THE ARIZONA CITIZEN.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1870.

Local Intelligence.

Hon. D. H. Stikney is in the city.

A lot of recruits are due in Tucson.

Messrs. Lord & Williams received a quantity of new goods this week, and are constantly replenishing their store.

S. B. DeLong Esq., of the heavy mercantile house of Tully, Ochoa & DeLong, left for Apache Pass early this week.

Sylvester Mowry should be admitted into the firm of Duffield & Dooner, to the end that no rival one can usurp its place.

Judge Hayden lately arrived from Prescott. He is awaiting the arrival of trains laden with freight, after which he is off again, probably to New York for goods.

Lt. Lewis, of Crittenden, Dr. Hall, of Grant, J. A. Moore and family, of Maricopa Wells, W. J. Osborne, Reese Smith, E. Romano and Mr. Blanchard, of Tubac, J. D. Duncan, of San Pedro, have been in town the past week.

A. Pauly & Sons, forwarding and commission merchants, of New San Diego, have their card in the Citizen. We understand them to be men of sterling business qualities and to give prompt attention to all matters entrusted to them.

P. R. Brady has returned from his unfortunate (to him) political adventure. He endures his defeat with much better grace than many who supported him, as they likely realize that their abuse and foolish slanders paid poor dividends without the consolation of having been spoken kindly of by anybody.

Books, Stationery, etc., are to be had at wholesale and retail, at San Francisco prices, from W. B. Bancroft in New San Diego. Mr. B. is associated with the immense San Francisco house of A. L. Bancroft & Co., and has the best means for procuring every variety of goods in his line on the most favorable terms.

Thanksgiving day was observed by a few Tucsonites. The Quartermaster's institution was closed, and the military generally kept the day. Many fine dinners were devoured hereabouts, but we doubt if many were superior to that furnished to their boarders by Mr. & Mrs. Ading of the Shoo Fly restaurant.

E. N. Fish & Co. have been receiving goods for several weeks and have more on the way. Mr. Fish has just returned from San Francisco where he bought a large, complete stock of everything wanted in this market. This firm have a house at Florence, on the Gila, which is also being replenished with new goods and is always kept full at very low rates. Mr. Jos. Collingwood looks after that trade, and the firm deservedly do a large business.

James Grant Esq., the stage proprietor and mail contractor on several routes in Arizona, left for San Diego last Monday. He goes thence to San Bernardino and Wickenburg. By January, he intends to have the route between Tucson and Wickenburg well stocked, and will put the passengers and mails through on that route with dispatch and make close connections at Wickenburg for La Paz, Prescott and all other points to the north and west. All of which will be advantageous to the people and ought to be to Mr. Grant.

The source last Monday evening in honor of the reelection of Hon. Richard C. McCormick, was a gorgeous affair. The attendance was very large by ladies and gentlemen, and we were pleased to note the presence of a number of McCormick's political opponents. At 12 M. all repaired to Joseph Nengass' restaurant and partook of a square lunch, which was pleasantly closed by brief remarks of an appropriate character, by Mr. McCormick, in response to a pressing demand of the company. After the inner man was refreshed, the dancing was resumed and kept going lively and lovely until 3 a. m. when all retired, in good order, feeling that it was good to have been there.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—We regret to announce that on last Tuesday evening the steam sawmill of Lazard & Yerkes, twelve miles from Crittenden, in the Santa Rita mountains, was burned and the machinery is nearly all ruined. The lumber was all saved. Cause of the fire not reported if it be known.

This is a severe loss to these gentlemen, and one which we are sorry they are not better able to bear. The Indians have been particularly severe on them this year and here comes a heavy blow by fire.

Since the above was put in type, Mr. Lazard called upon us and stated that in addition to the foregoing loss, a new shingle machine which cost $1,000 and had just been set up, was wholly consumed. With his characteristic energy, Mr. Lazard is determined to at once proceed to rebuild the whole institution better than before.

Duffield & Dooner—New Firm.

This new and loving firm combine rare traits. It is but a few months since the senior pommelled the junior, and the latter brought the former into court which resulted in the then more notorious reprobate being put under $5,000 bonds to preserve the peace, and they had recently to be renewed for the public good. The junior in June last could not understand the policy which permitted the senior to run at large, and in this pusillanimous way cast harsh reflections upon the peace officers whom he now condemns for, in some small degree, restraining this bad man's liberty. When the junior was tolerated in the company of good men and not treated as a social nuisance, he was rough on the senior; but now that he is ostracised in social and business circles, he defends his senior.

The senior member of this harmonious firm has been U. S. Marshal and U. S. Special Mail Agent, and his character was so bad that he could hold neither. As an officer, he proved untrustworthy, as a citizen, our court records amply show his bad character. Thus he is on the record as a bad officer and unsafe member of the community, and it is notorious here and elsewhere that he is an untrue husband. These facts would not now be called up but for the billingsgate which appeared in last week's Arizona with his apparent approval if not authorship, and we may add that of his constant vilification of all who fail to serve him or do oppose him. Because men colored like his own wife and offspring, after centuries of oppression, have been permitted to vote and enjoy some human rights, he attempts to heap odium upon them and the laws that enfranchise them, and has none but the vilest epithets for both. It has been notorious in this community that he was master of whom he pleased to be; it is not so now. Though indicted for a flagrant felony committed in open court, and under heavy bonds to keep the peace, we should not allude to either if he'd quiet down and deport himself with tolerable propriety.

Bad as is the senior member of the firm, the junior has an ambition without the ability to be worse. Because we stated two weeks since a truth about the senior's public inconsistency and degradation, the junior last week files to his defence with a string of purely malicious, ill-bred, ribald and rancorous epithets against himself. While he has nothing but such stuff to assail us with, we have abundance of truth that will consign him—or what very little remains of him—to infamous obscurity. He is welcome to his weapons, and we shall use our own when we choose.

So far as indirect threats of violence are concerned, we say once for all they have no terrors for us from such a source or sources.

We give the above account of the firm of Duffield & Dooner to show some facts—a few of which are that even Duffield reinforced by Dooner can neither rule nor dictate the rule of this community; that when one or both so badly misbehave as citizens as they have done recently, and we deem it fit to notice them in the Arizona Citizen, it will be done without the least fear of the consequences.

Military Expedition Returned.

Lts. Cushing and Bourke, of the 3d Cavalry, with 60 men, left Tucson Oct. 1 for a general scout after hostile Indians, and returned early this week. The expedition made an extended search up and down the Gila about 200 miles, passed over into the Mogollon range, into the Pinal mts., on the San Pedro, and divers other places. In the mountains between here and Grant, early in the scout, a camp of Indians was struck, two killed and property destroyed. Of the command, two men were wounded. In all the long, wearisome and energetic scout, no other hostile Indians were discovered. Lt. Cushing visited the place said to be selected by Cachise, but he had gone to the Rio Grande, with, however, an avowed intention to return soon.

The Navajoes have come down and are making war on the Apaches, which accounts for Lt. C. not meeting more of them.

It is Lieut. Cushing's purpose to send out, either under his own or Lt. Bourke's charge, in a few days, a party of thirty men on a scout to pass off to the east and south to the Mexican border and thence westward via the Sonoita and Santa Cruz settlements, and thoroughly scour the Indian haunts. After that is completed, he purposes a campaign in the Pinal Mts.

Lieuts. Cushing and Bourke, as well as their men, have performed an almost unprecedented amount of campaign service this year, and they have the good wishes and thanks of everybody in Arizona. Our space forbids any further notice of them and their deeds in this paper.

SMITH & CRAIGUE, of New San Diego, advertise, in our paper, fine wines, liquors and cigars in lots to suit traders. They deal uprightly and our dealers may go further to buy and fare worse.

NOTABLE CALLS.

On the 20th instant the Fathers of the Church here made a formal call upon Governor McCormick at his residence. They expressed themselves satisfied with his public acts and highly gratified with his re-election to a position he had filled so creditably to all parties concerned.

Later in the day, the following notable gentleman of Spanish extraction made a call collectively:

Dons F. S. Leon, F. Ruellas, Juan Elias, F. Romero, L. Yguerra, Conelio Elias, P. Ochoa, L. Acedo, Gabriel Angula, L. Renterios, E. Carrillo, F. Castro, J. Castro, M. Y. Elias, G. Telles, N. Telles and J. Telles.

After an exchange of the usual civilities, this influential and highly respectable delegation formally stated the objects of their visit to be these: 1st. To congratulate Mr. McCormick upon his re-election, and to express their gratitude to and continued confidence in him. 2d. To ask his influence for public schools; and third, to bring about a purchase of grain by the military authorities in open market instead of by the contract system.

The interview was extended, cordial and creditable to all parties participant. It shows a keen and intelligent interest to be manifested in public affairs by the Mexican element which forms so large a share of our population of Southern Arizona.

EUROPEAN affairs appear to be getting more and more complicated, and instead of peace rumors we have now those of a general European war.

Russia and Prussia will probably stand together, and England, France, Austria and some other powers may combine. England is surely taking warlike steps; but whether with the Alabama claims hanging over her unsettled and the prostration that would fall upon her industrial and commercial interests in the event of war will not deter her from such an extreme step, where the gain will be all out of proportion to the sacrifice, remains to be developed. Should a general European war ensue, it will lead to a rich harvest for all leading industries in the United States, and fully restore our mercantile marine. This will go a long way to drown our grief over the war if it come.

F. MARGAILLAN, DECEASED.—Some scraps of information about this deceased person have been placed in our possession, from which we gather that he died Nov. 12, after a few days' illness at Sweetwater near Sacaton. He left seven $20-gold pieces, and a note of $200 due him by a party whose name appears to be P. Julietier, and dated Nevada, March 6, 1863; also a mare and saddle. After his debts were paid, we understand $100 remained and is the hands of Frank Larkin, who, upon proper application, is ready to pay it over to the heirs of the deceased. He is said to have relatives in Calaveras County, Cal.

From a passport dated Oct. 5, 1855, we learn that he left France in that year; that at that time he was thirty years old, and that his destination was California.

HON. RICHARD C. MCCORMICK took his departure for Washington last Wednesday. He goes overland via Santa Fe, and was accompanied from here by an escort of ten men. A large number of his friends called to pay their respects just prior to his departure, and a delegation of the prominent citizens went out several miles to see him fairly under way on his long and tedious journey. He was warmly welcomed back in September, handsomely treated by the electors on Nov. 8, and departed with the kindest wishes and hopes of a very large majority of the citizens of Arizona.

U. S. SPECIAL MAIL AGENT Dawley was in San Francisco Nov. 12.

SYLVESTER Mowry cast a fraudulent vote at Prescott.

JUDGE BRATTON reached here this week with his teams loaded from Arizona City. His family, who attended him down, remained.

IMPROVEMENTS in progress in Tucson are very numerous and substantial. The eastern and southern portions of the city are covered with adobe yards, and new buildings at some stage of advancement may be seen upon every side. It has been nearly so for several months, but has increased largely within the past six weeks. Tucson has almost doubled its population within a year, and still the people come and improve the place.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNOR.—November 21, William Dumont, of Adamsville, Notary Public; Nov. 23, Michael Meagher, Commissioner of Deeds, to reside in San Francisco; Nov. 24, John H. Comer, Commissioner of Deeds, to reside in New York City. Nov. 24, A. C. Haskell, Notary Public for Mohave County.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Notice to the Public.

As I am determined to leave for New Mexico in a few days I will say to the Merchants of Tucson that I have on hand a considerable lot of Coffee, Whisky, Soap and Sugar, which I will sell VERY LOW for Cash to close out my stock.
