SECOND TRIAL OF JESSE DUKE WILL BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Alleged Slayer of G. P. George at Barracks, Once Convicted, Gets New Hearing

Nearly a year old, the case of Jesse Duke, a colored man who was convicted of the murder of G. P. George, an aged stable watchman and money lender at Schofield Barracks, will be reopened in federal court at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning, when a jury will be drawn to hear the second trial.

Duke was arrested at Schofield Barracks by U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy on January 22, this year, a few days after the dead body of George was found near the incinerators. Death had resulted from a blow on the back of the head from some heavy instrument. In connection with the arrest of Duke, who attended the fires in the incinerators, a long iron poker, bent at one end, was taken as evidence. It was found near the body. When the body was searched, a wallet which George carried was missing.

The trial of Duke resulted in his conviction, but a short time after Judge Charles F. Clemons, on a motion by the defendant's counsel, granted a new trial. Capt. William E. Mapee, U. S. A., stationed formerly at Schofield Barracks, but now at Fort Bliss, Texas, who was a witness at the first trial, is to be a witness at the second trial. He is said to already be in Honolulu, having been brought here by the government. Duke has

Japanese Boys Given Names of Big Americans

Great souls in American history, dear to the heart of every true American citizen, are furnishing the names for youngsters in the Japanese family of one Kumaichi Tomonari, servants at the C. Montague Cooke household, Manoa Valley.

Kumaichi, accompanied by Mrs. Cooke, appeared today at the board of health bureau of vital statistics to report the arrival of little Lincoln who came only recently to bless his proud parents with his presence.

"These are all good American citizens," said Mrs. Cooke as she gave the official data concerning little Lincoln and his brothers. "The other two are Washington and Franklin."

Children in the Cooke household have taken over the naming of the Japanese youngsters, and have hit upon the novel plan of choosing the names of great Americans. There are Japanese names that go along, too, of course, but the American names come first in each case.

Thus far there are no girls in the Tomonari family, so that until these come such names as Betsy Ross, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Jane Addams and perhaps Mary Pickford are lacking.

The case of George S. Hieshima, charged with perjury, has been nolle prossed in Circuit Judge Ashford's court at the instance of City Attorney A. M. Brown. Hieshima was committed for alleged perjury while he was a witness in the Scully-Chilton-Fischer conspiracy case. He sued the members of the liquor license board and City Attorney Will Carden for damages, but this suit was discontinued last Saturday.

John Kaukahu, keeper of the Diamond Head lighthouse, who was stricken while on duty recently, died Saturday evening at his home, 3187 Diamond Head road. The funeral was to be at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Catholic Cathedral and burial will be in the Manoa Hawaiian church cemetery. Kaukahu was born here 62 years ago and was one of the best known and most popular Hawaiians in Honolulu. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. William Meyers, by his first wife.

John Watson, James Garner and John Andrade, who entered a Japanese barber shop at 2 o'clock on the morning of October 10 and stole scissors, clippers and various other articles, were sentenced by Circuit Judge Ashford to each serve two years at hard labor in Oahu prison. All of the boys have, at different times, been committed to the boys' industrial school.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness. Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength-building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

HUNT FOR LAND SHELLS ENJOYED BY Y. W. PARTY

Members of the Y. W. C. A. to the number of 15 joined the Saturday afternoon outing of the association to Palolo valley, under the leadership of Joseph Emerson, who has been a collector of shells for a number of years.

Many of the young women made the climb up the steep hills to gather the Achotinelli Stewarti, which were found in abundance. On Friday evening Emerson had entertained a number of the young women at his home where he showed his collection and explained a number of points with reference to the shells.

The members were pleased with the outing, and a larger number is expected to make the trip on Saturday afternoon when William C. Mardon will conduct the excursion to Haleiwa. Here the members will make a trip in the glass bottomed boats. Reservations must be made at the office of the association not later than Friday evening.

JAPANESE DAILY TO BE LAUNCHED IN A FEW DAYS

A new daily paper for the Japanese community is to be issued soon in Honolulu by two veteran newspapermen, R. Murakami and T. Kimura. The name of the paper is the Hawaii (Choh) (The Morning Report of Hawaii) and it is to be a morning daily, issued from an office on King street, near Palama Settlement.

It is to be strictly independent in attitude, its owners announce, and they say it has no backing of special interests, but will depend for support strictly on advertising and subscriptions. The first issue is to be out this week, of 12 pages. The regular issue will be four or six pages. Murakami was formerly with the Hawaii Shinjo and Kimura with the Hochi.

AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS MEET WITH MISHAPS; NONE PROVE SERIOUS

Accidents for the week-end although numerous were not serious, at least not those reported to the police. Friday evening Manuel de Mello fell from a Kaihi street car while dismounting at the corner of King street and Kaihi road, sustaining bruises which were treated at the emergency hospital.

Later the same night Muraoka and R. R. Catton had a mix-up with their autos at the corner of Nuuanu and Kuakini streets. About 10 p. m. the cars of A. J. Kurratt and Capt. C. R. Dell came together at the corner of Nuuanu and Hotel streets.

On Sunday J. Ashman Beaven's and R. H. Campbell's cars tangled at the corner of King and Bishop streets, and this morning early K. Matsunaga's hack was smashed by an auto said to have been driven by E. L. Coney.

NOT A SIN TO BE RICH. DECLARES DR. SCUDDER

"Fools' Goods" was the topic of an interesting sermon delivered at Central Union church on Sunday evening by Dr. Doremus Scudder who, during the discourse, asserted that it is not a sin to be rich. His sermon was based on the Biblical story of Dives, the wealthy man, and Lazarus, the beggar, and how the former, although he had not committed the unpardonable sin nor was he a criminal, thought only of himself, his money, rich food, fine clothes and luxury. The wealthy man, to escape Dives' penalty, must have some interest in the world besides his own physical pleasures, Dr. Scudder said.

NO PLANS MADE FOR CAMPAIGN ON ISSUE OF BONDS

Horner Says He is Waiting for Chairman to Call Meeting of His Committee

Declaring that he is not only in favor of the municipal bond issue but willing to work for its passage at the election November 7, Supervisor Horner today took exception to the remark of Ben Hollinger that nothing had been done by the committee, consisting of Hatch chairman, Logan and Horner because he (Horner) was against the issue.

"Ever since I was appointed on the committee," said Horner, "I have been waiting for the chairman to call us together, but so far as I know nothing has been done."

"Taking the bond issue as a whole," he continued, "I firmly believe that it will be a good thing for Honolulu, although personally I feel that a filtration plant is not necessary. In regard to roads, however, the quicker we get them fixed the better it will be for both the city and county and the territory. Ed Towse says the territory will give us the money, but we do not want to take any chances and have the people demanding roads with no money to supply them."

Horner believes that the majority of Honolulu's people want to see the bond issue pass.

City Engineer Hatch when asked today why he was being done about campaigning for the bond issue, said that the proposition was being worked on, but did not give specific details of the work.

George Collins, city engineer, is working on a report for the road committee which will show concisely what roads have been finished, are now being constructed and plans of those roads which should be improved in the near future with all costs of construction and maintenance.
