

William Sanborn of Michigan has been confirmed by the U. S. Senate as Secretary of Arizona, Vice Coles Bashford resigned.

We have received a memorial card, and invitation to attend the dedication of the "American Union Memorial Case" at Buffalo, N. Y., on the 12th of Feb. 1876, being the 67th Anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

In the Citizen of the 19th, we find the proceedings of the District Court commencing Feb. 14th in Tucson, Judge French presiding.

E. F. Dunne and Murat Masterson were admitted to practice, and John W. Leonard's name added as Attorney for Plaintiff in a civil suit.

On the 18th of Feb. General Kautz issued an order directing Lieut. W. L. Pitcher who was then at these Headquarters to proceed to Fort Yuma, Cal. to take charge of and conduct to their proper stations the recruits for companies C, D, E, G, I and K. 8th Infantry. A. A. Surgeon, O. J. Eddy, will accompany the recruits as medical officer.

QUICK TIME.—Letters by mail reached here yesterday morning only two days and eighteen hours from Tucson, and on Wednesday morning the 23rd, letters were received from Oakland, Cal. by A. and N. M. Express Co. mailed at 4 p. m. on the 17th making the time in five days, and about fourteen hours. This is what we call progress, both Stage Companies are doing all they can to make quick-time and render their patrons comfortable on the way.

THE telegraph line has been out of order the greater part of the week, which with the irregularity of the mails between Los Angeles and San Diego from which latter point we receive our dispatches from California and the East, has thrown us back in our telegraphic reports until in some instances the Los Angeles papers have anticipated the news by bringing it here ahead of the wire.

THE late storms in California have interfered, not only with the prompt arrival of the mails in that state, but also in Arizona where the weather has been unusually dry during the winter months. The non-arrival of the San Francisco mails for five days at a time at Los Angeles, has of course kept our backs, and on one occasion the Mohave river was up so as to detain the Arizona mail some twenty eight hours. Everything seems to have loosened up now, however, and we may expect more regularity in the receipt of mail matter. To cap the climax, just as the mails were most irregular the telegraph wire broke down and was out of fix for several days so that we began to fear we were about to relapse into total darkness, so far as news was concerned except what was manufactured here at home, and not even a knock down occurred in the streets or saloons to relieve our anxiety during the whole time.

MOHAVE ITEMS, of Feb. 19th.—The mill is still running night and day, two large wagons are kept busy bringing ore from the Keystone and a large quantity is being furnished from other mines.

W. B. Bidmore of Hackberry is in town. He thinks there will be over a thousand tons of ore on the dumps of the mines of that camp by the 1st of April.

The only thing that now delays the starting of the mill at Hackberry is the non-arrival of chemicals from San Francisco.

A petition is in circulation asking for a P. O. at Hackberry.

Capt. Hardy is in town, having removed his Angora goats across the mountain to the toll-gate.

Messrs. Comstock and Potts recently returned from Owen District, and report the Greenwood mill still running night and day on McCracken ore.

Weather simply perfect.

WELL RECOMMENDED.—The two gentlemen mentioned having arrived in Prescott and having signified an intention to remain, it gives us pleasure to lay before our readers the estimation in which they are held in the land from whence they came. We clip the following resolutions from the San Diego World of Feb. 5th:

Whereas: Mr. Murat Masterson has been engaged in the practice of the law at this bar for some time and is now about to depart to the Territory of Arizona to engage in the same business, and whereas in him we have ever found an able and efficient member of the profession and a kind and courteous gentleman, therefore resolved:

That in the departure of Mr. Masterson the San Diego Bar loses an able member and the members of the profession a pleasant and congenial companion:

That we commend him generally to all whom he may meet, and especially ask that our professional brethren extend to him the favors and courtesies due to a gentleman and a good lawyer.

W. T. McNEALY, Chairman. D. C. REED, Secretary.

The Union of the same date has this to say:

Murat Masterson, Esq., leaves San Diego this morning for Tucson, Arizona, where he proposes to enter upon the practice of the law. During Mr. Masterson's residence in this city he has gained the cordial esteem of all with whom he has come in contact. The tribute to his worth as a lawyer and a man recently rendered by the Bar of San Diego was a merited compliment. We repeat the sentiments of the community in wishing him all success in his new field of labor.

Mr. W. J. Hunsaker, son of our esteemed Sheriff, is off for Arizona to-day in company with Mr. Murat Masterson. Mr. Hunsaker is the worthy son of a worthy sire—a young man of talent and character, and who is sure to make his mark. "Will" carries with him the hearty good wishes of old and young in San Diego.

FROM WALNUT GROVE

WALNUT GROVE, Feb. 16, 1876. E. G. Peck, of the Peck mine, has purchased one of T. Lamberson's ranches, and Mr. Keyes, his brother-in-law, will move on to it as soon as possible. He and his family will be heartily welcomed by the people of the Grove.

Mr. Alexander has been looking out a road from the Peck mine to this place, and says a good wagon road can be made at small cost, but a pack-trail will have to answer present purposes.

Lamberson's mill is now running day and night grinding corn.

Mr. A. W. Callen has established his headquarters here, and is prospecting and locating mines.

A. Cullumber is working on his ditch.

Mr. Jackson expects to kill a large number of hogs this season.

Mr. Condon is teaming and—[give it up].

A. Thurman, on Milk Creek, is building a large house, and will bring his family in the Spring.

Mr. Haines is making plenty of good butter, and, it is the opinion of the writer, he intends to marry.

Mr. (somebody), on the Hassayampa, is improving his new ranch.

[This is a good newsy letter, and we should like to publish the balance, but cannot read it.—Ed.]

Method of Moody and Sankey.

There are those who will set aside spiritual explanation of the success of Messrs. Moody and Sankey and try to comprehend it solely from a human point of view. To such people we might suggest that, look at the subject merely in that light, perhaps the great factors conducing to that success is the extraordinary enthusiasm of the evangelists, their capacity for an unlimited amount of hard work and the broadness and thoroughness with which their plans are laid. Mr. Moody's enthusiasm, like the vestal flame, never goes out. His appeals, though they are without logic, are full of pathos, and his voice is often strained through tears—such tears as Christ may have shed when He wept over Jerusalem.

Mr. Sankey has a voice the volume of which might almost be calculated in cubic feet. It is not a cultivated voice and has just a touch too much of the "bellow" in it to be strictly speaking, musical. But it will stand as much wear and tear as Carl Formes' has undergone and as Wachtel's is undergoing at present. His singing of "Ninety and Nine" and "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By" is awaited by a certain class of religious people with as much nervous excitement as Watchtel's interpretation of the "Dionellapira" by German opera-goers. His solos are given with broad dramatic effect, and preceded by a pause of expectancy and followed by a subdued murmur of admiration. Then besides, the actual work which preacher and singer do, daily and nightly, the long period of organization must be borne in mind, an organization that includes the training of a large choir, securing the cooperation of ministers and Young Men's Christian Associations, and the drilling of laymen in the difficult art of personally appearing to the impenitent. In a word, Moody and Sankey seem to rely upon that great deal of very hard work.

Mrs. Van Cott is more emotional in her way of going to work than Mrs. Lowery, mentioned further on. Mrs. Van Cott, possessing a powerful voice whose melody, though impaired, is not entirely destroyed, a large, affectionate, magnetic manner and a strong, matronly frame, is just the sort of woman to awaken an electrical response to her warm and pleading entreaties. She dwells almost altogether in the sphere of the emotion.

Peter Dwyer, an evangelist of a very different kind, who is now illustrating the power of the Gospel by doing the work of an evangelist at No. 38 Vandam street. For many years Dwyer was one of the roughs of the Eighth ward, spent a great deal of his time in getting drunk and in doing unseemly and outrageous things. He is indeed a brand plucked from the burning. For some time he was a negro minstrel, and while in California gave promise of one day becoming eminent in that profession. Had he chosen to adhere to that, possibly he might at the present time be making $150 per week with "Barney Finnegan" or something of the kind in affinity with the kind of talent required in the song and dance artist.

Mrs. Lowery, the converted actress, is usually announced as the "reformed actress," unwisely so, we think, for the epithet "reformed actress" implies that an actress could not be a religious woman. Mrs. Lowery may be a reformed woman, but we have no reason for supposing that she was ever anything but what she now is, namely, respectable, estimable, industrious and efficient. These considerations, however, are side issues. At Port Jervis, where she has lately been preaching, Mrs. Lowery is said to have converted 600 souls.

No FREE PASSES.—We find the following paragraph in the columns of an exchange: The giving of free passes to members of the Legislature by all railroads running into Boston has long been recognized and tolerated custom. But within the last few years public attention has been drawn to it as a palpable means of influencing legislators, and this year some of the legislators have declined to receive the passes sent them. Of course they will get their names in the newspapers, coupled with praise; but the great majority of the solons quietly pocket the papers and enjoy these free rides. An order was offered in the House yesterday instructing the Committee on Railroads to consider the expediency of requiring the railroads to furnish free passes to members of the Legislature during the session; also to the Governor and members of the Council.

Those Massachusetts statesmen are of an advanced type; they will no longer accept passes as a courtesy, but will demand them.

CHANGE OF SUPERINTENDENTS.—A. L. Seelye, Supt. of the stages of the A. and N. M. Express Co., has retired from the position and General Superintendent, Obas. H. Wells has appointed J. M. Clark to the position. Mr. Clark has been acting in the capacity of Division Agent and is well posted in the business. Jim Graham who has been driving between Prescott and Charley Genung's will be advanced to the charge of the division from here to Tucson and J. T. Lloyd will take the Ehrenberg road from Wickenburg to White Water. They evidently mean business.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Special to the Miner by U. S. Military and W. U. Lineal San Francisco, Feb. 15.—The Alta this morning has an article favoring Pacheco for Congressman from the Fourth District at the coming November election. Cubery & Co., job-printers Market street, have failed. Baltimore, Feb. 11.—Hon. Reverdy Johnson, while walking in the garden attached to the Governor's mansion at Annapolis yesterday, fell over an embankment and fractured his skull. He died at eight o'clock last evening.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The National Democratic Committee met to-day and decided to hold the National Convention on the 27th of June but took a recess without deciding upon the place.

New York, Feb. 22.—Richard B. Irwin former Agent Pacific Mail Steamship Company has been arrested on a charge of embezzling $75,000 of the Company's property. He gave $50,000 bail.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 22.—The Republican State Convention has instructed its delegates to go for Blaine.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—A letter from Washington to the Post says the Railroad fight is dragging along, both parties claim the field. The proposition to vote aid to Scott while the Southern Pacific is offering to build for a land grant is a fearful opposition.

The Texas Pacific people have issued a circular of the freights and fares on the Central showing that more is paid in over charges yearly than Scott asks.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Morton to-day presented a petition signed by 2,000 citizens of Indiana asking aid for the Texas Pacific.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—G. & C. 21 1/2; Con. Va. 440; Ophir 65 1/2; Savage 17 1/2; Point 24; Belcher 37.

San Diego, Feb. 24.—D. Felsenfeld writes from Washington to his brother as follows: "Difficult to induce report. The Democrats are favorable to putting it off till next Session."

Don Canaliz arrived on the Montana from the lower Coast yesterday, in charge of a party of surveyors, to survey the public lands of Lower California.

San Francisco, Feb. 21.—The trains have been again blocked by snow on the Central Pacific Railroad. Both eastern and western bound trains were delayed yesterday. It is difficult to estimate the amount of damage to business interests this winter through delays caused by snow on the overland Railroad. The facts are not published by the press of this city.

Cheyenne, Feb. 21.—General Crook, accompanied by Col. Stanton, and Lieutenant Bourke will leave here to-morrow morning for Fort Fetterman for which post a large force of Cavalry, under command of General J. J. Reynolds, is enroute. The entire force is to move northward from Fetterman, but for what purpose is not yet known. Large parties are arriving from the east and west and departing for the black Hills daily.

San Francisco, Feb. 22.—It is estimated that twenty thousand people were present at the race track to-day to witness the great "four mile and repeat race." The weather was splendid and the track in first class condition. Rutherford was the favorite, Foster 2nd, and Katie Pease 3rd. On first heat the horses got off on 4th score. Foster was the winner in 7:38; Rutherford 2nd. All others distanced; the pools were now two to one on Foster; there was much grumbling at the ruling which declared the other horses distanced, especially in case of Hockhocking. In the second heat Foster was the winner in 7:53. This heat was very close all round; Rutherford closed up rapidly on the last mile, but it was of no use, Foster was too fast for him. Nothing else is talked about in the city but race. All business was suspended throughout the day.

The Real Tax Payers

Those who do not own property often think that they entirely escape taxation and that the burdens fall upon the rich. The fallacy of this is forcibly shown in the following article from the New York Graphic. If we keep our eyes open we can find something in the bloated monarchies that may profitably be grafted on our succulent republican sapling during the new century. For instance, in this matter of city taxation. In New York the landlords pay the taxes. In London the tenants pay the taxes. In London the tenants personally feel the weight of Government by having to pay for the protection they receive; in New York they pay their rent plus taxes, all added together and called rent, and are apt to forget that the city taxes on the property are in fact included and concealed in their rent bills. The result of this is that the householders of the English metropolis are far more vigilant and sensitive to the conduct of their public officers than those of this city. In London every poor man feels personally the burden of the government and so exercises his watchfulness over public expenditure.

In New York Tweed received 13,000 majority for the State Senate after it had been proved that he had stolen millions of dollars. For the people who voted for him said, "Yes, but he stole it from the rich man," forgetting that, however taxes are levied, they are always paid by the tenants. If the taxes and property in this city were assessed directly to the men who pay the rent, rents would of course fall correspondingly, and tenants would feel a new interest in the question of municipal economy. Then the cry of "home rule" might be something better than a mockery.

A fool in a high station is like a man on the top of a high mountain—everything appears small to him, and he appears small to everybody.

MARRIED.

At the residence of John Howard, South Montezuma Street, Prescott, Feb. 21st, 1876, by J. C. Ota, Justice of the Peace, Wm Horn to Anna Maria Stein. Considering the fact that the bride bears the name of Horn, it is suggested that this was a conspicuous marriage, or, rather, instead of "born of plenty" it is considered Horn "a plenty". Horn, like Mrs. Menzies, in the tale of the "Honey Sugar Master," believes in "gittin' a plenty" while yer a gittin' it.
