LOCAL MATTERS.

Territory vs. J. R. Mackey, et al.

The examination of the cases of the Territory of Arizona vs. J. R. Mackey for assault with intent to commit murder, and same against Milton McDowell as accessory to said crime, in shooting and wounding one T. R. Knox at Camp Grant, September 19, 1875, were heard before Justice Neugass on October 2. District Attorney Goodrich appeared for the people, Hugh Farley for McDowell, and D. R. Iden for J.
R. Mackey. William A. Wall and Lewis Elliott were witnesses. After testimony and arguments of counsel were heard, Justice Neugass made this record in the case of McDowell: "In this case, there being no sufficient cause to believe the defendant guilty of the offense as charged in the complaint, the court orders that he be discharged."

In the case of Mackey, this record was made: The case having been under adjudication, and it appearing to the court that the defendant acted in the necessary defense of his person; that T. R. Knox, the wounded party, acted in a riotous and violent manner and was the assailant on several occasions as is stated in the evidence; that although it is shown that Knox was not armed, but his action and assault made upon defendant were of such a character as to excite the fears of the defendant as a reasonable man; that the right to defend one's person is founded in necessity, and the evidence in this case does clearly show that Knox being a muscular man and a "fendat no match for him; that to excite the fears of the defendant, especially after Knox, once having left the room and coming back again aggravating towards the defendant in a threatening and violent manner; that the defendant made use of deadly weapons without showing any malice, or abandoned and malignant heart, and only as a necessity; that in taking all the circumstances together, and it appearing to the court that the defendant acted justifiably, it is ordered by the court that the defendant be discharged.

Supervisors' Proceedings.

The Pima county Supervisors met in regular quarterly session on Monday, the fourth instant. Present Supervisors Fish and DeLong, and Clerk Carpenter. Minutes of preceding meeting read and approved.
The quarterly report of the county treasurer was examined and found correct. It was ordered that the clerk have printed for use of the treasurer fifty blank accounts current and fifty quarterly statements.
The Clerk was ordered to post three notices in conspicuous places, stating that sealed proposals, to be received until ten o'clock a. m. to-morrow, when they would be opened, for repairing the bridge seven miles below town on the Yuma road—information of requirements to be had of Supervisor Fish.
Accounts were then allowed, viz: On general fund amounting to $287.12 and on contingent fund $31.63, when Board adjournd until to-morrow at ten a. m.
Tuesday, October 5—Board met as per adjournment with all members present.
Yesterday's minutes were read and approved.
Bid of F. H. Goodwin for repairing bridge west of Tucson, accepted and warrant for $55 ordered drawn on the road fund in his favor, to be delivered on completion of work as per requirement.
It was ordered that the Chairman of the Board be instructed to purchase the Tumacacori and Catalbas land grants for the county of Pima, this day offered for sale by the Sheriff of this county, to satisfy taxes levied on said grants, and in pursuance thereof the purchase was made at $400.75 and proper settlement made thereof. There being no further business, the Board adjourned without day.

The Village Council met last Monday evening and after auditing small accounts, it was ordered that any person desiring to occupy a lot belonging to the corporation, might do so and have a clear deed to the same for $10, provided such party would build a house thereon worth $100 and be an actual resident on the premises. It was also ordered that steps be taken to im- prove the streets leading in and out of town on the south. The work to be done will very likely be let by contract, notice of which will be given so that bids can be prepared.

On the twentieth ultimo, Jenks' train left Yuma, and on the twenty-ninth, Gold- berg's, both with desks and furniture for the new public school-house. Jenks ought to be here very soon and Goldberg's in about ten days. On Thursday a train of Tully, Ochoa & Co. arrived from McDowell with government freight for Camp Lewell.

THE PAGOAGOS brought about five thou- sand pounds salt to Tucson yesterday. E. N. Fish & Co. bought about one thousand pounds. D. Velasco buys and grinds fine a great deal of this salt, and puts it up in convenient packages for table use.

MR. ARTHUR BORTON having returned from the Santa Rita mines, has entered into partnership with A. E. Johnston, sad- dler, harness maker and upholsterer. The latter branch he will make a specialty. See advertisement.

PETER KITCHEN recently went to the San Carlos reservation on business, and he is enthusiastic over Agent Clum's management of the Indians, and the grand opportunity there to make large and productive farms. In fact, he said he could find but one fault and that was probably a merit, viz: There was no whisky on the reservation, and that was a lack not to his taste. In fact, he says, you know when a man is accustomed to sip of the genial stuff at times, it is hard to be wholly deprived of it for even a few days." Can't somebody prefer a charge against Agent Clum on this score?

JAMES A. MOORE, Esq., of the Tucson and Yuma stage line came in town yesterday by private conveyance. He has a gang of men improving and somewhat shortening the road between Desert Station and Florence, and thinks he'll have it ready for use in a week. He has recently made decided improvements over the whole line, and intends to keep doing so.
He will start westward to-day.

CAPT. JEFFORDS brought in a fine specimen of quartz nicely mixed with gold, and if he ever gets it back again, he'll be in good luck. We'll have that rock fixed up soon so he can't identify it.

GOV. SAFFORD returned on Thursday from a prospecting tour in the Pinal mountains. In a few days he will go to San Carlos for the purpose elsewhere stated.

WEATHER nice and mostly clear this week. Very warm yesterday for the season.

Santa Rita Placer Mines.

SMITH DIGGINGS, PINA COUNTY, ARIZONA,
October 3, 1875. ED. CITIZEN: This being the Lord's day and there being no chance of going to any prayer meeting to kill time, I thought I would kill a little left on hand,—after doing the week's washing and mending, miner fashion—by giving you a few notes of passing events in this part of the mineral vineyard.

The weather is splendid. Mornings and evenings rather cool, making a coat quite comfortable and putting one in mind of the old fashioned Fall weather in America. Most of the miners in this neighborhood are hard at work, some stripping ground and preparing for the winter rains; others packing dirt on animals to the water and rocking. Most every one who works, is making good wages. There is permanent water on Greater, Sucker and Mack's gulches. Sucker gulch is getting quite thickly settled. There are eight or nine different camps on it.
New parties are coming in every week. Mr. Herman Welisch is here building a house near Raskville, (where everything is beautifully green, in which he proposes to open a store and accommodate the public with the necessaries of life at cheap rates.

The inevitable James Speedy arrived in the diggings to-day, with a stock of goods and provisions to accommodate the hungry and thirsty, and will sell cheaper than anyone. James is a mighty "Rusler" and has lots of friends among the miners. The only fault to be found with him is that he don't bet on the "Grey Eagle." But he will succeed for a that, if he keeps that express going and brings the boys their CITIZEN and letters regularly.

We had a miner's meeting yesterday (at Mr. Steele's store), to settle a dispute about a mining claim. I here with send you a copy of the proceedings.

Mr. Fred. G. Hughes is rushing around furiously with a petition against the removal of Judge Dunne.
Of course many have signed it here, without any idea of the merits of the case.

We are sadly in need of a justice of the peace here, as there are disputes arising about claims, and other difficulties that cannot be settled by miners' meetings. There is not one here authorized to administer an oath.
Would it not be a good idea for the Governor to appoint some one to act as justice of the peace for this district?

There is a general meeting of the miners of this district called to assemble on the 15th of this month, to revise and correct the existing laws and make such new ones as may appear necessary.

Following are the proceedings of the meeting spoken of in the above letter.
It was held at Greater Creek, October 2, 1875, to regulate a dispute in regard to a placer claim, between Hugh Kelley and Chas. Davis:

On motion, Fred. G. Hughes was appointed president and M. McKenna secretary of the meeting. The meeting was then called to order. On motion, a jury of six men were appointed by the president to hear and adjudicate the case viz: George Warren, Joseph Herring, Thos. McPherson, Edward Miller, Joseph Plummer and D. Caughlin. The jury after hearing and considering the evidence, decided that Hugh was a true partner and entitled to one-fourth of the ground. On motion a committee of three were appointed to divide the ground in this dispute, after which the meeting adjourned.

MARY SAFFORD-BLAKE, in a letter from Salt Lake, says: "I met with a woman physician here who is doing a thriving practice. The specialty here in medical practice has always been entrusted to women. Now a class of twenty-five Mormon girls are studying medicine, preparatory to a more complete course."

LETTER FROM COL. HODGE. Old Ruins—Rich Land—Large Pro- ducts—Telegraph Building.

OLD CAMP GOODWIN, October 3, 1875.
ED. CITIZEN: I have been much interested in the old ruins which are scattered so freely up and down the valley of Pueblo Viejo, a full description of which would fill a volume.
A thorough examination of the ruins left by the numerous, pre-historic race who in former times occupied and tilled the rich lands of all the valleys and plains of Arizona, should be made by and under the authority of the government, or by some well known historical society, before all of their old works are obliterated by the plow of the husbandman. A complete examination, I am satisfied would reveal much of general interest and perhaps hieroglyphics, or memorial stones would be found, which would lead to the discovery of the race of people (and their times) who have left so many monuments of industry, and partial civilization. Ruins of houses, fortifications and pueblos, are scattered almost continuously for a distance of nearly forty miles on both sides of the river. The most extensive are those on a slightly elevated mesa just above Mr. A. Anson's, over thirty-five miles above this old post, and at Mr. Lewis', five miles further up, both on the south side of the river. Those near Mr. Munson's, are several miles in extent, and their present appearance show a former large and well built town of stone and adobe. Those near Mr. Lewis' cover twenty or more acres of land on a mesa some twenty or thirty feet above the river bottom. These ruins are almost wholly of stone, and their amount indicates large houses supported in the center by cedar posts, a few of which are yet standing. The ancient town was supplied by water from tanks or fountains on the mesa near by, some of which were circular in form and others nearly square. I made a careful examination of them and found one square one to be about six feet deep below the surface of the surrounding ground and 200 feet square. The land on the river bottom here is very rich, like the whole valley, and was irrigated by the ancient inhabitants by an immense acequia which I discovered, some 25 feet in width and which was cut through a point of the mesa on the northeast. Mr. Lewis has a fine improvement, all made the present year. He has already husked over 12, 000 pounds of corn planted in March last, and has several times that amount yet to gather. He has five acres of alfalfa, which looks well, a fine garden, lots of vegetables which he has been marketing at Camp Bowie for some time past. His squashes, melons, onions, pumpkins, etc., are enormous in growth and good in quality. One squash measured six feet in circumfer-ence and another over three feet in length. Hundreds of others of like size are growing. I tried to raise some of the largest from the ground, but could not do it. Mr. Lewis is the last settler up the valley towards the mouth of the canyon, and McWilliams here at old Camp Goodwin the lowest one down. McWilliams has the largest and best vegetable farm in the valley and has supplied a large amount of potatoes, cabbage, melons, onions, etc., at the Posts of Camp Grant and San Carlos, and has a large amount on hand.

A few words respecting the telegraph line will be of interest. I visited the camp of the Camp Apache division last Friday and Saturday. The camp is on the north side of the Gila, fifteen miles below here. The whole line from Tucson to Camp Apache, is under the charge of Lieut. Philip Reade, who is now at Santa Fe making arrangements to complete the line to that point. The Camp Apache division is under the charge of Sergeant E. W.
Boutelle who has thirty men. This division, 135 miles in length, extends from Camp Grant to Camp Apache, and was commenced August 2. Forty miles of this division is finished and the poles set for forty miles more.
Seventy miles of this route is over lofty, rocky mountains, requiring great energy and perseverance in the work in which Sergeant Boutelle has proved himself capable. Much time has been lost by want of material, and by being compelled to move the poles from the line of delivery—in many instances for over eight miles. If no more hindrances occur, this division will be finished by November 1. The men are in good spirits and well pleased with each other and the officer in charge.
H. C. HODGE.

EARLY Monday, Hon. S. R. DeLong and Capt. T. J. Jeffords arrived from Apache Pass, and started back on Thursday; the former came on county business and the latter on that connected with his Indian agency. The Captain informs us that everything is going on smoothly with his Indians. A few weeks ago, some Hot Springs Indians stole a lot of horses on and near to the Rio Grande, and drove thirteen of them to his reserve. On being informed of the fact, he at once instituted search, found and turned over ten, and traded the other three towards New Mexico, overtook, captured and delivered them to the party sent for them. We believe in every instance in which he has brought to his reserve, that he has succeeded in recapturing the same and delivering it to the claimants. He says nearly 200 Coyotero Apaches have lately come to his reservation, and that they speak well of Agent Clum but not of Morford. Everyone from that section of Arizona, is decided in his approbation of Agent Clum and the opposite of Morford, and say an excellent act was done in Morford's removal from all authority over the Apaches.

Significant.

It will be remembered that when the panic overtook the builders of the Texas and Pacific railway in 1873, the "California and Texas Construction Company" was forced to suspend, and the creditors about a year later accepted a settlement on the basis of not running one year, eighteen months or two years, endorsed by Col. Thos. A.
Scott and Matthew Baird. The enemies of Col. Scott's great enterprise at that time filled the press with malicious attacks, and it was asserted that nothing was to be looked for but "hopeless bankruptcy" on the part of those connected with the Texas and Pacific Company, etc., etc. However, the company went forward, working manfully, arranging its financial affairs, and proceeding as fast as practicable with its operations in Texas.
The recently published annual report to the stockholders exhibited a most encouraging state of affairs for the road already being operated in Texas, and a degree of progress in construction that is really extraordinary when the adverse circumstances under which the company was compelled to labor are considered. And now we have the gratifying announcement that the notes of the Construction Company are being paid on presentation in Philadelphia. The following notice is clipped from The Philadelphia Press of September 21:

NOTICE.—The undersigned, desiring to place all parties holding the notes of the California and Texas Railway construction Company with our joint names endorsed thereon in possession of the amounts of money that would be due them with interest to date of presentation, will purchase said notes on and after this date at par, less rebate of interest until maturity, upon presentation of the same with collateral belonging thereto, to R. D. Barclay, No. 233 South Fourth street, Philadelphia. These notes mature at various dates up to April 13, 1876.

MATTHEW BAIRD,
THOMAS A. SCOTT.

This notice of payment in advance of the time when the notes fall due, is significant of the fact that the builders of the Texas and Pacific are no longer embarrassed by the effects of the panic, and that they are clearing the way to the prosecution of their great work with renewed zeal.—[San Diego Union, October 1.

New Mexico Items.

We gather the following from The Herald of September 26: Receipts from mills last week, 10, 123.28.
Five teams, each hauling a due proportion of immigrants passed through town, westward bound on Tuesday.
Col. R. B. Willson received two wagon loads of flour spar from a lead on the Mimbres (G. Perault's) which he pronounces to be of better quality than any he has yet tried.
Lieut. Reade, R. H. Howe, and S.
E. Patten arrived on Thursday. Lieut.
Reade is charged with the building of the telegraph line from San Diego, California, via Silver City, New Mexico, to Santa Fe. He will visit Mesilla and Las Cruces. Mr. Howe, accompanied by Mr. Patton, will view the new or North Star road leading hence to Socorro.

Col. J. F. Bennett has proposed to Lieut. Reade to build a telegraph office and necessary rooms for the accommodation of operators, and allow of their use by the government, rent free.
Chandler Robbins, boundary surveyor, says he did not state that Fort Defiance is exactly west of Santa Fe, but did give the location of Fort Defiance with reference to the boundary line, viz: Eighty-six miles south of the Colorado line, and two miles west of the New Mexico line.

On Thursday evening last, Silver City was again visited by another flood which exceeded in volume any of the previous ones of the season, and considerable damage was done to property. The Herald gives a lively description of the storm and its effects and says: "The water of the several streets converged on Spring street and fell into the gulch with a deafening roar thence south with a whirl and a bound, with race horse speed into the valley south of the mills and furnaces."

We notice in THE ARIZONA CITI-ZEN a letter of Agent Clum of the San Carlos reservation, which stoutly defends his action in regard to the management of Indians under his charge and the removal of Camp Apache Indians. We are not sufficiently informed to speak advisedly on the subject, but are inclined from the tenor of Clum's letter, to believe that he is acting for the benefit of all concerned.
