Police, Prosecutor and Judge All Exercised by Developments in Warrington Case

Today's developments in the Warrington so-called non-support affair, the chief feature of which was the defendant's unsuccessful race for the Great Northern yesterday after she had cast off, consists chiefly in Judge Monsarrat's denial that he ever questioned Policeman Carter's "veracity" and other interesting statements by Sheriff Rose, Attorney Chillingworth and Warrington himself.

Falling to catch the big boat to assume his duties of fifth officer, Warrington made another attempt today to get to San Francisco in time to come back with the liner. He bought a ticket on the Matson ship Lurline, shut himself and luggage in his cabin, but a few moments before the last whistle blew Policeman Carter, who had persistently dogged his footsteps, knocked at the door. Shortly afterwards from behind barred doors he heard the Lurline's whistle of his last chance.

Monsarrat Explains Position

"Warrington was credited with saying yesterday that he was going to San Francisco and was not coming back," said Judge Monsarrat this morning, "but no such statement was made to me in court and I can scarcely believe that he would make such a one if he were anxious to get away. Attorney Chillingworth told me the man was needed on the ship, expressed regret that he had been arrested at the last moment, recommended that he be released to appear on the Great Northern's return, assuming all responsibility, and I acceded. That's all there is to it and I do not want to be drawn into any newspaper publicity."

Chillingworth Confirms Judge

Attorney Chillingworth bore out those statements of the judge which pertained to himself. He added that Policeman Carter did not tell of the defendant having declared he would not come back, but merely said in an aside to the prosecution, "I'll bet he won't come back."

Sheriff Rose ridiculed the statement that his officer was at loggerheads with the judge. As soon as the judge heard the sheriff's story he ordered the defendant's rearrest and he is now held under a $250 bond, which he says he cannot furnish.

Still Other Denials

Y. M. C. A. authorities, according to Chillingworth, came to him this morning to tell they had not forced Warrington to marry the girl, but rather had advised her against it for her own good.

With tears in his eyes Warrington himself is pacing behind the bars, blaming the sheriff for the loss of a good job. "I have been paying my wife's room and board every trip and last time I gave her $15," he declares, "and the next trip, after pay day, I would have given her more. I intend to support her. I have a second mate's license and was going to try for a first when I got to the coast, but I was certainly coming back and never said I was not. How can I support my wife if I'm not working? I am flat broke and had to borrow the price of my Lurline ticket."

CAPT. JOHNSON TAKES THE MAUI

The dean of the station Navigation Company's fleet, Capt. Peter Johnson, is making his last voyage as commander of the Matson liner Wilhelmina. It was learned today when the steamer arrived this morning from San Francisco.

When the Wilhelmina reaches San Francisco again January 30 Capt. Johnson will leave her and stay ashore supervising final work on the new Matson flagship Maui, of which he has been given command, as announced by the Star-Bulletin last June.

Capt. Francis M. Edwards, now commanding the Manoa, will bring the Wilhelmina to Honolulu next time on February 13 and will command her permanently. He is the youngest skipper of the Matson fleet and one of the most popular.

Capt. Arthur L. Soule of the Lurline will get the Manoa and Capt. William M. Rind of the Hyades will get the Lurline. Capt. Charles Peterson keeps the Matsonia. The Lurline's new skipper has not been decided upon.

SEVERAL ACCIDENTS, NONE VERY SERIOUS

Accidents for Monday and Tuesday which have been reported to the police include the fall George Palmer took last night when he slipped while stepping from a Rapid Transit car at Port De Russy station, Walkiki, and the crushing of Ah Choy's wheelbarrow when it was struck on Hotel street in front of the A. B. Arleigh store Tuesday afternoon by Stella Peck driving auto 2395.

This morning S. Lucas, driving auto 1277, struck a Japanese wagon driven by one Hidatsuke, near the corner of Wilder avenue and Piikoi streets. The Japanese was taken to the Queen's hospital and Lucas was arrested on a charge of heedless driving. About noon there was a report of a collision at the corner of Lunaliilo and Victoria streets between a truck and a Rapid Transit car, with no serious consequences.

HARBOR BOARD WILL CONSIDER FINANCES

Members of the harbor board have arranged a meeting tonight in the Capitol, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, to discuss appropriations needed from the coming legislature. Chairman Charles R. Forbes left some suggested appropriations with the board at the time he departed for the mainland, and these as well as some proposals by individual members will be considered. Wilbur C. Woodward, acting chairman, will have charge of the meeting.

It has been the usual custom for the board to visit the various islands during the latter part of the year previous to a legislative session, but this trip was impossible this year because of shortage of funds.

MUSEUM NEEDS MORE ROOM, SAYS REPORT

That the Bishop Museum support further research work at Hala-mau and that the scope of activities of the trustees be enlarged is urged in a report handed to Circuit Judge Whitney at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon by the master appointed to examine the twenty-first annual accounts of the Charles R. Bishop Trust.

It is pointed out in the report that this is an opportune time for the museum to take up on a large scale volcanic research work and it is urged that funds be provided for studies of Kilauea. Lack of room, adds the report, impairs the usefulness of the museum at the present time, and a great deal of money should be spent in enlarging the building.

WOODWARD FINDS WORK SATISFACTORY ON MAUI

Wilbur C. Woodward, acting superintendent of public works, returned this morning from a short trip to Maui where he looked over contracts that are about to be brought to completion under that department.

He reports that work is progressing satisfactorily, and that the road from Lahaina to Lahainaluna school is about finished. Work has just begun on the Lahaina swamp, but is going on in a satisfactory manner.

PREPARE FOR BIDS ON BIG ARMY STOREHOUSES

Bids for the 10 storehouses to be built by the army for use of the Hawaiian department will be called for in a few days at the office of the constructing quartermaster. The buildings are to be situated near Shafter in the vicinity of the slaughter house. Bids will include offers on roads, drainage, sewer systems and car tracks. Three storehouses are being built now at Schofield, a portion of the permanent post.

MIKESAN MARU HERE FROM CANAL FOR COAL

The Japanese steamer Mikesan Maru arrived off port from Balboa at 12:30 this afternoon and docked at Pier 7 later, calling in for bunkers en route to Manila from Port Arthur with case oil. She is taking 350 tons of coal and hopes to resume her voyage tonight.

HILO TO HAVE Y. M. C. A. SOON

Hilo took the first step in the formation of a Y. M. C. A. this week, when a temporary organization was formed to establish an association in that city. On Monday at a meeting of leading businessmen of Hilo, with Dr. R. D. Williams and Lloyd R. Killam of Honolulu present, L. C. Lyman, Esq., Jr., as secretary of the first organization.

Dr. R. D. Williams, a member of the territorial executive committee of the Y. M. C. A., and Lloyd R. Killam, executive secretary, spent one week in the Crescent City interviewing leading residents of that city on the need of an association. The meeting was largely attended, and the first plan for a permanent organization will be instituted at once.

Two years ago a plan was proposed to establish an association in Hilo, but at that time it was believed that it would be necessary for the erection of a building immediately. Since the Kaula association was formed and has proved successful, the residents of Hilo interested believe that an association based on the Kaula plan will be welcomed.

The committee has advised the use of halls, churches and other buildings for the association until such time as a building can be erected. Members of the committee are especially interested in promoting association work among the plantation laborers. Killam said today upon his return that he expected a permanent organization to be formed within the next few weeks.

LODGE LE PROGRES HOLDS INSTALLATION OF ITS NEW OFFICERS

The 1917 officers of Lodge Le Progres de l'Oceanie, No. 371, F. & A. M., jurisdiction of the grand lodge of California, have been installed as follows by Past Master Lawrence A. Kerr.

John Smyth, worshipful master; Clarence Wilder Ashford, senior warden; John Henry Ketcheson, junior warden; Carl Justus de Roo, treasurer; Ross Hamilton Bemrose, P. M., secretary; Ed Towse, P. M., chaplain; Richard Summers Kelley, marshal; Charles Francis Merrill, senior deacon; Gaston John Boisse, junior deacon; Harry Sanford Decker, senior steward; Alfred Kapala Mason, junior steward; William Chaffie Kenake, Tyler.

District Deputy Jas. F. Fenwick acted as marshal. A banquet at the Masonic temple, with L. A. Kerr as toastmaster, followed the ceremonies. Notable addresses were made in response to the traditional toasts. The speakers included Bros. Smyth, Ashford, Taylor, Schneck, MacIntyre, Towse and Bemrose.

LEAHI CHAPTER NO. 2, ORDER EASTERN STAR, INSTALLS OFFICERS

Leahi Chapter No. 2, Order of the Eastern Star, held its installation of officers Monday night at Masonic Temple. Besides a full attendance of the members of the installing chapter, there were many visitors from the sister chapters of the city, the room being filled, necessitating the third row of chairs.

The hall was most tastefully decorated with flowers and ferns of colors appropriate to the occasion. The flowers for presentation to those who had served the chapter during the past year practically filled one end of the room.

Beautiful past officers' jewels were presented to the retiring worthy matron, Mrs. Kellogg, and to Mr. Morgan, the retiring worthy patron. The chapter was also presented with a beautiful Bible by the retiring officers of the year just gone.

At the conclusion of the installation ceremonies delicious refreshments were served in the banquet hall. The following officers were installed for the coming year: Miss Jean Macaulay, worthy matron; Charles Arstad, worthy patron; Mrs. Charles Bye, associate matron; Mrs. Reedy, treasurer; Mrs. Black, secretary; Miss Hall, conductress; Mrs. McClane, associate conductress; Mrs. Counts, Ada; Mrs. Williamson, Ruth; Mrs. Morgan, Esther; Mrs. Crockett, Martha; Mrs. Solomon, Electa; Mrs. Marcellino, warden; Mrs. Lee, organist; Mrs. Kellogg, marshal; Mr. Todd, sentinel; Mr. Morgan, chaplain.

DECKER GETS FOUR MONTHS IN PRISON

Convicted of the commission of a statutory offense involving a 19-year-old Portuguese girl, Sam Decker, 55 years old, was sentenced by Federal Judge Horace W. Vaughan today to serve four months in Oahu prison. Decker and the girl were arrested several months ago by Marshal J. J. Smiddy in a room in a local lodging house. Half a dozen local residents testified this morning that Decker's reputation had been generally good.

MUCH SUGAR ON HAND AT BIG ISLAND PORTS

Sugar awaiting shipment at Hawaii ports is gradually growing larger in amount. Purser M. W. Mitchell of the Mauna Kea today reports the following sugar to have been on hand Monday on the Big Island: Honuapo, 2500 bags; Kukaiau, 1100; Paaulo, 2174; Honokaa, 11,500; Paauhau, 250.

Advices today to the local office of Hind, Rolph & Co. say the schooner Muriel sailed Monday night from Mahukona for Astoria. She will probably load lumber for Big Island ports again.

The Young Women's Christian Association is seeking to raise $17000 for its proposed work during 1917

An increase of 700%

during the past year in club memberships means that the Y.W.C.A. affords social opportunities that girls want and should have.

These clubs are organized for the girls wherever they wish to band themselves together in common interests for social, spiritual, moral and physical betterment. They form the great cosmopolitan feature of the Y. W., as will be seen by the following list:

- The Business Girls' Club.
- The Normal Hookipa Club, for students of the Normal.
- The Jolly McKinleyites, for students of McKinley High School.
- Hawaiian Girls' Club.
- Guardian Girls' Club.
- Wakaba Kai, for Japanese girls.
- Tse Mui, for Chinese Girls.
- Kaulani Club, for girls living at Kaulani Home.
- Lei Mamo, for girls who have at one time attended the Girls' Industrial School.
- Lyrio Club, for girls of Portuguese descent.
- Extension Clubs at Kaimuki, Kakaako, Kaulawela, Manoa, and two in Kalihi.

It is easy to realize, when one stops to think, what a great influence for good these various clubs are, each under the leadership of a mature woman with the best interests of the girls at heart.

Some $2500 will be required for the extension of the Club work during 1917

It is one of the most important features of the Y. W.'s activities, and because of its benevolent character toward all girls living in Honolulu, and the constant broadening out of its work, it will always show a deficit.

The whirlwind finish of this campaign will take place on January 31, February 1 and 2, but you are invited to mail your subscription today. In making out the check, remember the increased needs of the Y. W. and make your subscription at least a third more than last year.
