

Polo to Be Feature Of Harvest Home

Three Oahu Men Will Play and Young
Ed Baldwin Will be in Game—
Every Thing Auspicious.

A polo game between two mixed teams composed of Oahu and Maui players, is to be a feature of the Harvest Home events this afternoon. The game will be played on the Sunnyside grounds, beginning at 3 o'clock, and promises to be an interesting one. It was not known that a contest could be arranged until a few days ago, and the announcement comes as a pleasing surprise.

There will be three Oahu players in the game: Walter Dillingham, Harold Castle and Arthur Rice, but they will not all play on one side. Another feature of interest is the fact that Edward Baldwin, the 12-year old son of F. F. Baldwin will play. Young Baldwin was forecast as a coming star in the polo world, by experts in Honolulu during the recent tournament, and his advent in a regular game will doubtless be quite a drawing card in itself.

The two teams are made up as follows, playing in order given: Team 1: W. A. Clark, Edward Baldwin, Walter Dillingham, and F. F. Baldwin. Team 2: A. W. Collins, Harold Castle, Caleb Burns, and Arthur Rice.

Tennis Tournament.

From the list of men who will represent Oahu in the tennis matches to begin on the Puuene club courts at 8:30 o'clock this morning, there should be some warm contests. Eight teams will be on hand this morning and they will play as follows: A. L. Castle, W. H. Hoogs, W. F. Dillingham, Harold Castle, John O'Dowda, V. E. Lacey, E. T. Littlejohn, Allan Davis; W. Pfeuger, Ed. Gibb; C. G. Bockus, Arthur S. Rice; Ernest Podmore, C. Zarbriski; Clarence S. Olson, Dr. Peden.

The Maui teams which will meet the Oahu experts have been selected through an elimination series of games and the outlook is that they will once more be able to retain the inter-island tennis honors here on Maui. The teams are composed as follows and play with corresponding teams of the visitors in the order given. Lindsay, Collins; Rice, Rosecrans, Walsh, Thomson; Engle, Taylor; F. Burns, C. Burns; A. McLaren, J. McLaren, F. F. Baldwin, Duke; W. A. Baldwin, Livingston.

Bowling.

While it had been expected that the names of the Honolulu bowlers would be sent up before hand, they did not come and the committee will not know till this morning just who will be in the team that will try conclusions with the Puuene experts.

The swimming events promise to be of interest, though there will not be the incentive of competition with visiting swimmers.

Those Responsible.

For several weeks past there has been some very hard work on the part of the members of the various committees which have had the big annual event in hand, and from all indications they may well be proud of the results of their efforts. The officers of the Puuene Athletic Club, which is responsible for the annual Harvest Home celebration, are: J. B. Thomson, president; C. C. Campbell, vice-president; David Rattray, secretary; J. T. Fantom, director at large. The other directors are chairmen of the various committees, which are as follows: Tennis: Dr. Young, J. McLaren, J. H. Pratt; bowling: E. F. Deibert, M. G. Paschall; refreshments: Ben Williams, W. Lougher, J. T. Fantom; dance: George Murray, J. S. B. MacKenzie; decoration: James Smith, Arthur Betts, F. Peacock; Swimming: Wm. Searby, R. E. Hughes, K. M. Smith.

Special Meeting Called

On Sunday Movies

Sunday movies for Maui is evidently still a live issue and the board of supervisors will give special consideration to the matter at a meeting to be held at noon next Monday. The proposition got before the board again on Thursday through a letter from George Freeland, of the Pioneer Hotel, who is proprietor of several picture houses on West Maui, and who has been most interested of the movie managers for Sunday performance privileges.

In his letter, Mr. Freeland states that, in order to test the popular demand for Sunday shows, he has lately given on Sundays free performances, under advice of the County Attorney. At the first of these, on July 25, the attendance was 1150 and on August 8, a still larger crowd was entertained. As he believes the board wishes to be governed by the people who want Sunday shows, he believes he has proved his case.

ANTI-TREATING LAW

WORKS SMOOTHLY

According to License Inspector Sommerfeld, the new anti-treating regulation which went into effect the first of the month, is working out without any apparent hitches. The various bars claim to not notice any appreciable loss of trade, and customers do not appear to object to the new system of Dutch treat.

HOMESTEADERS GET PATENTS.

Governor Pinkham has signed patents for homestead lots at Kulaha to Stanley Livingston, Maude Starbuck, and E. G. Bartlett. Miss Starbuck has already gone to the coast, and Mr. Livingston and Mr. Bartlett will move their families to Honolulu within a few weeks.

Macadam Ordered for

Paia-Makawao Road

Macadamizing on the Paialu road, starting at the D. C. Lindsay residence and continuing to the concrete bridge near the Fred Baldwin Home, was ordered by the board of supervisors at its meeting on Thursday. The distance to be improved will be something more than one mile. For doing this work, the board authorized the expenditure of not to exceed $2500 per month.

Stepped on By Horse Man Dies From Hurts

Wm. Puaala Falls From Saddle When Horse Frightens at Auto—Was Cowboy at Camp 1.

Thrown from a young horse he was riding, between Paia and Camp 1, on Tuesday evening, and stepped upon by another horse, William Puaala, a cowboy employed by the H. C. & S. Co., died of his injuries in the Puuene hospital at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The coroner's jury on the case found that the man came to his death as a result of "an accidental fall from his horse while in an intoxicated condition." The jury was composed of Joe Freitas, J. T. Fantom, J. F. Camara, E. R. Lindsay, Antone Ventura and John Gomts.

According to the testimony, the unfortunate man, in company with David Kulolola and George Tripp, Jr., also cowboys, had spent several hours at the home of a Hawaiian named Kealoha, at Paia, during which time they had disposed of a gallon of wine. On the way home the colt Puaala was riding shied at a passing automobile unseating his rider who fell directly in front of one of his companions, whose horse stepped upon his abdomen. At the time Puaala did not seem to be much hurt, remounting and continuing to his home at Camp 1, and it was not until Wednesday morning that he was known to be badly hurt, and was later taken to the hospital, where he died while being operated upon.

The man was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and several grown children.

Insurance Company

To Reissue Policies

Accident Board Assured Law Will Be Complied With—Others Will Probably Follow Suit.

The action of the Industrial Accident Board in turning down all of the policies of workmen's compensation insurance thus far written in this county by the various insurance companies, caused some little consternation among the various employers who had taken out such policies. There was some question also as to whether or not the companies would be willing to write policies which fully comply with the new law, in which case naturally the law could not be enforced. However it seems likely that all the companies will make the changes in their policies required by the board.

The first company to notify the board of its intention to do this was the Home Insurance Company, and the others are expected to follow suit. Zeno K. Meyers, manager of the Home company, in a letter to the board states that the London Lancashire Guarantee and Accident Company of Canada will have new policy blanks printed at once to replace all thus far issued, and the board has granted the company reasonable time to do this.

Refused to Modify

Hitchcock Charges

Fleming Would Exonerate Former
Overseer On One Point, But Other Members Opposed.

As a result of statements made to the board of supervisors at its last meeting by former supervisor Meyer, of Molokai, Supervisor Fleming on Thursday offered a motion to eliminate the seventh specification in the charges filed against H. R. Hitchcock, by the special committee appointed to look into his record as district overseer. The suggestion was vigorously opposed by Pali and others, and no action was taken.

The charge in question was the one alleging that Hitchcock had made use of county mules for doing his own work. Mr. Meyer had explained this by stating that the work was done at his own suggestion in return for pressing work for the county which Hitchcock had done with his own mules. Mr. Fleming thought that the explanation should be accepted as satisfactorily explaining the particular point, but he was not supported and the matter was dropped.

Johnson Not Very

Popular on Maui

Rumor That Bal Resigned From National Guard On Account Old Friction
With New Adjutant General.

By a special order of the adjutant general's department, of the National Guard of Hawaii, dated August 6, Major W. E. Bal, of the 3rd battalion, N. G. H., is placed on the retired list at his own request. Major Bal had only held the position about a year, but in resigning he gives as his reason, press of other business.

It is rumored that the recent appointment by the Governor of Col. Sam Johnson as adjutant general to succeed Colonel J. W. Jones, may have also had something to do with Major Bal's decision. It is known that Johnson's appointment was not a popular one in some sections of the guard, including Maui, where the Colonel had some serious friction with local officers during the suppression of a strike at Lahaina some years ago.

THORLEY RECITAL

DELIGHTED MANY

The organ recital of Walter Handel Thorley at the Walluku Union Church last Sunday night, was a rare treat to a very large audience of music lovers of Maui. There is no doubt that Mr. Thorley's ability had not been overrated. He is a master artist. It is probable that Maui has never had the pleasure of a visit from a musician of more ability. The program was a comprehensive one, and splendidly displayed the remarkable technique of the player. Mr. Thorley has been delighting Honolulu audiences with a number of recitals during the past few weeks.

No Carnegie Library For Maui This Year

Trustees Think Time Not Ripe—
Community Too Scattered—Officers Elected.

No steps will be taken to secure a Carnegie library for Maui for at least another year. This decision was taken by the trustees of the Maui Library Association at a meeting held last Monday evening, and was arrived at after the matter had been discussed at some length. It was the opinion that the proposition warrants a good deal more thought before attempting to raise required maintenance guarantee. This guarantee, according to the terms under which the Carnegie Foundation is willing to consider furnishing libraries, is that a site be furnished for the building, and that the county authorities make provision for an annual revenue equal to 10 percent of the cost of the library given. If Maui got a library costing $20,000, the maintenance guarantee must be $2000 per year. The fact that Maui's population is so scattered creates a doubt as to the practicability of a big library to cover the whole district.

The trustees elected the following officers and committees: B. H. Case, president; Dr. William Osmer, vice-president; D. C. Lindsay, treasurer; R. B. Dodge, secretary; Administration committee: D. C. Lindsay, Wm. Searby, Dr. Osmer, with the president and secretary as ex-officio members; auditing committee: E. R. Bevins, E. J. Walker, Chas. Wilcox; book committee: R. B. Dodge, Mrs. Wm. Searby, Mrs. F. F. Baldwin, Mrs. H. B. Penhallow, and Mrs. H. D. Sloggett.

Haleakala Road May

Be By Way of Kula

Re-grading By Prisoners Will Make
Easy Route to 4000-Foot Elevation
—Better Climatic Route.

In all probability the long talked of road up Haleakala will be through Kula and not by way of Ohihina, the present trail route. This idea seems to be gaining ground and a number of good arguments are offered by the advocates of this course. Perhaps the strongest is that climatic conditions are better through Kula, and that there would be less difficulty in rainy weather than by Makawao and Ohihina.

Another reason put forth is that the present Kula road system reaches an elevation of 4000 feet, or equal to that of Ohihina, and that with the relocating now being done between Puhehu and Kealahou, by which a number of grades will be eliminated a very fair start for the summit of the mountain will have already been made. The convict gang has now begun the regrading of this particular section, which will require perhaps six months, and when this is finished the plan is to continue on the Haleakala road proper.

Wailuku Water is

Loan Fund Commission and Supervisors Working on Solution of Problem—Tanks for Kahului.

In an interview given by Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works, on his return to Honolulu last Saturday, he declared that Wailuku's water supply is polluted and not fit for human consumption. While this isn't exactly news to local people, there has been more or less indifference on the subject, probably because no epidemics have resulted that could be traced to this source.

The loan fund commission held another meeting this week, the chief consideration being the improvement of the Wailuku-Kahului waterworks, which includes the extension of the intake pipe more than a mile above its present terminus. The question of a 10-inch pipe or an 8-inch line for making this extension was one of the matters that has not yet been decided. Superintendent Forbes urged the larger size, but other members of the commission are inclined to believe that the 8-inch pipe would be amply large.

Tanks Ordered For Sand Hills.

At the supervisors' meeting on Wednesday the board decided to help out the inadequate Kahului water supply by the erection of five 20,000 gallon redwood tanks on the sandhills above the K. of P. building. These tanks have already been ordered and will be erected as soon as delivered, thus affording the Kahului consumers a reserve supply of 100,000 gallons. The cost of the tanks is to be $225 each, which does not cover cost of erection and connecting.

Distinguished Physician

Pays Visit to Maui

Dr. William H. Welch, one of America's most noted pathologists, a professor in the Johns-Hopkins University, Baltimore, and president of the board of directors of the Rockefeller Institute for medical research, was a week end guest last week of Dr. W. D. Baldwin, of Haiku. The distinguished physician is on his way to China in company with two other eminent medical men, Dr. Simon T. Flexner and Dr. Wallace Buttrick, where they will look into the medical work of several American universities. Dr. Welch stopped on Maui Friday of last week on his way back to Honolulu from a visit to the Volcano. He was the guest of the University Club, in Honolulu, at a luncheon on Tuesday, when he highly praised Hawaii for its work along sanitation lines.
