Splendid Victory To Be Celebrated With Many Luau's

Six Thousand Lauaus With Vast Quantities of Poi and Sweet Potatoes are Provided for Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon Central and East Maui will celebrate with Luau's the Baldwin victory of last Saturday. The Hana district will celebrate later probably the following Saturday and Lahaina and West Maui will have their celebration on Sunday, April 8. Plans for luau's for this section of the island were made at a meeting held in Wailuku Town Hall on Tuesday afternoon when district heads were appointed chosen chiefly from the Women's Auxiliary. Each district will fix the time for its own celebration and arrange for the handling of the crowds and the service of the good eats.

Six Thousands Lauaus
Forty thousand ti leaves, 3000 lbs. of beef, 3000 pounds of pork and 3000 pounds salmon will be required for the 6000 lauau's that will be served at the eight big luau's that will be held tomorrow. And in addition there will be 25 barrels of poi and 25 sacks of sweet potatoes with many many cases of soda to wash down the viands.

One proposal was for the holding of one immense gathering in the Fair Grounds and the holding of the one luau for 5000 or 6000 persons there but it was decided that the undertaking was too big to handle so far as service of the food is concerned. As a result it was decided to have eight gatherings, the biggest in Wailuku and Kahului. The Wailuku luau will be in the armory and for the voters of the Wailuku, Waihee and Waikapu precincts. In the Fair Grounds the Puunene and Kahului voters will have tables spread at the Paia tennis courts. The school house has been selected for the Makawao affair. Kahului will have its spread at the Haiku Ranch or old Corn Mill and Ulu-lakua, Keokea and Kihel have not announced where theirs will be held but they will have them. At each one there is an assurance of abundance and each captain was told it was up to him or her and to their Lieutenants to see that the voters are served first. The first table for the voters, women and men, is the word that has gone out. Children can come afterward. Party politics do not enter into any of the affairs, they are strictly non-partisan. All Maui citizens, not merely the Republicans either enter into the rejoicing.

Three Big Luus
Three great luus will be needed to cook the food which will be packed and delivered to each of the meeting places Saturday afternoon. The poi will be delivered today.

D. T. Fleming is responsible for the West Maui Luau. He has asked permission of the Harbor to hold it on the new Mala Wharf and will so arrange if the necessary permission is secured.

W. F. Pogue and Supervisor Drummond will make the arrangements in extreme East Maui and it is expected there will be luau's at Nihilu, Kipahulu, Hana and Keanae.

Virginia Girl Was Worker For Baldwin

For the past several days Maui has had for its guest Miss Kathleen Dickinson, a fair advocate of the election of Delegate Baldwin who took the platform for him and spoke in Honolulu in his behalf nearly every night for a week before election. Then she came over to Maui for a rest and to see the island and has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldwin. She spoke to a number of Maui women on the advantages of organization by women and the securing of desired legislation advocating the use of the parties as the only sure way.

Miss Dickinson's campaigning on Oahu for Delegate Baldwin was not her first experience. She spoke for President Harding in the last presidential campaign. Coming back from Red Cross work overseas, she was opposed to the league of nations proposal and was thus led to advocate the election of the Republican candidate. A native of Virginia, Miss Dickinson's home is at Castlewood in the only Republican congressional district of that state.

She is returning to Honolulu tomorrow night but expects to remain in the Islands for some time longer.

Women Will Not Form Partisan Clubs Now; Stay Out of League

More than 30 representative women of Maui, officers and district executives of the Suffrage Club and the Women's Republican Auxiliary met in Wailuku Town Hall yesterday afternoon and considered the subjects of maintaining a permanent organization of women voters either non-partisan or partisan. Mrs. H. A. Baldwin presided, there were representatives from all parts of the island except the Hana district and the discussion was free and general.

Mrs. Baldwin first brought up the subject of entering the League of Women Voters, a mainland non-partisan organization of which a branch has just been organized on Oahu. The Honolulu organization desires branches on the other Islands. It was decided not to enter that organization at this time but it may be joined later. The purpose of the League is largely study and its plans at this time are rather indefinite.

Proposals to form a Woman's Republican Club were considered and won some support but it was thought advisable merely to join the precinct clubs at present, district leaders to organize such women voters and arrange for study meetings. The Woman Suffrage Club organization, which has not been active in recent months, will be maintained and before the next election a Maui Woman's Republican Club may be organized.

Toward the close of the meeting Mrs. Howell and a number of others of the ladies present felicitated Mrs. Baldwin on the success of the recent campaign and the splendid vote that had been cast for her husband and Mrs. Baldwin replied expressing her thanks for the support the women of Maui had given him and her own appreciation. She said she was going to Washington, leaving tonight, to be with him, at his side, in his efforts to secure the best obtainable for Hawaii and its people.

Ulster and Southern Ireland Agree Upon Plan To Gain Peace

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, March 31.—Agreement looking to the establishment of peace in Ireland and an ending of disturbances along the border between the North and South sections and in Belfast was reached by the conference held between representatives of the Irish provisional government, Ulster and the British government yesterday. It was the first time that representatives of North and South Ireland have been in formal conference. The first meeting was held yesterday and further sessions continued on until late yesterday, after which the agreement was announced.

As reached yesterday the agreement provides as follows: Peace is declared; the governments agree to co-operate in every possible way to restore peaceful conditions; Belfast police system will be reorganized and there shall be a special police force in the mixed districts, composed half of protestants and half of Catholics; an advisory committee shall assist in the selection of the Catholic police; recruits to the police force shall be uniformed and numbered except for the usual secret service men; police arms shall be deposited in the barracks when officers are off duty; search for arms shall be made only by forces composed of half protestants and half Catholics; the Ulster government shall constitute a court for the trial of serious offenses with jury; a committee shall be established at Belfast to hear charges of outrages, intimidation, etc. Army activities are to cease in the six Northern counties; further conferences are to be held within a month after the Irish Free State constitution has been confirmed to try to secure Irish unity. The respective governments shall secure the return of all persons who have been expelled from their homes. The British government will ask parliament to grant 500,000 pounds sterling for relief work in Northern Ireland. The governments will appeal to all concerned to refrain from inflammatory speech.

Both Unionist and Nationalist papers approve the agreement reached. It is reported in Dublin dispatches and advices from Belfast say that demobilization of the police of both Ulster and South Ireland is scheduled to begin today.

Official Opening Of Mala Wharf Next Wednesday

Tentative Program of Ceremonies Arranged by Chamber of Commerce; Mauna Kea Will Make Landing.

Mala wharf is to be officially opened for service and is to be christened with appropriate ceremonies next Wednesday afternoon when the Mauna Kea will land passengers at the new wharf for the first time. The proceedings are planned by and will be conducted under the auspices of the Maui Chamber of Commerce and all members of the Chamber are invited and urged to be present with members of their family to assist in the celebration of the important occasion.

Tentative plans have been arranged for Mala Wharf opening by the Chamber of Commerce committee, the final arrangement depending upon the acceptance of the invitations which have been sent to Governor Farrington, Chairman Lyman Bigelow of the Harbor Board, the president of the Inter-Island Company, contractor Ed Lord who built the splendid structure, Chairman Sam Kalama of the Maui board of supervisors and other officials and representatives of the two Honolulu papers.

Promptly at 4 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon the Mauna Kea is to draw up alongside of the new wharf. The structure will be decorated so far as that is possible and the Inter-Island steamer will be escorted to her berth by decorated sampans and other craft. As she nears the wharf a fair daughter of Lahaina will christen the wharf.

When the gang planks are thrown out and the guests come ashore they will be greeted by a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce headed by Vice-President J. J. Walsh. There will be a canopy erected near the end of the wharf beneath which tables will be spread and refreshments served and there also will be given the words of felicitation upon the happy occasion which Maui has awaited so long.

Members of the Chamber are urged to reach the wharf well ahead of time so there may be no confusion attending late arrivals for the ceremonies.

Town of Nassau Burns And Calls For Aid

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
MIAMI, Florida, March 31.—Nassau, New Providence, British Bahamas, is threatened with total destruction by fire which started at the Colonial (Flagler System) hotel. It is said the entire city is threatened and that loss already reaches into millions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
KEY WEST, Florida, March 31.—The naval station here has received an urgent call for help from Nassau, New Providence. It is reported a fire of great proportions is raging there. Two United States naval vessels are preparing to start immediately. The distance from here is 200 to 300 miles.

Nassau is a quaint British town a night's voyage across the gulf stream from Miami. The Florida East Coast Hotel Company erected a magnificent hotel there some years ago and ever since it has been a popular winter resort as a side trip for Florida tourists.

Will Contest Claim To Hana Warehouses

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
HONOLULU, March 30.—The Harbor Board decided to take up with the attorney general the territory's right to two warehouses erected on government land at Hana by the Kaelu Sugar Company. The company has offered to move the warehouses but the board contends that their construction on the government land makes them government property. The board formally accepted the Mala wharf.

HUTCHINSON SHOWS LOSS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—The annual report of the Hutchinson Sugar Co. showed a net loss of only $68,776 on their 1921 business. Manager Willard Campsie estimated this year's crop growing on 2196 acres will yield seven thousand tons of raw sugar. Campsie said the crop was suffering from drought and insufficient labor. Directors and officers were re-elected.

CHARLES VERY ILL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
FUNCHAL, Madeira, March 30.—Ex-emperor Charles improved last night but is worse again today.

LENINE DEAD AGAIN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, March 30.—Dispatches received here from Paris say some newspapers published guarded reports that Lenin is dead.

New Company For Lahaina Is Formed

Chock Chong Associates With Other Maui Men; McDonald Is Coming Back To Be Its Manager.

Organization of the Inter-Island Drug Company and the intention to open a store in Lahaina in the near future were announced yesterday by Chock Chong who recently sold his interest in the Maui Drug Company. The Lahaina store will be in charge of W. H. McDonald who was formerly with the Maui Drug Company and severed his connection with that company and went to the mainland about a year ago.

Incorporation papers of the new company have been sent to Honolulu and show Chock Chong to be president, H. H. Streubek, vice-president; F. J. Johnson, for some seven years connected with the Puunene store, treasurer and Chock Chin, auditor. Its capital is fixed at $14,000 with a privilege to increase to $100,000. The Chock Chong property, newly erected buildings and cottage in rear at Lahaina go into the holdings of the company. Under its proposed charter the company can establish drug stores at various points but it is not its purpose to enter into competition with Maui Drug Co. here.

Chock Chong said yesterday that he will leave tomorrow night for Honolulu and sail for the mainland on the Matsonia. There he expects to meet McDonald and will buy the equipment and the stock of goods for the new Lahaina store. He may go as far as New York before he returns. He will also arrange for agencies while in the states. He expects to go to San Pedro and visit his former partner, Col. Multhead, also.

It is expected that McDonald will be over here in the course of a month and the interior of the Lahaina building will not be ready for occupancy much sooner.

On his return from the mainland Chock Chong will make his headquarters in Hilo but his interest in Maui is maintained through his connection with the newly organized company and he expects to visit the Valley Isle often. During his mainland visit his family will remain in their Wailuku home and afterward they will move with him to Hilo. He again expresses his aloha for the Valley Isle and disclaims intentions of completely severing the friendly and satisfactory business relations he has formed here.

Raised Check Case Decision Rendered

Decision in the case of M. Hirotsu vs. Dr. George S. Aiken which has been held under advisement since the first of this month by District Magistrate Harry Mossman was rendered in the magistrate's court yesterday morning and judgement given for the plaintiff in the amount of $20, the sum for which Dr. Aiken signed a check to Marion L. Trux which the latter raised to $120 and passed upon Hirotsu. It is said that an appeal will be taken to the supreme court of the territory as the case had several features which have not been passed upon by the highest court of the territory. Eugene Murphy represents the plaintiff and Enos Vincent represents Dr. Aiken.

Magistrate Mossman has gone carefully into several lines of decisions on the subjects of forgery, altered instruments, and negligence on the part of the drawer of an instrument and of a person paying under an altered instrument and his decision covers six typewritten pages.

For the plaintiff Murphy claimed that the defendant was liable for the $120 because space had been left to write the figure "12" for the figure "20" and the words "One hundred" before the word "twenty" alleging negligence which made the commission of a crime possible and asserting that where one of two innocent persons must lose he who was negligent should be the loser.

The defense claimed it was the forgery and not any negligence on the part of the signer of the check that occasioned the loss. The defense offered to confess judgement for $20 at the trial.

Harris Home Entered And Pistol Stolen

Money was the quest of a visitor or visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Harris Wednesday evening while Mr. and Mrs. Harris were at the Hippodrome picture house. Their home was thoroughly searched for coin and nothing was taken except a revolver which belongs to Harris and seventy-five cents. The police were searching for clues yesterday.

On their return from the theater Mr. and Mrs. Harris found the house in confusion, bureau drawers pulled out and the contents scattered. Jewelry belonging to Mrs. Harris had not been taken and that, together with the fact that nothing save the revolver and money was taken, leads to the belief that cash was what the thief or thieves searched for.

Treaties of Naval Limitation And On China Are Ratified

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—With only one dissenting vote, that of Senator King, the nine power treaty, designed to restore and maintain the integrity of China as promulgated by the conference for the limitation of armaments was ratified today. Eighteen Democrats voted for its ratification.

Today's action followed that of yesterday when the naval limitation treaty was ratified by a favorable vote of 74 to 1. There were no amendments nor reservations offered. Republicans, Democrats and irreconcilables standing together for once, agreed on the desirability of limiting the naval armaments of all of the great powers upon the basis agreed upon.

Senator France was the only vote against the naval limitation pact.

The treaties ratified yesterday and today are regarded as of the most outstanding importance of any of the achievements of the conference for the limitation of armaments. The department of state is preparing to send out today to the eight other nations that participated in the conference for the limitation of armaments, notification that this country has ratified the treaties proposed by the conference.

Honolulu Churchmen Come to Conference

Reverends H. P. Judd, secretary of the Hawaiian Board; Norman C. Schenck, secretary in the Chinese department; Lloyd G. Davis, dean of the Christian Workers Institute and Miss Edna J. Hill, field secretary in the Sunday School department arrived on the Mauna Kea Wednesday to attend the meetings of the Maui Association of churches and Sunday Schools being held at Waikapu, Thursday to Sunday.

Pineapple Canners Are In Convention

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, March 31.—The second conference of the Hawaiian pineapple canners opened here yesterday. The program included a paper by Guy Stewart on "The chemical laboratory as an aid to the canner," H. L. Turner on "Cooking temperatures," A. H. Turner on "Cutting down waste in the warehouse," Arthur Armitage on "Shipping problems," S. E. Scott on "Conveyor system" and M. O. Johnson on "Mechanical Trimmer."

Yesterday's session brought out that 90 percent of the product of last year's pack was carried by the Matson line. Armitage said the Matson line's facilities in San Francisco for handling the canned pines shipment is second to none.

Half Million Coal Miners Will Strike

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 31.—President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, estimates that 500,000 union and 100,000 non-union miners will lay down their implements and go on strike at midnight tonight in 20 states. It is planned to leave the pumpmen working in order that the mines may not be flooded.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Anthracite coal operators and miners who have been in conference over the wage scale adjourned last night having failed in efforts to avert the coal strike called for midnight tonight. Union leaders declared at the close of the conference that the strike will be 100 percent peaceful. They also said that nearly every colliery is being surrounded with barbed wire enclosures and barricades by the operators.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Secretary of Labor Davis has issued a statement to the effect that a coal strike is inevitable but there will be excuse for the raising of prices. He expressed keen disappointment at the failure of the operators to fulfill their obligation to confer with the miners on a new scale but says the faults lie on both sides though the side that repudiated the agreement has sacrificed the public good will.

HOUSE ARMY BILL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Army appropriation bill has passed the house without roll call.

As it goes to the senate the bill provides for an army of 115,000 enlisted men, exclusive of 7,000 for the Philippines, and 11,000 officers. The house eliminated the provision for the return of all troops from China and part of those from Hawaii, Panama and the Rhine.

The navy bill still awaits approval by the house.

Baldwin Does Not Expect to Become Nominee Again

Reaffirms What He Said When He Took Nomination But Adds That it is Early to Make Promise

Delegate Baldwin does not expect to be a candidate for reelection at the fall elections. Matters of legislation may arise which would render it most advisable to send him to Washington, but his intention is to serve only at the present session.

Hardly had the votes been counted when the question of the probability of Baldwin becoming a candidate next fall came in for discussion in Honolulu the Advertiser asserting that he would and the Star-Bulletin that he would not. Maui News put the question to him Wednesday morning and he replied without hesitation: It is quite a long time before election and so is early to answer the question. I do not expect to be a candidate for reelection. When I consented to accept the nomination if it should be offered to me by the party I said I would only take the delegateship for the unexpired term and would only do so in order that the party might get together at the time of the regular election solidly behind a candidate who can and will win.

"I have not changed my mind. I do not expect to be a candidate for reelection. That is all I can say now."

It was never a secret that Baldwin was reluctant to consent to making the race for delegate and was insistent that if he did so it would be for the unexpired term only. It is reported that on several occasions since the convention both delegate Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin have expressed their preference for Maui over Washington and the desire to be back in their home here when the session of congress for which he has been chosen is ended. Further he does not like political campaigning of the type he has undergone, and a new candidacy would mean a primary as well as an election campaign.

Political leaders of this country recognize the difficulty. They do not see, on the one hand, how Baldwin can avoid running again in the autumn unless a unanimity of sentiment for some one else develops between now and then, and, on the other hand they say he was given support of other aspirants on the strength of his assertion that he would be a candidate only for the unexpired term.

The new delegate will leave Maui tomorrow night and will sail back to Honolulu Wednesday, hurrying his departure a week forward of his first announced plans.

Senator Harold Rice Managing Director Maui Agricultural

Summises as to the management of Maui Agricultural Company during the absence of Delegate Baldwin, its president and manager were set at rest Wednesday when it was announced that Senator Harold W. Rice will be the managing director. W. Nichol will return from the mainland to have general charge of the office affairs of the company. Otherwise there will be no changes in the personnel of the organization as a result of Mr. Baldwin's election as delegate to congress.

Senator Rice said yesterday that he would give considerable attention to the outside work of the plantation in connection with his own large interests and he did not anticipate there would be any changes of policies in the absence of a few months of the president-manager.

Japanese Present Congratulations

Hundreds of Japanese formed the longest lanterns and decorated float parade ever seen in the Paia district Tuesday night the occasion being the offering of congratulations to the newly elected delegate to congress and expressions of the esteem in which he is held by the Japanese community of that section of Maui. In line were laborers from Paia, Hanakuaopoko and other camps and representatives of the various Japanese language schools.

The procession formed at Paia and was a beautiful show as it wound its way up to the Baldwin home, lighted motor cars and truck and lantern carriers afoot. At the Baldwin home the Paunene band was found awaiting them and rendered some musical numbers. At the house and address was presented by a young Japanese high school boy, Ryohei Asakura, on behalf of his father, Seliyun Asakura, expressing the admiration and esteem in which Mr. Baldwin is held by his employees and their gratification at his election.

Delegate Baldwin replied and expressed his gratification at their visit and his wishes for their prosperity.
