Local Intelligence.

For the very best of watch and clock work go to BERTELING, Montezuma Street, Prescott, Jan 7.

Remember the Fourth of July meeting to-morrow evening at the Courthouse. Let everybody turn out and take part in the celebration.

Hor.—The thermometer in front of this office, at noon yesterday, marked 102.5, being the highest point reached this season.

We call attention to the announcement of C. F. Cate, as a candidate for Village Councilman. Mr. Cate is proprietor of the Nifty Saloon, a property owner and good business man.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Campbell left for California a few days since by A. and N. M. stage. Mrs. C. goes to Los Angeles to spend the summer, while John G. will proceed to San Francisco to purchase goods for his store here, and will return soon.

Thomas Price, the well known metallurgist and mining expert, has opened a new Assay office and Bullion rooms at 524 Sacramento St., San Francisco. His long experience on this coast entitles him to a fair share of this business. We call attention to his advertisement in another column.

P. Richardson and Cal Jackson, two old residents who have been away several months, returned by A. and N. M. stage. "Rich" has been to the home of his boyhood in New Jersey, and Cal has been undergoing medical treatment in San Francisco. They both look healthy.

BARBER SHOPS CLOSE at 2 P. M.—Messrs. Cordier, Morgan and Buck, who run the three principal tonsorial establishments, unite in requesting us to state that hereafter they will close their places of business, at 2 P. M. on Sunday. Those wishing anything done in their line on Sunday will please call before that hour.

Master Frank Jackson, brother to the "Devil" in this office, having, as he expresses, graduated from a dairy ranch near Petaluma, California, and received the highest prize for pulling a cow's teats the liveliest, rivaled here during the week, and will become a student in our public school as soon as the new house is completed.

GROOM'S CREEK MINES.—We hear it whispered about that there is prospect of starting up some of the mines on Groom's Creek, and that the Quartz Mountain quartz mill will be brought into requisition to work the ores. We have no positive assurance, but hope it is true, as we believe from all the samples of ore we have seen from there, that it will yield good pay if properly worked, and then it is right here at home.

THE BAND CONCERT.—The benefit given by the citizens to the 8th Infantry Band, on Saturday night at the M. E. Church, was very successful as a musical treat of a very high order, and was enjoyed by all who had the taste and culture to appreciate good operatic music. Financially it was not what ought to have been, the receipts being only $31, when they should have been at least $50, as there were seats for that many people, and it is a shame that they were not filled.

Hon. E. J. Cook announces his name as a candidate for County Treasurer at the ensuing general election. It would be folly in us to attempt to enlighten the people of this county as to who or what he is; he was in business here before we hardly knew what part of the map Arizona was on, has taken a leading part in the development of the resources of the country, and is known to all as a very competent and reliable business man. No one would question the safety of the County funds if entrusted to his care.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Peck, father and mother of Ed. G. Peck of the Peck mine, and of Mrs. Geo. Banghart of Chino Valley, accompanied by Mrs. Skinkle and her daughter Lattie, arrived by A. and N. M. stage, on Tuesday morning, from Washington Territory. Miss Skinkle comes from the Printing office of A. G. Walling, Portland, Oregon, and being a printer, has gone to work in this office. The compositors have all thrown away their spectacles in a vain attempt to appear young in her presence, and if errors of typography shall be detected in the paper this week, the Editor hopes the reader will excuse them, as a female type-setter is an innovation on all established precedent here, and the office is in confusion.

FOURTH OF JULY.—We are requested by many citizens of Prescott to give notice that on to-morrow evening, June 17th, there will be a mass-meeting held in the Courthouse to consider the matter of celebrating the Centennial Fourth of July, in some manner suitable to the occasion of the One-Hundredth anniversary of the day on which the declaration of Independence was signed and published to the world. Should we fail to meet together and hear that immortal instrument read on that day, we shall probably be the only people of a town, village, city, or populous neighborhood in the United States, from Maine to Georgia or from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, thus neglecting our country's traditions; but we are such people, and it is safe to say that Prescott has not only the ability, but the will to get up a rousing demonstration, so that when the babies who witness it are old and gray, they will remember the ONE-HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE.

Col. Bigelow having borrowed a "genuine Mexican plug" from Andy Shrope, rode him to Alexandra where he fed him so highly that on mounting him to return, on Tuesday morning, the plug seemed to forget that he had ever been under man's dominion, in fact had the seeming of a wild horse from the plains of Tartary. He bucked and kicked, he reared and pitched and pawed the ground in his wrath until the Colonel, who was not bred to the profession of a vaquero, let go his fastenings and was cast away upon a reef putting out from Rosenthal quartz mine, and ere he could right himself and get under way again, the infuriated beast was at his heels gnashing his teeth and blowing smoke from his nostrils, but as the Colonel proved too big a mouthful to swallow, the maddened brute turned tail and kicked him all over the town site and out into the suburbs, where in the shade of a cactus he soon recovered sufficient temporary strength to rally his forces and go in pursuit of the wild and untrained steed, which he captured, remounted, and like Gilpin in the fable, flew over heath and heather, mountain-top and valley, past ancient ruins and modern saw-pits, and never drew rein until he landed on the plaza in Prescott, thirty miles away, in less time than it was ever before made by any creature without wings.

"When next he goes to ride May we be there to see."

Since the above has been in type, the Colonel has called upon us and exhibited some of the evidences of the severity of the adventure in the way of wounds and bruises, which he assures us cover his entire person, and cannot all be shown without completely divesting himself of his raiment. Dr. Kendall dressed his wounds, he has hopes of surviving, and though he regards the above as something of an exaggeration of the real facts, which are, that he was not on the horse at all, but got kicked while holding on to a rope by which the horse was dragging him, he is nevertheless quite painfully injured.

COLE VS. BEAN AND BEAN.—Some of Cole's friends have misconstrued a couple of squibs in last week's MINER into an attempt on our part to prejudice this case in favor of Bean, whereas nothing was further from our intention. In fact, we purposely refrained from saying a word about it until after the suit was tried and decided, and then, in reviewing it for the benefit of our readers, were careful to state the exact condition of the case as far as space would allow, without prejudice either way. As to the matter complained of, it was entirely outside of the case, but appeared to us too ludicrous to let pass. We sat in Court and heard the plaintiff's own attorneys traducing him in the vilest manner, while the opposing counsel were straining every nerve to make him out a gentleman. The case seemed quite anomalous, and as we kept far inside of the real facts as they transpired in our hearing in Court, we concluded we had a right to make a joke of it, and did so. If Bean perjured himself, as is claimed by the friends of Cole, the Judge, who heard all the testimony, ought to know it, and it was his duty to call a Grand Jury and present the matter for indictment and trial. No guilty man ought to escape on account of his position or previous reputation, and we shall always be found upholding the majesty of the law, let its just penalties fall upon whom they may. If the plaintiff, defendants, or any of their witnesses perjured themselves they ought to be punished, but it is not our province to accuse them of it. Judge Tweed is the best judge of the fact and the law.

OUT OF FLOUR.—Many of our people, who appear to have been born with silver spoons in their mouths, regard the absence of flour in the market as quite a calamity, notwithstanding there is plenty of corn and frijoles, besides new potatoes have begun to come in from the ranches. Within our own recollection, the family that had wheat bread more than once a week was looked upon with suspicion, as people puffed up with pride, much as "shoddies" are regarded now, and yet people did more labor than we have even been willing to do since. Jake Hinkle informs us that some of the miners of Lynx Creek have actually knocked off work for want of flour, not being able to subsist upon anything so coarse as corn in the shape of bread, though they can worry down a little of the juice. Personally, were it not for our suffering neighbors, we should be glad there is no flour to be had, as now we have corn-bread at least twice a day, whereas we had to beg for it before. Now, if the onion crop would fall we should be perfectly happy. Think of it: Corn bread with "cracklins" and "punkin" in it, in their season, plenty of "sop" and no onions to stink up the sausage and hash. Under such a condition of affairs we should soon outweigh Donigan.

To the Voters of Yavapai County: From the many inquiries being made, it is evident that the public mind is already considering the subject of the ensuing November election; and in obedience to the expressed desire of many voters, I hereby announce myself as an INTERESTED CANDIDATE for re-election to the office of Sheriff of Yavapai County.

For Congress.

To the People of Arizona: I most respectfully offer myself as a candidate for Delegate to Congress, at the Election in November next. In a similar announcement by me, nearly two years ago, I stated that the reasons which induced me to depart from the business of private life, that I might devote more attention to the general welfare, would be explained by me at such times and places as my friends would indicate. That promise was fulfilled; and I now state for the benefit of "whom it may concern," that I shall, prior to the election, make the tour of the Territory and set forth, as well as I am able, our wishes and our wants, and what I purpose doing in case I am elected. Since our last election, there has been a marked and wonderful improvement in our mining interests, which form the basis of our prosperity and happiness—that is, if you understand a prosperous people to be a happy people—and how great these changes are, and how vast the possibilities which loom ahead, it shall be my province and my delight to delineate in the course of the coming campaign.

With my profound acknowledgments to those who so generally supported me at the last election, and with the hope that their ranks may be overwhelming in the coming contest, I present myself as an independent candidate for Congress, and invite every voter in the Territory to "vote the scratch" in behalf of its interests at the polls, and I will endeavor to do my part, if elected.
