

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

Don't Rock the Boat.

As loyal Americans our duty to our Flag, our President and to ourselves is to be calm and patient, placing full trust and confidence in those who stand at the head of the nation's destiny. This is no time for political partisanship, for hot speech, for rabid criticism. Our whole duty is "America First."—P.C. Advertiser.

Sunday Movies Again.

Theatrical men are starting another fight to open Honolulu to the "Sunday movies." They were behind the move in the last legislature, but the legislature passed the matter on to the counties, merely authorizing the boards of supervisors to say whether moving-picture shows can or cannot be given. Now the Honolulu supervisors are asked to allow the showing of a "biblical" picture. Apparently the campaign to make this a Sunday-night theater town is about to start.—Star-Bulletin.

Is there no chance of Hilo baseball fans ever seeing any first-class baseball? Time after time, teams from the mainland visit Honolulu and play series of games, but there is never a sign of a team paying the Crescent City a visit. In the near future two mainland "Varsity" ball teams are to arrive in Honolulu. If something be done at once there may be a chance of the teams coming to Hilo for a short season.—Hawaii Herald.

Considering the dangerous landing places that exist around these islands, it is a wonder that there are not more drownings of passengers recorded. That fact, goes to show that the greatest care is taken by the steamship people.—Hawaii Herald.

There appears to be a regular shaking up on in regard to the Hawaii Promotion Committee's work and it is good to notice. Still, there is urgent need for a special Hilo representative in Honolulu, and the indications are that there will be one before very long.—Hawaii Herald.

Both party platforms declared for woman suffrage, but the legislature passed no law on the subject. The married members are resumably explaining at home now.—Hilo Tribune.

With Jack London and several prominent Mainland newspaper writers, also the Honolulu editors, accompanying the Congressional party, there is a prospect that Hawaii will get more benefit from the trip in the way of publicity, all over America, than could be bought for more than the entire $45,000 spent on bringing the visitors here and looking after them. Access to the reading public such as London's writings naturally command is of a kind that cannot be bought for any price.—Hilo Tribune.

Uniform Doesn't Make Gentlemen.
An absurd stew has been made of the refusal of the Honolulu police to admit certain soldiers to the luau of Mayor Lane. We confess we are unable to follow an argument which seeks to elevate any person, soldier or civilian, into a social strata to which he does not and cannot belong. The Mayor's luau was an invitational affair. Millionaires, government officials, professional men and others had to have cards to it. Certain soldiers appeared, not having been invited, and not having cards, were not admitted. "Contempt for the uniform" and all such bosh is the cry. Every man respects the business of the soldier; and the uniform worn by the soldier. But a uniform cannot make a gentleman any more than a suit of broad-cloth; and the soldier in the Islands is treated with far more consideration and respect than is the citizen of a similar class.—Garden Island.

The Lusitania incident has brought out the usual thing—a lot of anonymous letters, usually signed "Neutral American" but bearing plenty of evidence that the writers are neither neutral nor Americans.—Star-Bulletin.

Taxes.
As a result of the complimentary system of the territorial tax office, we received a notice the other day that our income tax was due. Now in Chicago Julius Rosenwald and some of the other Big Business chaps have just refused to pay their tax bills because the method of figuring couldn't be understood. We thing the same about our tax bill and have indulged this thought annually, but it never made any perceptible difference except to increase the Ultimate Amount that went to the man behind the counter. One of the features of the millennium will be that it will bring tax notices which can be read without the aid of a code-book.—Star-Bulletin.

MISS HAZEL SANBORN.

ONE OF THE TALENTED SINGERS WHO APPEARS TONIGHT WITH THE BEVANI GRAND OPERA COMPANY.

Indications are that the first appearance tonight of the Bevani Grand Opera Company at the Valley Isle Theater will be greeted by one of the largest, as well as most critical audiences ever gathered on Maui to listen to a musical production. The opera company arrives from Honolulu this morning where for the past month it has been delighting the music lovers with its high class work. That Maui is fortunate in having a chance to hear artists of the caliber that compose the Bevani aggregation goes without saying, and they should receive the best support that the community can give them.
