THE REPUBLICAN ERA.

From the Sunday Morning Chronicle.
OUR FLAG.
BY E. S. WOODRUFF.
The boast of every loyal heart,
How proudly waves our starry flag!
Kissed by each gentle gale that blows
O'er fertile vale or rugged crag.
Beneath its folds our fathers fought,
And gained a heritage sublime;
Which shall descend from sire to son,
Until the end of time.
Flag of the brave!—we love thee still,
The memories of the past all live
Within our hearts: To thee we yield
The prouddest homage man can give.
And swear anew, by all we are,
By all we ever hope to be,
That to the end we'll defend
The banner of the free.
Whenever treason would assail
That flag with rude, rebellious hand,
Millions of freemen shall arise,
Millions of hearts shall be at hand;
Millions of arms shall be at hand;
And, marching 'neath its ample folds,
Defend it to their latest breath,
The battle-cry, throughout the strife,
To every traitor—Death.

Later from Europe.

Hatfield, May 14.—The steamer Europa, from Liverpool on the 4th instant, and with telegraphic advices via Queenstown to the 5th, has arrived.
In the House of Commons, Lord John Russell stated that a naval force would be sent to the American coast to protect British vessels, in view of the fact that letters of marque and reprisal were being issued by the Southern Confederacy.
He also announced the blockade by the American Government of its Southern ports, and the law officers of the Crown were investigating the legal bearing of the matter, in order to guide the Government in its instructions to the British minister, and to the commandant of the squadron about to be sent to the American coast.
The news from America absorbed considerable attention throughout England, and was the subject of much discussion.
Insurance on British vessels from the South has been advanced, and also on American vessels from India and China.
A riot of striking weavers at Ghent has been suppressed by the military.
Garibaldi has returned to Capri.
It is denied that Sardinia has made conciliatory proposals to Rome.
The London money market was depressed by the American news.

COMMERCIAL ADVICES.

Liverpool, April 4.—Cotton—Sales of the week 90,000 bales, at an advance of 1/4d. @ 1/2d. Breadstuffs and provisions closed steady. Consols closed at 91 @ 91 1/2.
THE LATEST.
Cotton closed excited, in consequence of the advices by the Ferris, and sales were made at a further advance.
Breadstuffs and provisions also closed excited and unsettled.
Messrs. Wakelind & Nash report flour steady and rather firm, at 27s. 6d. @ 30s. 6d.
Wheat is firm, with a better inquiry—red 11s. 8d. @ 12s. 6d.; white, 13s. @ 14s. 6d. Corn is dull.
From Annapolis.
Annapolis, May 14.—There was a grand demonstration here this afternoon, in honor of the opening of the branch railroad connecting Annapolis station and the pier of the Naval Academy, which has just been completed by the skillful engineer corps of the thirteenth New York regiment. Capt. John Marales has personally superintended the work. A long train of cars carried the thirteenth regiment on an excursion over the new road, to a short distance beyond the city.
Citizens of Annapolis having complained of certain colored persons in the camp tampering with slaves, they will not hereafter be allowed to pass the lines.

Affairs at St. Louis.

St. Louis, May 14.—The first four regiments of volunteers of this State have been formed into the first brigade of Missouri volunteers. Capt. Lyon has been elected brigadier general commanding, and has accepted the command, by authority of the President. Emmet McDonald, captain of the Mounted Rifles, has refused to swear allegiance to the United States, or accept of his release on parole, and he is still confined at the arsenal as a prisoner of war. An application has been made to Judge Treat, of the Circuit Court, for a writ of habeas corpus, and his decision is anxiously looked for.
The following arms, in addition to those already enumerated, were seized at Camp Jackson: Three 32-pouner, a large quantity of balls and bombs, several pieces of artillery, twelve hundred rifles of the late models, six brass field pieces, six brass six-inch mortars, one ten-inch iron mortar, three six-inch iron cannons, several chests of new muskets, five boxes of caulk, shot, ninety six ten inch and three hundred six-inch shells, twenty-five kegs of powder, and a large number of musket stocks and barrels, between thirty and forty horses, and a considerable quantity of camp tools. The number of prisoners taken to the arsenal was six hundred and thirty-nine privates and fifty officers.

Washington News.

Washington, May 14.—The following is the number of infantry regiments to be received from each State for the total increase of seventy-five regiments of three years' volunteers under the recent determination of the Government: New York 11, Pennsylvania 10, Ohio 9, Illinois 6, Indiana 4, Massachusetts 5, Missouri 4, Kentucky 2, Wisconsin 2, Michigan 2, Iowa 2, New Jersey 3, Virginia 2; Maine, Maryland, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Delaware, Kansas, Nebraska, and the District of Columbia, one regiment each. The other regiments—namely, of cavalry—have not yet been assigned.
The General Government is doing what it can, through its commissary and quartermaster general's offices, to take proper care of the volunteers and contingents of the States, as they arrive, but it will always be prudent on the part of the States to have in Washington or on the route, in advance of their troops, a member of the State general staff, to provide for contingencies, and see that the troops are properly cared for. The regimental staff is meantime necessarily with the several regiments. This provision on the part of the States will add much to the comfort and good temper of their troops. Much annoyance would have been avoided, had this matter been attended to as above suggested from the first.

The Government to-day accepted the services of two regiments for three months, and one for three years, from Kansas.
J. C. Vaughn has been appointed military storekeeper at Fort Leavenworth, and other changes of civil officers have been made both at that post and Fort Riley.
The Postmaster General to-day annulled the contract for carrying the mail between St. Louis and Memphis, owing to the forcible stoppage of the steamers by which they were conveyed. This is the first case under the law of last Congress, which authorized mail discontinuances in cases of illegal obstructions.

Address of Gen. Harney to the People of Missouri.

St. Louis, May 14.—General Harney publishes an address to the people of the State, in which he says the military bill recently passed by the Legislature is an indirect secession ordinance, manifestly unconstitutional, and ought not to be upheld by good citizens. He says that whatever may be the termination of the present condition of things in respect to the cotton States, Missouri must share the destiny of the Union, and all the power of the Government will be exerted to maintain her position.
The general says, whilst disclaiming all desire or intention to interfere with the prerogative of the State of Missouri, or with the functions of its Executive, yet I regard it my plain duty to express to the people of Missouri, in respectful but decided language, that within the field and scope of my command the supreme law must and shall be maintained, and no subterfuge whatever, in forms of legislative acts or otherwise, can be permitted to harass or oppress the good and law-abiding people of Missouri.

Pledges of the Governors of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois to support the Union Men of Virginia, Missouri, and Kentucky.

Harrisburg, May 14.—Governors Curtin and Dennison of Ohio have pledged the power of their States for the protection of the Union men of Western Virginia. The Governors of Indiana and Illinois have made a similar pledge to the Unionists of Kentucky and Missouri, and also have obtained a pledge from President Lincoln, that no compromise shall be entertained till the national flag again covers the entire national territory.

Burning of a Railway Bridge.

Waterbury, Me., May 13.—A large part of the Androscoggin and Kennebec railroad bridges at Kendall's mills were accidentally burned this morning. The loss amounted to $20,000. The fire caught from the sparks of a locomotive which had just passed over with the Bangor regiment for Portland.

The U. S. Arsenal at St. Louis.

A citizen of St. Louis thus describes the Federal arsenal at that city, now occupied by Government troops, regulars and volunteers:
"Our arsenal is by long odds the largest and finest in the United States, and surpasses other public depositories of arms as far as Fort Monroe excels all other fortified posts. Its walls are ten feet high and three feet thick, of massive limestone, and enclose thirty-eight or forty acres of beautifully sloping land, extending from Carondelet avenue to the Mississippi. In grass and trees, and nicely-arranged paths and walks, it equals any gentleman's park I have ever seen. The foundries and storehouses, soldiers' barracks, hospital and prison house, powder magazine, dragon stables, and officers' dwellings, with their handsome yards and gardens, make up a perfect village in size. These buildings are of elegant architectural designs and proportions, and even the sentry boxes are constructed in a tasteful and ornamental manner.
"The grounds are drained by sewers running to the river, and abound in wells of clear, pure water. The whole arsenal property is worth to the Government, at the least calculation, three millions of dollars, and it is now in such a complete state of defence that all the secessionists in Missouri could not take it, and would not dare attack it. At nearly all available points, earthworks have been thrown up, and are mounted with columbiads and mortars. A huge new building, just outside of the main gate on Carondelet avenue, is occupied by two companies of regulars, who have constructed a strong earthwork, topped with sand bags, and mounted with formidable pieces of ordnance. Other elevated positions, some of them a quarter of a mile from the arsenal, are occupied by volunteers as outposts, and, if need be, will be entrenched and mounted with cannon."

The Great Eastern in a Storm.

A passenger on board during the late trip to New York writes:
"All Monday, the 6th of May, the Great Eastern was driving against one of the sharpest gales of the boisterous season on the North Atlantic. The wind blew nearly a hurricane for quite eight hours. Caught by the ship took to the trough of the sea. The crash of creaking and all movable things startled the timid. In the tremendous roll of the ship, (she never pitched,) the inconvenience of her ponderous rigging became evident. Two gaffs broke from their stays, and swung fearfully back, endangering the funnels; and when, after long and hard exertions, they were secured, a boatswain's mate bore testimony by a broken leg to the severity of the struggle.
"All through the hurricane, while the waters were hissing up her sides, halt overturning her boats on their davits, and dashing spray far up into her yards, the leviathan was moving steadily at the rate of ten knots an hour. Twice or thrice the vessel was put off her course by a couple of points, to make fast the upper works. Then the real greatness of the Great Eastern appeared. With her head to the wind, she stood perfectly firm and composed. Her motion was again easy. There was no shock, no strain. The labor was with the sea, and it was in vain. And there was no fault to find with the movements of her engines. That was perfect. The distance performed in this day of 'weather,' not including the miles travelled out of course, was 216 knots."
