Paia Win First Game of 1915 Series.

Last Sunday afternoon at the Wailuku park, the Paia team defeated the Puunene aggregation to the tune of 10 to 1. Lack of practice on the part of the loser, was responsible for their defeat. The Paia bunch showed up strong and must be counted on as possibilities for championship honors.

Tomorrow's game will be between the Paia and the Hawaiis. The latter being the Wailuku representatives in the league, it is expected that a large attendance of Wailuku fans will be there.

Fire on Kilauea Does Little Damage

Fire in the forward hold of the steamer Kilauea, on her down trip last Monday night, delayed the vessel for four hours or more at Lahaina before the blaze was extinguished. Little damage was done, except to a portion of the miscellaneous cargo, and her schedule was not deranged. How the blaze started is not known. The Kilauea is taking the Mauna Kea's run while the latter vessel is conveying the congressional party on their tour of the islands.

Child Hurt by Auto

Miss Rose Meyer, daughter of D. L. Meyer, was very painfully bruised and injured, just after the ball game last Sunday, by being run down by an automobile driven by J. S. Medeiros assistant postmaster at Puunene. Medeiros, who had just left the ball ground, seemed to lose control of his car, which according to witnesses, ran off the roadway and struck the girl, who was waiting for it to pass. He was arrested and charged with heedless and furious driving. The little girl received a number of serious bruises and lacerations, but fortunately no broken bones.

Safe Landing for Lahaina Demanded

Correspondent Scores Government and Steamship Company for Permitting Present Conditions to exist Criminal to Take Chances.

Editor Maui News: The long expected has finally happened. Two innocent human beings have lost their lives in the Lahaina breakers and a boat, full of passengers spilled its human freight, men, women, and little children, in the sea, just because the government and the steamship company have carelessly and criminally neglected their duties and ignored the wishes of the public.

Everybody who has ever landed at Lahaina in the little boats of the inter-island steamers, while putting up a bold front, deep down in his heart knows that the landing is unsafe and that some day he may have to struggle for his life in the breakers. Upon landing safely, he feels a little ashamed of his fear and promptly tries to forget it. Now, however, he will remember it and thank his stars that HE was not in the capsize boat.

The people who do not happen to live in Lahaina may wonder why the government and the steamship company do not attempt to improve on this hazardous method of landing passengers as they certainly must be aware of existing conditions. The answer is the same old one: THERE IS NO MONEY IN IT. Rather lose a few human lives once a year than spend a few dollars on a crying necessity. Fancy, the government, in spite of ample appropriations year after year, refuses to give Lahaina a SAFE ship's wharf, because, they claim, it cannot be made self-supporting. Are the streets self-supporting? Are the government officials self-supporting? Hawaii's bonded indebtedness ought to show whether or not they are. The fact that the population of Lahaina, enthusiastically supported by the whole island of Maui, want and pray for a safe landing, is of no importance. On account of a few politicians and their selfish schemes the traveling public is condemned to be drowned in the Lahaina surf. Would it not be wiser of those politicians to condemn the UNSAFE wharf instead?

Where is the consistency and common sense in bringing down the congressional party to tour the islands at the cost of the Territory in the sum of $45,000.00 and refusing to spend twice that amount to insure them a safe landing after they get here? I wonder if we would get a safer landing if their boat happened to capsize.

There is a wave of righteous indignation sweeping over Maui today. This deplorable "accident" is in everybody's mind, and those who have wives and children cannot help shuddering when they think of what it might have been.

Are we going to get that wharf or are we not?

Are we to consent tamely to be drowned like rats, because the government says so?

What is the Harbor Commission and the Public Utilities Commission doing? Have they not heard that we want A SAFE LANDING at Lahaina? What are they going to do about it?

Is Lahaina going to get a black eye now on account of the government's and the steamship company's negligence?

We have one of the finest, safest and easiest accessible ports in all the islands and the largest passenger traffic on Maui. Why not be reasonable before it is too late, and help us along a bit by giving us an equally safe landing?

Again remember, you people of Hawaii, who read this appeal to reason: Some day you and the wife and little children that you love better than yourself may have to land at Lahaina. If you do not want to see them brought ashore as corpses, now is your chance to prevent it. Help us to get that wharf.

You will be sorry some day, if you don't.

EYEWITNESS. Lahaina, May 2, 1915.

Sad Death of Estimable Waikapu Lady

Mrs. Amelia Cornwell, wife of James L. Cornwell, died at 1 o'clock last Monday morning at her home in Waikapu. She had just given birth to a baby boy, which is living and doing well. The demise was a fearful shock to her family and friends. The funeral was held on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, from the home, interment being in the family burying plot. It was attended by a very large concourse of friends. The services were conducted by the Rev. R. B. Dodge and the Rev. L. B. Kaumehelewa. The pall bearers were: Dan T. Carey, Joseph Crockett, P. J. Goodness, J. Garcia, Edmund H. Hart, and Jas. R. Love.

Mrs. Cornwell was within a few weeks of 40 years of age, and was the mother of fifteen children ten of whom are living. She was Miss Amelia Beers before her marriage, and her birthplace was Molokai. Besides her husband and children, she is survived by a brother—County Attorney W. H. Beers, of Hilo, and two sisters—Mrs. S. M. Kananuui, of Honolulu; and Mrs. A. N. Namohala, of Hilo.

GARCIA GETS COMMISSION.

J. Garcia has been appointed a member of the board of prison commissioners for Maui, the place having been vacant since the election of H. A. Baldwin to the senate two years ago. The other two members of the board are J. N. K. Keola and William Henning, both of whose commissions expire before long.

Big Features Booked By Kahului Lyceum

The Kahului Lyceum has lately booked two features that are recognized as among the greatest film dramas ever produced. One of these is "Cabiria," an Italian production by Gabriele D'Annunzio, dealing with early Roman history in the third century, B. C. The story itself is a powerful one and the scenes are laid in Catania, Syracuse, Carthage, and other points. Hannibal's conquest of the Alps, and the conquest of Carthage by Scipio, form the setting for a most thrilling love drama.

The other feature consists of five reels of pictures of actual scenes in the present European war. These pictures were taken, in many cases with the most extreme difficulty, and are said to be the most thrilling portrayal of the war yet produced. Both of these productions, which will also be shown at the Valley Isle Theatre, in Wailuku, are to be here in a short time, announcement of exact dates to be made later.

CARD OF THANKS.

James L. Cornwell and family beg to extend their heartfelt thanks for all the many courtesies, favors and sympathies extended them in their recent bereavement and also for the many and beautiful floral offerings.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT Favorite Recipes of Maui Housekeepers

No. 16. Furnished by MRS. H. L. SAUERS, Haiku.

Breakfast Johnnies. Take 2 cups of corn meal, add 1 teaspoonful of salt and enough boiling water to make a stiff paste, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Put 2 heaping tablespoonfuls of fat in a skillet and heat to browning point. Drop the paste by small tablespoonfuls into the boiling fat and fry to a deep brown on both sides. Serve with maple syrup or jam.

Steamed Brown Bread. Two cups of graham flour and one of corn meal, one cup of cooking molasses, one heaping teaspoonful of salt, one of soda and two cups of buttermilk, or sour milk, mix thoroughly and add one cup of raisins or currants. Take baking powder tins, (I like the one pound size best) and grease them thoroughly on the inside, both the tin and cover, fill half full of the batter and put the covers on tight. Stand them in a deep kettle over a slow fire in enough boiling water to come about half way up on the sides of the tins, and cover the kettle tightly. Cook for two and one half hours, adding water as needed to keep the kettle from boiling dry. When done, turn out of the tins and stand on end on waxed paper to cool. Good either hot or cold.

Cheese Sandwiches. Take 1/4 pound of good cheese, not too strong, and a coffee cup of English walnut meats and put through the grinder together, using the medium knife. Add enough mayonnaise salad dressing to make a thick paste. Slice whole wheat bread very thin, spread with butter and the cheese paste, add a crisp lettuce leaf, put the slices together and cut in any desired shape. This makes enough for a dozen and a half large sandwiches.

Chocolate Cookies. 1 cup Orleans molasses, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup fresh lard or Cottolene.

Spanish Rice. Take one large onion, peel and wash, one large bell pepper, green, cut in half and take out the core and seeds, put both it and the onion through the food grinder. Put a heaping teaspoonful of butter in a spider and heat until brown; now add the pepper and onion and stir until brown, then add two full cups of cold boiled rice, one cup of any kind of cold chopped meat, pork preferred, a pint of either cooked or fresh ripe tomatoes, a salt spoonful of celery salt, a teaspoonful of table salt, a dash of pepper and a half pint of hot water, stirring all together until thoroughly mixed, set on the back of the range and let it simmer for fifteen minutes when it is ready to serve. This is a nice way to utilize leftover meat and rice.

Prune Roll. Make a short light baking powder crust, roll thin; cover with stewed prunes from which the seeds have been taken and roll like a jelly cake. Sprinkle with sugar and allspice, pour some of the juice in which the prunes were cooked around it and bake until brown.

Potato Salad Dressing. Mix two tablespoonfuls sugar, 1 teaspoon ground mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper and a tablespoonful of butter, with a raw egg, making a smooth paste, then add a cupful of sour cream, stir until smooth then add a scant cupful of vinegar, put it over the fire and boil, let it stand until cold when it is ready for use.

PEKING, May 2.—Chinese minister of foreign affairs presented to Hoiki, Chinese maximum of acceptances. They include further acceptances by China but Hoiki says falls short of minimum contained in 24. China says these represent the maximum and "you will please inform your government." Hoiki is said to have remarked that he was sorry as he believed his government would be disappointed. China agreed to all demands respecting Mongolia, excepting that demand which would place the settlement of questions respecting agricultural lands owned by Japanese within jurisdiction of Japanese consular court.
