

SACRAMENTO'S STREETS.

The Citizens' Company Sums Up a Year's Work.

The Work Will Be Resumed the Coming Year--Plans for Future Operations, Etc.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Citizens' Street Improvement Company was held last evening at C. H. Oatman's office, and the large number that attended occasioned some surprise. It was expected that about a dozen would respond, but instead over forty assembled, and considerable enthusiasm was manifested.

In calling the meeting to order President Lullars said he considered that a great deal of good had been done in Sacramento by the company. The business was at first new to the directors and they had to learn by experience. They might have made some mistakes, but they certainly did some good. The people were given clean streets, and the work was done in a substantial manner. The directors were glad to say that they came out just even at the end of the year, and thought this showing would be satisfactory to the stockholders. Next year the work would be in a better position to work and enough money might be made to declare a small dividend.

J. A. Coleman stated for the benefit of the stockholders, that during the past year, Director S. P. Smith had resigned and S. S. Hill was appointed to succeed him. Another vacancy in the board was filled by the selection of Benjamin Leonard. D. A. Lindley addressed the meeting and informed the stockholders that the directors might have made some money out of their contract work had they not looked more to the interests of the city than to swelling their own pockets. The board had ordered work done at times when almost twice the labor was required to perform it properly, on account of muddy streets and bad weather.

The secretary read a report of condition of the finances, showing that there was a balance on hand of $29,326. It was stated that several persons who had subscribed for stock had only partly paid up, and some had not paid anything. The secretary was instructed to notify those persons that if the amount due was not paid within the next thirty days, with interest from the date, suit would be brought to compel them to forfeit their contracts.

The election of a new Board of Directors was then declared in order, but before any nominations were made, Dr. Huntington moved that the old board be tendered a vote of thanks by the stockholders for its faithful work. The motion was carried unanimously. D. A. Lindley was placed in nomination as one of the board, but he declined, claiming that his business required all of the attention he could possibly give to it. Mr. Lindley's resignation was accepted with regret, as he was recognized as one of the most active members of the company.

The following gentlemen were finally selected to serve as the Board of Directors for the ensuing year: C. A. Lullars, M. J. Lindley, M. J. Dillman, John Blair, L. L. Lewis, J. O. Coleman and Sparrow Smith. Mr. Coleman wanted to get the sense of the meeting as to whether the stockholders expected the board to make some money over expenses this year, or whether they would be satisfied with having the fitting salaries conducted. A resolution was passed authorizing the board to put all of the streets it undertook to grade in good condition, and to manipulate the finances with a view to returning the principal, without interest. D. A. Lindley said that the board at present would be able to pay 7 1/2 cents on every dollar invested in stock. He also stated that in all probability the company would want to take contracts this year for doing levee work, but he considered the stockholders ought to authorize them to do so if they deemed it advisable.

A resolution was passed in accordance with the suggestion, empowering the directors to engage in the work of constructing levees, in addition to doing street work.

The meeting adjourned, and the directors were called to order. C. A. Lullars was chosen President, and the election of Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer was deferred until the next meeting, which will be held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

JOHN MILLIKIN DEAD.

One of Sacramento's Best Citizens Departs This Life. John M. Millikin, one of Sacramento's oldest and most respected citizens, died of heart trouble yesterday at his residence, 1108 H street.

The deceased was a native of Lubek, Maine, and was 70 years of age. He sailed around the Horn for this coast in 1850, arriving in San Francisco on the 12th of August of that year. The first year of his residence there he was engaged in ballasting ships, and purchasing the lighters, water-boats, etc. Then for two years Mr. Millikin was engaged in oiling and trading in Kanaka Valley, in El Dorado County, with S. P. Leavitt. Afterwards they purchased the Tremont House in this city. He afterwards engaged in oiling and trading on J street, between Sixth and Seventh. Afterwards they engaged in the general grocery business, which was destroyed by the flood of 1882. They removed their business to Third and K streets in 1887. Theodore died in 1874, and John M. retired, on account of ill-health, in 1877, selling out to Hall, Lullars & Co. A few years later he engaged in the general insurance business, which he conducted on Fourth street, between J and K, up to the time of his death.

TROUBLESOME MORTGAGE.

A Variety of Liens Will Have to be Locked Into. Mary Hubbard has commenced suit in the Superior Court against F. H. Coffman and Susie J. Coffman for the recovery of $2,118 55, alleged to be due on a promissory note executed in September, 1888. The Coffmans gave the plaintiff as security for the payment of the note, a mortgage on the north half of lot No. 1, in the block bounded by Twentieth and Twenty-first, I and J streets. It was stipulated in the mortgage that in case of any controversy regarding the title to the property, the mortgage should defend the matter.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Sacramento Bar's Tribute to the Memory of Ed. M. Martin. There was a notable gathering of legal talent in Judge Catlin's court-room yesterday. It was a meeting of the Sacramento bar for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed recently to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Ed. M. Martin.

PROSPECTIVE BONANZA.

Street-car Employes May Get Paid for Overtime.

Several months ago differences arose between the Central Street Railway Company of this city and some of its employes, which resulted in the discharge of a number of the car-drivers and conductors. F. H. Coy, one of the discharged employes, commenced an action in the Superior Court to recover the sum of $4,500 from the company as penalties under an Act of the Legislature which provides that any corporation or company managing a street railroad and employing a conductor, driver or man, for more than twelve hours in one day, shall forfeit the sum of $50 to such employe for each day that he so employed for more than twelve hours.

Upon a demurrer to the complaint in the action, Robert T. Devlin, on behalf of the company, argued that the law in question is unconstitutional, while the validity of the law was contended for by Isaac Joseph, representing the discharged employes. Yesterday Superior Judge Van Fleet decided that the Act is constitutional, but sustained the demurrer on some minor points. Some crisis therefore, sustained by the Supreme Court, it will probably be a veritable bonanza for the car-drivers and conductors who have worked for the company more than twelve hours a day.

A LITTLE STRICT.

Last Year's Players Cannot Practice at the Ball Grounds. For several days past, Goodenough, Reitz and McHale have been practicing on the ball grounds at Snowflake Park a couple of hours every afternoon, but on Thursday, Manager Ginsberg, of the Sacramento, gave orders that they should not be allowed that privilege hereafter. McCloskey, it appears, was told by Mr. Ginsberg to order Goodenough off the field. He refused to do so, stating that he gave him permission to practice with the men, in order to be in form to fill his Eastern engagement, and for Ginsberg to order the man away himself if he chose to do so.

Thompson Ginsberg gave orders to "John," the ground-keeper, to tell all three players, Goodenough, McHale and Reitz, to go somewhere else if they wished to include in practice work. Goodenough leaves for St. Paul in a week or so to play in center field for the club of that city. He will receive $225 per month. He was offered $80 to play here.

Twelve Cents on Each $100.

It was inaccurately stated yesterday that the tax levy to pay the back salaries of the ten extra police officers would be twelve mills on each $100. It should have read twelve cents. SPRING RACES ASSURED.

The Jockey Club Will Reorganize and Take Charge.

Secretary Smith of the State Agricultural Society Explains--A Good Meeting is Expected. The gentlemen who composed the membership of the old Capital Jockey Club are considerably excited over the published statement alleged to have been made by Edwin F. Smith, Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, to the effect that there would be no spring races this year.

Mr. Smith was credited with having said that spring meetings did not pay, and that they would not be attempted again. The Secretary, however, when interviewed by a Record-Union reporter yesterday, stated that he had not been quoted correctly. What he did say was that there would be no spring meeting under the auspices of the State Agricultural Society. He was very sorry, he said, that the gentlemen who composed the club should have been deceived, but he or the society was trying to throw cold water on the proposition. He would be pleased to see the citizens take the matter into their own hands.

And that is just what the citizens are going to do. Yes, sir, we are going to have a meeting, and a big one, he said. O. Howers to the reporter last night. "The club will be reorganized immediately, and probably the same officers who presided before will continue in office. At any rate, J. W. Wilson will continue as President. But we have not been idle or waiting.

For the reorganization, that was not necessary. We have been consulting among ourselves, and have passed around a subscription list. We have about $1,800 in sight. Besides this the State Agricultural Society will contribute money, and this will be added. In a week or so we will have a pretty respectable amount of money to make up the purses with."

"When do you figure on having the meeting take place?" asked the reporter. "Well, that has not been definitely decided upon yet," replied Mr. Howers. "But my opinion is that it will be given shortly after the Blood Horse races at the year meeting. We will get all the crack runners then."

"You feel confident of success?" "No doubt of it. The club never made a failure yet. Look at the success of a few years ago. Could anybody wish for anything better than that? And the indications are that we will be even more successful this year than then."

AMUSEMENTS.

Another large and delighted audience witnessed the presentation of "Twelfth Night" at the Metropolitan Theater last evening. The company, excellent as it seemed on the first night, improves the more it is seen. Marie Wainwright's Charles M. Cogan, the newly elected Secretary of the State Board of Equalization, will assume the duties of the office on Monday next.

The suit of Brown vs. Clark was dismissed by Judge Catlin yesterday. Sheriff Stanley went to Stockton yesterday with Mrs. McLain, the unfortunate woman who lost her reason while confined in the County Hospital.
