

Urges Improvement Of Fire Protection

Chamber Committee Confers With Supervisors On Matter—Expert To Be Consulted—Better Fire Equipment May Reduce Rates.

As a result of a conference last Friday between C. D. Lufkin and W. H. Engle, representing the chamber of commerce, and the board of supervisors, the board has extended an invitation to Bernard Froiseth, secretary of the board of fire underwriters of the territory, to be present at the supervisors' meeting to be held in June 10 for the purpose of conferring upon the best methods of fire protection for Maui communities.

Messrs. Lufkin and Engle were appointed a committee some weeks ago to study the fire hazard question and to make recommendations to the supervisors on the subject. Following an investigation of conditions they addressed the following communication to the board, and it was considered at last week's meeting:

Walluku, Maui, T. H.
May 14, 1920

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, County of Maui, T. H. Gentlemen:

The undersigned which have been appointed by the Maui Chamber of Commerce to confer with your Honorable Board concerning the improvement of fire protection in the thickly settled districts of Maui, after due consideration and inquiry from Mr. P. J. Goodness, Chief of the voluntary Fire Department, recommend for your consideration as follows:

That your Honorable Board invite Mr. B. Froiseth, Secretary of the Fire Underwriters of Honolulu, to visit with your Honorable Board concerning ways and means of improving and reducing the fire hazards and premium rates.

In case such an arrangement cannot be made with Mr. Froiseth, we beg to recommend as follows:

First: That ample flow and pressure of water be provided, if not already in existence between the reservoirs of the thickly settled districts of Walluku and Kahului.

Second: That an increased number of hydrants be installed in order that shorter lengths of hose may be available for use.

Third: That a voluntary Company be organized at Kahului with full equipment of hose and fire fighting tools, including two fifty gallon chemical carts to be located at convenient points of the town.

Fourth: That all nozzles be equipped with cut-off valves.

Fifth: That some arrangement be made whereby there will be continuously on call, a man to turn on the direct pressure to the hydrants.

At present there is only one man who is instructed with regard to these valves and we consider the matter of great importance because the direct pressure is greatly more efficient.

Sixth: That a new fire wagon should be purchased, equipped with chemical hose and fire fighting tools, and with speed a prominent factor.

Seventh: That numerous chemical extinguishers be distributed at convenient stations in all congested districts.

Eighth: That additional hose be secured to supply sub-stations, and proper nozzles, spanners and necessary tools be convenient to all.

Ninth: That your Honorable Board employ sufficient men to handle such equipment as the county may possess and that they be schooled in the handling and location of hydrants and the lay-out of the water mains.

Tenth: We believe that the Honorable Board should investigate the advisability of installing an Electric Pump on the wharf at Kahului and provision being made for proper valves in the mains. This may develop into a very satisfactory fire protection for Kahului, without drawing on the inadequate supply of fresh water now available.

Eleventh: This committee recommends that alarms be installed, such as will carry a considerable distance and be easily distinguished from church bells etc.

Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) C. D. LUFKIN,
W. H. ENGLE,
Committee of the Maui Chamber of Commerce.

NATIONAL FORESTERS DECIDE ON HONOLULU FOR MEETING

BERKELEY, May 13—Delegates attending the high court of the Foresters of the Pacific Division today chose Honolulu as the place for the next convention.

GOVERNMENT METHODS BLOCK PACIFIC TRADE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13—Huge barriers, described as government inefficiency and lack of coordination, block development of transpacific trade possibilities according to a statement made to delegates attending the National Foreign Trade Council here today by Henry Suzzallo, president of the University of Washington and a resident of Seattle.

Until these barriers are removed little or nothing can be expected by Americans in the development of commercial relations, especially in the Far East, he asserted, adding: "Millions of people are waiting for the United States to take the step and develop its cable and wireless systems as well as its transportation facilities."

Consul General Chu told the convention delegates that the trade of China had increased during the last decade despite the many handicaps that China had been working under. He pointed out that competition and publicity in the European countries was necessary for success.

Former Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce delivered an address on the importance of Russia in the development of transpacific trade of the United States.

RESERVE OFFICERS HAVE CHANCE FOR REGULAR ARMY

HONOLULU, May 13—All former emergency army officers or emergency officers now in service wishing appointment in the regular army under the pending reorganization legislation should submit their applications for such appointment through the Department of Hawaii.

This was the text of orders received today from the War Department in Washington, according to an announcement from headquarters in Honolulu.

The same order applies to enlisted men who held commissions during the war, it was stated.

LEADERS OF TURKISH NATIONALISTS GIVEN DEATH SENTENCE

LONDON, May 14—Mustapha Kemal, leader of the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor, was today condemned to death by a court martial extraordinary held in Constantinople. The verdict went by default. There is no appeal from the verdict.

High School Notes

MRS. HAIR GIVES GOOD ADVICE

At the weekly assembly at the Maui High School on Wednesday, May 12, the following boys were presented with "letters" for a season in basket ball: Jack Walker, Nils Tavares, Jack Linton, Sevath Boyum, Sterling Hebert, Shige Hangai and Kiwo Soong. After the presentation of these letters, Mrs. Millie Hair, of Hamakualoa, spoke on "Home-Making on Maui."

Mrs. Hair first read a passage from "Proverbs." She applied this definition of a virtuous wife in ancient times to a modern woman.

The definition of home as found in the dictionary is: "Home is a fixed place where the family lives." Another definition given is: "The home is where the heart is."

It is the woman who makes the home and she begins early. When she is a little girl she plays home with her dolls and imitates her mother in the best way she can. All the time she is training to be a mother at the head of her future home.

In the same way a boy trains himself during his early life for an occupation so as to make it possible to ask a girl to marry him.

A boy has no right to ask a girl to marry him if he is not able to support her, and a girl has no right to marry a man without knowing how to manage a household. A girl should learn to cook while she is at school, or if there is no opportunity for this, she should learn at home. Learning how to cook is as important as learning mathematics, English, history, although a little of each of these studies is needed in home-making. It has been found that many of the divorces now-a-days are due to poor cooking.

The art of home economics should be learned even though the girl expects to have servants to do the work in her household, because she will have to know these things if she wishes to teach her servants to do things her way. Again there may be a shortage of servants, or the servants may leave. Some women think that labor is degrading, but it is not. Eighty-seven percent of the women in the United States are now doing their own work.

When a man and woman set up a household, the first thing that they should do is to make out a budget. This will save much trouble. The wife should be a helpmate to her husband.

A happy atmosphere should be an important element in the kitchen. This atmosphere may be created by singing (or whistling), and will make work easier. In the kitchen nothing should be wasted; all kitchen utensils should be handy; and everything should be neat and tidy.

The Bible should be kept handy and read often.

FARMER CONFESSES MURDER OF SEVEN

WASHBURN, N. D., May 13—The Wolf death mystery, which has baffled criminologists of North Dakota was solved in an announcement by District Attorney Hume that Henry Layar, a neighbor, had confessed to the killing of Jacob Wolf and six members of his household at their farm house near Turtle Lake, April 22.

According to the district attorney, Layar and Wolf had a bitter quarrel after Wolf's dog had attacked and injured some of his neighbor's cattle.

Just how the crime was committed the district attorney did not divulge today. Wolf, his wife, four children and a farm hand were murdered and their bodies found next day by neighbors.

CARRANZA POLICY WITH U. S. CALLED "SUICIDE"

MEXICO CITY, May 13—National suicide. Thus did General Alvaro Obregon characterize the policy of President Venustiano Carranza toward the United States, in the first exclusive interview granted by the Mexican leader after the overthrow of the Carranza government in the capital.

General Obregon advocated international boundaries between the United States and Mexico and the U. S. and the withdrawal of all troops along the line, with the exception of the regular customs officials.
