THE POSITION. It is understood that an order was issued last evening, removing General Buell from his command, and appointing Gen. Rosecrans in his place. We suppose that we ought to say, better late than never, but this removal is very late. It has been apparent to the country, for nearly a year, that Gen. Buell was either incompetent for his place by reason of lack of force, or of capacity, or that he belonged to that clique in the army whose programme is an indecisive war, to end in a Democratic compromise, was betrayed by Major Key, and did not need that betrayal in order to be understood. Gen. Buell refused, during long months last winter, to advance against the rebels at Bowling Green, whom he outnumbered three to one, and would not have advanced to this day, if Gen. Grant had not cleared the road by the capture of Fort Donelson.

At the head of magnificent armies ever since Gen. Buell has done nothing but return fugitive slaves, and has now closed his career by permitting the escape from Kentucky of General Bragg's army, loaded with the spoils of a protracted and substantially uninterrupted raid. Let others take warning by this removal (albeit tardy) of Gen. Buell, that if the President is long suffering, he will strike at last.

The Star of last evening makes the following admission of the falsity of the statements of its political friends, by which it has been attempted to shift the responsibility of the non advance of Gen. McClellan upon certain parties here: "After diligent inquiry, we have satisfied ourselves that no requisition for shoes or clothing for the army of the Potomac upon the department of the quartermaster here, Colonel Hucker, has failed to be complied with promptly. We are also satisfied that the quartermaster of the army of the Potomac has at no time locked an ample supply of these articles, and that the failure of Gen. McClellan's troops to receive them as required up to this hour, is likely to have been the result of want of energy and business in management on the part of those charged with the duty of their prompt distribution after their arrival there."

The World and other New York papers of that stamp are now urging men to vote the Seymour ticket, upon the special ground that Gen. McClellan is disabled from advancing because the Secretary of War will not send him shoes and blankets! They will continue to make this point until after the election is over. The Star, which is an organ of a certain clique and of certain views in the army, had an elaborate and very significant article last evening, advising against any advance by General McClellan for thirty days, and that then, if an advance upon Richmond be made, it should be by the way of James river, or from Fredericksburg. The Star wants delay, in order that our army may be filled up by the continued arrivals of the 600,000 men last called for, while it affects to believe that the rebel army cannot be further recruited, or even kept together, by reason of the want of supplies and clothing. In this connection, we remember too well that the non-advance of General McClellan a year ago upon Manassas was justly by the theory that the enemy was in such a condition that he must either make an attack upon us, and at a disadvantage, or disperse. That theory answered for the tools, until the event disproved it, and that was long enough. However, our purpose was not to combat the Star's views, but to state what they are. That paper is the organ of the men in the army of the Major Key school, and this article foretells what they intend to do, if the President does not promptly overrule them. There is no sort of doubt that there has been from the outset a conspiracy, in high quarters in the army, to baffie the purpose of this war, and there are indications that the President now sees it and will defeat it.

The Richmond Examiner, of the 15th instant, says: "We notice that in Texas, and in some portions of the Mississippi Valley, the proportion is urged to make a conscription or forced levy of slaves where their labor is necessary for the army. Since the invasion of the South, the Yankees have stolen tens of thousands of negroes, and made them useful as teamsters, laborers in camp, &c. It appears that slaveholders are averse for some reason, to hire their negroes to the Confederate army. The proposition is certainly an ignorant and insane one. As the war originated and is carried out in great part for the defence of the slaveholder in his property, rights, and the perpetuation of the institution, it is reasonable to suppose that he ought to be the first and foremost in aiding and assisting, by every means in his power, the triumph and success of our arms. Good wages are offered, and proper care and attention will be given every negro hired to the army, and the slaveholder ought to remember that for every negro he thus furnishes he puts a soldier in the ranks.

Two points will strike the reader: First, The admission that, on the part of the rebel, "the war originated and is carried on in great part for the defence of the slaveholder in his property, rights, and the perpetuation of the institution." Second, The statement that every negro employed as "teamsters, laborers in camp, &c. puts a soldier in the ranks." If that is true on the rebel side, it is none the less true on our side, but we have been fettered by scruples about using the negro, while the more sensible rebels do not trouble themselves with the institution."

It is gravely announced, in correspondence from North Carolina, that Gov. Vance, whose election was hailed as a wonderful Union triumph, proves to be a rebel of the first water. This ought not to surprise anybody. He was an ultra pro-slavery demagogue when he was in Congress here, and was a colonel in the rebel army when he was elected governor. The (so-called) Union of North Carolina has never been any thing but a dull show. That State has furnished more troops for the rebels, in proportion to population, than South Carolina, and is quite as deeply committed to the rebellion, in every respect. The New York Tribune has had field in North Carolina, because it was "an old Whig State." If it would take a look at Virginia, it would find that it is precisely in the "old Whig" districts that the rebellion is most violent, and we believe it to be so all over the South. We can remember very well when South Carolina was a banner "Whig" State.

THE REASON FOR IT. The civil war still exists, and for aught we can now see, it is likely to exist for a long time to come. Much speculation and conjecture as to the probable time when the rebellion will be crushed, has continued from day to day, and the man does not live who can penetrate the future and tell when peace shall be restored to our distracted country.— There are many reasons for this delay in crushing out treason, and almost every man has one of his own. One will tell you it is the politicians; another, that we haven't men enough; others, still, that it is this or that general. In short, there is every variety of opinion expressed. We shall not undertake in this connection to give a full discussion of this vexed topic. It is all we can now find space or time to consider, viz: the one reason why the rebellion is not put down.

The reason is a political one. The politicians are the guilty parties. Don't misunderstand us: we don't mean the Republican politicians. No Republican and no Republican politician has had any other interest than to make a short and quick war of this, and hence in every loyal State we find three fourths of all the soldiers gone to the war to be Republicans. With the officers it is quite otherwise; so, also, is it with contractors. Both of these classes come largely from the Democratic or Hunter school, and it needs no prophet's ken to discover the wherefore of certain delays. While we would make no invidious charges; while we are free to admit that among the masses of the Democratic party there are many thousands of as loyal men as can be found in the country, and while we believe that there are some truly loyal and patriotic officers, both high and low, from the Democratic party, still it is nevertheless true, that this war has been and is being protracted by pro-slavery Hunter Democratic politicians.

This fact is so patent to be longer overlooked by even the most superficial observer. We see in the recent Western elections the obvious fruits of this delay. The men who planned this very do-nothing policy to which our army has been subjected, did it for a purpose, and we shall make this appear in future articles.

PROBABLE ENLARGEMENT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF THE TENNESSEE. We trust that the report in the Star of last evening, that Gen. Buell has been succeeded by Gen. Rosecrans, means that the Department of the Tennessee has been so enlarged as to embrace a greater portion of Kentucky, and that the army of Gen. Buell has been incorporated with that portion of Gen. Grant's forces which is under Gen. Rosecrans.

If this surmise is correct, and if the policy of enlarging General Grant's department and strengthening his forces has prevailed, the days of this rebellion are numbered. From all the military departments except that of Gen. Grant, we have heard nothing of late, but disasters, delays, inaction, or indecisive combats. From him alone, has come the tidings of substantial victory. In fact, during the whole war, he has fought more battles than any other general. He has never been defeated. From Fort Donelson to Corinth, his career has been one of uninterrupted success.

SOLDIERS' DIRECTORY.—John A. Fowle, Esq. of the Navy Department, has prepared, and published for gratuitous distribution, a sheet which is called the "Soldiers' Directory." It contains a variety of useful information, which will be very convenient for persons seeking information relative to soldiers. The Directory, which is very neatly printed by Mr. Polkman, contains a list of all the hospitals in Washington and vicinity, and their location; also, the various Soldiers' Relief Associations; 25 in number; the place where they can be found; a statement of the sick, wounded, convalescent and paroled soldiers in our midst, numbering 34,419; information relative to bonuses; soldiers' letters, post office arrangements, &c. The sheet can be obtained at 425 Fifth street. Mr. Fowle deserves the thanks of the community for preparing this table, which will save so many hundred daily questions and answers by persons seeking this information.

APPOINTMENTS.—Brig. Gen. Lovell H. Rousseau to be Major General United States volunteers. Major Robert S. Grainger, 5th infantry, to be Brigadier General U. S. volunteers. John W. McClure to be Assistant Quartermaster of volunteers, with the rank of captain. J. H. Johnson, of Kentucky, to be Commissary of Subsistence of volunteers, with the rank of captain. Lieut. Wilson T. Hartz to be Assistant Adjutant General of volunteers, with the rank of captain.

HON. GREEN ADAMS, Auditor of the Treasury for the Post Office Department, has returned from his trip to Kentucky, and is again in the performance of the duties of his office. We are pleased to embrace this occasion to acknowledge the capacity and efficiency of a faithful public officer, than whom, none other connected with the Department, is more gentlemanly in the treatment of those who have business with the public offices. We are also gratified to learn of the Auditor's success, since his connection with this Bureau, in bringing up its business to the deservedly high standard which it now maintains.

IOWA.—Telegrams of the 23d, from Chicago, say that all the Republican candidates for Congress are elected. Per contra, the Star of last evening says: "A dispatch from Burlington, received here today, claims that the late returns show that the Democrats have certainly elected two of Iowa's six members of the next Congress, irrespective of any possible army vote the Republican candidates will receive." A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, writing from Harper's Ferry, October 23d, makes the following statement, which, we must hope, is, at any rate, an exaggeration: "Our agents, too, seem to think it no harm to kill a negro, and the Irish troops are delighted in this sport. Every negro that is seen at night, or wandering in the woods in the day-time, is shot by our outpost guards, and many who come into our camps are shot 'by accident.'"

BY TELEGRAPH. FROM EUROPE. MR. GLADSTONE ASSERTS THAT THE SOUTH HAS ESTABLISHED ITS NATIONALITY. THE ASSERTION RECEIVED WITH FAVOR BY THE BRITISH PRESS. New York, Oct. 24.—The steamship Kangaroo has arrived at this port, bringing the latest news by telegraph to the Home. Mr. Gladstone made a statement, in a speech delivered at Newcastle lately, that Jeff. Davis had made the South a nation, and that he considered separation certain. The speech attracts great attention, and causes a great interest in cotton. The papers generally approve Gladstone's remarks, and some think that a recognition of the South will soon follow. London, Oct. 23.—The journals continue to comment upon President Lincoln's proclamation. The Daily News thinks it has spoken too disparagingly of it, and believes it may do better service than was at first supposed. The London Telegraph continues to speak of the action of the political parties in the North, not as a rebuke, but as an issue out of trouble. It says the North is rousing itself to snatch the conduct of affairs from those whose incapacity has caused the great losses in cotton. The papers generally approve Gladstone's remarks, and some think that a recognition of the South will soon follow.

From the Southwest. Mexico, Oct. 24.—The Grenada, of the 17th inst., contains a report of the capture and occupation, by the Federal forces, of an island in Galveston Bay. Nothing is said of our forces having reached the mainland. It should be noted, in fact, one fight is not improbable. In fact, one fight is not improbable. Gen. Sherman has ordered thirty secession families to leave Memphis, on account of recent guerrilla outrages on the river. The Grenada also contains a rumor, that General V. D. Doolittle and Lovell have been ordered to report at Richmond. Gen. Pemberton is formally announced as the successor of Gen. Van Dorn.

From Fortresses. Fort Mifflin, Oct. 23.—Major R. W. Sheek, 130th Pennsylvania volunteers, who has just arrived at Fort Mifflin from the Alton Landing, on the John A. Warner, announces that the Grenada, of the 17th inst., has succeeded in effecting the release of over one hundred Union prisoners at Alton, N. O., and expects to have them at the John A. Warner, in charge of Major Sheek, will probably be at Alton's Landing to-morrow to capture them.

Defeat and Capture of Guerrillas. Jackson, Tenn., Oct. 23.—Gen. J. W. Halleck, General in Chief, U. S. A., dispatches in his own cavalry, under Major Mudd, ran into Haywood's partisan rangers, seven miles west of Brownsville, killing one captain, and capturing about forty prisoners, sixty horses and mules, and a wagon load of arms, completely breaking up the parties. I will send the prisoners to Alton. U. S. GRANT, Mj. Gen. Commanding.

NEWS FROM MISSISSIPPI SOURCES. Sabine City, Texas, Occupied by Federal Forces. Louisiana, Oct. 23.—The Grenada, of the 17th inst., contains a report that Sabine City, Texas, was occupied by the Federal forces last month. Gen. Boyle had issued an order that all officers, whether sick or well, and not on special duty, must join their regiments immediately. Morgan's forces, in two bands, were at Litchfield and Brownville last evening, stealing horses, &c.

The Difficulties with the Pennsylvania Coal Miners Assisted. Pottsville, Oct. 24.—The difficulties among the coal miners in Schuylkill county, in regard to the draft, have been adjusted. All is quiet, the men returning their work, which has generally been suspended for the last two days. THE ORIGINAL RAVELS.—Gabriel Ravel's original Ravel Troupe are now playing at the Holiday Street Theatre, Baltimore, which combination of pantomimists, rope-walkers, &c., are undoubtedly the only original Ravel troupe on the continent; and they will all commence an engagement at Ford's Tenth Street Theatre on Monday evening next.

THE OBTAINERS.—Those in want of hermetically sealed articles, such as fruits, jellies, vegetables, meats, etc., will find a very nice article at the Oshlem Brothers; also agents direct from Cuba, and a superior assortment of domestic goods, &c.

NAVAL ORDERS.—Captain Marchant, Lieut. Com. Potter, and Lieut. McCarty, have been ordered to the screw sloop Lakawanna. Lieut. Com. R. F. Bradford, and Lieut. McNeil have been ordered to the Junonia. Acting Assistant Paymaster Daniel Leach, jr., has been ordered to the Patapago.
