

Robinson is Insurgent of Senate

News From Capitol That Maui Solon Has Taken the Lone Trail—House so Far Harmonious With Holstein as Speaker—Pinkham Reads Message

Robinson's "insurgency" presumably gained its end, as evidenced by a wireless message received on Wednesday by Tim Lyons. Lyons left for the capital by the Claudine the same afternoon, presumably to take up his duties as assistant clerk of the Senate. It is understood that Robinson declined to caucus last Monday, pending the arrival of several absent senators, on whom he counted for support in landing Tim his job. When the proper "quorum" was present, Robinson's insurgency was soon tucked back in his pocket.

The Eighth Legislature of Hawaii convened on Wednesday morning for its regular biennial session. Thus far there has been a very general degree of harmony. As was anticipated, H. L. Holstein was again elected speaker of the House, while Charles F. Chillingworth, of Honolulu, was named President of the Senate.

At the House caucus on last Monday night the organization of the House was fully decided upon, and on Wednesday it went into effect as follows:

H. L. Holstein, speaker; J. H. Conroy, vice-speaker; Edward Woodward, clerk; Louis K. Kekumano, assistant clerk; John Aylett, sergeant-at-arms; William Kahuakini, messenger; J. K. Kamanao, janitor; S. K. Kaulili, chaplain; W. J. Sheldon, Hawaiian interpreter.

Speaker Holstein appointed his standing committees, the chairmen of which are: Finance, Norman Watkins; education, C. H. Cooke; health, police and military, J. H. Conroy; judiciary, W. T. Rawlins; accounts and public expenditures, Antonio F. Tavares; public lands and internal improvements, Dr. G. H. Huddy; agriculture, forestry, irrigation, manufactures, promotion and immigration, D. P. R. Isenberg; miscellaneous, N. K. Lyman; enrolment, revision and printing, Edward Waiaholo; rules, Eli J. Crawford; county, municipal and civil service, Eugene K. Aiu, and journal, H. L. Holstein.

Following the precedent of President Wilson, Governor Pinkham read his message to the Legislature in person, both houses assembling in the House chamber on Wednesday morning for this purpose.

Robinson Insurgent?

Reports from the capital last received, are that Senator W. T. Robinson had adopted the role of "insurgent" though to what end is not quite clear at present. The Star-Bulletin on this subject had the following to say on Tuesday:

"Republican senators called into caucus yesterday afternoon found an 'insurgent' in the camp and one who up to a late hour today had declined to join the majority in mapping out their legislative program and deciding upon the officers and employees of the upper house.

"Senator W. T. Robinson of Maui is the solon who declined to attend yesterday's caucus. His refusal and the absence of others, among them Chas. A. Rice of Kauai, resulted in the caucus being postponed until noon today.

"Meanwhile the Republicans of the lower house met, got harmoniously to work, selected officers and employees and talked over the bills to be introduced on behalf of the party.

"Robinson gratified his friends by sending word to the caucus that he is not going to desert permanently or anything like that and his action is taken goodnaturedly all around, so that no marring of old-fashioned Republican harmony is expected.

"Senator Robinson's refusal to join the caucus is said to be based on the fact that he wants support for a taxation measure he intends to introduce and will not pledge his vote as a senator for president and other offices until assured that he will get support for this measure. Just what the tax bill is has not been divulged, so its chances are not known, but one senator said yesterday that he thought the bill was aimed at island plantations.

"Another reason for Robinson's attitude is said to be that he wants 'Tim' Lyons of Maui for assistant clerk of the senate. There are several candidates for this job and it was predicted that Robinson's aloofness was not likely to help his candidate very much. "Robinson was questioned by some Cannery Wants Harbor.

Delegate Kuhio is presenting a bill in Congress, at the instance of Libby, McNeill Libby, asking for a dredged harbor at Kahaluu, on the windward side of Oahu. The big packing company proposes building one and perhaps two vessels, equipped with Diesel engines, to ply between the new port and the Coast.

Two hundred Oahu teachers went on record at the annual meeting of the Territorial Teachers' Association as favoring a school pension system. Twelve teachers voted against such a system and fourteen announced themselves as being "neutral". The meeting was held in Honolulu on Friday of last week.

McCarn Permits Boxing.

Boxing matches, which were stopped about a year ago by the action of District Attorney McCarn, have been resumed at the army posts about Honolulu. The district attorney declares that he has no objection to boxing contests which do not violate the law, and never did have. Just what the difference between the former and the present matches is, is not very clear.

Ad Club Pageant Tonight.

Miss Ruth McChesney has been chosen as "Queen of the Occident" and Mrs. Vicenta Cornol, "Queen of the Orient", to occupy the prominent positions on an elaborate float which will be a feature of the big pageant being arranged for this evening by the Honolulu Ad Club. The pageant is termed the "carnival of the nations".

Carry The News Now On Maui

Carry The News, probably the most famous polo pony in the world today, is on Maui. The beautiful animal arrived last week from the Coast after taking part in the great international polo tournament in New York last fall. He is owned by Dr. Will Baldwin, and is now at his owner's home at Haiku.

Carry The News was simply loaned for the tournament, and although Dr. Baldwin received many offers to sell him, he has refused them all. It is stated that as high as $16,000 was offered by one enthusiastic Eastern millionaire. The pony will probably be frequently seen from now on in the practice play of the Maui Polo Club, which has now been resumed.

Hawaii's Donation over $100,000.

The War Relief Committee has issued a statement showing that the receipts and disbursements of the organization have been over $17,000. It states also that this, together with the sums raised by British and German organizations amounts to over $160,000 that has been contributed to Hawaii to relieve the suffering caused by the European war.

Would Have Hawaii at San Diego.

Secretary Wade Warren Thayer, who has just returned from the coast where he went to accept the new Hawaii building at the San Francisco exposition, is enthusiastic over the location of Hawaii in the big show. He also strongly recommends that some steps be taken to have the Islands represented at the San Diego exposition.

Many Would Colorize Palmyra.

Judge Henry Cooper has received a large number of applications from persons on the mainland who would like to make their homes on Palmyra Island, which is now owned in fee by the Honolulu jurist. The idea of most of the writers seems to be that they would establish a model colony on altruistic lines. Many of the writers are highly educated and wealthy. Judge Cooper states that he may consider favorably the plan.

Haiku Postoffice May Not Be Abolished

As a result of some vigorous protests cabled to Washington and to Postmaster Young, of Honolulu, last week, the order abolishing the Haiku postoffice, as noted in last week's Maui News, was held up, pending an investigation by T. J. Flavan, the new postoffice inspector, who arrived last week. The order combining the Haiku office with that of Pauwela, was to have gone into effect last Tuesday.

The office was this week moved from the James Lindsay home to temporary quarters in the American Can Company's office.
