Our New Jail.

Among the visitors to the laying of the corner stone at Wailuku last Saturday was one whose mission it was to plan for the immediate construction of another building.

Architect H. L. Kerr of Honolulu arrived by Friday night's Mauna Loa with authority from the Public Works Department to select a site for the jail and fire department in Wailuku. On Saturday afternoon a conference between the officials of Maui and Mr. Kerr was held, at which definite plans were practically agreed upon. The jail and fire department are to be in one building, for the construction of which $85,000 is available. The building as planned is to be of concrete and practically fireproof. It will be two stories in height, the lower story of which will be a basement in which will be located the cells of the prisoners.

The upper floor will be used for the offices of the Sheriff, jailors and police department. The room for the horse carts will be at the front entrance of the lower floor, with a large door for egress. A covered passage is planned which will lead directly from the prisoner's cells to the dock of the new court room in the court house to be built. The present grounds will be raised three or four feet to the front of the jail, thus deepening the basement, so that only a short flight of iron steps will be required to reach the upper floor. When Mr. Kerr submits his report, plans will at once be prepared and bids called for, so that within the next three months, the erection of the new jail and fire department will be begun. The new jail will stand about 90 feet from the street and on the same side of the courthouse that it now stands, though probably a short distance south of the present jail building.

Work will not be begun on the courthouse until the legislature can meet and make any changes necessary in the law. It is now beginning to be understood that the sum of $30,000 is entirely inadequate for the purpose of erecting a sufficiently large and roomy building for a court and county building and the suggestion has well been made that a portion of the appropriation for the Kahului harbor, say $40,000, might well and wisely be diverted to be purpose of erecting a proper county building which should require at least $75,000. Now that the H. C. & S. Co. are planning for an elaborate breakwater and deep water pier at Kahului, the need for an additional harbor at our sea-port has ceased. As a county building is something needed by all the citizens of Maui it would be the right thing to apply thirty five or forty thousand dollars of the wharf money to the erection of a county building, and devote the remaining ten or fifteen thousand dollars to the extension of the Lahaina wharf.

In the somewhat erratic game of baseball played at Welis Park last Sunday afternoon, the Kahuluis took boxes of starch out of the Wailukus who had supposed that they could play some ball. In the first game of the season the Kahuluis rubbed it into the Wailukus with a score of 21 to 7. Since that time the Wailukus have materially strengthened their team, and in the recent game with the Stars the score stood 5 to 3 in favor of the Stars, and in a later game against the Makawao the score stood 28 to 6 in favor of the Wailukus.

Yesterday's game was considered a sure thing for the Wailukus by all except the Kahuluis themselves, who came on the ground confident of winning, and the above score in their favor is a compliment to their confidence in themselves.

First at the bat, the Kahuluis chalked one run and goose-egged the Wailukus, and this they repeated in the second inning. In the third inning the Kahuluis took a goose egg, and then the Wailukus made ten runs, four of which they owed to the fact that the ball was passed on error and made its way under the grand stand. This was disheartening to the Kahuluis, but when they chalked up seven runs in the next inning things brightened for them. George Cummings, who caught for the Kahuluis played a faultless game and did much to encourage his team by excellent coaching. First baseman Walsh sported a sprained finger and Propnet took first base and played great ball. The Kahuluis could not do better than leave him on first, if he continues to play like he did last Sunday. Hudson pitched for the Kahuluis, and although he does not send a strong ball, yet when that sinuous right arm of his does its DeLartre and delivers the ball, nobody except the pitcher knows where to expect it.

The Wailuku battery was not up to its usual standard, owing to the fact that Kekua's right wrist had been sprained so that he could not throw accurately and unfortunately, just before the game began, in practice he severely cut a finger on his right hand which, although tied up, bled through the whole game. Pitcher Espinosa had been sick for several days prior to the game, and thus weakened could not do his usual good work. Next Sunday's game will be between the Morning Stars and Wailukus, and if the Wailuku battery are in good trim, a hot game will result.

The official score of last week's game is as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Kahuluis...	1	1	0	0	7	3	1	0	0	—13
Wailukus...	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	1	1	—12
