LOCAL MATTERS.

Boys will be boys, and the only trouble is that they will be awful rough boys at times. If there is any one thing more aggravating than another to the average street boy in Tucson, it is to see a poor jackass unoccupied. As long as the jack will keep an unreasonably heavy load of wood on his back the boys will let him alone; but let the former dump his load of wood and stray down the street in quest of a stray bit of hay or brown paper or broken glass or scrap iron or whatever may turn up in the shape of lunch, and the street-rob is immediately after him for a frolic. The other day we saw 27 small boys discussing one poor little jack. They had tied a leather thong around his neck and fastened the other end of the thong to a box on the ground in the rear. In this box and stopping over on the sides and holding back on the tail-end were about 15 of the small boys; ranged along in procession on the jack's back were some 20 more of the small boys; perched on his ears were 5 or 6 s. b's., to each ear; hanging to the jack's shaggy sides and tail were a score more s. b's., and come to think of it there must have been over 27 boys originally or else the returns are wrong somewhere. Anyhow, there they were thicker than office candidates yelling and kicking, and the only thing lacking was a little spirit on the part of the jack. If he had known enough to turn his hind feet into returning boards and thrown out all the boys in the box, and had then lain down and rolled over on the balance of his tormentors, we should have been quite contented.

At the Presbyterian Church rooms last Sunday morning, the Rev. Mr. Anderson preached a rather more than usually interesting sermon from the first part of the second verse of the 5th chapter of Isaiah,—"For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground." The minister considered "the root, the ground and the effect of the root upon the ground." Christ is likened elsewhere to the vine; he is not only the vine but the root whence the life, sap and vigor of the whole growth springs. The character of the surroundings of the nativity and life of the Savior bear witness to his extraneous production, and in the speaker's mind is an evidence of his divinity. The ground was verily a dry ground, and Christ was a vigorous and life instilling root. In the desert, the presence of a root stays and retains the shifting sands. The speaker closed with an earnest exhortation to his hearers to make sure that they were rooted and grounded in the great source of all spiritual life.

The singing by the choir improves every Sunday. Before the service last Sabbath, a member of the choir sang the sacred air, "Fly like a bird," and it was beautifully rendered.

There is evident disposition on the part of the choir to spare no pains in making the musical part of the service attractive. Hereafter the bible-class will be held in the evening.

It commenced raining again on the night of February 21, rained at intervals throughout Sunday and the next night, and on Monday, the 26th, it poured down most of the day. On Tuesday the storm broke up in slight and far-between sprinklings and on Tuesday evening the whole performance was brought to a close by one of the finest lunar rainbows, ever produced on this or any other planet. The colors of the bow were very brilliant and the effect was grand in the extreme. Since the storm, the adjacent mountain peaks are covered with snow, and the snow is still on the ground. Mr. C. H. Meyer was telling us about a remarkable rain here some 12 years ago. On the 22d day of February 1865, the rain commenced; it continued steadily from that time until the night of the 26th, when the rain changed to snow. The snow came down in immense flakes and on the morning of the 27th the ground was covered with snow slush to the depth of 8 or 10 inches.

DEPUTY POSTMASTER DRAKE lately received a large consignment of postage stamps of all denominations, and stamped letter and newspaper envelopes and will sell them at cost to close out the lot—that is, he will sell a one-cent stamp for one cent and two three-cent stamps for six cents, etc. But under no circumstances will he hereafter "shake" for the stamps. He says it's wrong and that he always loses. If you have any particular grudge against the P. M., you can derive considerable comfort by buying only one one-cent stamp at a time. If you could get up a club, say of a dozen, and each one spend one dollar per day on the above plan, you could make it pretty lively for the postmaster. We only throw out the suggestion.

Mr. HENRY E. LACY expects to leave Tucson by next Monday's stage for a visit of several months to his home in England and on the way visit a number of the leading cities of the United States and Canada. He came to this country from England in 1865, and has spent the years since in Arizona, and by industry and prudent economy has deservedly prospered. He has also acquired the respect and confidence of the people among whom he has lived and transacted business, and they will join with us in wishing him a pleasant and safe journey, and will welcome him back, as it is his intention to return before the end of this year.

MR. W. A. LANGLEY of the Tucson Assay office, left yesterday for Mohave county, intending to locate permanently at the McCracken mine. Mr. Langley is a first class citizen and a good man, and we are sorry to lose him.

On March 2, per M. G. Samanago's train were shipped for San Francisco 7000 pounds of ore. This ore came from the Gigas mines and is the second shipment made. The same train took out 12,000 pounds of wool.

MR. E. N. FISH is thoroughly overhauling and greatly improving his steam flouring mill in Tucson. George Cottrell, one of the best machinists, is doing the work, hence it will be perfectly done.

J. C. LOSS & BRO. of the Elliot House Florence, want a good hotel cook one that can cook to order, and will pay good wages to such an one.

On February 15, a one-sixth interest in the Alta mine, French district, was transferred by James Fea to Samuel Hughes. Consideration $300.

Court Session.

On Monday, the 26th, in the U. S. district court, case of government vs. Lovejoy, on first and third indictments was continued for the term by consent of both sides.

Same day, in Territorial district court, special venire for jury was issued and case of Territory vs. McDermodt came on for trial. This was the case of the assault by W. A. McDermodt upon H. B. Summers. Jury retired and acquitted defendant.

Permission was granted to A. C. Benedict to bring suit against the present occupant of the Territorial Auditor's office.

On the 27th, case of Territory vs. Jesus Portillo was tried; defendant found guilty, and March 2 set for judgment. On March 24, defendant was sentenced to two years in Territorial prison.

Cases of County of Pima vs. the Tres Alamos and Buena Vista land grants, came up and upon motion of the district attorney for judgment, taken under advisement. On March 24, judgment was rendered for plaintiff.

On March 2, in Gomez vs. Gomez, divorce was granted and property awarded plaintiff and children.

Judgment on verdict under second indictment in Lovejoy case will be pronounced this (Saturday) morning.

MAJOR J. H. LOHD was lately the recipient of a present in the shape of a drinking glass with musical attachment. You fill the glass with liquid and lift it to your lips and as the contents meander down your throat, the music-box on the other end of the glass plays a lively tune. If you fill the glass with water the music plays "Hold the Fort," &c., if you fill it with the ruby, the accompaniment is "Think of your head in the morning," &c. But occasionally the tunes get mixed, and the ruby gets away with "Hold the Fort."

Public Nuisances.

As we have been requested to publish in full that portion of the report of the late grand jury bearing upon public nuisances, we give the same herewith.

The grand jury, through their committee, report: We have made a careful inspection of the various localities in the village of Tucson and find that there are still a number of wells in open and vacant lots, which remain uncovered, and some that are so carelessly secured that they are nothing more or less than man-traps. We recommend that the city authorities be advised of this state of facts and of the importance of compelling the owners or claimants of these wells to at once fill them up or secure them so as render them entirely safe to the public.

We further report that the ditch or canal passing along the western side of the village of Tucson is getting daily and hourly a greater nuisance, and is now a regular slime ditch of disease; much of the time it is allowed to remain almost dry or void of running water, and the result is pools of stagnant water and the accumulation of rotten and decayed vegetable matter and soap-suds, rendering the vicinity unwholesome, and, together with the general filth which is thrown off by the washing of clothes, &c., in the acquia, and lodges in the same, not only endangers the health of the whole village but is likely to be the cause of contagious diseases and pests. We therefore recommend that the washing of clothes should be confined to the lower part of the ditch, below the village, that the filth may not have to pass through the whole length of the town, and that proper measures be taken to secure a sufficient quantity of running water in said ditch, so as to carry off all debris and all rotten and decayed vegetable and other matter, and that the ditch be cleaned at least once a month during the warm season.

We also submit that nearly all the bridges crossing the ditch are too low, and consequently all rubbish, filth, &c., will be stopped running down the stream or lodged in front or under the bridges, and we recommend that the street or road commissioner raise the same or require the proper parties to do so.

We further submit that as hot weather is approaching, the precaution be taken, on sanitary grounds, of requiring all private corrals to be cleaned once a week and the rubbish removed to a reasonable distance from the settled part of the village.

THE Presidential agony is over and Hayes and Wheeler are declared elected President and Vice President by proceedings under an act of Congress passed with unusual unanimity by both political parties. Inauguration will undoubtedly take place next Monday. It is understood the Republicans of Tucson will this evening or next Monday, burn some powder and otherwise celebrate their victory.

Cabinet Gossip.

A Washington telegram of February 20, gives us the following: There is a movement on foot here to secure a representation of the Pacific slope in Hayes' Cabinet. It is claimed that the Secretary of the Interior should be taken from that section of the country, as the principal duties of the office relate to Indian affairs and to public lands, and that the large and growing region west of the Rocky Mountains may justly claim such representation under the existing circumstances. R. C. McCormick, among others, is named in the connection. A gentleman who has more than ordinary facilities for judging of the subject makes up the following slate: Secretary of State, Wm. Evarts of New York; Secretary of the Treasury, John Sherman of Ohio; Secretary of War, General Logan of Illinois; Secretary of the Navy, Eugene Hale of Maine; Attorney-General, G. W. McCree of Iowa; Postmaster-General, John Hancock of Texas; Secretary of the Interior, R. C. McCormick of the Pacific slope. If J. Sherman does not take charge of the Treasury, it will be because he comes from the same State with the President. In that case it is thought the Secretary will be taken from Pennsylvania. Bristow, who it was supposed would be chosen for this position, prefers to fill the vacancy to be created by the resignation of Judge Davis in the Supreme Court. Hale is the son-in-law of Z. Chandler.

Damages claimed.

The San Francisco Post, of February 16, has this item: W. F. Hamilton and P. F. Nongues have filed a complaint in the Fourth District Court against B. W. Reagan to recover $75,000 for alleged breach of contract. It is set forth in complaint that on the 25th of November, 1876, an agreement was entered into between the parties, by which the plaintiffs were to proceed to the Silver King mine, Pinal county, Arizona, for the purpose of examining it, and, if things were found satisfactory, they were to pay the defendant $300,000 for his one-half interest in the mine, and also another sum, to be agreed upon, for the interest of Charles G. Mason. The plaintiffs made the examination accordingly, and had to visit the mine twice for the purpose, paying out large sums of money for traveling expenses, fees of experts and assayers, maps, surveys and otherwise. As soon as possible they notified the defendant that they had completed the examination and were satisfied with the mine. They then, in accordance with the agreement, demanded from the defendant a bond on the mine, but he refused to give it, and has ever since repudiated the contract. In consequence of this refusal they claim that they have sustained damages to the extent mentioned in the complaint.
