MONEY PRESSURE IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

Correspondence of the Savannah Republican.
COLUMBIA, (S. C.), March 10, 1861.
The principal topic of conversation here just now is the stringency of the times, which seems to have reached its culminating point in the suspension of work on the State-house. This evil, for some time apprehended, took place yesterday evening, all the remaining hands in the employ of the State having been discharged.
The bonds authorized by the Legislature for the purpose of continuing the construction of this building cannot be sold, and so the work is suspended. Many of the hands had left already, so that there were but fifty-two remaining in the yard to be discharged. The contractor for turning the granite balustrades finished his contract about two weeks since, but the contractors for the granite capitals and marble work have been reduced from one hundred and twelve to about seventy, and they are still going on, but with much uncertainty as to how long. On the 1st of October last the total force at work at the quarries and in the yard, employed by the State and the contractors, amounted to 498, of which 200 were negroes. This is now reduced to less than 100, with the prospect of a still further reduction soon.

But the State-house is not the only interest that has suffered from the times. The foundry, machine shops, and printing offices are working a smaller number of hands than usual, and the railroads are cutting down expenses.
The Greenville road has reduced the salaries of all its employees, and the Charlotte road has discontinued the night express train, and put its five passenger conductors on reduced pay, running one trip a week each, besides reducing all the salaries, from the President down.

From the N. Y. Post of March 15.

FAMINE AMONG THE FIRE-EATERS.

We have already called attention to the sufferings of the people of Mississippi, who are at the point of starvation. The following additional statements reach us by the last mail:
"The Board of Police of Smith county, at its late meeting, authorized the issuing of bonds to the amount of $5,000 for the purpose of buying corn for the people of the county, and appointed Major John G. Blackwell agent for its purchase. Major Blackwell has succeeded in getting a small quantity, and it has been shipped to Lake Station."

Major Blackwell writes from Vicksburg to the Brandon (Miss.) Republican, under date of March 2:

"I have shipped to-day 3,810 bushels to Lake Station, where I have made arrangements to store it until the people can get it away. I think I shall be able to get more before I return. I had hard work to do what I have done.
Will you do me the kindness to give notice in your paper that the corn is there, and that such as have no money can get it on a credit, well secured, payable 1st November, according to the order of the Board of Police."

Major Hawkins, the agent appointed to solicit aid from the North and West, has been very successful in his appeals to the people of Illinois. He writes as follows from Springfield, the capital of that State:

"SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Feb. 17, 1861.

"DEAR SIR: You will learn by this where I am. The citizens of this place called a meeting and appointed a committee to solicit donations to supply those who are unable to buy corn in our region. The committee have raised enough to buy one thousand bushels (including sacks) to be sent right on to supply their immediate wants. Those who can raise the money to pay the freight from here to Vicksburg, I enclose a copy of an agreement from the President of the railroad at Vicksburg, to ship the corn from there to other points on the road. I can get all the corn that may be wanted, on credit here, if arrangements can be made to pay the freight from here to Vicksburg.
Would it not be well for a kind of stock company to be formed, and for some five or six prominent persons to become responsible to those who furnish the corn here, and let those who get the corn from the sureties become responsible to them?"

"Sacks are very scarce and high here. Will you notify all who send for corn by me, to gather up all the sacks they have and can obtain, and send them here right off, to me."
"The committee will send the corn for gratuitous distribution to those who are needy, right away, and I will send that I buy on credit as soon as I can learn that the freight from here to Vicksburg can be paid, and as soon as I can get some sacks. Yours respectfully, "A. G. Meyers. BENJAMIN HAWKINS."

The Brandon (Miss.) Republican comments upon this letter as follows:
"On our first page will be found a letter from Major Benjamin Hawkins, who is now in Illinois, buying corn for the citizens of Scott, Smith, and Rankin counties. He says he can get the corn on a credit, if the people can raise the money to pay the freight. Major Hawkins took with him a lot of the poor of his vicinity, who were unable to buy or pay freight, and who were compelled to starve unless assistance were rendered them. From his letter it will be seen that the citizens of Springfield, the home of Lincoln, have contributed one thousand bushels of corn, and that much more will be contributed to relieve the distress of the poor in this section."

The same paper makes this "humiliating" confession:
"How humiliating to every Mississippian to know that after cursing and denouncing the people of the North, as our citizens have been in the habit of denouncing them, we are compelled to turn around and beg them for bread, and they, in turn, are trying to kill us with kindness, by treating our agent with the greatest respect, and not only giving him more than we asked for, but paying for the sacks to put it in.
It certainly places us in a very humiliating position, and we heard Major Hawkins abused for going there and begging corn; but we say he has done right, and thousands of starving children, widows, and orphans, will bless him for his efforts to keep them from perishing with hunger. Some narrow-minded, contemptible demagogues say that the citizens of Illinois give us corn because they fear us, and wish to get on good terms with us again. We believe they are actuated by purely Christian motives, and that they have purer and better hearts than those who make such charges. Whilst we would rather labor day and night, from one year's end to another, than beg either from them or anybody else, we would not hesitate to beg if our little ones were starving."

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

David Wilmont, the successor of Simon Cameron in the United States Senate, was born at Bethany, Wayne county, Pennsylvania, on the 20th of January, 1814. He was educated at Bethany Academy, and at Aurora, Cayuga county, New York; read law and was admitted to the bar in 1834. He was a member of Congress from 1845 to 1851, and has since been president Judge of the thirteenth Judicial district of Pennsylvania, and resides at Towanda, Bradford county, Pennsylvania. He was a prominent member of the recent Peace Conference, and has long enjoyed a national reputation, and is chiefly distinguished as the author of the celebrated anti-slavery proviso introduced while a member of Congress, and which bears his name. He is a clear-headed and decisively able man.

Cassius M. Clay, the new minister to the court of Spain, was born in Madison county, Kentucky, on the 19th of October, 1810. After studying in Transylvania University at Lexington, in that State, he entered the junior class of Yale College, where he was graduated in 1832, and returned to Kentucky. He devoted himself to the law, and in 1835 was elected to the State Legislature. He was re-elected in 1837, and in 1839 was a member of the National Whig Convention at Harrisburg, which nominated General Harrison for President.
Taking up his residence at Lexington he was elected to the Legislature in 1840. He was, however, defeated in 1841, owing to his opinions on the slavery question, which he everywhere fearlessly expressed. He denounced the scheme for the annexation of Texas, and in 1844 traversed the Northern States addressing immense audiences in favor of the Whig Presidential candidate. In 1845 he established the "Free American," an emancipation journal, in Lexington, amid great opposition. Upon the declaration of war with Mexico he entered the service as captain of the "Old Infantry," a volunteer company which had distinguished itself at the battle of Tippecanoe in 1811. He was taken prisoner at Encarnacion in January, 1847. He was exchanged and returned home in the autumn of that year, and was presented with a sword in honor of his services. In 1848 he labored hard for the election of General Taylor, and in 1850 presented himself as a candidate for Governor of the State of Kentucky, on the basis of a political organization against slavery. He received some 5,000 votes.
He has not since been a candidate before the people, though active in political life.

AN ALLEGED SWINDLE.—An extensive swindle is said to have come to light in New York within a day or two. The story runs, that a well-known official, holding a State office, was entrusted with thirty or forty thousand dollars by certain parties, a few weeks ago, to engineer through the Legislature of New York certain contracts, but that instead of using the cash to grease the machine and secure the contracts, he put it into his own pocket, and decamped for parts as yet unknown.

SECESSION OF A RIVER.—The New Orleans Delta says, the communication between the Red river and the Mississippi is being gradually cut off. The former is taking itself off to the Gulf by the way of Atchafalaya into Berwick's Bay. Unless something is done to prevent the Red river from seceding, New Orleans will lose a large amount of valuable traffic. A company is talked of to keep the channel open. It is thought it will cost $2,000,000.

The army of the Southern Confederacy is to consist of 10,483 men, divided as follows: engineers, 110; artillery, 3,372; cavalry, 743; infantry, 6,238. There will be four brigadier generals, each with an annual salary of $3,612, in addition to forage, fuel, and quarters.

MILITARY MISHAP.—One of the ridiculous mishaps which will sometimes befall soldiers befell a whole file of the snugly attired military of New Orleans on the day of the Twigg's reception. They were drawn up along the street in front of a building in course of construction, and close in their rear was a long mortar bed, two feet deep, with that plastic composition ready for the workmen. The space between the files for the passage of the carriages being rather narrow, the officer ordered his men to take a step back. They did so, and about twenty feet of them instantaneously disappeared from sight, backwards, the front file, in close order, preventing the rear rank from recovering themselves when their heels stumbled against the mortar bed. They were submerged, and every soldier of them had a pretty uniform spoiled. They took cabs and absquat-tled in a twinkling.

At a meeting recently held in London, Mr.
Buxton, M. P., in the chair, it was asserted that the property acquired by the negroes of Jamaica, since their emancipation, amounted to $11,500,000, and that the products of the island—the result of their special industry—were worth $5,000,000 during the last year.

The leading railway lines in France pay from ten to twenty per cent. dividends. The gross annual earnings of the British lines are $25,000,000, of which one-half goes for expenses, and the dividends are only about four and a half per cent.

It is alleged that the passion for making money was never so strongly developed in France as at the present moment, and the London Times says, that Legitimists, Orleansists, and Imperialists recognizing each a different monarch, unite in veneration of a higher power, viz: the five-franc piece.

FROM PENNSYLVANIA.—The Warrington correspondent of the Pensacola Observer writes as follows, under date of March 7th:
"The families are flying into the country, and preparations are being made for a severe conflict. The men are at work night and day, putting the batteries in perfect order, balls being cast in the navy yard, and communication with the vessels outside is to be cut off immediately. Several families have already moved off to Mobile, New Orleans, and other places.
The place looks like a place besieged. Large reinforcements are looked for in the beginning of the ensuing spring."
"The Wyalotte was notified last evening that coal and water were no longer to be obtained at the navy yard."

SOUTHERN MEDICAL HOUSE.

DR. SHUMAN has, after an experience of ten years, established the above refuge for quackery, self-labelled Indian or German doctors, and pretenders of witchcraft and impostors in general.
This is the only place where a sure and speedy cure can be obtained in the world for all inop-erous and evil habits, gonorrhoea, gleet, seminal weakness, syphilis, primary, secondary, and tertiary, organic weakness, pains in the limbs, strictures, general debility, prostration, nervousness, restless nights, palpitation of the heart, ringing in the ears, loss of memory, confusion, me-ancholy, affections of the head, throat, nose, and skin, and all those peculiar disorders arising from the indiscretion of youth, rendering them unfit for either business, study, society, or marriage.
Dr. S. has the greatest remedies in the known world for diseases of the blood, gonorrhoea, gleet, stricture, syphilis, seminal weakness, self-abuse, &c. There is no case in which they fail to cure in from 3 to 6 days.
Victims of these horrible complaints, who would wish to be valuable men and ornaments to society, should embrace the earliest opportunity for relief.
Do not forget the name and number. Dr. Shuman's office is on the corner of Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue, Clarendon Hotel, opposite the National Hotel, Washington, D. C.
Persons at a distance should enclose stamp for return postage. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 10 P. M.
Various parties have been enticed from my institution by certain swindlers on back streets in this city, who will rue it till the day of their death. A word to the wise is sufficient.
