Keen Fight on For Kula Bean Contract

Good Demand Apparent For Coming Crop of Red Beans in Which Mauka District Seems Likely to Profit Handsomely.

(Special Correspondence.)

WAIKOA, March 3.—During the past week we have had another example, in Kula, of the way the farmer suffers from lack of cooperation, and from the avarice of those who are regardless of his interests so long as their own pocketbooks can be fattened.

Maui red beans have sold all the past winter for $4 a bag in Honolulu. Practically all of the crop has been bought by one buyer who seems to have a good market for these beans. This buyer wished to be certain of the next crop, so the Marketing Division put him in touch with the shippers in Kula to the end that he might be able to arrange for having a large crop grown and be certain as to the price in advance—in short have a crop grown on contract.

The Kula Farmers' Cooperative Association was anxious to secure this contract for the Kula farmers. To that end it made the buyer as low a figure as it felt was just to the farmer. By eliminating the Honolulu marketing charges twenty cents is saved in each bag. In strict justice this should be divided by buyer and seller, but the K. F. C. A. offered to give the buyer the whole of this saving, and to furnish the beans $5.50 in Honolulu, or $3.67 Kahului, which is the same thing. Allowing seven cents for the bag, twenty cents for the hauling from Kula, and ten cents for the treasury of the Association the farmer would have received $3.30 net.

The profit for the Association, which would have amounted to nearly $100, would have been invested in an engine and farming mill, so that we could turn out a cleaner and better product.

An individual in Kula figuring that he could get the beans from the farmer for less money than this, but below this figure and got the contract.

Now if the buyer say his way clear to buy these beans at $4, he certainly could see his way clear if he got them for twenty cents less, or, if he ships to the coast, for thirty-three cents less, since he can ship direct to the Coast from Kahului. This is especially true since all indications point to foods being worth as much, if not more, five months from now than they are now. So strongly does the agent of the Association feel that it will be a mistake for the farmers to contract to grow these beans for less than $3.30 that he has issued the following notice:

"February 27, 1915.

To the members of the Kula Farmers' Cooperative Association:

My negotiations with a buyer in Honolulu to secure a contract for 1000 bags of red beans at $3.67 a bag f. o. b. Kahului have failed because another person in Kula has offered to furnish the beans at a lower figure.

If I had been able to secure this contract the farmer would have received $3.30 a bag net, the Association furnishing the bag free.

"I shall now try to get a contract with someone else. It is my belief that we can sell our red beans from this next crop for a figure that will net the farmer $3.30. The price of all foods is tending to rise, rather than lower, because of the war in Europe, and I feel that beans will sell at fully as good a price as we have gotten for this last crop. The farmers who have sold their red beans through the Association have received $3.27 or more.

"I therefore advise all of our members not to agree to sell their red beans from the crop now being planted for less than $3.30 a bag net, as I believe the Association can sell them so that the farmer will receive at least that much.

KULA FARMERS' COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION,

Per Edwin C. Moore, Secy." There will be a meeting of the Kula Farmers' Cooperative Association at the home of Mr. George Copp, Sunday, March 7, at one o'clock.

Help! Murder!!

Maui Team Gets Carnival Trophy

Tie Broken When All-Chinese With-draw Claim in Favor of Local Boys —Chinese Leaving Islands Prevents Return Game Being Played.

The Carnival cup comes to Maui! As forecast in the Maui News last week, the Chinese and All Maui teams, in the Carnival series played in Honolulu, tied for first place, and the decision was put up to a special committee to decide between the two as to which should get the cup. But before this decision could be made, however, the Chinese withdrew their claim, allowing the handsome trophy to come to the Maui visitors.

The action of the Chinese players is appreciated for its generosity. Also it saves the judges from an uncomfortable task, though there is strong reason to believe that Maui would have won the decision just the same. Trip Financial Failure.

As will be remembered, Paschoal's boys went to Honolulu on their own responsibility, and without any guarantee. And they came back about $50 in the hole. The series was not a profitable one from any standpoint, and had it not been for the extra game played with the 25th Infantry, which netted Maui about $75, the trip would have been decidedly disastrous. Our boys made altogether from the four games played, only a little over $100.

Honolulu sports writers lay the blame for the poor attendance at the Carnival games, to the soreness of the fans against the Athletic Park management over the trouble it made last fall when the Venice team from the Coast played in Honolulu.

There was some talk that the Chinese of Honolulu would visit Maui to play off the tie but the Chinese players, divided in two teams, are leaving for the Coast and the Orient for long series and this is out of the question.

Teachers' Pension Bill to Go Over

School Board Would Relinquish Control of Reform Schools—Want Users of School Buildings to Clean Up Afterwards.

The bill providing for pensions for school teachers will not be pushed at this session of the legislature, but will be pushed for the 1917 session, according to the decision of the commissioners of public instruction at their meeting in Honolulu last Monday. It was brought out that the Maui and Hawaii teachers have not had opportunity to become familiar with the plan, and further time will therefore be given for all to understand what is proposed.

The board decided to ask the legislature to place the control of the boys' and girls' industrial schools in the hands of a special committee or commission, thus relieving the regular department from this responsibility. It seems to be generally thought that those two institutions will fare better under a board that has no other work to consider.

The legislature will also be asked to amend the law providing for the use of school buildings for general meeting purposes, by providing that users of these buildings shall be required to clean up the building after they have finished with them.

Cubs Tie Waikapus in Second Half of Ninth

Two Rather Loose Games By Juniors Have Some Interesting Features —Chinese Put One Over on the Pineapple Pickers.

The Juniors put the Chinese and Hailkus on the diamond last Sunday, and the men from the pineapple cannery were defeated by the Chinese by a score of 8 to 3.

The Chinese put their reliable man from Manila in the box and his benders puzzled the Hailku hitters.

The Hailkus did not have their full lineup on the field, and this caused their defeat. A new man appeared for them in the box and his curves were puzzling to the Chinese just a little bit.

Tied in the Ninth Inning. In the second game the Waikapus shook hands with the Cubs, and at the end of the game neither of the two was victorious as the game was called off in the 11th inning on account of darkness.

The Waikapus sent M. Rodrigues, K. Cockett and Kala to do the hurling while the Cubs placed T. Cummings and Keehu in the box to hurl for them.

The Waikapus seemed to have the game cinched at the start, but the Cubs put forth every effort to tie the score and succeeded in the second half of the ninth inning in making a run which tied the score 11 to 11.

This game will be played off at the end of the first series.

Jno. Garcia rendered the decisions in these games and they proved generally satisfactory.

VISITOR URGES CHILD LABOR LAW.

Editor Maui News: It is a satisfaction to note your protest against legalized squeezing of the poor, quoted by the Honolulu Star-Bulletin yesterday. I have made a set of carbon copies and sent them to California editors.

I am sure you are concerned over the fate of the stop child labor bills, now pending in the legislature. It is impossible to wake people up and make them storm the legislature in the interest of good bills—but I wish it was possible. And I rejoice in the reiterated efforts of the press.

Yours sincerely ALICE PARK. Honolulu (Temporary), Mar. 1, 1915.

HOW MUCH SHOULD IT GIVE?

When a newspaper gives you a lot of free advertising in order to boom some concert or entertainment in which you are interested, keep track of the lines that are printed week by week and multiply that number by the regular advertising rates of the paper, says the Northfield (Minn.) News. Compare the results with the actual money value of any favor that you get from any other business concern. Then take into consideration the fact that advertising and circulation are the only two things that a newspaper has to sell. Now, in these days of higher prices, how much do you think it ought to give away?
