Kula Farmers After Maui Produce Trade

Good Price Received for Potatoes Sent to Haiku—Plan to Extend This Work—Farmers Get Good Share.

WAIKOA, July 6.—The last week in June the Kula Farmer's Cooperative Association accomplished its first sale of produce to consumers on Maui. Heretofore all of its sales have been to wholesalers on Oahu, but the Association has long cherished the idea of direct sales from farmer to consumer on this island. The sale just accomplished was of a load of potatoes sold at Haiku. The Haiku purchasers bought not less than a bag each, and the price was $1.65 per 100 lbs. The farmer who grew the potatoes in Kula received $1.29 for his potatoes, the costs being: bag 7 cents, hauling 25 cents, K. F. C. A. charge 4 cents. In this sale the consumer paid less than the current price and the farmer got more than the current price. The farmer got 78 cents of the consumer's dollar. In the hope of building up a regular trade of this sort the following letter was sent to each purchaser:

Enclosed please find bill for potatoes delivered to you June 26.

It is the hope of this Association that this load of potatoes sent to Haiku may be the beginning of a regular business with Haiku people. We can usually deliver potatoes, corn, beans and onions.

We hope to make the trip with such products about once a month at present. May we take the liberty of notifying you a week or so in advance of each trip and enquire if we can serve you at that time?

We are not in shape to do business on other than a cash basis. We act only as agent for our shippers and any loss from a credit business would fall upon them, so we ask that payment be made either to the driver upon delivery, or by check not later than the early part of the month following delivery.

It is our belief that a cash business direct from farmer to consumer will result in the consumer paying less and the farmer getting more.

Very truly yours,
 KULA FARMER'S COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

MR. DE SOUZA'S DINNER

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. J. Garcia, on the eve of their departure for a long tour to the mainland, a most unique and delightful dinner was given on Friday night of last week by A. J. de Souza, to a small party of friends. The affair was held at the Wailuku Hotel and was an exceedingly jolly one. The menu, which had been prepared under Mr. de Souza's very competent direction, was a revelation, and was hugely enjoyed, as well as were the elocutionary bonne bouches which accompanied each course. A string orchestra added much to the pleasure of the evening. Those in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Garcia, guests of honor; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fernandez, Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, Miss Margaret Cook, Mr. and Mrs. A. Enos, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Pereira, Mrs. C. Carvalho, Mr. Frank Medeiros.

The menu was as follows:
 Blue Points, Mignonnet
 Choice of Frank Medeiros
 Ripe Olives
 Fernandez' Garden Kahului
 Salted Almonds a la Pereira
 Soup, Style Joe, Yak-Fan-Lo
 Baked Fish, Facon, Garcia
 Noisette of Rabbit a la Cook

Island Potatoes Now Fill Market

Importance of Good Seed Selection Noted—Poultry and Eggs Selling Well—Island Cabbage About Paup

HONOLULU, July 6.—Large shipments of potatoes are being received from Oahu, Maui and Hawaii. These potatoes are very good and meet a ready sale but the price is not as good as it should be, due to heavy importations of California potatoes. Island potatoes are coming in a month too late to bring the price. The Hawaii grown potatoes are from a good imported variety. This year some of the Maui growers planted the Early Rose potato from seed imported by the Marketing Division. It has proved to be a splendid potato for the islands. The yield is large and the quality exceptionally good. There is great need for better quality seed potatoes in the islands. Farmers should realize the necessity of planting only selected seed. Commercial potatoes are of course, cheaper for planting; but the resulting product is ever satisfactory. Careful selection of the seed always results in a larger yield and a better quality potato.

A large shipment of good watermelons was received. They are selling well at a good price. Some were received in poor condition due to rough handling.

Papayas are plentiful and a drug on the market. Pineapples are also plentiful and selling at a low price.

Eggs are selling at a very good price. The demand far exceeds the supply at the present time. The price is steadily rising.

The demand is good for all kinds of fat poultry. Broilers are plentiful but selling fast at good prices. Stewing chickens are in demand with very few in the market. There is greater demand for young roosters for roasting than for young hens.

The island supply of cabbage is giving out and importations from the Coast have commenced. The price is good.

A shipment of Isabella grapes received is selling well at 10 cents a pound wholesale. Regular shipments of cucumbers and pohas are received twice a week from Hawaii. Limes are scarce with the demand good at high prices.

Promotion Body is Boosting Haleakala

Pleased with Prospect of Road to Summit—Thinks Rest House Fills Very Big Need.

A. P. Taylor, acting secretary of the Hawaii promotion committee has written the Maui News as follows:

"It is extremely gratifying to know that the dream of many years for an automobile road to the summit of Haleakala is about to be fulfilled, so that Maui could get a better share of the tourist travel.

"Maui is to be congratulated on taking the initiative and building a rest house at the summit of Haleakala, which completely answers the demand for such a structure. With this rest house connected with the rest of Maui by an excellent motor road, I believe that Maui will come in for a very large share of tourist business.

"I believe we are all quite fully aware that Maui was severely handicapped, though having one of the greatest natural wonders of the world, by not having an up-to-date medium of access to this wonderful extinct volcano. Many people have made inquiries about Haleakala and they have been told of the wonderful sunrise and the splendor of the view into the crater's solitude, but when informed that 16 miles at least of the journey must be made on horseback, they have reluctantly given up the idea of making the trip. Many men, on learning of the horseback feature, said it would be impossible for them to take that method of reaching the summit, as they had not ridden for years and did not feel like taking, what they considered, violent exercise of that sort.

"The Promotion Committee will immediately take steps to communicate to the world, as far as practicable, what is being done to bring this extinct crater into the lanes of the travel world.

"I would like a photograph of the rest house and some copies showing the characteristic surroundings as well as the rest house itself, so that I could use them in the preparation of articles.

Yours very truly,
 A. P. TAYLOR,
 Asst. Secretary."
