

No Foundation for Rumors Is Found

Honolulu Hears Report of Finding of Wrecked Plane and Missing Aviators and Inquiries Sent to Kahului Cause Wonder.

Inquiry as to rumors to the effect that the two missing aviators had been found on Maui was received by wireless on Tuesday from Honolulu. No such reports had previously been heard here and to the query the Kahului Railroad Company, to which it was addressed, replied that it had no such information. On investigation, which included communication with Haleakala Ranch, nothing to confirm the rumors could be learned. Several parties have been in the crater recently, persons have come down from there by the ditch trail, some arriving Tuesday, and none of them had heard anything of the finding of Cornet and Cox.

Made in Honolulu

The rumors were in circulation first in Honolulu Monday and of them The Advertiser said:

Rumors reached Honolulu yesterday from Maui that Lieutenant Fox had been found alive, faintly breathing in a gulch or gap on the north side of Maui, near an opening into Haleakala crater, and that he had been taken to Paia hospital.

Corporal Cornet, who was with Fox at the time, is reported to have been found dead.

The rumors reached Honolulu yesterday from two sources. Army headquarters, however, had no confirmation of the story. The air service at Luke Field was likewise without any confirmation. Last evening the air service began to trace down the rumors and it is understood sent a wire to Maui to ascertain definitely whether the story was true or without foundation.

Army Officers Discredited

Army officers, while inclined to doubt the story, yet expressed the opinion that it was possible the aviators have survived a fall upon the island.

A woman resident of Lumailo street, heard from Maui that when a party came upon the two aviators, Cornet was dead and "one just breathing," and that the latter was Lieut. Fox. The same informant had said or written that Fox had been taken to Paia hospital.

Army officers, however, said that if an army officer had been found they would have been notified at once by wire.

Lieutenant Fox and Corporal Cornet were flying toward Molokai from Oahu on Saturday, August 28. In another plane was Lieutenant Moorman. Fox flew into or above a cloud-bank and that was the last seen of him and his machine. Search was made over the ocean and also over Molokai. Searching parties, including cowboys, worked into gulches and combed ridges for traces, but nothing was found.

TAVARES NO DEMOCRAT

In the list of nominations received from Honolulu Antoine F. Tavares was classified as having filed for the Democratic nomination for senator. The list was published as it was received and so the error crept into these columns last week. Mr. Tavares has filed for the Republican nomination for the senate. He is a staunch Republican and has always been a Republican.

More Than Thousand Women Registered

Registrations of women on Maui number 1931, according to the returns in the County Clerk's office up to ten o'clock this morning. Not all of the returns are yet in, outlying districts not having had chance to send in all the blanks as yet and the County Clerk believes that the total of women voters registered will exceed 1100 when all sections have been heard from. Men voters to the same hour number 2400 and some slight increase in that number is expected.

Expressions of opinion heard about town are highly commendatory to County Clerk Kaee. To have enrolled almost half as many women as there are men voters is considered a praiseworthy record. He had laid his plans in advance to meet the situation if the suffrage amendment should be ratified and they were carried out systematically.

Mr. Kaee says that a considerable number of women declined to register because they had heard they would have to pay a poll tax or other increased taxes and there was not sufficient time to combat such false reports.

Maui's record of women registrants compares very favorably with those of the other Islands according to latest reports to reach Wailuku.

Puck, C. S. Chittus and Seabury Short. The president and secretary of the Chamber expect to get together Monday and determine on assignment of subjects. Two of the delegates already have topics on welfare work assigned to them by the convention.

Highway Building Has New Impetus

Former County Engineer Notes Great Strides Taken On Mainland; Political Sentiment Indicates Splendid Republican Victory.

Hugh Howell, former county engineer, returned from a three months' visit to the mainland on the last Matsonia and arrived in Maui Wednesday. He made the trip for two special purposes, to attend the shrine convention at Portland and to be present at the wedding of his eldest daughter, Ethel, to Robert W. Campbell, a rising young insurance man. He had the opportunity during his mainland stay to observe road building operations, noting types that are being used, study industrial operations and take note of the political situation.

Highway Systems Developed "Perhaps the most outstanding thing I noted," he said, "was the marvelous developments of highways in California and in Oregon. I had the opportunity to motor over many roads. They are being constructed of concrete, of asphalt macadam and of bitulite. In laying concrete it is to be noted that they are not leaving expansion cracks as formerly but are allowing the road to crack from expansion and contraction and then filling in those resulting cracks with asphaltum. Splendid highways, miles upon miles of them, are being constructed. The need of good roads has come into full recognition."

In industrial fields he noted great activity with production much hampered by lack of labor.

In contrast with this, he said that in the South thousands and thousands of bales of cotton are piled up. Owing to the decline of raw material the banks are chary on financing the cotton growers, limiting their loans in amount and charging ten per cent interest. As the Southerners usually look to the banks to finance them and to market their crops, they are "up in the air" and have the goods on their hands in a falling market.

Harding Victory Sure

In Texas Mr. Howell ran across a remarkable situation. He found many and was told there are thousands of lifelong democrats who will vote for Harding this year and henceforth will vote for the best candidates. The same feeling, he was told, extends to other Southern states. He does not expect to see Texas go Republican this year but does look for greatly reduced Democratic majorities and it appears to be a general breaking up of the "Solid South" that has existed ever since the reconstruction period.

He talked with prominent citizens and business men of the Pacific Coast and with others from Eastern States and he found the consensus of opinion that "it is Harding sure. Harding by a big majority and increased Republican majorities in both houses of congress."

Raising Of Goats To Be Encouraged

Finely Bred Toggenburgs Imported For Haiku For Purpose Of Development Of Fine Milking Strains Throughout Island Of Maui.

Development of a superior milking strain of goat is the purpose for which the agricultural expansion division recently imported two Toggenburg milk goats for the Haiku substation. The pair are two of the best from the herd of the University of California farm at Davis. They are to be used as the foundation for an experimental herd.

Writing for Maui News, F. G. Krauss in charge of the Haiku substation says in part: "Our object is the development of superior milking strains from our virile, native stock. Anyone in our community may have good, healthy does bred to our herd buck at a very reasonable service fee.

"As choice young bucks are developed they will be distributed about the Islands to make their services as accessible as possible.

"It is also the hope of the extension division to distribute promising young milk goats in outlying districts where they may serve the best purpose of those unable to keep the more expensive and more exacting milk cow. Every Hawaiian kuleana in our territory could support a good milk goat with a result of adding health and strength to the children of those frequently out of the way homes where milk has hitherto been almost unknown.
