

CRUSADE AGAINST CRIME.

The Police are After the Gamblers' Scapls Again.

It is the Result of a meeting of the Commissioners—Games Notified to Close.

The howl that is being set up by the respectable portion of the community against the dice and the criminal and gambling element is beginning to have some effect.

Late on Tuesday night the Police Commissioners held a meeting in Police Judge Cravens' chambers, and several reform movements were discussed.

It was a star-chamber session, and the facts of what transpired did not leak out until yesterday forenoon.

The principal topic discussed was the gambling vice. Mayor Constock called the attention of Chief Drew and Judge Cravens to the fact that since the last CRUSADE AGAINST THE GAMBLERS,

About three months ago, the gamblers had quietly unpacked their paraphernalia, gone back to their old haunts, and resumed business.

The fact was, were in full blast again, and throughout the lower portion of L street "crap" games were as numerous as of old.

The Mayor thought that the demands of the citizens should be listened to and the law enforced.

Judge Cravens agreed with the Mayor. Chief Drew explained that he was not aware that the gamblers had resumed operations. He thought he had effectively stopped them before.

After some further talk, it was agreed that something should be done, and the Chief promised that the law should be enforced so far as it was in his power to enforce it.

GAMES MUST CLOSE. After the meeting the Chief turned the matter over to Captain Lee, with instructions that every gambling game should be closed, and that a crusade be made generally against the law-breakers.

The Chief could not attend to the matter personally as he was compelled to leave for Marysville that night on the express to attend the examination there of the Hall murders.

Captain Lee went to work with a will, and issued orders to the force yesterday to notify the keepers of all games to shut down immediately.

Last evening the night watch was given the same orders. Officer Higgins was detailed to hunt up the faro games, and he did so, and gave each one notice to close.

"There will be no noisy business about this," said Captain Lee, "I want to see the gamblers notified to close operations. Most of them closed up right away, and promised not to violate the law. They did it with as good grace as possible, but they thought a good deal.

The new orders have not stopped with the gamblers, either. A number of the most obnoxious of L street's prostitutes have been notified to leave town, and yesterday's trains carried away several of the painted creatures in consequence.

Others have been warned to keep inside of their houses, and their doors and windows closed. If this order is violated they will be arrested for vagrancy—and that means more than a light fine, since the advent of Judge Cravens.

The police have also paid their respects to the dive-keepers, and have notified them that, if the police do not desert in their good work—these people will live in constant fear of being jailed for keeping disorderly houses.

CONTRACT COMPLETED. The Bridge Over the Lagoon Near Galt Now Finished.

D. J. Holden, of Wheatland, recently completed the work of constructing the 100-foot bridge over the lagoon on the country road near Galt, and the Board of Supervisors will at their next meeting take action on accepting the same.

Mr. Holden returned last evening from Watsonville, where he had been to bid on the contract for building eleven miles of narrow-gauge railroad for the Spreckels Bros., from Watsonville to the coast.

His bid was not successful, however, his bid having exceeded that of McMahon & Sons, of San Francisco, some $80. The contract was let for $17,500.

AMUSEMENTS. Herrmann, the magician, had a good house last night. Most of his tricks were old, but were performed so skillfully as to invest them with new interest.

The second part, with Mme. Herrmann assisting, was wholly new to Herrmann's entertainments. It consisted of a dark stage, from the darkness of which objects were produced or made to disappear floating in the air.

It closed with a clever deception act. In the third part Herrmann's famous "Starbuck" was introduced. The New York Herald some months ago published an elaborate expose of the trick; but the explanation given would not apply to the method employed last night, though there is one that suggests itself that is as good.

A man is strapped by iron loops to a plank, and curtains are drawn to hide the man watching on either end of the cloth cabinet. In one minute the curtain is withdrawn and a woman is found bound by the same iron loops to the man having disappeared. It is a clever trick and the best that Herrmann has ever introduced here.

The box office for the "Shenandoah" engagement opens this morning at the Metropolitan Theater. The prices are 50 cents and $1. A group from Company A, of the First Artillery Regiment, has been engaged to assist in the military specialties of the drama.

BRIEF NOTES. The County Jail is now being renovated. J. P. Brissel claims to have produced the first ripe currants of the season.

D. E. Perkins, of Visalia, has been appointed Notary Public by the Governor. The Orville papers say there will be a good orange crop in that vicinity this year.

The condition of Mrs. Stark, who took poison on Monday, was said yesterday to be quite serious. E. F. Krenkle was yesterday brought in by Constable Phillips of Galt to serve thirty days in jail for disturbance of the peace.

Jacob Gebert has had built on his premises at Twentieth and O streets a handsome fountain. It is inclosed in rustic masonry, and is very neat in design.

W. W. Rich and other residents of one portion of Highland Park will ask the Supervisors to grant them an outlet to the lower Stockton road, through the Clark tract.

Some person has sent a communication to the Recorder-Union on the subject of high license for retail liquor-sellers, but having neglected to send his name, the article cannot be printed.

The Water Experts says there is a formation of trees on top of the range of mountains, west of that place, which is almost an exact representation of the State Capitol building in this city.

Yesterday a Chinaman who had peddled about town a load of vegetables for so many days that some of them could no longer be freshened by the China blough process, dumped the garbage in Pedro Leara Held for Trial for Assault to Murder.

His Slashed Victims Tell How He Used His Knife on Them—Valenzuela's Close Call.

Pedro Leara, the young Mexican who terrorized the inhabitants of the tamale district at Fourth and M streets a week ago last Sunday, by drawing a knife and stabbing four persons, including an old man and woman, was examined yesterday in the Police Court on two charges of assault to murder.

One of the charges was preferred by Estera Valenzuela and the other by Mrs. Sandoval.

The prosecution introduced a half-dozen witnesses, including the complainants, Dr. Nichols, Charles Salinas and Charles Warren, the latter two having testified from Leara's knife while pursuing Pedro.

The story as told by Valenzuela, the old man, remained uncontradicted, as the defense offered no testimony. Valenzuela swore that he and a number of others, including Pedro, were sitting in the tamale restaurant on that Sunday afternoon, and all were drinking wine and beer.

Finally the witness and one of the women brought Pedro to his room and put him to bed. Mrs. Sandoval and the witness then went into the kitchen and were engaged in washing up when Pedro came rushing in with a knife in his hand. Without him in the right breast.

Valenzuela then caught the knife-blade in his hand, but Pedro jerked it away, cutting a gash in the neck of witness' thumb. Mrs. Sandoval cut herself in the forehead, when Pedro struck her on the collar-bone with the knife. Valenzuela ran to get a doctor, and the infuriated knife-wielder followed him, and thrust the blade of the weapon into his back. He then ran away, and before being captured succeeded in hitting Salinas and Warren on their arms.

Dr. Nichols stated that one of Valenzuela's wounds might have caused his death had it been the best he got. He thought the blade had slightly penetrated the outer covering of the right lung, but not sufficient to cause internal hemorrhage.

Judge Cravens ordered that the defendant be held to answer on both charges. Bail was fixed at $2,500 in each case.

THE FLORENCE MISSION. It Has Been a Great Success, and Is Doing Good Work Here.

This worthy organization, which was opened at 1010 Third street on the 13th of last December, has proven a success. When Mr. Charles N. Crittenton started the movement and then went away, many predicted that it would not live long, but Rev. A. C. Bane has a much more gratifying result to report. When asked yesterday by a Record-Union reporter regarding the work of the mission he said:

"Yes, contrary to all faithless prophesies, the work has been blessed with signal success. For more than five months, every night in the week and every Sunday afternoon, gospel meetings have been held. The attendance has been good, and just the class the mission was meant to reach—poor men and women who felt too poorly clad to go into the chapel of the churches; young men who had spent lives of intemperance, until they felt that no good people cared for them; young girls who had been thrust out by others, because of their sins—these have all been welcome visitors to the Florence mission."

But, besides these, many of the best people from our Christian homes have been attending the faithful workers. About one hundred and ninety persons have professed faith in Christ, and promised to lead better lives.

"There have been some remarkable conversions. Men who had lived worthless and vicious lives are now faithful Christians, members of the church, and leading others to the same path. In the reformation of degraded lives the mission has been a great blessing to Sacramento. The work is supported by money raised from the citizens who the room was first opened, and it has proven a good investment."

Each evening service consists of many spirited songs, short prayers, and fifteen or twenty minutes, exhorting men to forsake sin, and a brief relation of experience by those who have become Christians. Meetings are held every night, and the audience is usually large.

Mr. R. S. Marshall, the Superintendent of the State Prison, has kindly sympathized of all for the successful way in which he has conducted this most difficult, but most worthy, mission.

It is expected that Mr. Crittenton, the founder, will soon revisit the mission, and he will be cheered by the fact that he has not sown in vain.

OPEN-AIR CONCERTS. The Cannvassers for Money Report Good Success—First Concert.

The members of the Open-Air Concert Executive Committee and others who have interested themselves in the matter of procuring the necessary funds with which to carry on a successful series of concerts, met last evening to hear the reports of the canvassing committees, Chairman Martine presiding.

Treasurer Mills read the reports of the committees of gentlemen who had canvassed the first and second districts. From Front to Fourth streets $390.50 was collected, and $100.00 from the committee from Fourth to Seventh the committee gathered in $37.50, and has the promise of $100.00 more on the high culture. F. C. A. Galt were the only members of the Third District Canvassing Committee who will collect on the high culture.

Wm. B. Miller, Peter Newman and A. Galt were the only members of the Third District Canvassing Committee who will collect on the high culture. F. C. A. Galt were the only members of the Third District Canvassing Committee who will collect on the high culture.

The committee who visited the offices in the State Capitol were promised, in all, $110, which is the largest amount that has ever been collected in the building for a similar purpose.

The district east of Tenth street has not been canvassed as yet, but a committee composed of J. E. Mills, Peter Newman, Charles T. Barton, George F. Bronner and Talbot H. Wallis will start out this morning, and they expect to add about $200 more to the list already in the treasury—some $1,120.

Many business houses in the downtown portion of this city have not yet contributed anything, and it is expected that from these stores and outside places it is estimated that the fund will be the cost of a season's concerts.

Messrs. Newman and Wallis will visit the State Printing Office this afternoon. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, the 27th, and the first concert will probably be on the Sunday following.

Mrs. Hineckley's Cooking Class. Mrs. E. M. Hineckley, who has been giving lessons in cookery here, closed the series yesterday, and will be absent from the city for a period of six months.

Those present at yesterday's lesson were Mrs. Dr. G. L. Simmons, Mrs. Dr. T. W. Huntington, Mrs. Colonel E. R. Hamilton, Mrs. A. Van Voorhies, Mrs. Charles Dillman, Mrs. Tillie Fritz, Mrs. Charles McCreary, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. J. E. Hill, Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Joseph Dillman.

The ladies who have attended these lessons given by Mrs. Hineckley feel that AGAINST NEILSON. Judge Van Fleet Decides the "Progress" Saloon Dispute.

The suit of J. M. Neilson against Constable Frank Swift was decided by Superior Judge Van Fleet yesterday in favor of the defendant.

This verdict is really a victory for T. M. Lindley & Co., as it was they who were most interested in the outcome of the suit, and defended Swift. As has already been published, Neilson claimed that he was the owner of the "Progress" saloon on K street, and wanted damages because Swift had served a search warrant upon the place last December and took possession of it on attachment. The attachment, it seems, was the result of a non-payment of a large liquor bill due to T. M. Lindley & Co., from Neilson's brother, who had charge of the saloon.

Neilson claimed that Lindley & Co. claimed that Neilson's brother was either the real owner of the saloon or else he represented it as such in order to defraud the public and his creditors.

Lindley & Co. stuck to the saloon with liquor on the belief that Neilson's brother was the proprietor, and set forth that J. M. Neilson's sleeping in was an attempt to swindle them.

SUMMER PASTIMES. Young People Preparing for the Lawn Tennis Season.

Now that the weather has settled down to the average summer standard, those who take an interest in outdoor exercise are preparing for action.

The Lawn Tennis Club will start in on Saturday next, and the members anticipate a season of rare sport. They have a superb court on the west side of the Agricultural Pavilion. There is also talk of the resumption of archery—a pastime that is older than civilization itself, and has always been popular, especially among the ladies and gentlemen of England. It has been immortalized in this country by Maurice Thompson in a charming volume, "The Witchery of Archery." There is no more healthful nor inspiring outdoor amusement for either sex than archery, when there will be several ladies—and young men, too, of sedentary pursuits—who might take it up with great benefit to the muscles.
