows and driving away the car crews. The police with drawn clubs rushed the mob of fighting women but so fiercely did they resist that the reserves had to be called.

Many women were struck and several arrests made.

"Mother" Jones declared that "the women are too sentimental. Instead of staying at home thinking of trinkets they ought to be out raising hell!"

THRUST ACROSS DANUBE ENDS DISASTROUSLY; SLAV ARMIES WINNING NOTABLE TRIUMPHS

INFLECT SEVERE DEFEAT ON TURKS WEST OF TREBIZOND, ARMENIA, AND GAIN ON SOUTHEASTERN LINE AGAINST TEUTONS—GREECE IN FINANCIAL STRAITS—SCOTTISH AND IRISH TROOPS PERFORM EXPLOITS IN BALKAN FIGHTING

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 5.—The Rumanians in the region of Beketen, north of Fogaras, and on both sides of the Strehl valley in the vicinity of the Hatseg mountains, are in retreat today.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Oct. 5.—Rumania's coup in throwing troops across the Danube south of Bucharest in an attempt to flank Gen. von Mackensen's forces operating in the Dobrudja district has ended in disaster.

The invaders have sustained a complete defeat and their forces are so shattered and dispersed that they are virtually wiped out, while the few left on Bulgarian soil are being hunted down by parties of Bulgarians familiar with the country.

To combat the Rumanian thrust three days ago, Bulgarian troops were rushed from Rustchuk and the newly-gained Rumanian fortress of Turtukai. It was rumored that the Bulgarians were abandoning the latter but their move appears to have been to send reinforcements against the invading Rumanians, who numbered from 12,000 to 16,000. The Bulgarians fell upon the Rumanians, who had been cut off from retreat by the severing of their pontoon bridges across the Danube, and inflicted tremendous blows.

While the Rumanians were being thrown back here, on the Dobrudja line the German-Bulgarian army was advancing deeper into the enemy's country, the efforts by Rumanians and Russians to check the advance being frustrated.

Russians Start New Drive With Victory Over Turks in Armenia

PETROGRAD, Russia, Oct. 5.—Resuming their offensive west of Trebizond, the Russian troops under direction of Grand Duke Nicolaevitch have inflicted a severe defeat upon the Turkish troops massed in Armenia to resist the invaders.

In cooperation with a Russian fleet which steamed down the Black Sea, the Russians cut the opposing lines to pieces and are pursuing the remnants of the Ottoman army.

An important fortified position in the river Karaburnum region has been captured, and here too heavy losses were inflicted on the Turks.

On the Poland-Galicia front the Russians have made distinct progress south of Volhynia. Hostile positions at various points have been captured.

Zeppelin Seen Part-Submerged in Sea; Germans Trying to Save It

ESBJERG, Denmark, Oct. 5.—Fishermen returning from the sea report that they sighted a big Zeppelin, partly submerged, northwest of the island of Syllt. German warships are attempting to save it, a squadron being nearby. It is believed the Zeppelin was one of those taking part in recent raids.

British Gain on Bulgarian Front

Greek Government in Money Straits

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 5.—A wireless from Rome today says that the Greek government is in severe financial straits and is unable to handle its public debts. It has suspended payments and there is a general money shortage and a cessation of business.

Russians Suffer Vast Losses on East Front, Says German Despatch

(German Official)
GERMAN HEADQUARTERS REPORT, Oct. 4.—On the battle front north of the Somme during the day an artillery fire constantly increasing reached a high intensity in the afternoon on the Morval sector. Strong French attacks against our positions near the Rancourt wood at St. Pierre Vaast were repulsed, partly by hand-to-hand fighting. One officer, 128 men and two machine guns were captured. British advance near Thiepval and Monquet farm were easily repulsed.

In the eastern war theater on Prince Leopold's front, the Germans broke down Russian attacks with bloody losses. West of Luck the previous day the Russians suffered a new and heavy defeat. The troops of Generals von Knobelsdorff and von der Marwitz received the hostile charges securely and calmly, though several charges were made. Not a yard of terrain was lost and the dead Russians number a thousand.

Southwest of Rovno first sergeant sent down from an aeroplane 1st Lieut. Cossel and fetched him up again after 24 hours. Cossel in several places blasted up railroad tracks from Rovno to Brody.

In the Transylvanian war arena, in Georgeny valley, the Russians attacked several times without success, west of Farand obtaining some advantages.

We are making a stand before Fogaras, west of Calimene, the southern outlet of Rotenturm pass. In consequence of the battle of Harmannstadt and the combats with dispersed troops since taking place, we have taken more than 100 men. In the Hatseg mountains their efforts were useless. On Obanses height our allies have gained terrain.

In the Balkan war arena von Mackensen's encircling attack with Bulgarian troops has forced Rumanian troops, who had crossed the Danube, to escape by hasty flight. On the Macedonian front several new positions have been occupied by us. Northwest of Tagino lake, the enemy still occupies Karados, on the left bank of the river Struma.

WILL SUCCEED TERAUCHI!
