Wise Swan Song Lament For Party

Defeated Candidate Regrets He Has Been a Burden To Friends and Perhaps Hurt Party; Jarrett Thankful.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, Nov. 8.—With William P. Jarrett accepting the congratulations of his friends and John H. Wise determined never to enter politics again, the most bitterly contested battle for the delegateship in annals of Hawaii is a matter of history today. For the first time in 24 years the territory will be represented in Washington by a Democrat.

In his first formal statement as delegate, Jarrett today declared:

"I believe that I have been honored above the average in that the voters supported me in the face of a strenuous campaign by a party which has been long in power.

"Now that I am elected I will endeavor to lend every aid and devote every energy to Hawaii and its people."

The defeated candidate in his final statement, issued early this morning said:

"It was not the fault of the party that I was defeated. I guess it was my fault more than anything else. I am afraid I've disrupted my friends. I am sorry I was not entirely out of politics. The election of my opponent, I take it, is a clear expression by the people that I am not wanted. Despite my defeat, I will remain Republican and when the occasion arises I will work for the success of the party."

"I will never run for office again and I am sorry I ran this time because I feel some other Republican might have done better for the party."

Lawrence M. Judd, chairman of the Republican Territorial Central Committee, also issued a statement in which he asserted:

"The election of Jarrett is a tribute to his personal popularity and while the Democratic party is to be congratulated in the election of Jarrett, the vote cast clearly indicates that the Territory of Hawaii is still Republican."

Moist Proposition In Ohio Snowed Under By 200,000 Majority

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Eleven avowedly wet candidates to congress in the middle west have been elected. Nine self-announced wet aspirants were defeated but several of the latter were defeated by other wets.

Ohio defeated the beer and light wine proposition by upwards of 200,000 votes. Illinois, California, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York all have indicated varying degrees of wet sympathies.

Those in favor of relaxing present prohibition laws scored heavily in at least four states, according to compilations of expressions of sentiment. In Illinois, modification of the Volstead Act was favored in the ratio of 600,000 to 200,000 with half of the state reported.

California, it is indicated, defeated the state enforcement act 2 to 1. Missouri reelected Senator Reed, opponent of prohibition and New Jersey has apparently sent Governor Edwards to the Senate. The governor is avowedly anti-prohibition.

In this state congressional delegates will include three wets while the Wisconsin delegation will be wet by 7 to 4. The wets include Victor Berger, socialist.

The seventh Minnesota district indicates O. K. Kvale giving Andrew Volstead, father of the prohibition act, a bitter battle, but the wets derive but little hope from this situation as Kvale has announced himself as "drier than Volstead."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Partial returns show a substantial majority against the prohibition enforcement measure.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS) COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—The vote in favor of the beer and wine amendment regained its lead early today by a narrow margin.

A large proportion were firms and corporations but there were a large number of applications from individuals as well. The committee is composed of H. K. Duncan, C. C. Campbell, W. A. Clark, Walter Engle and H. S. Walker. The full list of new members will be printed by this paper Tuesday.

Immediately on the calling of the meeting to order Vice-President J. J. Walsh called for the reading to the meeting of the resolutions of the directors on the death of Arthur W. Superintendent of Public Works Lyman Bigelow, Delegate Baldwin and the Rivers and Harbors committees of the house and senate at Washington. William Walsh explained the project in detail and clearly showed its necessity.

Help For Hapless Children Asked

All Persons Are Urged to Give Something For a Home For Unfortunate Kiddies and Drive Now Starts.

Funds will be sought during the next several days for the completion and equipping of the Maui Children's Home. In most sections of the County committees are working today. Practically a store to store, office to office and house to house campaign is planned. About $10,000 in addition to the $11,000 already raised will be required.

On Maui there is at present no place to which parentless children can be committed children who are found to be abused or improperly cared for, no place where a mother who must work or a father who is left with little children can send them to have proper care. The need for such an institution has long been seen and for about a year efforts have been afoot to secure such a home.

For the new home the site is furnished without cost by Bishop Libert of the Catholic Church; some of the lumber was given by the county salvaged from old hospital buildings; other material is being secured practically at cost; the architect, William D'Esmond, is barely making expenses, and the contract is being carried on by the builder at a very low figure.

The personnel of the executive committee shows that the project is regarded by its members as in no sense sectarian but one of deep interest to all creeds, classes, races and conditions of Maui. Protestants and Catholics and non-Christians are working shoulder to shoulder for the good of the little ones. Religion or creed of parents will not enter into the question of admittance to the home which is to be for any friendless or unfortunate child.

In seeking the support of the community the executive committee says that contributions of any size will be welcomed. Those who have little are not expected to give much but all are asked to give something to what they regard as one of the most worthy and important projects ever undertaken on Maui.

Democrat Carries Home Island And Hawaii by Big Margin Badly But Give Meager Republican Majority.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Complete unofficial returns show that William P. Jarrett was elected delegate to congress last Tuesday over John H. Wise by 2669. A recheck of the returns from all the Islands gave those figures, an Associated Press dispatch from Honolulu told Maui News yesterday noon. Rechecked returns by districts and precincts were not sent.

The next legislature will consist of 15 Republicans and no Democrats in the senate and 29 Republicans and one Democrat in the house unless a recount in the Fifth district should seat C. H. K. Hall instead of Coelho. The latter on unofficial returns leads by two votes, 3097 to 3095. Archer is the only Republican legislative candidate in any of the Islands to go down to defeat and George Holt is the only Democrat to win a seat.

Figures For Maui
 On Maui P. J. Goodness led the ticket with John Ferreira second, M. G. Paschoal third and W. A. Clark fourth. Other representative candidates received Joseph 2079, Fardon 1995, Kalia 1870 and Burns (Dem.) 1427. These figures are exclusive of Molokai.

For delegate the vote on the Island of Maui was Jarrett 1669 and Wise 1662. Jarrett carrying this Island and Lanai by 7 but Wise carried the Settlement by 15 and had a majority of 11 on all Molokai so that the County went for him by 4. Kauai went for Wise 1651 to 998 for Jarrett, with Niihau to be heard from. Hawaii's vote was Jarrett 3028 and Wise 2421. The Fourth District in Honolulu went for Jarrett 4201 to 3624 and the Fifth 4121 to 2556. These figures were received by Associated Press on Tuesday night.

On Maui there was a larger vote for Jarrett cast than at the primaries and Jarrett received the full vote that had gone to himself and Raymond then with more than half of the votes that had been cast for Lyman and King. It was the first time an underdog had run strongly for delegate since the election of Robert Wilcox 22 years ago. In 1902 Kahuio defeated Wilcox in Maui County by 25.

Shadow Falls Early
 Early in the day it became evident that Jarrett's strength had been much underestimated by the Republicans. Especially in Wailuku this was made plain where there were a score of red ribboned Jarrett supporters and less than half a dozen Republican workers until after the polls had been open a long time. Reports from Paia and Paunene showed Jarrett stronger than had been thought and reports from Lahaina indicated conditions there like those in Wailuku.

Nahuku came in first with its usual Republican vote and other small precincts followed fast. It was plain on the face of the early returns that Wise's majority, if any, would be cut away below estimates. Only from the Hana end of the Island were the normal Republican majorities reported. At last with only Keokea and Waiehe to be heard from Wise had lead of about 50 but those precincts swung the tide to Jarrett. Then Molokai delegates figures were wirelessly in and showed the county for Wise by the narrow margin of 4.

Returns in Early
 First returns from the outside were scattering from Hawaii and showed Jarrett leading, next came Kauai and then more full returns from Hawaii, all indicating defeat for Wise. Certainty came with the first partial returns from Honolulu.

Maui News gave to the Sheriff's office its reports other than those of the Associated Press which latter could not be bulletined away from the office of the paper, so the public was informed early of the defeat of the Republican candidate for delegate.

About the court house grounds there was a great crowd and the jubilant Jarrett supporters celebrated there and carried the celebration out in all directions. On Market street there was a street dance and in that vicinity the celebration continued on until after midnight.

L. A. S. S. May Send Vessels Westward

(ASSOCIATED PRESS)

HONOLULU, Nov. 10.—Captain John D. Fredericks, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce returned here from the Orient yesterday. He indicated that it was unlikely, although possible, that the Los Angeles steamship company will extend their service to the Orient.

He said he has no wish to interfere with other lines, but that the company might extend their route via Honolulu, to Manila, Malay Settlement, India and Barcelona. Captain Fredericks will remain in Honolulu for about a week. He said that he doubted if Major-General Wood would leave the Philippines in January as rumored.
