YOU MIGHT CALL IT A BALL GAME AND YOU MIGHT CALL KALAKAUA AN AVENUE

But it Would Be Pretty Hard to Convince Those Fans Who Gathered at the Ball Yard Yesterday They Were Watching an Exhibition of Our Grand Old National Game—Chinese Win and Brushers Lost an R—Braves Win Out

Be it known that the Chinese took the R out of the Brushers yesterday afternoon at Athletic park. They erased the first R to the tune of 12 to 3, and it was a sad, sad story. Some man might be able to imagine that it was a good game, but he hasn't been located as yet.

From the time that Ralls stepped to the plate in the first inning until the crowd wended their way homeward there were errors, and then some more. They came in bunches, and drove, and for a number of innings the boating chorus was on the job. The error making was not confined to the Brushers, pardon, Brushers, for the Chinese squad broke in with a total of eight, one more than the amount that was charged against the Service squad.

Spell Amama Backwards
The Chinese won out because the Service team would not let them do anything else. Amama was the pitcher who started things, and he didn't have any marksman's badges on during the game. This pitcher is the only live hurler in Honolulu who can spell his name backwards and forwards and get the same results. Perhaps this was the reason he was allowed to go into the box.

Amama, frontwards and backwards, endeavored to locate the plate, but his range-finder needed oiling, and Capt. Stayton, who was the official scribe behind the rubber, had paralysis of his left hand during the first inning. Amama pitched all right when he located the plate, but if he has as hard a time locating his meals as he did the rubber, he is going to be awfully hungry about Thursday.

Hoon Ki was on the mound for the Chinese, and pitched good ball for about four innings, and then he had a glove. It was good fortune that carried him through. The Chinese players dropped them, kicked the ball away and dobed things up in general, but still could not lose.

They Rambled
In the first inning Amama, coming and going, issued free transportation to four of the Chinese players. He was as wild as a Comanche, and then some. As a result the Chinese scored three runs. In the second inning the infield had a case of generosity and this, combined with a walk and three hits, gave the Chinese four runs, and Amama, going, retired per Simmons.

Simmons behaved nicely for one inning, and then the Chinese located his own curves, and away out of the box went Simmons, with four more for the Chinese. Brush looked around and eyed Jackson. "You be the goat," says Brush. "Aye, aye, sir," echoes Jackson, and the speed ball artist entered the box as the crowd cheered. What they were cheering for nobody has been able to find out, but still they yelled.

Jackson Behaves
Jackson pitched good ball for the last four innings, allowing but one run. He showed plenty of speed, and had the Chinese guessing on a number of occasions. During the declining innings Brush took his place at the first base, and if Hui Chase comes down here and sees Brush, he is going to get nervous. As a first baseman, Brush is an excellent basket-ball player.

Throughout it all Brush kept on changing around, trying to land the winning combination, and despite his defeat should make a good showing in the future. Brush has done a heap to put baseball on the map at Shafter and Honolulu, and the fans will be glad to see him line up a winning combination. Had the Brushers won out it would have been a popular victory, and the manager of the All-Service team is popular with the fans.

How They Have Changed
The All-Service looked no more like the team which played against the 25th Infantry than Charley Chaplin looks like the Iron Claw, and the team didn't play to form at all. It would be hard to tell which team played the worst game, but the Service team has a slight edge. Amama has plenty of stuff, and with control looks like a good pitcher.

In the latter innings the Service team began to hit, and scored three runs off Hoon Ki. Had Jackson started the game, it might have been a battle instead of a farce. Playing to the form that they have showed in the past the Service squad would have smothered the Chinese as the locals played today, but the less said about playing the better. There wasn't enough features in the game to amuse to much, but the crowd had heaps of fun.

Braves 8, Hawaii 2
The combination of admirals upset the hopes of the Hawaii in the first game of the day at Athletic park, when Nelson and Perry figured in the 8 to 2 victory for the Braves. General Lee and General Thomas also had something to do with it.

Captain Stayton announced that the first game would be for seven innings. If it had gone on to 25 the crowd would not have minded, as the first fracas, although a boot fest, was not quite as talented as the second affair.

Good Pitching
The Braves, deserving the fare, started out in the first stanza with two runs, an error, a walk, a passed ball and wild pitch. They scored two more in the fifth on two errors and a walk. Simon, who was on the hilltop for the Hawaii, pitched good ball for five innings, and did not allow the Braves one hit, but the pitching wasn't doing much good with the players kicking the ball around.

The Braves had a lead in the fifth of 2 to 0 when the Hawaii scored, and another run in the sixth on two hits gave the Hawaii their last tally for the day. Nelson was pitching perfect ball, and held the Hawaii safe at all times.

Simon had not allowed a hit until the beginning of the sixth inning, when Nelson hit one through the infield. Thomas walked and Lee singled, scoring a run. Then after two were out Perry doubled, and the last run came in when Anahu singled.

RESTA WINS BIG RACE AT CHICAGO SPEEDWAY
(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 16.—Dario Resta won the Grand American 250 mile motor car race here Saturday by covering the distance in 2:16:28. Resta made an average of 103.9 miles per hour. Altken was second, Reichenbacher third and Wilcox fourth. There were 21 cars started in the race.

KAMEHAMEHA HAS BEST OF BATTLE WITH M'KINLEY

High School Team Makes Good Showing Against Heavier Opponents; Score 14 to 0

Although outplayed in nearly every department of the game, the heavier and larger Kamehameha squad took the long end of the 14 to 0 score in Saturday's struggle with McKinley high school on the victor's ground.

A low, short kickoff at the opening of the second half went straight to the arms of Dower and while the High school were converging for the tackle he saw a wide opening right in the middle and tore through for a touchdown with hardly a High school hand laid on him. A little later de la Nux threw a high long forward pass over the head of the High school left end and Wright caught it perfectly thrown pigskin with no McKinley player between him and another touchdown. These constituted the only scorings of the match.

That Kahuna
The High school believe in the kahuna. With straight football they completely outclassed the Kamehameha aggregation in the first half and put the ball over only to drop it when tackled in the end zone. This duplicates their experience against Mills.

When the referee's whistle opened the game, opinion as to the final outcome ranged from a 20 to 50 victory for Kamehameha. But it was not the same team that lined up against the Mills team the week before. They had mastered a tackle swing play and for the entire first half baffled the Kam defenders by slamming first Boyd, then Lujan or Capt. Thompson through for repeated gains. The Kam players found it hard to pull together and at times resorted to rough tactics to stop the onrush of the High schoolers.

Fumbles Across Line
The Kam team entered the game with a much heavier outfit than the High schoolers and had the confidence born of a bunch of fresh men ready to fight. But the High school crowd had the spirit of fight and go that plowed through their heavier opponents for two quarters. McKinley put the ball on the one foot line, tried three straight bucks and failed to gain an inch, then swung Boyd around for the proposed touchdown but Boyd had the misfortune to hit the goal post and although he fell into scoring territory, the shock drove the ball out of his arms. The touchdown was followed by gains by Kam. Kam was held in the center of the field and kicked. McKinley was driving back up the field when the whistle blew. McKinley was forced to kick but once during the first half.

The second half saw Dower receive the kick off and run for a touchdown. This seemed to dishearten the High schoolers and they put themselves on the defensive. Kam's backfield now backed up and tore around. High school's ends for decent gains. The forward pass was soon used repeatedly and although five failed, the sixth went straight to the arms of Wright, who made six more counters and again Kam's kicker, Hussey, placed the extra tally clean between the posts.

Lujan Goes Through
It looked as though the doped score might follow for this was enough to discourage the worn High schoolers, but Capt. Thompson begged his men to hold their ground and big Lujan continued his line of encouragement so that in the last quarter High school again began their upward march toward the goal, but it was too late.

Dower towered as Kam's star throughout. He adds to his abilities by being a very clean player. He was the whole backfield for Eaton, the Kam fullback, was repeatedly nailed behind the line for losses. His only gains came when the High school left end weakened under the heavy onslaught of the interference. Akana was then replaced by Correiro and the gains stopped for a season.

Clark Stars
Clark stands out as Kamehameha's strongest lineman. He is the cleverest defender yet discovered this season. He was opposite High school's strongest linemen but used his hands to such good effect that Boyd was repeatedly rushed in making his forward passes. If Clark continues he will secure a tackle place on this year's mythical Hawaiian eleven.

FRANK HALSTEAD WINS MANOA CUP TOURNEY SUNDAY

Frank Halstead won the Manoa Cup tournament at the Oahu Country Club on Sunday afternoon when he came home to the thirty-sixth hole with a score of 159, one stroke under the score of Maj. C. S. Lincoln. Halstead played steady golf throughout and placed his approach shots straight for the pin on nearly every occasion.

Halstead took the advantage on the first round when he turned in a 79. On the first 18 Lieut. McAndrew, last year's winner, also played to form and secured a 78, while Willard Grace took a 79. On the second round, although Grace was driving a long ball, he got in trouble and took 85 for the last 18. Cleveland, Ewart and Bell were the only players to improve their game in the last round. Cleveland got an 80, Lieut. Halstead. Both McAndrew and Grace got in trouble the last round, as did Melnery.

The result of the play was as follows:
Frank Halstead 79 80 159
Maj. Lincoln 82 80 160
C. P. Cleveland 82 81 163
Lieut. McAndrews 78 82 161
W. R. Grace 79 85 164
C. G. Bockius 83 89 172
A. F. Ewart 92 86 178
R. G. Bell 91 90 181
A. Horner 88 96 184
J. D. Melnery, C. P. Lauken, Maj. Horn, B. E. Noble, no returns.

ST. LOUIS MIDGETS TOO LIGHT FOR HEAVY TEAM OF PUNAHOU RECRUITS

Punahou third team swamped the St. Louis third team in football Saturday at Alexander field by a score of 39 to 0. The Punahou team outweighed the St. Louis players about 20 pounds to the man, but the little fellows made a plucky fight against big odds.

Okamura was the star of the game for Punahou, and proved to be a sterling open field runner. Midkiff was on the side line and looked at the boy running to better form than some of his regulars. Harvey and Williams also starred. Punahou made six touchdowns—Harvey 2, Okamura 2, Williams 2. The Punahou team converted three goals.

"Little Peanuts" Leal proved to be the star player for St. Louis. He ploughed through the line and punted with his bare foot for more yardage than the Punahou kicker. On one occasion he dropped a ball and recovered with a 35-yard punt. Two of the St. Louis players weighed about 64 pounds each.

pleased the sidelines by staying by the game till the last with little time wasted. Kamehameha had a tendency to rough it, but the disapproval of the sidelines had its effect and it was stopped.

Altogether the game will encourage the High school contingent, who are fighting against odds of little encouragement and a small string of men. Kam's clever work, on the other hand, gave her a well deserved victory, and the season now promises to be replete with surprises. The fans are becoming louder, however, in their demands for both games on the same field and if the school representatives would only grant the desire of the people who pay, immense crowds would greet the rest of the games.

The lineup and summary were:
McKinley Kamehameha
Akana Hussey
Lujan Clark

FORT SHAFTER'S FOOTBALL PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Oct. 16.—At a meeting of a number of the football players of Fort Shafter at the call of the athletic officer of the 2d Infantry, held Sunday morning, it was decided to try out all the available material at another meeting of the football candidates, to be held on the athletic grounds today, when it will be finally agreed as to whether it will be possible to organize a post team and also teams enough from the companies to make an inter-company league also a possibility.

The Army was again well represented at both of the large football games held last Saturday. At the Kamehameha-McKinley game not only was there a large delegation of soldiers from the 2d Infantry present, but also the following officers acted as officials: Capt. McAndrews acted as referee, 1st Lieut. Halloran was umpire, Capt. McKain acted as time-keeper and 1st Lieut. Hobbey was official linesman. At the College of Hawaii-Punahou game there were many engineers and coast artillerymen present, while the army was represented among the officials in Lieut. Pepin as referee and 1st Lieut. Jones, 32d Infantry, as umpire.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS FAIL TO DOWN TEAM WITH TYRUS PLAYING

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 16.—The Boston Red Sox, world's champions, with Babe Ruth in the box, tied the Colonials, a semi-professional team, here Sunday, at the score being 3 to 2. Tyrus Cobb was at first base for the Colonials and held down the sack without an error. He handled eight put outs. He secured two hits in four times up. The Boston lineup was the same which played in the world's series with the exception of Hooper and Gardner.

PUNAHOU AND COLLEGE OF HAWAII IN HARD BATTLE AT ALEXANDER FIELD

Score Ends in Tie After 48 Minutes of Play—Correa Comes Back in Game for Blue and Gold and Plays Great Football—College Team Makes Good Impression in First Game of Year—Ballentyne Handles Squad in Goof Fashion

College of Hawaii and Punahou fought for 48 minutes at Alexander field on Saturday afternoon to a tie score. Both teams made two touchdowns but not a goal was converted. It was hard play throughout, with but little advantage on either side.

Punahou had the advantage in end runs with Correa in the game, and the fast back, who is ineligible to play in the regular league games, proved to be a tower on offense. He gains much yardage for his team, and is always in the play. Hawaii might have won out had not Correa been sent into the game.

Hawaii Looks Good.
With two more weeks of hard practice the College of Hawaii will have the best team in the league. From now on they should not lose a game as they have a number of stars, and with a little more teamwork should lead the league at the end of the season. The game with Punahou showed the team in action for the first time, and the squad proved in excellent shape despite the lack of a coach.

The Hawaii machine did not run as smoothly as that of Punahou, but there was more directed punch to the plays, and the long forward passes of Brush were a big help to the team. Last year Brush had Lee to hurl passes to. This year he has Kuwamoto Maruchi, Hicks and Al. Maruchi showed up in great shape against Punahou, and made a number of noticeable gains. He runs low, and has an ideal stride for an open field runner.

Brush in Play
Brush was best at hurling forward passes, but whenever a chance was given him for a gain he very seldom failed to advance the ball and kept going all the time. Ballentyne handled the team in excellent shape and used the plays which were the ones which finally counted. The snappy play proved that Ballentyne will be a good field general.

Hicks, who was a rock in the line last year, plays the same hard game in the backfield, and made a number of gains. As soon as he adapts himself to the start with the play, Hawaii is going to have a hard running back. He hits the line well and with a faster start should prove to be a good end runner.

Bromley, an ex-Punahou star, was in the line at tackle, and proved to be at his best. He showed an improvement over his play of last year, and often broke through and stopped the runner. Harry Melm of last year's McKinley team was at end and spilled a number of plays. Al, the other end, is fast, and looks like a corner. Wong Grabs Them

Barnhart, Nicholson, Wong and Case stopped all attempts of the Punahou backs to go through the line, and in this department the college team will be strong. Wong proved to be the original Sammy White, and gained about 100 yards on receivers, fumbles and forward passes. Nicholson is heavy, and stopped the play many times, but his punts did not begin to equal those of Peterson and Correa.

Baldwin was shifted to end in the Hawaii game, and "Sleepy" was in the play every minute for Punahou. He dumped the interference and got his man on several occasions, and played a hard game throughout. Both Hitchcock and Leal showed up well at the flank positions. Punahou played an aggressive game throughout, and aside from a number of poor tackles improved much on their game of the Saturday before. The play of periods was as follows:
Play by Play
Hawaii kicks off to Kaplane, who returns the ball back about 10 yards, and after failing to gain Peterson kicks 29 yards and Punahou recovers. Kauhane circles right end for seven yards and Hawkins fumbles, but recovers. The ball goes over and Brush makes seven yards around left end. Hicks goes through left tackle for 3 yards.
Hawkins Scores
On the next play Nicholson kicks to Correa, who returns it 12 yards. He then makes a 30 yard run around left end. Kauhane takes it for ten yards more. Hawkins breaks through and crosses the line for a touchdown. Kauhane failed to kick the goal. Score, Punahou 6, Hawaii 0. Correa takes the ball for ten yards after the kickoff and the period ends with the ball in the center of the field.
Opening the second period Kauhane makes one yard, and Peterson then punts 40 yards. Hawaii takes the ball for two yards and loses the downs, and then Punahou fumbles and Wong runs for 60 yards to within two feet of the line when he was tackled by Hawkins from behind. On the next play Ballentyne carried the ball across the line. Bromley misses a goal. Score: Punahou 6, Hawaii 6.
Erash Runs 50 Yards
Hawaii takes the ball over and Brush runs 50 yards, and Hicks circles left end for a slight gain. Brush then hurls a forward pass to Kawamoto for a 12 yard gain. Another forward pass
