Mrs. Edward Fuller Witsell was hostess at a rose porch party on Friday afternoon to which about twenty-five ladies had been bidden. Five of the party were to leave the island on the transport in the next few days and this was in the nature of a farewell for them. After the guests were assembled, little folders were passed around bearing the title "Marriage of William and Rose," done in gold on the covers. Inside were twenty-five questions relative to this, the answers to which were different flowers.
 Thinking caps were soon put on and deep thought took the place of the chatter which had filled the air the minutes before. As one would find the answer, a triumphant cry would arise, and the other would bend with renewed energy to the task of fitting flowers to the questions. The prize for the best set of answers was a luncheon set of pineapple tissue embroidered in pink roses. Refreshments were then served, the rose design being carried out in the cream and cake, the first being in the form of pink roses and the other being white with pink roses on the top. The table appointments were all of the pink rose effect, and Mrs. Henry C. K. Mühlen-berg, Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbey, Mrs.
 George M. Callender, Mrs. Horace D.
 Bloombergh and Mrs. Clarence R. Bell were each presented with a rose calendar as a souvenir of the occasion.
 Mrs. Witsell's guests had the pleasure of enjoying the delightful band concert which was given by the Second Infantry Band, and of witnessing the regimental parade, which is always an inspiring sight. The guests invited for this afternoon were Mrs. Frank C.
 Bolles, Mrs. Robert M. Lyon, Mrs. Alfred H. Hobbey, Mrs. Ralph C. Holliday, Mrs. Alfred L. Rockwood, Mrs.
