VAUDEVILLE IS ADDED TO BILL BY BRONZE REVUE

Minstrelsy and vaudeville will be the combination offered by the Bronze Revue in its change of program at the Bijou theater tonight and all who have witnessed any of the performances of this aggregation can bear witness that they are equal to the occasion in either line of work. "Miss Williams' Lawn Party" is the title of the big musical comedy number, in which the entire organization will appear and which will consist of a clever little plot, just sufficient to carry the comedy and music that has been outlined for the evening—also for tomorrow and Saturday evening and Saturday afternoon. There will be a large musical program at the lawn party.

The vaudeville will consist of the Bronze Revue quartet in a number of new vocal specialties; Strain and Bailey, a comedy duo fresh from "big time" mainland successes, boast a turn that is a scream, while Tim and Gerlie Moore, "That Clever Colored Couple," will present an act that has proved a decided hit on the mainland.

Messrs. Poole, Brown, Banks and Young, members of the big quartet, have sung themselves into the hearts of Honoluluans, as have a majority of the members of the company, who are all possessed of good voices.

HIGH FINANCE COMES TO GRIEF

Many well-known artists come to the Empire Theater today in the four-act dramatization of Benjamin Wilson's great story, "Junior Members of Seven." Wilson has created a production, which for unique plot and perfection in detail is credited with being one of the season's successes. In addition to Charles Waldron, Miss Nettie Melville, Fannie Ward, Florence Allanton and others make up the cast, preserving the identity of the original company which starred in the production during its run of nine months at Broadway theaters.

"Junior Members of Seven" deals with the present day commercial strife in a great city. It is a telling exploitation of the rise and fall of high financiers. The play is filled with thrilling moments. There is a wealth of detail, leading to a series of gripping climaxes. The drama is staged with a faithfulness to detail seldom duplicated on the silent stage. It will be a feature attraction at the Empire theater today.

Two clever comedies are included in the program. Miss Peggie Pearce will make her bow to Honoluluans in the farce, "No Flirting Allowed." Miss Pearce is ably supported by Richard Smith, Sylvia Ashton and a well-balanced company of players.

NEWSPAPER SHOP SHOWN ON SCREEN

Printer's ink is something that has a fascination for man, woman and child. The mysteries of a newspaper are of perpetual interest to the large family of the uninitiated. A good insight into the working of this industry is given in the Fox feature film at the Hawaii theater, "The Fourth Estate," a picturization of the stirring newspaper story by Joseph Medill Patterson.

"The Fourth Estate" strikes, and strikes hard, at the forces that would control the public press. Especially is the political boss chosen as a mark for the shafts of the author. The political boss who would control the police, the courts and at the same time the press. Patterson has evolved a clever story as was evidenced by the tremendous sale of his book a number of years ago and later by the success of the play.

The Hawaii serial, "The Strange Case of Mary Page," is a worthy addition to the present program.

'INNOCENT LIE' BRINGS NEW STAR

"The Innocent Lie"—acted, not told—and its broad and unforeseen consequences, is made the basis of a delightful photo-drama that has been filmed by the Famous Players Company with a cast of Famous Players and is now the attraction at the Liberty theater with Valentine Grant in the role of Nora O'Brien, the principal part.

This is the debut of Miss Grant as a Paramount star and her work will be closely watched by the critical followers of these high-grade offerings. Should her initial offering result in a popular verdict of "thumbs up" she will be given a place of honor with the other big stars of this service, Mary Pickford, Marguerite Clark, Hazel Dawn, Mae Murray, etc.

The story is that of an Irish immigrant who, through an accident, is adopted by a wealthy family as a relative. She tried to explain her identity without success and resigns herself to her position of luxury. The situation is changed, however, when her missing brother appears and forces her to become his accomplice in

POLICE DOCTOR FINDS PROBLEM TO BOTHER HIM

In the police station at the present time awaiting the disposition of Judge Monserrat and Police Surgeon R. G. Ayer are six supposedly insane men who constitute about as interesting a crew as the police have had to deal with for some time.

All are perfectly harmless, according to Dr. Ayer, and each case further emphasizes the lack of a proper Honolulu institution for their detention. The desire of relatives of these six men is that they may be put away where they will no longer be a nuisance. The only available place is the insane asylum and there the police are asked to have them sent.

Dr. Ayer pointed out the six men this morning to a Star-Bulletin man. One was busily and earnestly engaged in painting his face to a point of hideousness, another constantly emptied and refilled his pockets with a pile of rubbish from which he finally extracted a piece of writing paper and rolled a monstrous cigarette; still another stands, sometimes for 48 hours at a time, in one spot, saying that he is surrounded and is soon to be killed by his enemies if he does not stay close to the police; a fourth is somber and quiet, with a fifth lying morosely in a cell down stairs. The sixth is in the Queen's hospital.

"I don't know what to do with them," complains the doctor. "They are not really crazy, they are just simple-minded. They will get worse instead of better in the insane asylum and believing this I have recommended discharges in the past, but when they come back a second time I suppose I will have to ask that they be 'sent over,' as much as I dislike the idea."

NEW YORK BODY WOULD SIGN UP ALL EMPLOYES

According to a letter received by Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, from the Merchants' Association of New York, it is the plan of that body to have a law enacted making it compulsory for employees of public service corporations to sign contracts agreeing to remain in the employment of a certain company for a specified time. In furtherance of this plan it proposes a referendum and has requested the National Chamber of Commerce to cooperate with them in obtaining views on the subject.

Brown said so far as the local chamber is concerned, he is entirely against any such plan, as he believes that every man has the right to say where and when he shall work and also does not think that such a contract would be binding if the man want to declare a strike.

MOTHER LOVE AIDS SON IN TRENCHES

It Brings Relief to Boy Standing His Watch Deep in Mud

Once upon a time, only a few months after this terrible world war had begun, Private Bailey, a soldier in the ranks, had stood for days in the trenches "somewhere in France." The cold rains soaked him to the skin; the mud was deep. He had had no rest. Weary and aching with rheumatic pains, he recalled the faith his mother had in Sloan's Liniment. He asked for it in his next letter home. A large bottle was immediately sent him and a few applications killed the pain, once more he was able to stand the severe exposure. He shared this wonderful muscle-soother with his comrades, and they all agreed it was the greatest "reinforcement" that had ever come to their rescue. At your druggist, 25c, 50c and $1.00 a bottle.
