

MAUI WINS IN POLO AND TENNIS--LOSES BOWLING

Harvest Home Sports At Puunene Great Success.—Rain Fails to Dampen Ardor of Large Crowd of Visitors.—Polo Played on New Field.—Dance Brilliant Feature.

Despite a drizzly day, with a close humid atmosphere, Harvest Home day at Puunene last Saturday turned out to be a big success. A large number of visitors partook of the lavish hospitality of the members of the Puunene Athletic Club, which had in charge the program of the day, and even the sting of defeat in the majority of the sports events, was tempered by the cordiality of their welcome.

At noon the Athletic Club served luncheon to a large number of guests, assisted by the ladies of the members. This was a very informal, but exceedingly pleasing affair, and the excellence of the menu was testified to by the unmistakable appreciation of the visitors.

The dance in the evening, in the Puunene Club House, was, as usual one of the most pleasant social functions of the season. Although the attendance was doubtless diminished on account of the inclemency of the weather, there were plenty to well fill the dancing floor, and a most thoroughly good time was had by all.

POLO HONORS STAY ON MAUI.

For the third time this season, the Maui Polo players defeated the Oahu team; and for the first time Maui defeated Oahu in tennis, taking the cup which Oahu has held in the inter-island contests for many years. The visitors carried off the honors in the bowling, which is also a new experience, since the Puunene bowlers have long been able to hold the championship on their own alleys. However, the defeat was not by a large margin.

THE POLO MATCH.

The polo game was played on the new field at Keahua, on account of the fact that several days of almost continuous rain had rendered the Sunnyside field impractical. The new grounds are not yet smooth enough for accurate work, and both teams found it extremely difficult to connect with the ball while it was in motion. A good sized crowd witnessed the playing and did some good rooting, in spite of the fine rain which might have been expected to dampen the ardor of a crowd of spectators.

In the absence of Harold Dilingham from the Oahu four, Dave Fleming of the Maui squad filled in for them as back, but even his strong play, was insufficient to wrest victory from the locals, who succeeded in running up a score of 6 to 2 $\frac{1}{2}$. Frank Baldwin did the star work in scoring for the Maui team, having four goals out of the 4 to his credit, the other two were made, by one each, by Collins and Rice.

The Oahu team made the first score in the game in the 2nd period, Sam Baldwin scoring in quick time after the ball had been put in play. Castle and Macfarlane each succeeded in putting one through the Maui goal posts, in the fifth and sixth periods, but a quarter was lost during the game by a safety which was made by Dave Fleming.

The teams lined up as follows:

Oahu—Walter Macfarlane, Sam Baldwin, Harold Castle and Dave Fleming. Maui—A. W. Collins, F. F. Baldwin, C. Burns and H. W. Rice.

GOOD TENNIS VICTORY.

By a score of 112 to 110, Maui tennis took the doubles series from their Oahu friends, after some exciting play. The games were played on the Puunene hard courts at nine o'clock, and were watched with interest by a large number of spectators.

Following was the result of the tennis play, the plus and minus figures following the score indicating the number of games which every Oahu pair won or lost in each match:

Lowrey and Kennedy (O) beat Collins and Lindsay (M) 6-4, 6-4; plus 4. Lowrey and Kennedy (O) beat Engle and Young (M) 6-4, 6-2; plus 6. Collins and Lindsay (M) beat Henoch and Pfleider (O) 6-4, 6-3; minus 5. Henoch and Pfleider (O) beat Engle and Young (M) 6-0, 6-5; plus 7. McLaren and Savage (M) beat Castle and Davis (O) 5-6, 6-4; minus 1. H. Castle and Davis (O) beat Taylor and Hanson (M) 6-2, 6-3; plus 7. Taylor and Hanson (M) beat Purvis and Carr (O) 6-2, 6-3; minus 7. McLaren and Savage (M) beat Purvis and Carr (O) 6-1, 6-3; minus 8. H. Rice and Rosecrans (M) beat C. A. Rice and S. A. Baldwin (O) 6-4, 6-5; minus 3. C. A. Rice and S. A. Baldwin (O) beat McLaren and Murray (M) 6-5, 6-4; plus 6. H. H. Rice and Rosecrans (M) beat Spalding and Redlington (O) 6-1, 5-6; minus 4. McLaren and Murray (M) beat Spalding and Redlington (O) 6-3, 6-5; minus 4.

BOWLING GAME LOST.

Oahu carried away the bowling honors, though the almost phenomenal rolling of Gear, who averaged the five games, 190; with high score of 242, which is the season's record on the allies. Some of the other players on the Oahu team made rather poor scores, and but for Gear's sensational work, it is doubtful if the results would have been as they were. Maui, during the first part of the series, was away ahead, and victory seemed certain. The score was as follows:

A. & B. COMPANIES PROFIT BY RISE

In speaking about the effect of the rise in sugar prices, J. P. Cooke, president of Alexander & Baldwin, is quoted as saying that about 1.5 of the output of the A. & B. plantations for this year will reach the market under the high quotations which the European war has caused.

"On August 1, about 8,000 tons of Puunene 6,000 tons of Maui Agricultural, 7,500 tons of Hawaiian Sugar, 5,350 tons of McBryde, 800 tons of Kahuku, had not reached market," said Mr. Cooke. "Since then 1,900 tons of Hawaiian Commercial (Puunene) and 1,600 tons of Maui Agricultural reached market on the basis of 4.38 and more than 300 tons of Kahuku has been marketed on the basis of 5.22."

STORE CLOSED IN ATTACHMENT

On an attachment secured by the Honolulu Hat Company, the store of S. Inada, on Market street, Wailuku, was closed by the sheriff on Wednesday of this week. The judgement against the store is $152.61.

Mrs. C. C. James, and two daughters of Kuhia, are spending a few weeks vacation in Honolulu.

RUMOR SAYS NEW CIRCUIT COURT CLERK

Judge Edings Arrives And Assumes Duties, But Says He Has Not Made Up Mind.—Attorneys Greet Him at McGregors

Judge W. S. Edings, the recently appointed judge for the Second Judicial Circuit, arrived from Honolulu on Wednesday evening, and assumed his new duties with the opening of the court house on Thursday morning. There was no ceremony attendant upon the new jurist's taking office. Most of the members of the Maui Bar had gone over the evening before to McGregor's Landing and given him a welcome when he first landed from the Mauka Kea, but aside from the calls of a number of lawyers and others the day was a most uneventful one. Judge Edings qualified before the Territorial supreme court, in Honolulu some days ago.

"I feel I shall like Maui," Judge Edings stated, in his chambers on the morning after his arrival. "I believe that I shall have no difficulty in maintaining reasonably pleasant relations with those I must work with, and I am very certain I shall not stay if I should not be able to do this."

Judge Edings made a number of formal official orders on his first day, and while there is a good deal of work to come up in way of chambers matters, the regular term of court will not be until October.

NEW COURT CLERK?

While Judge Edings declines to say whether or not he will make any changes in the personnel of his court staff, contenting himself by saying that he has not yet had time to consider the matter, there is a rumor current to the effect that Clerk Edmund H. Hart is booked to be replaced by another man; while W. S. Chillingworth, court stenographer, is to retain his place.

C. H. Atherton, who arrived from Honolulu to take part in the bowling at Puunene last Saturday, returned home on the Manoa, Sunday evening. He was accompanied by his daughter Miss Laura Atherton, and Miss Ruth Richards, who had been the house guests of the D. H. Cases for a week.

V. C. Schoenberg, assistant cashier, in charge of the Lahaina National Bank, returned to Lahaina Sunday evening after spending a week's vacation at Makawao. During his absence his place was filled by W. O. Aiken, of the Paia Bank, whose place was in turn supplied by C. D. Lufkin, of Wailuku.

Prof. W. A. Bryan, of the College of Hawaii, who has been spending the past six weeks in camping on Molokai, was in Wailuku this week, on his way home. Mrs. Bryan, who was with him most of the time, returned to Honolulu last week, while the Professor spent a few days in geological exploration on Lanai, before terminating his vacation.

McCandless SAYS WOODS DON'T COUNT

Unterrified Bourbon Leader Stumping Maui This Week—Won't Make Predictions, But Says Outlook Is Good.

L. L. McCandless, who since Tuesday has been vigorously prosecuting his campaign on various parts of this Island, expresses himself well pleased with the outlook. He declines to make any prediction regarding the outcome of his own candidacy, but declares that the advent of Palmer Woods as his rival for the Democratic nomination for the delegateship, is not to be taken seriously.

According to McCandless, Woods' running is likely to take more votes from Kuhio and Rice than from himself. He states that Woods' candidacy was a surprise to him, and that he has no knowledge of any arrangement by which he was to keep out of the field in case Woods chose to enter.

McCandless spent several days in the Hana district, and spoke to some good sized audiences. Returning to Wailuku on Thursday, he held a meeting in the Maui Theater the same evening. The theater was well filled, but a very large majority of the audience consisted of women and children.

With McCandless are R. K. Boyd and Wm. Kaloopii. The party was at Lahaina yesterday, and left for Melokai last night on McCandless' "private yacht" the gasoline schooner Ida May.

CLERK CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING FUNDS

Young Wa, a clerk in the Puunene Store, was arrested on Monday on a warrant charging him with embezzling $24.50. It is charged that the accused appropriated various amounts which he had been sent out to collect. In the district court he waived hearing, demanding a jury trial. He was released on furnishing $175 bail to answer an indictment at the October term of court.
