San Francisco Agencies.

This paper is for sale at the following places: L. P. Fisher's, 221 Market; Egan's, California street; the principal News Stands and Hotels, and at the Market-street Ferry.

THE RECORD-UNION AND ITS NEW FORM.

The RECORD-UNION presents itself this morning in a form somewhat modified from that which its readers have been accustomed. But it is self-evident that it will prove of much greater convenience in handling, more acceptable for filing and infinitely more desirable in turning the pages. Hereafter there will be no necessity to open and fold back the paper, no need to cut its pages, nor will they ever be found falling apart.

The RECORD-UNION will, on and after the 11th inst., appear as an eight-page paper. The capacity of the RECORD-UNION's new lightning press is such that when occasion and the need demand, we can issue at a single impression a twelve or a sixteen-page sheet, the printing being from a continuous roll, and upon the Goss lightning press with a capacity of twenty-four thousand an hour.

The RECORD-UNION has heretofore appeared as eight pages, uncut and an inside fold, will hereafter appear in a twelve-page form, with cut pages secured, thus greatly enhancing the convenience of handling this splendid weekly home and business paper, which we confidently assure has not an equal upon the Pacific coast.

ITS NAME.

The new lightning perfecting press of the RECORD-UNION, which went into operation for the first time this morning, has been named by the managers of the RECORD-UNION "Bossie." This has been done by the managers as a compliment to Mrs. J. H. Bossie, the youngest daughter of Mr. William H. Mills, the President of the Sacramento Publishing Company.

WHAT AN odd tangle, to be sure, they have got matters into in Pennsylvania. Under the decision of the Courts recently made, following the original package rulings, the law of the State of Pennsylvania forbidding the sale of oleomargarine cannot be enforced against non-residents of the State, but can be against the people of Pennsylvania.

Perhaps to very many these details will possess but indifferent interest, yet to the very many others who are somewhat familiar with the modern methods of issuing a newspaper they will possess a special interest.

THE value of horseback riding for women is unquestioned. It is invigorating, healthful and a general tonic. Besides it is a graceful accomplishment.

ment to six pages became a business necessity unless we were prepared to flatly refuse to business men the use of our columns as mediums of communication with the world. The fact of such pressure testifies, we submit, to business prosperity in California, and also to the high estimate trade places upon the RECORD-UNION as an advertising medium and an exponent of public opinion.

REMEMBER THE CITRUS FAIR.

On Monday, at Marysville, the most important citrus fair in the history of the State will open for a season of a week. We are reliably advised that it will be the largest, most representative and altogether the most teaching and useful of any citrus fair ever held in the northern and central sections.

This fair means a great deal for California. All countries are attractive in degree according to their capacity to contribute to human comfort and happiness.

Now a citrus fair in California is the proof of the assertions made that we enjoy a semi-tropic climate inviting in the highest degree, and that we have soil capable of producing products that cannot grow in a rigorous climate.

It is wise, therefore, for us to unite to publish abroad the fact of the holding of the fair, since it is proof positive at the last of all we claim for the State.

comes accustomed to change of pose, and until the horse accustoms itself to the new position. If you ride the same horse all the time it will not take many hours for it to learn that it is to bear the rider on either side, and, as a rule, it will easily accommodate itself to the change.

THE terribly bitter reprimand administered by Secretary Tracy to Commander Reiter of the navy for his inaction in the Barrundia affair was, says the Secretary, deserved. Yet one cannot recall the gallant services of Reiter and reflect upon the crushing blow that has fallen upon him and not feel a degree of profound pity for the unfortunate officer whose life has been blasted by a single false step, and whose country relaxes and disgraces him in the eyes of all the world.

WHITELAW REID, our Minister to France, has written an introduction to the memoirs of Tallyrand, now running in the Century Magazine. We doubt if even the best friends of Minister Reid were aware of his capacity to so gracefully, forcibly and critically write of that remarkable man, the great French diplomat. We undertake to say that Mr. Reid's introduction to the memoirs will rank with some of the best historical criticism of the age.

SENATOR VEST now denies that he ever received any letter from ex-President Cleveland recanting his views upon the silver question. That settles the matter. Now to hunt up and lash the rascally reporter who started the lie, and so successfully imposed it upon the country. But a word to Senator Vest: Why did it take you two months to give the lie to the story?
