Army Looking For Camp Site On Maui

Chief Of Staff Much Impressed With Kula District—Would Be Recupe- ration Post For Troops From Oahu —Gen. Morton Favors Plan

Unless something unexpected arises to upset present plans, Maui will soon have the distinction of being one of the chief recuperation posts for Uncle Sam's army in the Pacific. The plan has been under consideration in the Hawaiian department headquarters for some months past. It is understood that Major-General Charles G. Morton, department commander is strongly in favor of the proposed camp.

Major Edward F. Witsell, chief of staff, returned to Honolulu last Monday night after spending three days in personally looking over prospective sites for the camp. If one is finally decided upon, Major Witsell stated, it will undoubtedly be located in the Olinda or Kula section. While not intending to speak authoritatively on the plans for the camp, he gave the impression of his belief that such plan would be realized as soon as a definite site was decided upon and arrangements made for leasing the land necessary.

The idea back of the project is a camp or permanent post located on the higher lands of the island to which the troops from Oahu may be sent in companies or battalion for a week or two of rest, recreation and change of environment and climate. Major Witsell was enthusiastic in expressing his conviction that some of the country he visited is ideally adapted to the purpose.

For a number of years the army has maintained such a resort post near the Volcano, on the Island of Hawaii, and while this may not be abandoned it has various drawbacks which would be avoided on Maui. One of these is the distance from Oahu and cost of transportation. Another is an undue amount of rainy weather on the Big Island.

County Asked To Help Finish Federal Survey

In order that the federal school survey may be completed, an additional $2000 is needed, and Superintendent Vaughan MacCaughy has asked the Maui county supervisors to supply $370 of that amount.

The matter came up at this week's meeting of the board and was referred to the county attorney for opinion as to the legality of such appropriation.

The appropriation made by the legislature for the survey has been exhausted, says Mr. MacCaughy, and unless the additional money is forthcoming the work will have to be dropped in an uncompleted state.

Japanese Base Ball Player Is Drowned

Popular Kahului Boy Washed From Float While Bathing With Com- panions At Waihee—Body Recov- ered After Long Search

Unable to swim, Kaneichi Manta, a well-known and popular young Japanese clerk of the Kahului Store, was drowned last Sunday afternoon at Waihee, when a big wave broke his hold upon a log upon which he had been supporting himself in the surf. A companion who was washed from the log at the same time nearly shared the same fate, but was rescued in a semi-conscious condition.

Young Manta was a well known base ball player and was one of a party of young Japanese, most of whom are members of the Asahi base ball team, who were picnicing on the Waihee beach on Sunday. When the accident happened the companions of the unfortunate boy were forced to see him disappear beneath the waves, being unable to render any aid.

The tragedy produced a great stir in the local Japanese community, particularly as it was not until the following day that the body was located. Hundreds of Japanese dropped their work and flocked to Waihee to take part in the search. A reward of $50 was offered for the discovery of the body, and this was finally earned by Joe Kaiama, a young Hawaiian swimmer, who finally located the corpse in a pool of water some 12 feet deep, and brought it to the surface by diving.

Foresters' Ladies To Organize Circle

First Meeting Selects Officers—Final Organization And Installation In Few Weeks—Honolulu Officers Coming To Conduct Ceremonies

At a well attended meeting of ladies and members of Court Valley Island No. 9239, A. O. F., held last Sunday evening in the K. of P. Hall, Wailuku, it was formally decided to organize a circle of Companions of the Forest, and a charter has been applied for. The new circle will be known as Valley Island Circle. This organization is the women's branch of the Foresters' fraternity, to which, however, Foresters are admitted as honorary members.

Sometime during the latter part of this month it is expected that an initiating team from one of the Honolulu circles will arrive for the purpose of conducting the inauguration ceremonies and installing the new officers.

These officers have already been selected as follows: Mrs. A. Garcia, chief companion; Mrs. Carl F. N. Rose, sub-chief companion; C. F. N. Rose, financial secretary; Mrs. Joaquin Garcia, treasurer; Miss Gussie Silva, recording secretary; Mrs. M. G. Paschoal, left guide; Mrs. M. C. Ross, right guide; Mrs. C. P. Kauai Wants More Maui Cement Than Can Be Had Maui cement is on the market as a commercial commodity that will hold its own with any cement made, and the first consignment for Kauai has recently come to McBryde, says the Garden Island.

The capacity of the mill is 150 barrels a day and it is being run to its full capacity to keep abreast of its orders.

The principal ingredient of cement is limestone of which Maui has an unlimited supply in its vast deposits of coral rock.

The enterprise undoubtedly has a great future before it because of the advantages which this home product will have over the imported. Heavy freight charges will be saved, it will be available on short call, and it will be a superior article.

We heartily commend the initiative and enterprise of Maui, and congratulate them on their success.

And that reminds us that we have vast deposits of lime rock on Kauai, miles of it in the Mabaulepu region east of Koloa. And in addition to being an excellent lime rock it is also rich in silica which is an important ingredient of cement. Furthermore it is of easy access, the quarries being already connected up with the Koloa plantation railway. The Chamber of Commerce, or some competent individual should look into the matter.

As we go to press we learn that there is a cement famine on, and that none can be had on the island, in Honolulu or elsewhere. In their distress the Lihue Plantation sent an order for 400 bags to the Maui factory only to be advised that they could not fill it—had more orders on file than they could fill. Another argument for a local factory.

New Jury List For Balance Court Term

To Take Place Of List Held Invalid —Jury Panel To Be Drawn Next Monday—New List May Be Challenged

Judge Burr and Clerk Harry Mossman have made up a list of 100 names of voters of Maui from which a jury panel of 26 names will be drawn next Monday for jury duty in the 2nd circuit during the remainder of the 1919 term. The list prepared takes the place of the one declared invalid by Judge Burr's opinion rendered several weeks ago, on account of the failure of the jury commissioners to draw the names pro-rata from all of the voting precincts of the county.

While there will be no chance probably of upsetting the new jury list on the same grounds as in the other instance, it is possible that objection will be raised to it just the same by attorneys on the ground that the law does not provide for the contingency in question, and that the new selection was made under a provision which in the present instance did not obtain.
