Bourbons Hold Two Big Meetings and Score Present Administration

TONIGHT'S MEETINGS
Wilder avenue and Metcalf street, and Oahu lane, Waikiki.

On the last lap of this week's program of Honolulu meetings, the Democratic aspirants for city and county offices held two rousing rallies last night, one in Kalia-uka and the other at School and Liliha streets.

Tonight the Bourbons will hold forth at Wilder avenue and Metcalf street, and at Oahu lane, Waikiki, and for the remainder of the week meetings will be held in the country.

Clarence D. Pringle, who would handle the reins of the city government for the next two years, gave away a mighty secret last night when he explained why he has adopted the Hawaiian name, "Penikala." Penikala, he told the crowds, means "pen-cil," and pencil is straight; and there you have it.

Says Bourbons Will Win
"The Democrats are going to win in this election and there is no question about it," Pringle declared, "and the Republicans are doing everything they can to beat us."

Pringle said he was poor but honest and that, if he was elected, he would be "there when needed." Referring to the present high cost of living, he said:

"They have increased the pay in the army and navy, but the poor man who works on the waterfront has no one to give him a word of encouragement."

As for Mayor J. C. Lane, Pringle said Lane "didn't amount to anything."

"During the strike did Mayor Lane try to get you boys more wages?" he asked. "No. He went over to Kaneohe and gave a talk."

He scored the present administration with the declaration that Honolulu has no city hall or county building.

"I could take you back to Missouri where there are little cities of only 500 persons that own everything they have and they don't owe five cents, and this city of ours is always borrowing money."

Pringle said the laboring man has got to have better wages, and then declared that only one local firm has "seen the handwriting on the wall" and raised salaries.

Don't Want Figurehead
"What's the use of having just a figurehead in office," he asked, "getting time back in the morning. What we have now is a man who sits in his office and who does not give a thought to the wages you are getting."

In conclusion, Pringle said he was for a business administration for the city, a square deal, better roads, better wages and a better city.

L. L. McCandless, Democratic war-horse and leader of the so-called Paunahi street faction of the party, followed Pringle at the School street meeting and urged those present to vote the Bourbon ticket.

"This is one time that I am not kidding either," said McCandless. "I am here in the interest of good and honest government and a progressive city. We want to try and get men elected who will go into office and do something."

"Link" Back on Job
McCandless was not light in his criticism of the present board of supervisors, and dealt at length on the al-

MAUI MAY SECURE COUNTY AGENT TO AID AGRICULTURE

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.)
WAILUKU, May 9.—The Maui County Fair and Racing Association may stand sponsor for a county agent for Maui. The suggestion was brought forward by L. R. Mathews on Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of the association and excited much interest and favorable comment. Mr. Mathews was authorized to communicate with President Butterfield of the Massachusetts agricultural college to ascertain whether or not he could recommend a suitable man for the place should it be decided to undertake the proposition. It was stated that it would be necessary to raise about $3000 to cover salary and traveling expenses of the right kind of man.

Work of County Agent
The county agent idea has made great progress throughout the United States in the past few years. The job usually requires the services of an expert scientific agriculturist with more than the usual amount of executive ability and tact. He is supposed to introduce good farming methods wherever he can, to help organized farmers, help them market their crops, and aid them in any other possible way. The institution has usually been a great success where a man of the right qualifications has been secured.

One of the directors stated that except for the uncertainty caused by war he would be willing to back the idea for a year's trial himself, which is indicative of the way the whole meeting looked at the proposition.

Legation that the board has repaired roads only by putting quarry waste on them. He said the Research Club had at one time investigated the present board and had found that 80 per cent of the taxes were used for overhead charges and that the people were getting the benefit of only 20 cents for every dollar paid in.

He said that when the Democrats went out of office the streets of the city and county were in good shape. He told of the two plebiscites on the question of the issuance of bonds, and how the people had voted both proposed issues down. He said that if the people would put Democrats into office this year everyone would get along better.

Other speakers at the meetings last night were Hugo Kanse, Joseph Lightfoot, Herbert M. Ayres, W. H. McClelland, Julius Asch, James Pierce, Harry Juan, Jesse Utihli and Frank Benvides.

G. O. P. RALLIES SHOW INTEREST IS ON INCREASE

Lane Well Received in Fifth and Cohen Draws Biggest Crowd in Campaign

MEETINGS TODAY
Republican—Luso and Miller streets, 7:30. Laimi and Puunui streets, 7:30.
J. C. Cohen—Waipahu, 7:30.

The corner of Metcalf and Wilder streets and Athletic field were the scenes of two Republican meetings last night with all the candidates out and in fighting trim. Eugene Buf-fandeau was chairman of the former and David Notley of the latter.

At the fifth district meeting, the appearance of Mayor Lane was occasion for great applause. He told the voters that the running of the city's business did not really demand a big business man, only one who had good common sense.

"The business men here are demanding that the city be given a good business administration," Lane said, "but for example take R. W. Shingle. He was on the board of supervisors but because he did not have all the money he wanted to spend, he quit. I on the other hand, with what money the city and county could get, stayed by the government and used what money we had to the best advantage."

Explains Entertainment Fund
In regard to his entertainment fund, Lane explained that every mayor in the United States has one and many are far larger than his. He also praised the frontage improvement law as it was a means whereby every Hawaiian could obtain work.

E. B. Hollinger said that he had fathered the raise in pay for the laboring man from 25 to 30 cents an hour but would never rest, if elected, until they were given $3 a day.

Logan Gives Figures
Dan Logan declared that when the Democrats went out of office in 1914 they had a deficit of $60,000 in the general fund and only saved their faces by taking the money from the school and permanent improvement funds to the detriment of the school system and the construction of good roads.

W. H. Hoogs promised that if elected he would find work for everybody. Joseph Luis said he was an island-born boy and had the interest of the islands at heart. James Bicknell pointed to his past record of faithful work.

Charles H. Bellina, candidate for supervisor, said that the high cost of living should be carefully looked into. He had studied that problem for a long time and was competent and if elected would do good for the community.

D. L. Conkling said he had held the office of city treasurer for over two years and if he believed he had acted efficiently he requested that they not nominate but elect him May 19.

E. K. Woodward, candidate for auditor, made a very earnest plea for his nomination. "If the governor saw fit to place in the auditor's chair of the territory an unknown man in place of one who has held the position of many years, why should not I also be elected as city auditor. It would be a great thing for you if you elect a capable young Hawaiian as auditor," he said. Woodward said he had had considerable experience as bookkeeper.

Other Republican speakers were: Edward Hopkins and John Wise for sheriff, David Kalauokalani, A. M. Brown, W. C. Achl, Charles N. Arnold, J. Ashman Beaven, John B. Enos, Edgar Henriques, Chas. Holoua, Robert Horner, F. Barney Joy, Archie E. Kahole, William Larsen, and E. A. Moti-Smith.

Cohen Has Big Crowd
At Kakaako, J. C. Cohen held what is admitted by everybody to be one of his big meetings on the island. Fully 1500 were present of whom well over half were voters. Because of this many of the Republican candidates at the other two meetings hurried to Kakaako to take advantage of the large audience.

Cohen said if they elected him he would give Hawaiians a square deal. The meeting was very enthusiastic and Cohen's talk was loudly applauded.

HOLSATIA WILL LEAVE DRYDOCK FRIDAY MORNING

Setos Will Go on the Ways Saturday for Cleaning Off of Marine Growth

Between 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and noon the American steamer Holsatia will be floated off the Inter-island drydock, ready to be towed to San Francisco. Her hull is today receiving the finishing touches. The former German freighter is now entirely out of water and looks as high as a mountain when viewed from the drydock floor.

Early Saturday morning the Setos will go on the dock for her cleanup before she goes to the coast for repairs. Work on her hull will be rushed along as rapidly as that of the Holsatia.

"Big Three" Fly Flag
Today the American flag flies from the three largest ex-German freighters in Honolulu, the Pommern, Holsatia and Setos. Old Glory will fly from the "little four," the Staatsdecker, Kraetke, Longmoon, Gouverneur Jaeschke and Prinz Waldemar, as soon as work is started on their hulls. They also will be towed to the mainland for repairs.

Pumping Out Water Ballast
The inter-island drydock raised the Holsatia high and dry as easily as if she were a sampan. This morning her steam pumps were working, operated by donkey boilers put aboard and bolted to the deck, pumping out water ballast remaining in her tanks. All told, her ballast tanks held 1177 tons of water, which has been in the tanks since she arrived here in 1914.

Offered to Tow All Boats
It was also learned today that the Matson Navigation Company made an offer to the shipping board to tow all the eight ex-German steamers to San Francisco, but that the board gave them a contract only for the two largest, the O. J. D. Ahlers and Pommern.

Ahlers Ready For Sea
The Ahlers, when she is towed from Hilo by a Matson boat, will be in charge of Capt. Richard Farley, formerly second officer of the Lurline. A crew of a dozen or 15 men are already aboard the Ahlers. Part of them were secured here from Jack Edvardson of the Sailors' Union. A crew is now being assembled for the Holsatia. The Ahlers was built in Bremen in 1912, although the Holsatia is an English-built freighter.

Some of the American flags hoisted on the ex-German boats came from the flag lockers of the vessel. Others were purchased from local stores.

CEREMONIES FOR MEMORIAL DAY TO BE EXTENSIVE

Arrangement of Program Begins and More Organizations Will Participate

Plans are now under way for an elaborate Memorial Day program on Wednesday, May 30, and several new organizations will be added to the participants this year. W. L. Katon of the George W. De Long Post, G. A. R., is arranging the program.

The usual parade will be held this year, beginning at 1:30 o'clock and probably forming at Bishop and King streets. Among the organizations to participate are G. A. R., U. S. troops, National Guard, Red Men, Kamehameha cadets, Honolulu Military Academy, Spanish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Queen's Own troop, Boy Scouts. Services will be held at Nuuanu cemetery following the parade.

During the last year the local G. A. R. has lost five members, three by death and two by removal. Eleven members of the post remain.

NO NATURALIZATIONS TILL AFTER ELECTION
William L. Rosa, deputy clerk of the United States court, announced today that no persons will be naturalized in federal court until after the general election on June 5. This is in accordance with the rules which provide that no aliens shall become citizens during the period of 30 days prior to any regular election. The primary election is not included under the rules.

Honolulu is the largest corporation on the Island of Oahu. Every man with a ballot holds a share of stock. If he is alive to his civic duties he is anxious for dividends in the shape of permanent improvements. He wants handsome public buildings. He wants well kept parks. He wants roads that will withstand the rainy season. When the voter goes to the polls it is the same as attending a stockholders' meeting. It is his duty to vote for men who can conduct the business of the corporation of Honolulu along modern economic principles. It doesn't cost any more to get a trained man for the office of mayor than it does to get an amateur. Why not make YOUR vote mean something for the future of YOUR city?

Mayor Lane says:

Do you know that it takes 6 months or a year for a new mayor, whether a businessman or not, to become familiar with his duties?

Do you know the inevitable result of this delay in its relation to the program of improvements for Honolulu?

Do you know that the $1,500,000 of improvements under way will be retarded at least 6 months unless you select a mayor who is familiar and in accord with these projects.

Do you know the result of the Automobile Club's successful legislative campaign is at stake unless the present appointive heads of city government—Fire, Electric Light, Water and Sewer, and Road Engineer—are continued in office?

Do you know that my opponents would not keep these administrative heads in office should either be elected?

Do you know that there is a well-organized movement among the Democrats to nominate Cohen at the primaries and then defeat him at the general election? Why? The Democrats believe Cohen cannot possibly be elected.
