MAUI TO HOLD ELECTION FOR ONE OFFICER

Peculiar State of Affairs Requires Cockett to Run Without Opposition in June; Other Offices Filled.

All county offices with the exception of county treasurer were filled at the primary election last Saturday. This was indicated by the early returns and became assured Wednesday afternoon when totals of votes cast and defective ballots were secured by the County Clerk. Thus on Maui there appears the peculiar state of affairs of an election being held to elect a single official and a single candidate running without opposition for the office.

At the primary election 2961 voters cast ballots and there were 125 defective ballots. Thus to be elected at the primaries a candidate had to receive 1418 ballots and for every office except treasurer the candidate or candidates received more than that number. J. P. Cockett against Walter A. Engle, both Republicans, received 1394 votes or 24 less than required to declare his election at the primary.

The one real contest was for the office of county treasurer between Cockett and Engle and Lahaina, Honolulu, Lanai, Molokai and Keanae gave the former an advantage which Engle's big vote in Puunene and Paia was unable to overcome.

Highest individual vote was cast for Clem Crowell for sheriff, with Kane for county clerk next. Kalama, uncontested, led all members of the board, the highest supervisory vote going to Fleming. Of the defeated candidates for supervisor Lake was highest, 408 behind Bevins.

For county attorney Bevins received 1590 votes over the number necessary to elect and was 1166 ahead of Murphy who received the largest vote going to any of the three democratic candidates.

Grand and Trial Jurors Called For June Term

Grand Jurors will meet next Wednesday, June 1, and the trial jurors will be called for Monday, June 6.

About a dozen cases are to be presented to the grand jury for investigation, the list including a charge of murder, two manslaughters, several of burglary, one forgery, one of uttering forged paper and one of indecent assault.

Following so soon after the last criminal term of court the docket is not expected to be long.

Relative to the jury calendar of civil cases the clerk's office has not yet started on its preparation.

Iced Fish Ordinance—In another column, published officially, is the text of the proposed fish ordinance which passed first reading at the last meeting of the board of supervisors. The measure is regarded as highly important and the board will hear any interested in the subject, as dealer or consumer next meeting.

certainly never used soap or wash cloth.

Indesirable Conditions

"Now, patient reader, I know you are thinking, 'Had she no one to look after her?' No, up till then, one may say, no one, for upon investigation we were directed to a most wretched looking hut. There she dwelt in company with an old man who was almost blind and besides that affliction, diseased. His clothes were in tatters and did not cover him decently. She said he was her father and that her mother had died long ago. The condition of the place I'll leave to you to imagine. Kind neighbors tried to take her but the poor old man would not give her up. After a time we got her to go to a woman every morning and she is now quite presentable.

"Now, this is one. There are many others. Can any one with the least bit of feeling for suffering humanity fail to see why they should help? No one is asking for themselves, it is for such as I've described or rather to keep them from such a fate, that they are asking.

"There is hardly anyone who cannot give at least something. Let us try to interest everyone we meet in the big day we are planning for June 11. Let us make it a day never to be forgotten."

Stolen Car Smashed—Last Saturday night an Essex car was stolen from the garage at the Paia club and driven away by Cahries Kealoha, about 20 years of age and with a record as a previous offender. Next day the car was found, badly smashed, off the road at Makawao. It is said Kealoha was recently released from jail.

Early Start Made on Plans For a Fourth Maui County Fair

Preparation for the Fourth Maui County Fair have been started by Fair Director D. C. Lindsay although the definite dates in October have not been named, awaiting a definite determination as to the time when the delegates to the World's Press Congress will most conveniently be able to attend. Two important department heads have already been selected and others are to be announced in the near future. It is expected that the demand for space in the manufacturing buildings will be greater than ever before, the demand which exceeded available space last year being enhanced by the prospective visit of the editors of the world.

One of the problems that confronted the fair director has been solved through a working partnership between F. G. Krauss and W. A. Clark. Mr. Krauss has had charge of the agricultural section regularly each year and the fact that he was going away in July was looked upon as a serious loss. Mr. Clark will be in charge when Mr. Krauss leaves and later it is expected that the latter will again cooperate just before and at the time of the fair. D. H. Case, who had the fruits section last year will have both fruits and vegetables this year if suggestions are carried out as it seems they undoubtedly will be. Thus one of the most important divisions has been covered.

John J. Walsh will be chairman of the entertainment committee and is working on plans for a program now. In regard to amusements Director Lindsay said that a merry-go-round has been secured, putting in a roller skating rink is being considered and Eddie Fernandez is expected to be on Maui soon after Kamehameha Day to talk over the matter of shows and other attractions of the "midway type." One of the features Mr. Walsh is considering is an "Old Maui day and evening."

Sunday Delivery of Mail Wanted Along Kahului Railroad

Efforts are being made to secure an up-country Sunday delivery of the mail that arrives in Lahaina on the Mauna Kea, Saturday evening, which now lies in the post office of Lahaina overnight and in the Wailuku post-office until Monday morning. Under present arrangements the mail leaves Lahaina between seven and eight o'clock Sunday morning.

Several verbal complaints have come to Maui News from up-country residents because of the fact that residents of Puunene, Paia, Hamakua-poko, Haiku and other stations along the railroad, are unable to secure the mail mentioned until 24 hours after Wailuku folk have had theirs. The following letter came to Maui News this week:

"Many of the residents of Paia and vicinity would like to know if it is not possible for them to obtain their mail on Sunday.

"The mail arriving at Lahaina Saturday night by Mauna Kea lies there until Sunday morning, arriving at Wailuku after the departure of the train at 7:45 Sunday morning. Our mail then remains at Wailuku until Monday morning.

"What is the reason?
"Cannot the mail be brought over from Lahaina, Saturday night instead of Sunday morning? Does the Wailuku postoffice refuse to receive the mail Saturday night? Does the Kahului Railroad Co. refuse to carry the mail on Sunday?"

"Please let us know.
"Yours truly,
"J. P. FOSTER."

Working Out Plans
On inquiry it is learned that the subject has been taken up with Inspector Valle at Honolulu and he has written to Maui postal officials with the result that there appears hope of the delivery that is asked.

Postmaster Costa of Wailuku has taken the subject up with the Kahului railroad. It is his idea to have the mail leave Lahaina for Wailuku about five o'clock on Sunday mornings and have it make the 7:45 train. He says the subject was previously taken up with the railroad some six or seven years ago and then the railroad refused to carry it Sunday. He believed that the railroad would consider the subject favorably now. The matter of carrying the mail over here from Lahaina and from Wailuku to the train seems to be the chief difficulty, he thinks.

Railroad Not Unwilling
Superintendent Walsh of the railroad evidently thought the plan was to have the mail go out on the 12:30 train when he was seen. He said that so far as the trains were concerned it was immaterial to the company whether it was carried or not. He seemed to think it unfair to sta-

Lectures of Doctor Andrews Interest Audiences Hugely

Two interesting lectures by Dr. A. L. Andrews, on Friday and Saturday evenings, closed the University Extension service for the present academic year on Maui. Both lectures were fairly well attended considering that they were on the least understood and newest of the sciences, psychology and were greatly enjoyed by his listeners, who expressed the hope that he would return to Maui next fall and winter and deliver further lectures on similar subjects.

"Psycho-analysis as it explains 'breaks' and slips made in ordinary, every day life, was the subject which Dr. Andrews took up on Friday evening. He explained the Freudian theory at some length, the theory in which it is said that conscious thought relegates into the background primitive wishes and places a censorship or inhibition over them. From the unconscious come expressions where, in no matter how impolite, perhaps absolutely rude and embarrassing the expression may be. After dwelling some time at length on the philosophy and theories of Freud and other psychoanalysts, the speaker gave numerous instances of where the "inhibited wish" got by the censor with embarrassing results.

"The psychology of relaxation' was his topic Saturday evening. He again dwelt on the subject of psycho-analysis, told how with the development of man he passed through many experiences so that such experiences were engrained in the nervous system of the human race. It is the desire for such primitive life, or rather for an opportunity to express primitive wishes that gives the desire for play, for dancing, for singing, even for the use of narcotics and for alcohol, the desire to escape for a little from the constant strain of seeking to keep the primitive instinct in the background.

tion employees and post office department employees up-country to have their Sunday afternoons broken into, for they would have to open up stations and postoffices Sunday afternoons under such arrangement. Costa's proposal would obviate such objection.

As it is now, it is not uncommon where a very important letter is expected to telephone to Wailuku and arrange for its delivery there and for the prospective recipient to come down to get it. Others drive in especially to buy Honolulu newspapers.

The demand for improved service, however, is growing insistent, and it appears that definite plans are in the way of being worked out.

Food in Abundance For Kamehameha Day Luau Donated by Generous

Generous gifts for the luau for the benefit of the Children's Home fund are being promised the committee that has that end of the big affair of Kamehameha Day in hand. The donations will include meats, chickens, pig, taro and other vegetables, coconut, all sorts of goodies. Mrs. Foster Robinson announces that every ranch owner on Maui is making a contribution of meats and that raisers of other food stuffs are showing a similar generosity.

Last week it appeared doubtful as to whether it would be possible to carry out the proposed program of Japanese sports. It was said that so
