

Plot Of "Officer 666" Is Cunningly Contrived

"She loves me, she loves me not" murmured Tom Moore while waiting for his entrance, and picking the leaves of the proverbial prophetic daisy. "What's the idea Tom?" asked Harry Beaumont, who directed Moore in "Officer 666," a Goldwyn picture, that will be thrown on the screen at the Hippodrome Sunday evening.

"It's this officer business, Beaumont. These sudden changes from officer to civilian, back again, etc., get my goat. I simply couldn't remember them, so now I pick a daisy to find out. When she loves me I'm an officer—when she doesn't, then I'm not. Seems to come out right whichever way it works."

"Officer 666" is perhaps the most intricate and cunningly contrived plot in which Tom Moore has been starred. Known for his versatility and quick comprehension in his work, the picture really got "his goat" as Moore says, while Jeanne Catherin, who supports Moore in the play, went around for more than a week mournfully inquiring, "Tom, when are you the officer and when are you not, and why are you?" Taken in sections, the plot is worked out in the studio, nothing less than wildest confusion could result. Seen in its entirety, as "Officer 666" is presented to the audience, a more fascinating and absorbing tale of intrigue and scheming cannot be imagined.

High Praise

"Is she very pretty?" "Pretty! Say, when she gets on a stretcher the advertising is a total loss."—Boston Transcript.

Herbert Rawlinson Will Star At Hipp Tuesday Night

"Tuck up your troubles in your old kit bag and smile, smile, smile!" That might have been the motto of the hero in "The Scrapper," but there isn't any record of the fact. "The Scrapper" is the Universal special attraction starring Herbert Rawlinson, to be shown at the Hippodrome in Wailuku on Tuesday night.

It's the story of a dashing young Irishman right out of college and endowed with a hammering for two things—work and romance. An he has the sunniest sort of a nature. It he's winning his only boast is, "I had you—yes I did!"

When he is licked, he doesn't pull a long face and get his chin like that of a bull dog trying to surround the neck of a collic with a two-inch jaw. He grins and waits till the wheels roll by with philosophical good nature.

But he isn't slow. Oh boy, no! He tries to kiss a girl the first time he meets her, and because she won't do it he retaliates by marrying her before she's finished.

Gertrude Olmstead, the prize winning beauty of pictures, is the leading woman opposite Rawlinson. Edward Johnson, William Welsh and Walter Terry are the chief character actors and Fred Kohler and George McDaniels, the heavies. Al McQuarrie, Frank Lee and Hal Craig complete the cast.

Hobart Henby was the director in charge of the filming of R. G. Kirk's Saturday Evening Post story, published as "Malloy Camerader."

SCREEN COMMENT

The idol of the screen will be seen this coming week Rodolph Valentino in "The Conquering Power" is a feature that will win new laurels for the screen's greatest lover.

Ride her Cowboy, Let 'er Buck; Tom Mix will be with us in "After His Own Heart". This is a regular Mix thriller with plenty of good old Western stuff put over by the big Western star in a way that will please his many admirers and assure them of a splendid night's entertainment.

Pola Negri the star in "The Red Peacock" does some of the best work of her career in the feature production that set all America talking.

"Just Out Of College" in which Jack Pickford plays the lead, is a picture full of pep and will carry you back to the days when you first started out to conquer the world. Don't miss this one. Its great!

"Officer 666" the story which is too well known to need mention is a picture that you will get a great kick out of especially as Tom Moore is responsible for the leading role. This with the Century Comedy "Chums" will make a splendid program for the whole family.

Those that saw little Jackie Coogan in "The Kid" are anxiously awaiting the coming of the little star in the big Paramount "My Boy", the film that is now taking Honolulu by storm. Dates will be announced in an early issue.

Manager Harris has a splendid program arranged for Thursday Oct. 5. Apart from a good feature six high class vaudeville acts will be on the bill including a dramatic sketch "His Fathers Pride" in which Harris will play the leading role.

BIG POWER for BIG TRUCKS

If you want to keep your truck trouble-proof, feed it "Red Crown" and nothing else.

The quality of "Red Crown" is always the same, whenever and wherever you buy it. It vaporizes rapidly and uniformly in the carburetor. And it is consumed completely in the combustion chambers, converting all its heat units into power at the driving wheels. That means a better average mileage, and a sweeter-running engine.

Fill at the Red Crown sign — at Service Stations, garages, and other dealers.
