

Local & Miscellaneous.

PORT WHIPPLE.—Capt Weiting, Q. M. at the post, has men at work excavating under the adobe commissary building...

The two companies of soldiers at the post, Capt Burns', of the 5th Cavalry, and Capt Goodale's, 23d Infantry, appear to be pretty comfortably situated and well contented.

Several new houses, of a small order, have recently been erected, out of old wooden material, for officers' quarters, etc.

More buildings are badly needed, but the money to build them is not on hand. Soldiers are at work, digging the well upon which the steam engine is to be set at work, pumping water to supply the garrison, headquarters, etc.

Some of Capt Goodale's men are widening and otherwise improving the new military road from the Fort to the Agua Fria.

Headquarter's printing office is in possession of new and pretty type, which, with former stock, make it very complete.

Capt Burns will soon have in operation a large and comfortable reading-room.

Mrs C. A. Luke, of this place, who has just returned from a run through Europe, expresses herself well pleased at being "home again from a foreign shore."

Mrs L., who is German by birth, says there is no country like Young America. "The land of the free and the home of the brave."

Magnificent tomatoes grow in this section of Arizona, and none can beat those raised in the garden of George and D. S. Lount, above Prescott.

Campbell & Buffum mean business, as in addition to their advertisement, they have had printed hundreds of large-size posters, offering their entire stock for sale at cost.

Mart McInerney arrived here recently, from Camp McDowell, by the new road, in two days. He says it is a good road.

T. W. Boggs, of lower Agua Fria, says that Mr. Buker, who had charge of the men employed by Hellings & Co. to build the road, found, extending across the mesa this side of the mouth of Black Cañon, a space upon which but few bladders were found.

Mr G. W. Curtis of the Quartz Mountain saw-mill, has furnished fine, new poles for a new flag-staff for Fort Whipple. These poles are the best for the purpose, seen by us in several years.

If Mr D. S. Lount is growing ancient, he has not forgotten how to take good aim. A few days ago he killed a large eagle, the "fifery" of which he has given Mrs H. Brooks of Woodside. Same day, he closed the earthly account of a hawk at 300 yards.

Mr S. C. Rogers, who arrived home a few days ago, from Walnut Creek and Williamson Valley, brought us a sample of the Irish potatoes raised by Mr Stephen Breen, which are pronounced as good as the best ever raised in the mountains.

Messrs C. P. Head, M. Goldwater and Wm. B. Hellings—three shrewd business men—have gone down to Verde with some money making design in their heads.

Miss Nettie Shafer (niece of Mrs J. H. Pierson of Wickenburg), has arrived at that place, from Canada. The young lady will, it is said, soon take charge of the public school at Florence, Pima county.

Mr J. D. Cusenberry, Mr A. O. Noyes and wife, are reported en route from California. Report says that Mr C. is coming to settle indebtedness of Vulture mining company, and to work their property.

The Quartz Mountain Saw-mill, G. W. Curtis, proprietor, is making lumber fast, but scarcely fast enough to meet demands upon it, which is a sign that the lumber business is brisk.

Mr Thos. Farrell advertises his willingness and ability to feed persons and parties at all hours of the day and night. He will be found at the "Nifty" saloon, and may be relied on as a good caterer.

Master Irvine, a son of our valued Phoenix correspondent, arrived here recently, from that town, with a wagon load of excellent sweet potatoes, which he disposed of at the rate of 15 cents per pound.

Mr Geo. H. Kimball of Camp Date Creek, who is now at Fort Whipple, informs us that he will soon have 3,000 head of sheep and some cattle on Date Creek. He says wool can be carried from Date Creek to San Francisco for less per pound than from Southern California, which fact, when added to another—that Arizona wool is much better and cleaner than California wool—makes a strong case in favor of sheep farming here.

Salt Lake City has its female type-setters.

ABOUT TO LEAVE US.—We regret to have to state that Surgeon E. I. Baily and Captain A. H. Nickerson, of the United States Army, are about to leave us, perhaps forever.

All our Territorial readers know more or less of the active part played by Captain Nickerson, in the long fight against the savage Indians and their white allies.

Mrs. A. H. Nickerson and her two children will accompany her husband as far as San Francisco, where she will remain, with her mother and other relatives.

Much of the ditching that has recently been done around the plaza, by order of the village council, is by many property owners declared a nuisance.

Prescott needs a good hotel, and a gentleman who was here recently, thinks of erecting and running one.

Mr. Rudolph Pfeiffering, a versatile gentleman who has had an existence in Germany and in every State and Territory in the Union, thinks Arizona is a good place to finish up, so he has settled here for good.

Once a Day.—This is the amount of gold which one man is washing out of a placer claim on Lynn creek. Would like to trade the MINER for that claim.

Mr. Thomas, sheriff of this county, has been good enough to present us with several books of poetry, for which we thank him in prose.

PASSENGERS.—Dr. J. H. Pierson, Mr. T. Barnum, a Mr. Munroe and several discharged soldiers, started for points south and west of Prescott, on the buckboard which left here Wednesday morning last.

Dr. Lippincott, U. S. A., and a Mr. Hemphill, came on Grant's buckboard, Thursday morning. The Dr. is to take station at Whipple.

A week or two ago, we received, without explanatory remarks, a box of cotton, which we credited to Salt River Valley, but which we have since learned, by letter from Mr. Jos. Collingwood, of Florence, was a sample of a lot grown on the farm of Dr. Dumont, near that place.

We regret to learn that Mr. A. C. Williamson is suffering from cancer.

Typoid fever, or something like it, has fastened on three or four children of Prescott and vicinity.

Thirty-nine scholars in public school one day this week.

Dr. Kendall is absent, but not forgotten, by his friend Parks, who is running the Doctor's drug-store well and faithfully.

Apples from Prescott trees are not an uncommon sight, yet they are rare fruit.

Recently, as Mr. H. M. Herbert was driving Mrs. J. H. Behan, Mrs. J. C. Potts and Mrs. Behan's two children, the tongue of the buggy broke, and, for a short time, matters looked bad, but Herbert had his "wits" about him, and the horses were, by him, controlled.

We have no news from the country east of Prescott, but feel safe in stating that the new road to Apache is completed. General Crook went over most of it several weeks ago, in an ambulance.

The 23d Infantry Band will play the following selections this (Saturday) evening, at half past four: March—Il Crovate. Lillian Polka. Cavatina—Pure as an Angel from Above. California Quadrilles. Georgette Waltzes. Song—List to the Convent Bells. Linnet Schottische. Light Baggage Galopade.

Gen Crook and Major A. W. Evans will soon start on a visit to the several military posts. Major Evans is inspector-general of the department.

Between 400 and 500 brood mares are being driven here from California, for distribution among good Indians. This at the instance of Gen Crook, who believes it good policy to help Indians to property of this kind. More cows will also be given our well-meaning red brothers.

WINDY STORM.—We had a very heavy southerly wind storm Thursday night last, which storm was quite vigorous when we went to press, Friday noon.

Lieut. John G. Bourke will now step up higher in rank, on General Crook's personal staff. He is to fill the "stations and places" made vacant by the absence of Captain Nickerson. He is a very intelligent young man, of studious habits, and may become a second Nick.

"TRYING IT ON," was well and faithfully delineated, at Fort Whipple, Tuesday evening last, by the following named amateur performers: Mrs Crook as Mrs Jobstock, Miss Kelly as Miss Fanny, Miss Beach as Miss Lucy, Capt Nickerson as Walsingham Potts, Capt Burns as William Tittiebat, and our "harmonious" friend, Judge Johnson, as Mr Jobstock.

The space at our disposal will not admit of extended remarks on the actors of this piece, and we will simply record the verdict of the large, intelligent and appreciative "jury" who watched their movements: "Excellent, after so little practice; good as could be expected from any amateurs, in any part of the world."

The house, scenery, etc., were in keeping with the acting.

Dancing, after the play, was kept up until after 12 o'clock.

DISTRICT COURT.—The Supreme Court having named the first Monday in November next, as the day for commencing the fall term of court at this place, Judge Tweed, will, we are informed, commence business on that day, notwithstanding the fact that the last Legislature fixed commencement day on the third Monday of next month. The Supreme court claim the right to fix and determine all such matters.

Mr. A. S. Clough is burning a large kiln of limestone on Granite creek. Clough's lime is the best in this section of country.

The "boys" gave Dr. Baily an "affectionate" farewell benefit Thursday evening last.

Lieut. John G. Bourke, of General Crook's staff, and Mr. Ewing, arrived here recently from Southern Arizona. Lieut. Bourke, says he had a splendid time among his amigos of the two Republics, but is glad to get back to hard work and cooler duty.

Gen. Crook showed that he was not very much afraid of man or beast in Apache-land, when, on a recent night he "camped out" alone by himself, in the woods east of Camp Verde. Not many live Generals would go out hunting, alone, in a dangerous Indian country.

We see by the Los Angeles Express that Mr. George Olinghouse has gone to Nevada, with all his teams, to haul borax. Mr. O. is a "heavy" and popular freighter, and has done business in Arizona.

SALE OF RAILROAD BONDS.—The word is that Col. Thomas A. Scott, President of the Southern Pacific Railroad, has succeeded in selling ever so many million dollars' worth of the bonds of the road in Holland and England. Our friends of the San Diego press are, of course, delighted with the good news.

BORN. In Tucson, October 6, 1873, to the wife of William F. Scott, a daughter.

Agricultural Implements. If the demand for Agricultural Implements the coming harvest, says the Rural Press, is likely to correspond with the increased number of acres under cultivation, there will be lively times among the San Francisco dealers in such Implements during the season. Several firms, it is understood, have anticipated this demand, and have prepared themselves accordingly by early shipments. It is said that one single firm, (Treadwell & Co., who still carry their old and well-known stand,) have contracted for above twenty-five car loads of their new harvesting machines, sent early in the season, to several large dealers, and a large amount of smaller implements. It would seem at this rate, with what shipments they probably have already made around the Horn, and with the stores of other houses, that there ought to be enough. Good judges in such matters, however, still predict that the supply will not equal the demand.

Thos. Farrell is prepared to furnish hot or cold lunches, at the Nifty Saloon, at all hours of the day or night.
