

TRIES HAND AT 'DYING' ONCE TOO OFTEN; IS JAILED

Parasite Collapses at Governor's Office, But Hospital Steward is on to Trick

The telephone in the emergency hospital office rang frantically this morning, and when Steward Stephenson picked up the receiver he heard an excited voice at the other end of the wire.

"This is the Governor's office," shouted the unknown speaker. "There's a man sick, or dying, or something, right here in front of the office. Send the wagon up right away. Hurry, before the man dies."

The steward banded up the receiver, shouted an order, and the ambulance through the streets at a fast clip right up into the capital grounds. The hospital attendants rushed up the steps on the double-quick.

"Where is he?" they shouted.

"Where's the dying man?"

"This way!" exclaimed someone who was waiting for them. "Hurry!"

In front of the governor's office lay a Spaniard, groaning and moaning and rolling around on the floor at a great rate.

The steward took one look at the "dying" man.

"Him!" he grunted disgustingly. "Dying! Bah!"

They put the man in the ambulance and sped back to the hospital.

"You see," they explained at the hospital, when asked why they seemed so disgusted at the dying man, "this fellow is an old hand at the dying game. Why, at a conservative estimate, this fellow has been brought to the hospital no less than twenty times within the last few months. He was here two nights ago. He's too lazy to work, and wants a nice quiet place to sleep, so he picks on us. He throws a fit, or something, in front of a doctor's office, or on a street corner and figures he'll be given a clean, cool bed in our ward. Nothing doing. But this is a new one, dying in front of the governor's office. He must be trying to break into politics."

Instead of reclining luxuriously on a white cot in the hospital, the "dying man" is sitting on a hard bench downstairs behind the bars.

GEN. JOHNSON HAS ANOTHER CLOSE ESCAPE

Brig.-Gen. Samuel I. Johnson, commander of the Hawaii National Guard, had a close call yesterday when a guy wire on a telephone pole in the Punahoa district caught the top of his automobile and tore it back from its fittings.

Persons who saw the machine after the accident marveled at the fact the officer was not killed or seriously injured, but he escaped without a scratch. The windshield was shattered, the front dash torn from its base and the wiring in the front part of the car wrenched out from the electrical system. All in all the car has a very much used appearance.

The general said today that there was no one else in the car. It was not much of an accident, he added, despite the appearance of the machine. This is the second accident that has befallen the officer recently. A week ago last Saturday when coming into town from the officers' training camp at Schofield Barracks he crashed into a moving plantation train and only averted a serious smashup by his presence of mind in turning his automobile aside into the ditch.

AUSTRALIAN HAS WAIVED EXTRADITION

Horace Rupert Henworth, who is being held by U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy on a charge of embezzlement preferred by the Australian government, has waived his rights to fight extradition, having signed the necessary documents to this effect this morning.

Henworth was taken off the steamer Sonoma when it last arrived at this port and will be held in custody until the marshal receives definite instructions from the Australian government as to what disposition shall be made of the man. From what the marshal has been able to learn, the amount of Henworth's alleged defalcations totals about $6000. He is a resident of Melbourne and is in very poor health.

HILO ENGINEER MAY GET U. S. COMMISSION

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.) HILO, Sept. 21.—E. D. Davis, better known as "Deacon" Davis, and a popular man around town, will probably be off to the front before long. His application to join the officers' reserve corps was made last May. The latest word received is that he would be called upon to pass a medical examination in the near future and that then he would probably be called to active service.

Davis has had military experience, as he was a member of the Kentucky militia some years ago.

At present he is supervising the removal of an old mill on the Hana kua coast.

The Serbs want the United States to dismiss the Bulgarian minister. They declare Bulgaria to be the Prussia of the Balkans.

JAPAN TO SEND FINANCE MISSION TO THE STATES

Will Visit Honolulu En Route to U. S. to Strengthen Financial Relations

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji) TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 24.—Following closely on the heels of two preceding commissions—the first, a war commission, is about to visit in Washington and the second a parliamentary commission now on its way to San Francisco of the T. K. K. Iner Shinyo Maru—a third imperial Japanese commission is about to visit the United States. This is the special financial and economic commission which, according to an official announcement made here today, will sail from Yokohama October 15. This delegation will pass through Honolulu October 25.

The organization of the special financial and economic commission to America was perfected a few days ago. Its personnel follows:

Baron T. Megata, head of the commission and a member of the house of lords of the imperial Japanese diet.

Baron B. Ito, secretary of the department of agriculture and commerce.

O. Matsumoto, chief of loan bureau, department of treasury.

B. Sakaguchi, inspector, Yokohama custom house.

Y. Yamamoto, representing Sumitomo Mining Company.

Y. Yamamoto, representing Sumitomo Mining Company.

C. Kofke, representing Kuhara Mining Company.

K. Matsumoto, representing Yasukawa Mining Company.

The commission is to confer with the heads of the American government as well as the foremost financiers of the country with a view of strengthening the financial and economical relations of the two countries. The commission is to stay about three months in America.

RESTRICTION ON SALE OF LIQUOR TO BE ADOPTED

License Commissioners Say Protests Against Proposed Curb Carry No Weight

No definite action has yet been taken by the board of liquor license commissioners in regard to their new regulation restricting the sale of intoxicants for consumption off the premises. The next meeting of the board will be held Thursday afternoon, when the commissioners will act on the proposition.

There is no doubt but that the regulation will be adopted, according to several members of the board. No further protests have been received, and the arguments brought up at the meeting last week were hardly forceful enough to change their minds, say the commissioners.

Owing to the illness of Inspector W. H. Hutton, who is suffering from typhoid fever, the regulations cannot be put into effect before October 15, Assistant Inspector Jack Roberts is suffering from an infected hand, and the "boozie" squad is generally depleted. Before the regulations can be put into effect, several deputies will have to be appointed, among them being a Chinese, Japanese, Hawaiian, and probably a Portuguese, to act as interpreters for the big trade among those people. An office will be opened in the vicinity of Nuuanu and Merchant streets, it is believed, as this is the most centrally located position for the wholesalers.

SCOUTS READY TO HELP RAISE LIBERTY LOAN

While no definite orders concerning the part the Boy Scouts are to play in raising the next Liberty Loan have been received, Scout Commissioner Roger C. Burnham said this morning that they are ready to do all that they can towards helping in this work.

"We are awaiting orders concerning the matter," stated Commissioner Burnham this morning, "and are expecting them very soon now. I do not know just what part the Boy Scouts of Hawaii are going to play in this work, but I judge that it will be similar to what the members of the organization on the mainland are planning to do."

APACHE STUNT IS ENACTED ON HAWAII

Filipinos on Hawaii tried some real Apache of Paris stunts on a Japanese chauffeur last week, when they hit him over the head with a lead pipe, rifled his pockets, tied him to a tree and stuck knives in him.

The assault occurred near the Volcano House, and quick action on the part of the stable attendants probably saved the man from bleeding to death. The highwaymen took great delight in gashing the trussed man with their daggers. As yet the Big Island police have made no arrests.

The Dutch steamer Goentoor which was expected to arrive this morning from San Francisco will not get here until tomorrow morning, according to a wireless sent C. Brewer & Co. No explanation of the Goentoor's delay was given.

SLAVS DEBATE ORDERS TO ARMY BEFORE ACTING

Petrograd Dentist Says Roads Will Prevent Germans From Taking Capital This Winter

Germany will not attempt to capture Petrograd this winter, is the opinion of W. D. Ellis, an American dentist, who has resided in the Russian capital for 15 years. He is a passenger aboard the China bound for the United States for a visit.

Dr. Ellis comments on the chaos through which Russia has been passing, but, for such a tragic subject, gives a slight of humor regarding the situation, when he remarks:

"Red signified liberty to the Russian peasants, so that was adopted as the emblem of freedom following the revolution. When the Russian anarchists began to arrive from America they found their old emblem was usurped and that red stood for law and order. The anarchists then adopted a modification of the old pirates' flag, one with a black ground. During an attempt of the anarchist group to parade carrying their black flag they were mobbed and their banner torn from them by the 'reds.'"

With only two or three good roads and most of the country from the present German line to Petrograd impassable, is the reason Dr. Ellis believes no attempt will be made this winter by the German army to take the Russian capital. "The difficulties of transportation and the long haul to bring in supplies will deter them," he says.

"Brotherly feeling of Russian socialists for German socialists accounts for the lack of a Russian offensive," he says.

That's exactly the kernel of the trouble with the Russian army. They have to hold committee meetings now in the Russian army to see if an order to advance is to be followed. In the meantime, other Russian forces may be wiped out," he cynically remarks.

The dentist believes Germany had been able to take Riga for some time before she did, but postponed doing so in the hopes of gaining it by diplomacy and through the sympathy of the Baltic Germans, who constitute 47 per cent of the population of that district.

That Protopopoff, former Russian minister of the interior, precipitated the successful Russian revolution is the belief of Dr. Ellis. "It would not have come then," he says, "if it hadn't been for the Petrograd bread riots. Everyone knew there was to be an attempt to overthrow the monarchy. Street car conductors would openly tell you so. The government knew it also, and thought it best to start the trouble before the revolutionists had fully prepared."

"While Protopopoff was a member of the Duma he went to western Europe with a commission for a conference with representatives of Italy, England and France. Before that he was considered as a member of the left faction, but on his way back to Petrograd he had a conference with German agents in Stockholm and after his return flopped over to the right. It was then he was named as minister of the interior.

"Suspicion of Protopopoff, lack of bread and hatred of the police brought about the revolution sooner than anticipated. But it was bound to come sooner or later. After the first day's fighting in Petrograd it was simply a case of police baiting and police hunting."

HARVARD CLUB IN ANNUAL MEET

The annual meeting of the Harvard Club of Hawaii was held Saturday evening at Wahiawa, at the home of James D. Dole. At the dinner speeches dealing with the work which Harvard and Hawaii have done and have still to do in this war were made by David Withington and A. F. Griffiths. Scout Commissioner Roger Burnham made an eloquent plea for the work of the Boy Scouts, and on motion of W. F. Dillingham, the club went on record unanimously as endorsing Mr. Burnham and his cause.

Mr. Knollenberg and C. F. Damon spoke interestingly of their experiences as members of the Officers' Reserve Camp at Schofield. Further addresses were made by Wm. Hoogs, A. L. Castle, Chas. A. Davis, J. P. Morgan and James D. Dole. An interesting letter from Mon Fah Chung, the club's scholarship holder at Harvard, was read by Dr. W. T. Brigham.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Walter F. Dillingham; secretary-treasurer, J. P. Morgan; executive committee, the officers ex-officio and A. M. Nowell, E. A. Mott-Smith and James D. Dole; scholarship committee, Dr. W. T. Brigham, Professor A. L. Dean, President A. F. Griffiths and J. P. Morgan.

This year the club will again offer the cup which is emblematic of the interscholastic football championship of Honolulu, and will also reward the scholarship to Mon Fah Chung.

U. S.-JAPANESE MONEY ALLIANCE IS CONSUMMATED

$30,000,000 Company Incorporated in Tokio to Develop Trade Resources

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji) TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 24.—A successful incorporation by Japanese and American capitalists of a large corporation called the Japanese-American Trust Co., Ltd., was announced here today. The capital of $30,000,000 is shared by the Japanese and American financiers.

The organization of this company is the direct outcome of the recent visit to the United States of T. Sugawara, former vice minister of treasury, who had interested and induced the American capitalists to join hand in hand with the Japanese in a formation of a financial alliance between the two countries' capitals.

A Maui product that is having a good sale in Honolulu is the watermelon. Olowalu and Kaanapali have been producing a large quantity during the last few months. Three hundred bags were shipped recently by the Mikahala, the price is said to be more satisfactory than ever before.

Maui Red Cross work is taking a great deal of attention on the part of all Maui women. The classes that have been formed at Wailuku, Kahului and Paia have not only been turning out a great deal of work but much enthusiasm is expressed by Maui people in this cause.

GUARD COMPANIES UNDERGO INSPECTION

Official inspection of the Ewa, Waipahu and Waiwala companies of the 1st Hawaiian Infantry, national guard, was held yesterday by Capt. Charles H. Bonesteel, through orders from the war department.

Practically every man in the three companies turned out, and according to officers made a creditable showing for the short time which they have had to drill since organizing.

Those in the party were Capt. Bonesteel, Col. W. R. Riley, Will Wayne and Lieut. Tom Boylan. They left Honolulu at 8 o'clock in the morning. The Ewa inspection was held at 9 o'clock, Waipahu at 11 and Waiwala at 3. Lunch was had at Haleiwa. The officers returned about 7 o'clock yesterday evening.

ADMONISHES JAPANESE

Sunday evening, H. Pomerantz, secretary of the central Y. M. C. A., spoke at the South King street Methodist church on the purpose and mission of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Pomerantz also spoke pointedly to the young Hawaiian-born Japanese. He warned them of not only being "Sunday Christians," but that they should bear in mind that the one who was a Christian every day of the week was the one worth while. He mentioned that the Japanese were liable to become like the Jews of olden times, wise in their own conceits, a thing which Christians must continually guard against; for as the scripture tells us, "The wisdom of this world is foolishness with God."

One Way to Do Your Bit

How the Housewife Can Aid the Cause

Everyone can help; you, Mrs. Housewife, especially. You are the purchasing agent for a whole family. You can economize not only in your buying, but in your methods of buying.

There is nothing that causes you such needless fatigue and worry as walking through store aisles in a vain effort to locate materials or articles you cannot find. You can eliminate most of this trouble by studying the advertisements of the firms you patronize; and planning your trips ahead of time. Then you'll know just where to go; as well as how much money you'll require for your purchases.

If you already study advertisements and have made use of them, tell your grocer or butcher. Encourage him. He is making an effort to ease your difficulties; and to enable you to stretch your husband's salary farther than would otherwise be possible.
