

SOCIETY

SOCIETY with a capital "S" turned out in large numbers on Thursday evening to see the much-talked-of Snow Cotillion that the Outdoor Circle put on as its winter social entertainment.

It was the most elaborate function of its kind given since the Outdoor Circle put on the "Night in Roof-land" which up to Thursday evening was considered the most beautiful of these affairs given here. But the Snow Cotillion surpassed all expectations.

The whole Roof Garden was transformed into a garden amid glittering snow and ice, and so realistic were the chill settings that one could "shiver with perfect comfort." The snow storm, in which heads, coats of men and bare necks and shoulders of the girl dancers were sprinkled with drifting flakes, was extremely pretty. It struck such a popular chord that the Young Hotel is going to usher in the New Year with a snow storm and thunder.

One would hardly have supposed that the night could possibly be so lovely after the downpour of the day with mud and dampness everywhere. And then to dance on the hotel roof and be perfectly protected from the elements! It was a work of art, this transformation, and no end of praise is due the committee members who worked so hard to make a snow scene in sunny Hawaii. Some cast-ironers who were there had but one objection, which was that they had come from "below zero weather" to this land of sunshine and warmth—and they were mighty glad it was not "lasting snow." Overhead the Roof Garden was covered with pine branches dripping with snow and icicles, and two snow men stood guard at the cotillion favor table. Every light in the place was snow-covered, even the huge Oriental lanterns looked like great transparent snowballs. It was indeed a pretty picture, and it did seem a pity that this was for one night only. Every guest or onlooker was presented with a snowball and later joined in the snow battle.

Many indeed were the pretty and novel steps danced by the thirty-two members of the Cotillion set, which was led by Mr. Hermann von Holt and Miss Mary von Holt. The favors were Christmas berries and red poinsettias for the first figures; white bows and red toboggan caps for the second; white muffs and long red horns for the third; and white veils with fringe bells and red wigs for the fourth. In this last-figure the girls drove their partners first single, then double and so on until the men were all abreast.

The dancing was so pretty that the audience hoped for an encore, which they might have had if it had not been for the snow fight, which started sooner than was anticipated. The snow-balling spread like wildfire and soon hundreds of cotton snowballs were flying in a merry way. Every one became a very juvenile boy or girl again, so fast and gay was the play. Even the snow men were soon busy and were held by the dancers.

The evening's fun kept up until lights were turned out; even then no one wanted to go home.

The girls in the Cotillion were very prettily gowned. Miss Mary von Holt was in black and silver. Miss Ruth Anderson wore a pretty blue and silver frock. Miss Pauline Schaefer wore a Copenhagen blue mauve velvet and silk brocade. Miss Maryjoy Capps wore a shell pink chiffon and fur. Miss Stephanie Wichman was in pink chiffon with an over-dress of opalescent trimming. Miss Thelma Murphy wore orange chiffon with Copenhagen blue and gold lace. Miss Nora Swazy in white sata looked very well. Miss Laura Low wore an American beauty shade of ruffon and silver lace. Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum wore a smart evening frock of pink. Miss Margaret Thurston, a very pretty girl, wore a stunning picture in pink chiffon. Miss Doris Noble, one of the most graceful of the dancers, wore white lace. Miss Dorothy Harker wore white net and satin which was most becoming.

Many of the gowns noticed in the audience were very beautiful and added in no small measure to the party.

Those in the cotillion were: Misses Mary von Holt, Ruth Anderson, Ruth McChesney, Martha McChesney, Pauline Schaefer, Marjorie Capps, Katherine Williams, Stephanie Wichman, Thelma Murphy, Nora Swazy, Laura Low, Elizabeth Rosenbaum, Margaret Thurston, Doris Noble, Dorothy Harker, Madame Lester, Messrs. Hermann von Holt, "Bob" White, Lieut. W. H. Britton, Capt. Tilghman, Howard Worrall, William Warren, F. Schaefer, Lieut. Guyer, Douglas Young, George Bennett, Richard Whitcomb, Lieut. Haw, Harry Parker, "Bob" Purvis, Hogarth Pettigohn, Hansford.

Honolulu is indeed fortunate in having so capable a woman as is Miss Bertha Young, for this whole affair was under her able direction and every detail was gone into most carefully. The result was a finished production. She was ably assisted by Mrs. Archibald Young, Mrs. C. C. von Hamm, Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Mr. Douglas Damon, Mr. Theodore Hoffman, who was responsible for the falling snow, and Mr. Arthur Wall, who made and arranged the icicles in such a realistic manner. It would indeed be hard to single out individuals for praise; each one did so much toward a handsome production of a remarkable picture.

Mrs. Charles H. McMorris (Betty Case), popular girl whose wedding this week was an event in service and civilian circles.

Miss Jessie Kennedy made and designed the favors, which were considered by everyone as a beautiful addition to the Cotillion. The Cotillion dancers were trained by Madame Lester. The following were table holders each having from four to eight guests:

F. J. Lowrey, two tables; W. R. Castle, two tables; Ernest Parker, C. W. Case Deering, A. J. Campbell, Chief Justice S. G. M. Robertson, Riley H. Allen, Charles F. Chillingworth, two tables; Judge Clarence W. Ashford, Arthur F. Wall, James D. Dougherty, Mrs. George Sherman, Dr. M. E. Grossman, Frank E. Thompson, C. C. von Hamm, J. A. Kennedy, two tables; W. D. Adams, A. G. Hawes, Attorney General Stainback, two tables; H. A. Taylor, J. Schwartz, H. M. von Holt, A. L. Castle, J. H. Drew, H. F. Wichman, A. Lewis, Jr., two tables; H. H. Williams, S. C. Huber, Robert Hind, J. F. C. Hagens, A. N. Campbell, R. B. McGrew, William Williamson, Mrs. Lucile B. Romagay, two tables; J. L. Cockburn, Robert Steever, Francis Brown, Ranney Scott.

MISS ELOISE WICHMAN AN HONORED GUEST

On Friday of this week Miss Eloise Wichman was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower, over which Miss Ruth Soper presided. The table represented a skating pond and the miniature skaters and skates, with a village on one side in the distance and a pine forest on the other, was most effective. At either end of the large oval table stood miniature Christmas trees dripping with icicles. Dainty name cards marked each guest cover.

A large Christmas tree in the dancing room held the snowier gifts and after luncheon Miss Wichman, whose engagement was announced in the middle of December, was given many bits of linen for her chest. Bridge and sewing kept the guests till late in the afternoon.

Miss Soper's guests were Miss Eloise Wichman, Miss Stephanie Wichman, Miss Thelma K. Murphy, Miss Dorothy Guild, Miss Laura Low, Mrs. Samuel Rolph of Hilo, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Miss Rosie Herbert, Miss Nonna Hind, Miss Margaret Hind, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Sara Lucas, Mrs. Walter Reesman, Miss Peggy Center, Mrs. George Collins, Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Ruth McChesney, Miss Martha McChesney, Mrs. Howard Bode, Miss Vera Henshaw and Mrs. Merwin Carson.

COL. AND MRS. WILMOT E. ELLIS PARTY

Christmas Eve Col. and Mrs. Wilmot E. Ellis gave a very charming party honoring Madame Nellie Melba and Mr. L. Young Corretthers. The guests were all seated around a lighted heart, and each told a story. Mr. Corretthers kept the guests convulsed with his inimitable southern dialect stories. Mrs. Ellis rendered a very clever recitation. "Homey" Christmas party and greatly enjoyed. A buffet supper was served, after which the guests motored to town and saw the community Christmas tree.

Col. and Mrs. Ellis' guests were Madame Nellie Melba, Mr. L. Young Corretthers, Maj. and Mrs. Charles A. Ragan, Capt. and Mrs. Carr W. Waller, Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Magruder, Dr. and Mrs. Bailey, Capt. and Mrs. Brainard Taylor, Capt. and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Loomis, Miss Daphne Dow, Miss Bailey, Lieut. Samuel Tilghman, Lieut. Frank Drake and Lieut. Robert W. Clarke.

GEN. AND MRS. FREDERICK STRONG'S DINNER

Christmas night Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Strong entertained with a beautiful dinner. The table was very prettily decorated with Christmas berries, red ixoras and red carnations made a most attractive centerpiece. A tree was lighted and from it everyone received a dainty gift. Gen. and Mrs. Strong's guests were Col. and Mrs. Frank Keefer, Lieut. and Mrs. Louis Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Edele Ford, Mr. Budde of California, Lieut. Wallace Philom, Mr. Wilton Ward and Mrs. Harold Ward of Detroit. The last two named are the house-guests of the Strong's.

MR. GUY BUTTOLPH ENTERTAINS

Last Saturday evening Mr. Guy Buttolph was host at a very beautifully appointed supper, honoring Mr. and Mrs. James W. Corrigan of Cleveland, Ohio. The dinner was at the Rathskeller and the table was very handsomely decorated. A basket of varicolored sweet peas was in the center of the table and lighted tapers gave a soft, pretty effect. After dinner the roof garden was the mecca of the guests.

Mr. Buttolph's guests were Mr. and Mrs. James W. Corrigan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Williamson, Mrs. Grafton Beall, Mrs. Bamberger and Maj. Herbert Williams.

MR. AND MRS. H. G. DANFORD'S CHRISTMAS PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Danford entertained at dinner on Christmas night. The table was in the Yuletide colors, red and green. The rooms were decorated with holly wreaths and great clusters of flaming ixoras gave a colorful effect. Mr. and Mrs. Danford's guests were Judge and Mrs. William Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lange, Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Stainback, Mrs. Frances Reid, Miss Margaret Steven, Miss Hewlings, Miss Danford and others.

A RATHSKELLER DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. von Hamm entertained at dinner at the Rathskeller on Thursday evening previously to the Snow Cotillion. Their guests were Col. and Mrs. Frank Keefer and Lieut. and Mrs. Howard Bode.

A NEW YEAR'S PARTY

Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse and Mrs. Gideon van Poole are having an "at-home" on New Year's Day. A large company is expected.

SOCIAL CALENDAR.

- Case-McMorris Wedding.
- Miss Eloise Wichman Honored.
- Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dekum's Egg-nog Party.
- Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey's Dinner Party.
- Botts-Murray Nuptials.
- Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Stainback's Dinner.
- Dorothea Dougherty's First Christmas Tree.
- Col. and Mrs. Wilmot E. Ellis Honor Madame Melba.
- Christmas at Fort Ruger.
- Judge and Mrs. Edward M. Watson's Dinner.
- The Beall Children's Christmas Tree.
- A Dancing Party Tonight.
- Chief Justice and Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson's Poi Supper.
- Dr. and Mrs. George Herbert's Christmas Dinner.
- Mr. and Mrs. John H. Soper's Christmas Dinner.
- Christmas At the Country Club.
- Christmas At the Courtland.
- Christmas At the Young and Mo ma.
- Christmas At the Colonial.
- Mr. and Mrs. J. Morton Riggs' Luncheon.
- Gen. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong's Dinner.

CASE-MCMORRIS

St. Clement's church never looked prettier than on Wednesday evening when Miss Betty Case and Lieut. Charles Horatio McMorris, U. S. N., were united in matrimony. The church was very simply and yet very beautifully decorated for the occasion. Long sweeping garlands of male and Christmas greens were festooned overhead; while palm leaves were conventionally arranged. The altar was lighted with waxen tapers and the flowers used were calla lilies. The communion rail was a trellis and network of dainty vines and at the altar entrance were calla lilies. The entrance, where stands the holy water font, was massed with the same handsome blossoms.

The pew occupied by the family was marked with tall standing clusters of callas at its entrance. The seven-branched candles on either side of the altar were dignified and appropriate. The church was decorated by Miss Mary von Holt.

It was a "service wedding." The groom is a lieutenant of the U. S. N. and the bride is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. David B. Case, U. S. A. and both widely known and liked in service circles.

The organ, played by Mrs. Alice Brown, rendered soft, appropriate music before the arrival of the bridal party. The first strains of the Lohengrin wedding march announced the coming of the bride, on the arm of her father, Maj. David B. Case, who gave her into the keeping of her husband. She was preceded by her maid-of-honor, Miss Nora Swazy, and her bridesmaid, Miss Mary von Holt.

The bride, who is one of the most charming and clever of girls here, made a very pleasing picture as she strolled down in her snowy-white bridal robes. Her gown, which was exquisitely made, was of very heavy ivory satin with an overdress of tulle. It was made with a simple, appropriate V-neck, and just above the elbow sleeves her filmy veil draped itself over her long train, which was suspended from the shoulders in a very graceful manner. The veil was clasped about the bride's head with a wreath of orange blossoms. A shower bouquet of orchids and white sweet peas was carried, and later when tossed to the young girls assembled was caught by Miss Thelma K. Murphy.

Miss Nora Swazy and Miss Mary von Holt were gowned in pink charmuse and silver lace. Both gowns were most attractive and becoming, made in the latest vogue. With these gowns were worn pink tulle and silver lace hats. Miss Swazy and Miss von Holt each carried shower bouquets of pink sweet peas.

Mrs. Case, mother of the bride, was most attractively gowned in a handsome pearl-gray charmuse with rose point lace.

Lieut. Thomas Vinson supported Lieut. McMorris as best man and the ushers were Capt. Alexander J. McNab and Mr. Bert Clark.

As the bridal party turned to leave the church the wedding march pealed forth.

The service was most impressively read by Chaplain William Reese Scott of Fort Shafter, and the responses of the bride and groom were clear and audible.

After leaving the church the party motored over to the Case home on Beretania street and here a reception was held.

The home had been beautifully decorated by Miss Nora Swazy in feathery bamboo, male and American Beauty roses. The bride and groom were showered with the sincere good wishes of their assembled friends. They received in the drawing room, which had been cleared of its furnishings, and a quintet furnished music during the reception and for the dance that followed.

The bride and groom then slipped away and are spending their honeymoon at the Swazy's Kuloa home on the other side of the island. They will leave here in the middle of the month and depart with so many people wishing they might be going to stay.

Some among those at the wedding were Gen. and Mrs. Frederick S. Strong, Col. and Mrs. Benjamin Atkinson, Col. and Mrs. James B. Houston, Col. and Mrs. Powell C. Fauntleroy, Col. and Mrs. W. P. Kendall, Com-

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS BOYLAN'S DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boylan entertained a party of friends at Christmas dinner at the Courtland Hotel on Christmas Night. A basket was filled with Christmas berries, poinsettias and red Transvaal daisies. After dinner the dance at the Pleasanton was an added enjoyment. Mr. and Mrs. Boylan's guests were Miss Mary Low; Miss McNamara, Miss Rose Brown, Miss Zida, Miss Kate Hyue, Mr. A. Halls and Dr. Taerns.

THE MISSES TREAT HONORED

This evening at the University Club Col. and Mrs. Frank Keefer and Capt. and Mrs. John Burnett are honoring Miss Margaret and Miss Katherine Treet, daughters of Gen. and Mrs. Treat of Schofield. The large table will be gaily decorated with balloons, horns, crackers, whistles, etc. A basket of red poinsettias and red Transvaal daisies will grace the table center. Lighted tapers with red shades in silver candle sticks will add greatly to the pretty table.

The guests invited by Col. and Mrs. Keefer and Capt. and Mrs. Burnett to meet Miss Margaret and Miss Katherine Treet are Maj. and Mrs. Augustine McIntyre, Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Janda, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Rice, Dr. and Mrs. Salade of Philadelphia, Capt. and Mrs. Kerr T. Riggs, Miss Carrie McMahon, Miss Esther McMahon, Mrs. Ellen Bodley, Lieut. William Covell, Lieut. Robert G. Guyer, Mr. Archibald Arnold, Lieut. Frank Riley, Capt. James Uilo, Capt. Charles B. Bankhead, Lieut. John G. Simons, Lieut. Raymond E. McQuittin, Lieut. Edward C. Rose, Lieut. Frank V. Schneider, Lieut. Carl L. Cohen, Mr. Landrum, Lieut. Eugene A. Lohman, Mr. Jack Morrill of Medford, Ore., Mr. George Ahlborn. After dinner the dance at the University Club will occupy the guests.

MASQUE DANCE AT SHAFTER

The officers and ladies of Fort Shafter gave a very charming masque dance on Friday evening. This is a yearly affair at this post and is always an anticipated pleasure. Last evening's affair was exceptionally delightful.

MR. AND MRS. F. J. LOWREY'S SNOW COTILLION DANCE

Previous to the Snow Cotillion Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jewett Lowrey entertained at their home with a dinner party. The central ornament was a basket of winter fruits and was most attractive. After dinner the guests attended the Snow Cotillion on the Roof Garden. Mr. and Mrs. Lowrey's guests were Mr. and Mrs. William R. Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood M. Lowrey, Mrs. Henry Waterhouse, Miss Nora Sturgeon and Mr. William Lewers.

LIEUT. AND MRS. FRANK SLOAN'S BUFFET SUPPER

Friday evening Lieut. and Mrs. Frank Sloan of Fort Shafter entertained a company of friends at a domino buffet supper. The guests arrived in their masquerade costumes and enjoyed a seated buffet supper after which all attended the Shafter masque dance. The tables favored the Yuletide season, every thing being in green, red and white. Carnations in red and white were very effective. Holly wreaths, Christmas berries and red poinsettias were used.

Lieut. and Mrs. Sloan's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth, Commander and Mrs. Victor Houston, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Crystal, Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Dalton, Capt. and Mrs. Victor Houston, U. S. N., Capt. and Mrs. Phillip J. Kiehl, Capt. and Mrs. Jack Paye, Capt. and Mrs. David Gienty, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas B. Herber, Col. and Mrs. R. R. Raymond, Maj. and Mrs. Charles Metler, Miss Medler, Paymaster Greer, U. S. N.; Lieut. and Mrs. George N. Converse; Mrs. Francis M. Swazy, Madame Melba, Miss Bourgardier, Mrs. Augustus E. Murphy, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Pauline Schaefer, Mrs. Harriet Hatch, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Alice Cooke, Miss Hilda von Holt, Miss Thelma K. Murphy, Miss Helen Pratt, Miss Margaret Center, Capt. Samuel Tilghman, Mr. Harry Lucas and others.

Miss Ruth Soper, a luncheon hostess yesterday, honoring Miss Eloise Wichman, whose engagement has recently been announced.

holly wreaths tied with large red bows. Dr. and Mrs. Herbert's guests were Dr. and Mrs. Grover Balkin, Mrs. Jellings, Miss Jellings, Miss Vera Henshaw, Miss Rosie Herbert, Mr. Marshall Henshaw, Mr. Chauncey Cleveland, Mr. Stigen, Dr. Charles Stow, Mr. Love Vetlesen and Mr. Charles Herbert.

AT HOME ON NEW YEAR'S EVE
Mr. and Mrs. Alapaki Smith will be at home to their friends Sunday afternoon and evening, celebrating New Year's Day on Sunday instead of Monday.

A JOLLY DINNER BEFORE THE COTILLION

A jolly set of people enjoyed a dinner at the Rathskeller on Thursday evening afterwards going to the Roof Garden and enjoying to the full the beautiful Snow Cotillion. The dinner table was extremely pretty, a basket of sweet peas in various lavender and pink tones making a pretty centerpiece.

Those enjoying this dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Damon, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giffard.

MR. AND MRS. HAMILTON P. AGEE'S DINNER

Tomorrow evening Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton P. Agee are entertaining a company of guests at dinner. After dinner bridge will occupy the time until the coming in of the New Year. Mr. and Mrs. Agee's guests are to be Mrs. Grafton Beall, Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse, Mrs. Gideon Van Poole, Mr. Guy H. Buttolph, Mr. Leonard Camp and Capt. Alexander J. McNab.

JUDGE AND MRS. EDWARD M. WATSON ENTERTAIN

Christmas evening Judge and Mrs. Edward M. Watson entertained at dinner. The table was extremely pretty. A snow bank graced the table center and miniature Christmas trees laden with icicles glistened in the light. Tall silver candlesticks were shaded in red and at the edge of the snow bank were brilliant red poinsettias and Christmas greens. The name cards were Santa Claus designs and at each guest place was a large holly cracker that was snapped amid laughter and then the gay caps donned by every one.

MR. AND MRS. J. MORTON RIGGS' LUNCHEON

Christmas Day at the Country Club Mr. and Mrs. J. Morton Riggs entertained at luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Barret of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Caldwell of New York, Judge and Mrs. James L. Coke and Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Tackabay.

A COUNTRY CLUB LUNCHEON

Mrs. L. L. McCandless was hostess at an informal luncheon at the Country Club on Friday. The hour after luncheon was devoted to needlework and social conversation.

MISS KATHERINE WOODFORD A CARD HOSTESS

On Thursday afternoon Miss Katherine Woodford was hostess at an informal bridge party. About 20 guests were present.

CHIEF JUSTICE AND MRS. ALEXANDER ROBERTSON'S POI SUPPER AND DANCE

Chief Justice and Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson are entertaining this evening with a poi supper and dance. The table is to be decorated with rock crystal bowls filled with flaming red carnations and low calabashes filled with island fruits. At each guest cover will be a red carnation lei, and red-shaded, lighted tapers will cast a soft warm glow over all. After the poi supper the guests will motor to Helele's and enjoy the dance there.

Judge and Mrs. Robertson's guests will be: Comdr. and Mrs. Victor Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Judge and Mrs. William Lymer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giffard, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Schaefer, Mr. and Mrs. James Dougherty, Mayor and Mrs. John C. Lane, Mrs. Bessie Mackall, Miss Sara Lucas, Mr. Mason Remy, Mr. George Latimer, Mr. Frank Moss and Mr. Cornell Franklin.

CHRISTMAS DAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

The Country Club was the mecca on Christmas Day for a very charming party. A luncheon was served from 12 until 2:30 and from that hour until 6 dancing was enjoyed. Some among those who entertained were Mr. and Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, who had 10 guests; Mr. and Mrs. A. Hocking, with six guests; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Warren, with six guests; Mr. A. B. Meager, six guests; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hawes, four guests, and Mr. C. D. Wright, four guests.