WEEKLY MARKET LETTER
There is still a good demand for Island Creamery Butter. Island eggs are getting scarcer and bringing better prices. There is a very good market for poultry, especially young broilers and roasters. The market for Muscovy Ducks is very weak at the present time due to the large quantity on hand.
Dried beans are in great demand at present and had it not been for the heavy rains which spoil the bean crop last season, the local producers would have reaped large profits. Small white beans are selling in Chicago at 14 cents a pound wholesale. Hawaiian corn is still bringing good prices but is likely to drop shortly. Irish potatoes have already dropped to $1.75 and $2.00.
A large number of small, thin pigs are being shipped to Honolulu from the other islands. At the present time, there is little or no demand for such pigs and unless a pig weighs 150 pounds, live weight, butchers do not care to handle it. Hog raisers should produce enough feed on their farms to tide them over a period of high prices for corn and mill feeds such as has been caused by the Longshoreman strike. The appearance of so many small pigs in Honolulu at this time is due, no doubt, to the high price of feed.
The retail departments of the Division are in good running order now, and are showing increase sales every week.

A. T. LONGLEY,
Marketing Superintendent.
Honolulu, T. H., August 3, 1916.
Any farmer who is planting water melons, pumpkins, cucumbers, tomatoes or other vegetables affected by the melon fly would do well to write to the Board of Agriculture and Forestry for some of the new melon fly parasites which are now available for distribution. Address, Board of Agriculture and Forestry, King Street, Honolulu.

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

OAHU'S PINEAPPLE COMBINE

The news that great meat and fruit canning corporations of the mainland are negotiating for the purchase of pineapple enterprises on Oahu by wholesale has a disappointing ring to it. For sixteen or more years it has been drilled into the public that the pineapple was a crop for the small man, and it has been the backbone of such homesteading enthusiasm as we have witnessed. The absorption of Oahu canneries means that the pineapple farm will be drawn into the maw of the great canning combine, and that eventually Mr. Small Grower will be out on the road looking for something else to do.

On account of the enormous cost of mills, railways and equipment of various kinds the necessity for large-scale sugar plantations is well understood. There must be expensive centrals with which to do business at all and the mills must be backed up by large acreages of cane. Pineapple canneries, on the other hand, are comparatively of small expense, and it was hoped for the industry that the canneries would remain independent and, moreover, would keep out, as far as practicable, of the business of growing pines, leaving that to the homesteader and small planter.

Once the monopoly has gained control of the pineapple situation on Oahu its tentacles may be expected to reach out into Kauai and Maui, with the result that in a few years just the opposite to what the dreamers of a small-farmer citizenship had hoped for will come to pass. There is no legal way to keep a man from selling his property if he so desires, and no way to prevent monopolists acquiring that property if they so wish. A thoroughly aroused public sentiment is the only remedy.—Garden Island.

To the rapidly-growing roll of crimes or attempted crimes with deadly weapons there were added two new entries yesterday—that of a Japanese woman and the jealous lover who shot her and then himself. Two more good arguments for the passage of a territory-wide law rigidly restricting the purchase of weapons and permits to carry them. The law cannot be passed until the session of the legislature next spring, but the board of supervisors can by ordinance help matters in this city and county.—Star-Bulletin.

NATIONAL FOREST RECEIPTS

EXCEED ALL PREVIOUS YEARS

WASHINGTON, July 1916—Receipts from Nat'l Forests for the fiscal year 1916 reached the high-water mark of approximately $2,820,000, according to figures just compiled. This is $341,000 above the 1915 total, which in turn exceeded any previous year. Officials say that the gain was due to increased demand for all classes of forest products.

There was a decided growth in the revenue from all sources, the largest being that of $203,000 in timber sales. Grazing fees showed a gain of $77,000. Receipts for water power development

Officials say that the National Forests are important factors in the prosperity of the regions in which they are located, on account of the large amounts of timber, range, and other resources which they hold available for use as needed. Business conditions are reflected in the receipts of the Forests. Consequently the showing for the past year is regarded as an index of increased business activity throughout the sections where the National Forests are found.
