

BOOMING RIVERS.

The American Causes the Sacramento to Rise Rapidly.

The Paine Break is All Right—Sergeant Barwick Offers an Explanation of It All.

The river rose rapidly during Saturday night and yesterday morning.

At 6 A. M. it touched the 23-foot mark. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock it registered 24 feet 2 inches. Large quantities of drift wood were carried down the stream.

The booming of the American River was the cause of the sudden rise in the Sacramento. People living in the outskirts of the city near the north levee reported that the American was higher yesterday than at any time last winter. It overflowed its banks and rushed through the brush between the B-street levee and the foot of the stream.

Hundreds of people visited the Yolo break yesterday and watched the muddy river as it flowed swiftly by.

Ten men were at the fair Saturday night on the levee at the Paine break, and yesterday the farmers on that side of the river for several miles on each side of the break.

Trustees McLaughlin and Wolf went out to the east levee yesterday afternoon and found there was no danger to be feared from that point.

Last night at 10 o'clock the river was 24 feet 10 inches. A couple of men who came over from the Yolo side reported that a piece of levee on the Conrad reach, north of the Paine break, was in danger of being washed away.

It was raining hard last night west of Blue Canyon, on the line of the Central Pacific Road, and the water was reported at Emigrant Gap and east.

The south-bound Oregon express was reported six hours behind time last night, on account of a detention north of Ashland.

A special train, consisting of fifteen cars, loaded with oranges and vegetables from the higher altitudes of the Sierras, arrived on time this morning at 8 o'clock.

The Signal Service reports show the rainfall from 5 o'clock Saturday evening 3.75 inches, and from 5 o'clock Sunday morning, making for this city 12.24 inches, as against 27.07 inches on an equal date last year.

The barometrical readings at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. yesterday were 29.89 and 29.65 inches, respectively, showing a slowly rising barometer, which may be a good sign of approaching settled weather.

The highest and lowest one year ago to-day was 58° and 40° with a trace of rain. The monthly average temperature and the total precipitation for the month of February just passed was as follows for the signal stations named: Olympia, 38° and 43° inches; Portland, 37° and 6 inches; Roseburg, 40° and 11.50 inches; Red Bluff, 44° and 10.70 inches; Sacramento, 48° and 6.60 inches.

The above brief data show very plainly that during the month of February the storm centers came from off the ocean nearer California than usual, thereby giving Southern Oregon and Northern California more rain than Northern Oregon and Washington; those two States most affected by a greater total at the end of each winter month than our State.

The average at Red Bluff for thirteen years past is 3.42 inches; the past month was 7.28 inches greater than the normal. The greatest precipitation at Red Bluff in February for fourteen years past exceeded February, 1891, but once, and that was in 1878, when the Bluff city had the large amount of 16.60 inches, and for the season of 1877-8, 53.17. That year, 1878, gave Sacramento 8.04 inches in February, showing that Red Bluff had two inches for each one that was measured in this city. That was the year of the Fern break in the levee on the Sacramento side of the river.

The barometer at 5 P. M. yesterday was nearly at a standstill in Red Bluff; there was but a sprinkle of rain in the twenty-four hours ending at 5 P. M., and during the same time Sacramento had .36 of an inch. There must be, then, more rainfall on the headwaters of the American in the past twenty-four hours than on the Sacramento, consequently the sudden rise in the river yesterday will be followed by an assiduous fall, for the American gets rid of its extra water very rapidly.

Back to the Asylum. John Regis, who resides just across Bear River in Nevada County, it will be remembered by our readers, was some what deranged a few months ago, and had to be sent to the insane asylum, says the Placer Herald. Recently he was discharged as cured, but his discharge seems to have been premature, for after returning home he acted strangely, and was so violent that his family became afraid of him and sought safety among the neighbors. He was re-examined at Nevada City a few days ago, and recommitted to the asylum.

CAUGHT IN A SLIDE. Accident to a Freight Train Yesterday Near Newcastle.

As freight train No. 9 was about to enter a cut half a mile above Newcastle early yesterday morning, a lot of loose rocks, loosened by a large portion of the embankment to slide down on the track.

It struck the head engine and threw it off the track on its side. The engineer and fireman were not hurt however.

Upon receipt of the news of the accident the morning train was delayed from this city. At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the track was clear, and the engine was brought to this city. It was not broken.

On account of the accident the west-bound overland, due here at 2:25 o'clock yesterday morning, was delayed over two hours. Two or three freight trains were also blocked.

ATTRACTIVE, THOUGH AGED. Some Women Who Remain Fascinating in the Decline of Life.

History is full of the accounts of the fascinations of women who were no longer young. History is extant of the women who when she perpetrated the most famous elopement on record, and as the siege of Troy lasted a decade, she could not have been the beautiful Helen of Troy, but she was the Helen of Paris, restored her to her husband, Strangus as it may seem, the long-suffering spouse received the fair Helen, so says poetry, with questioning love and gratitude.

Pericles wedded the courtesan Aspasia when she was 35, and yet she afterwards for thirty years, or thereabouts, was an undiminished reputation for beauty.

The beautiful and fascinating serpent of old Nile, Cleopatra, in whose history every eye is riveted, was 38 years of age when Antony fell under her spells, and which never lessened until her death, ten years afterwards. Livy was 33 when she met the beautiful Augustus, and she maintained her charm until the end.
