Chinese Is Fined For Keeping Filthy Place

One Chinese purveyor of food learned a lesson in the necessity of cleanliness and obedience to the laws of sanitation in his place of business when he was brought up with a sharp turn by the board of health, through food inspector Bairos and arraigned in the Wailuku district court yesterday. He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $55 and the costs of the court. Specific charges were that rotten meat was found in an ice box where it might taint other food kept for sale and that in other respects his place of business was not clean. The fact that it was his first offense, so far as the court was informed, was taken into consideration but the court weighed against that point the fact of general lack of cleanliness that was charged. The maximum fine would have been $100.
Three other Chinese who were summoned into the district court escaped penalties for the time being but are promised the end is not yet. The three asked postponement from yesterday morning until afternoon, secured the services of Eugene Murphy to defend them, delinquents were entered and were granted by the court. New complaints were drawn up at once. Mr. Bairos swore to them and the cases will come up after his return from Hana Wednesday.

Meeting and Lecture To Be Open To Public

Others than members of the Maui Branch of the Hawaiian Society for Psychological Research will have the opportunity to hear Dr. Le-Apsley lecture at the next meeting of the society, Tuesday evening of next week. His subject will be "The Bible and Its Message."
Since the organization of a branch on Maui of the Society for Psychological Research Dr. Le-Apsley has addressed its members on the first meeting of each month on various subjects connected with research work until last month when his visit was postponed because of the busy days and nights that preceded the fair. Numbers of persons on Maui have expressed the desire to hear him lecture for he has been one of the most popular lecturers in Honolulu where he has spoken in public under the auspices of the society each month. His services were loaned the young Maui organization by the parent body.
It is the purpose of Dr. Le-Apsley to speak both in Honolulu and here on subjects not directly connected with psychological research and the subject he designates for his coming talk indicates he is to make the start at the next meeting. There will be no charge made to members of the society but admission to non-members will be 50 cents.

Hawaiian Woman's Club—Maui Hawaiian Woman's Club will hold its regular meeting in Wailuku Town Hall Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A large attendance of members is desired.

Maui Eating Places Will Be Cleaner by Reason of Visitor

It is clean up time in restaurants and other places on Maui that supply meals and other eatables, whether in the cooked or the raw state and such establishments will soon be more cleanly and sanitary than they have been in a long time, for two years certainly and perhaps longer. Food Inspector Bairos of the board of health is here and offenders against the health laws must mind their ps and qs. In Lahaina there was one arrest and one may still be punished because of the condition in which his place was found. In Wailuku there were two arrests and in Kahului there were also two. Mr. Bairos left for Hana this morning but will return to Wailuku.
It is two years since Mr. Bairos visited Maui last, there is only himself and one assistant to cover all the islands and he has his laboratory work also to attend to. He finds, generally, conditions in business places better here now than then and has been forced to call into court fewer offenders. Still there is much cause for complaint and plain requirements for cleanliness and health are too often disregarded in too many establishments he says. He finds many places where on moving out a box, cook roaches run in every direction. In one place he found rotten meat in an ice chest, tending to taint other food in its vicinity. Spoiled vegetables lying on the floor have been found also.
In one respect he finds considerable improvement, habitations and sleeping quarters are not in places where food is kept for sale so much as formerly.
"Ordinary cleanliness is all that the law insist upon and is required, said the inspector yesterday. It is easy to see on pulling out a block whether it has been moved before a day, a week or perhaps not in days and weeks. The impossible is not asked. The reasonable is demanded. Yes, there is some improvement but room for lots more. We have spoken to many, Mr. Weight and I on my visit... have advised and warned. Arrests have been made only in the more flagrant cases."

Penny Wise and Pound Foolish
Some concerns think it economy to send orders to Honolulu or to the mainland when they could be filled as well or better at home. They figure they save a few cents on the dollar by doing so and grasp at the nickel in sight.
BUT
Every dollar spent with Maui concerns passes from hand to hand, in wages, to the store, to the bank and out again into circulation, back to the concern that sent it out, again to be sent forth on its rounds. The profits accruing from the dollar kept in home circulation are many times larger than the small saving in the dollar sent away.
