Lessons given in Embroidery and Battersburg Lace. Mrs. James H. Painter. Kahului, Maui.

Mrs. J. W. L. Marshall of Wailuku has been the agency for Butterick's patterns for the Island of Maui.

The showers of the past few days have cooled off the atmosphere, and Wailuku is its own nice, cool, delightful self once more.

Rapid progress is being made on the H. C. & S. tunnel in Iao valley by the California miners, and considerable water has already been developed.

That the Makawao teachers are a progressive set of men and women is demonstrated by the report of their meeting, in another column. Cannot Wailuku District go and do likewise?

A large force of men is at work changing the current of Iao river at the bridge, for the purpose of preventing further washing out of the buttments on the Waihee side of the river.

S. Ahmi, a prominent Chinaman of Kula has been arrested for cattle stealing, on a warrant sworn out by W. H. Cornwell, Jr. of Waikapu. A hearing will be had before Judge McKay, this morning.

The job press of the News office met pilikia nui on Wednesday, but thanks to Chief Lowell and Master Mechanic McLane of Spreckelsville, the press is all O. K. again. Bring along your job work.

The rendering of "Rock of Ages" by a choir of Miss Nape's class at the funeral ceremonies on Thursday afternoon was a revelation of the excellent work in music which is being accomplished at the Wailuku school.

The young people of Spreckelsville will give a dance on Saturday night, April 6, at Spreckelsville Hall. The Hall will be handsomely decorated, and a large number of invitations are being sent out, so a good time may be expected.

A meeting of the voters of Spreckelsville District was held on Thursday evening at Spreckelsville Hall for the purpose of discussing the Dispensary Act, and the voters were in favor of letting the liquor question remain as it is.

The Claudine brought large consignments of goods for Wailuku merchants this week, and there is a continual string of freight wagons running from Wailuku depot to the different stores. Guess the drummers made a killing last week.

Chung Chong, the ice cream Chinaman, advertises his wares in this issue of the News because he says that he knows that he makes the best ice cream in town; and he wants every one else to know it as well. He does make good ice cream, that's a fact.

A meeting was called at the Wailuku court house last night, at the request of Senators Kaiue and Baldwin, to discuss the Dispensary Bill and formulate a sentiment for the guidance of the senators. The meeting was well attended, and a diversity of views expressed, the general consensus of opinion being opposed to the dispensary system.

Death of John A. Moore.

On Wednesday evening Professor John A. Moore, for many years connected with the school department on the Islands, died at the residence of Mr. F. H. Hayselden, at Lahaina, where he had been staying for some months.

Mr. Moore's health had been failing for some time, and he was compelled to resign his position as principal of the Wailuku school several months ago on account of his enfeebled condition. He spent several months on Lanai, and then came to Lahaina where he remained till the time of his death.

Professor Moore's career as a teacher antedates the late civil war, during which he was a captain in the confederate army. In 1868 he came to California, and was for a time principal of one of the leading grammar schools in San Francisco, where he ranked among the most successful teachers in the San Francisco school department.

Resigning his position, he came to the Islands during the early part of the reign of the late King Kalakaua, since which time he has held a leading place among the educators of Hawaii. He was at one time principal of Lahainaluna, and afterwards travelling School Inspector for the Islands.

The remains were brought overland from Lahaina Thursday morning and funeral services were held at the Anglican church on Thursday afternoon, Rev. W. Ault officiating after which he was laid to rest by the side of his daughter in the Wailuku cemetery.

Messrs S. Kellinui, W. A. McKay, W. T. Robinson, J. L. M. Baldwin, Edw. Rogers, and Wm. Saffery, who acted as pall bearers, went out to Waikapu to meet the remains, and the procession passed the Wailuku school, where all the children, many of whom were his former pupils, were drawn up in line, each with a bunch of flowers. They followed the procession to the church and to the cemetery, and when the last sad rites were performed, they covered his grave with flowers. One of the most touching and beautiful features of the occasion was the rendering of the songs, "When the Mists Have Rolled Away" and "Rock of Ages," by the school children.

Arrival of Kindergarten Teachers.

On Wednesday Miss May Huntington, a graduate of Oberlin, Ohio, arrived in Wailuku to take charge of the kindergarden work at the Settlement building. Miss Huntington was selected on account of her peculiar fitness for the work. A talented musician, both vocal and instrumental, she also possesses in a high degree the qualifications necessary for a kindergarden teacher. Intellectually quite bright and very pleasing in her manner, she will prove an invaluable acquisition not only to the school but also to the social circle of Wailuku. She will begin her school work on next Monday morning. Miss Elisabeth Rogers of Wailuku will be her assistant.

Mrs. Knowlton, a graduate of the Chicago Free Kindergarden Association also arrived and will go to Lahaina and take charge of the kindergarden there, beginning on Monday, April 8. Mrs. Knowlton is well equipped for her work, and Lahaina is to be congratulated on such an acquisition.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Honolulu will arrive next Wednesday to take charge of the settlement work at Wailuku temporarily. Mr. Brown was former assistant pastor for Rev. Kinkead. He will remain here till a permanent settlement worker is secured, when he will return to Honolulu to accept the secretaryship of the Y. M. C. A., and his wife will accept a like position for the Y. W. C. A. of Honolulu.

Wants $1000 Damages.

Eugenio del Guidice, by his attorney, George Hons Esq., has commenced suit in the Circuit Court of the Second Circuit against Wm. Keenu, K. P. Ezera and Charles Palea for damages in the sum of $1,000 for false imprisonment. Plaintiff was arrested and handcuffed by defendants who, with the exception of Palea are policemen. Subsequently he was released, the police having discovered that they had arrested the wrong man.

Makawao Teachers' Meeting.

The Makawao teachers held their postponed meeting at Makawao school house on Monday afternoon, March 22.

Miss Eva Smith conducted the reading of Whittier's "Snow Bound", calling on the various teachers for answers as if they were her prize "D" class.

The meeting proved very profitable and interesting because of the theories presented by Mr. Copeland of the Kealahou School and Mr. Hardy of the Makawao School, on the same subject, practically. Mr. Copeland's subject was "How to teach Geography", while that of Mr. Hardy was "Current Events—the Death of Queen Victoria", of which he took advantage to teach geography and the history of England. Although the subject of "Geography" was carried over from last meeting and discussed at this, it is not yet exhausted, and with such able defenders of each method as Mr. Hardy and Mr. Copeland, the most of the other teachers felt inclined to say but little and think a good deal.

Miss Flemming who spoke on the "Value of Correspondence between School", had on hand a number of letters from the pupils of an Oregon school, some of which she read. She also read the answers to them written by the pupils of her own school, in justice to whom it should be stated that the work of her pupils compared quite favorably both in thought and expression with that of the Oregon children. In one respect her pupils were ahead, for they are aware that Hawaii is a part of the United States, and that President McKinley is as much our president as he is that of the Oregonians.

Mr. C. W. Baldwin, travelling Normal Instructor, who was present at the last teachers' meeting at Makawao, stated that at none of the schools which he had visited on Hawaii the teaching of arithmetic was satisfactory, invariably falling behind the teaching of English.

Cannot some of the teachers of the other schools on Maui volunteer suggestion which can be worked upon in our meetings? (The News will gladly give room in its columns for such suggestions.—Ed.)

The programme for the next meeting of the Makawao teachers is as follows:

Teaching of Primary Songs, Tonic Sol Fa Method.

Miss Eliza dos Reis.

What can be done with Technical Grammar.

Mr. W. C. Crook.

Value of, and how to conduct Dictation Exercises.

Mr. Eugene Capellas.

Direction of Study of "Snow Bound".

Mr. Sam. R. Dowdle.

Wailuku Still Improving.

The sound of the saw and the hammer are still heard on every street. The following are some of the more notable improvements.

Wm. Goodness of the Bismark Stables is erecting a handsome residence on Vineyard street.

John de Rego has bought a lot on Main street adjoining the Kahookole log, and is erecting a large and commodious livery stables.

Mr. Patterson has bought two lots in the Sam Parker tract on Market street, and will at once erect a large building.

The Chinese hui who own the remainder of the Sam Parker lot will open a street from Market to Center street and build a number of stores and residences on the street.

Messrs Benoit and Gonsalves have formed a partnership in the harness, saddlery and shoe making business and will occupy the building formerly occupied by Dr. Weddick as an office. The building which is owned by Enos & Co. is being put in repair and the new firm will be open for business next Monday morning. They should do well.

A. Rodrigues has about completed the improvements to his store, having almost doubled its capacity, and when the painters get through with it, he will have one of the nicest stores in town.

The Windsor Hotel will build a large lanai room on the mauka end of the present lanai, with handsome sliding windows, to be used as a reading and lounging room.

Personal Mention.

Dr. Boote is in Makawao this week filling a protracted professional engagement.

Delegate Robert Wilcox has forwarded to his Maui constituents some choice garden seeds.

Mr. Walter Lowrie and wife leave on the Claudine this afternoon for a several month's trip to the tropics.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin and Judge Kepoikai left on the Mauna Loa last Thursday night for Honolulu.

Tom McTighe of Macfarlane & Co. came over to Wailuku this week, accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Mrs. W. J. Lowrie and daughter are expected to reach Honolulu from San Francisco about the middle of April.

Dr. McKibben has improved but little since our last issue, although he rests more comfortably the last day or two.

Jack Bergstrom left for Hawaii on Wednesday's Kinau. He will return to Maui in about a month to finish up his work here.

Mr. W. R. Johnson, the well known machinist of Spreckelsville has been sent to Camp 5 to assist in setting up the machinery for the new mill.

Dr. Moore, the Honolulu dentist who has been in Lahaina for several weeks past, came to Wailuku on Monday, and will remain here for some time.

Mr. F. H. Hayselden Jr. accompanied the remains of the late Mr. John A. Moore from Lahaina to Wailuku on Thursday, returning to Lahaina yesterday.
