

OF FASHIONABLE TINT.

The New Government Building Will be Terra Cotta.

It Will Be Built of Iono Sandstone--Kreuzberger & Harvie Get the Contract.

There has been all sorts of speculations indulged in of late as to the character of the material of which the new Government building at Seventh and K streets is to be constructed...

The Krieger office received a dispatch last night from its special telegraphic agent in Washington, which says: "Contrary to expectation, Kreuzberger & Harvie of Sacramento were today awarded the contract for constructing the new public building at Sacramento."

The bid of J. P. M. Phillips of San Francisco was the lowest, if the building should be built of either granite or limestone, as originally intended, but the department finally concluded to build it of Iono red sandstone.

"Kreuzberger & Harvie's bid of $115,000 was the lowest made for sandstone work, and they received the bid accordingly. The other bids for the work in sandstone facings were as follows: J. P. M. Phillips, $120,000; Bartie Kreuzberger, $119,000.

"The building must be completed in eighteen months or less time. Supervising Architect of the Treasury Edbrooke today sent a letter to Kreuzberger & Harvie, advising them of this result, and directing them to communicate with James Seadler, Superintendent of the building, immediately, and arrange for commencing the prosecution of the work at once. The drawings were inclosed. Though the facings of the building will be in Iono red sandstone, the steps will be of granite.

The contractors' bond is fixed at $46,000.

SMITH'S TROUBLES.

The Divekeeper in Jail and His Dead-fall Closed.

J. D. Smith, accused of complicity in the brutal assault and robbery of Robert Allen, appeared before Superior Judge Van Fleet again yesterday for arraignment.

Smith's attorney, Hiram Johnson, demurred to the return information filed by District Attorney Ryan, and after hearing the argument the Court overruled the demurrer. Smith was then arraigned and pleaded "not guilty." His trial was fixed for the 24th of July.

Yesterday afternoon, Attorney W. A. Anderson petitioned the Superior Court for a writ of habeas corpus in Furlong's case. In the petition it is recited: "That said Furlong has been committed to a criminal charge of robbery without any reasonable or probable cause; that the evidence upon which said Furlong was held is not sufficient to justify his detention; that since his incarceration creditors sprang up on all sides and took possession. A big breach of the law and fixtures were all moved out yesterday, and the remains of the once notorious deadfall.

LILLIE AND KITTY.

The Women Who Are Accused of Robbing High-Roller McCord.

In the Police Court yesterday the cases of Lillie Swain and Kitty Keenan, charged with grand larceny, were called, but on account of the absence of the complaining witness they were continued until Saturday.

The defendants are the girls whom a young sport named McCord accused of having robbed him of a couple of hundred dollars during the spring racing meeting in this city some weeks ago. When McCord made the complaint the females were nowhere to be found, and after waiting here several days, in the hope that they might be arrested, he left for Portland, Or.

The defendants returned to the city a few days ago and gave themselves up. McCord has been telegraphed for, and was expected here last Monday, but has not yet put in an appearance.

If he does not appear Saturday the cases will probably be stricken from the calendar.

TOUR OF THE TAYLORS.

They Manage to Get as Far as Marysville and are "Broke" Again.

J. A. Mahan, the Marshal of Marysville, sent word to Chief Drew yesterday, inquiring whether or not a man giving the name of E. F. Taylor, having a wife and three children, were worthy objects of charity. They claimed to have come from Sacramento, and said they were poverty-stricken.

The Taylors are the same that were cared for in this city a few days ago. Officers Gibson and Wilson collected $70 for them in Swain and Keenan in procuring transportation to Hillsboro, Or.

Jailer White telegraphed these facts to authorities at Marysville, and remarked that he thought the Taylors were frauds. Probably Taylor was robbed again since leaving Sacramento.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL.

Andrew Foote Makes a Virtue of Necessity and Weds His Jessie.

Andrew H. Foote, the young man who was arrested at Nicolaus and brought here on a charge of seduction, preferred by Jessie Waters, had an interview with his accuser yesterday, in the private office of Chief Drew.

He was brought from his cell, and immediately upon meeting him the girl threw her arms about his neck and kissed him. They talked the matter over pleasantly, and as a result Foote concluded to marry her.

The pair left the jail in company with City Attorney Hagan, and went to the Courtroom, where a marriage license was procured, and shortly afterward the two were married by Justice Henry.

CRAWLING UP.

The Sacramento Ball Team is Now in Second Place.

It Got There by Administering a Severe Drubbing to the San Jose League Leaders.

The ball game here this week ought to draw large crowds. The Sacramento and San Jose teams are very evenly matched, and usually exciting contests are played. To-day's game will commence at 3 o'clock. Hoffman and Lookabaugh will do the pitching.

It was "Bossie" McGuirk's hard hitting that won Sacramento the game yesterday. Not content with sending four runners across the plate by his terrific drives, he also made a tally himself, and won the bulk of the applause from the audience.

There was a fair week-day crowd in attendance, and those of the cranks who went out expected to see a red-hot contest. It was just about as nicely played game as the average "blencher" could ask for. Sacramento won, but San Jose was right in the contest all along and kept a great "hustle" on McCloskey's team. They played just as hard to make a run in the last inning as they did in the first, and the contest was finished with no slackness in the long drive. "Bossie" played throughout the preceding eight innings.

Each club knew that victory was no sure thing, and two or three runs difference in the score was not sufficient to make the San Jose men give up, or cause the Senatorial aggregation to ease up in the slightest degree.

But good-natured "Old Pard" McGuirk was in his element. For the past two weeks he had been waiting patiently to "hit Harper" and three times he connected with George's side-arm "twisters" and "change of pace" balls struck terror into the gardeners. He commenced his fireworks in the long drive, "Bossie" had gained the first corner by letting four bad ones go by, and was advanced to second by Sunday's hit. McGuirk then poked out a quiet two-run homer, and bell rang out one run. Peoples had scored, and that was the only tally gained in the inning.

"Bossie's" time to bat came round again in the third inning and he found Sunday and Works on the bags. "To posse again" quoth he, and by a dexterous swing, "his" eye caught the ball low and raised it into the air just out of the reach of Stallings and McVey.

He gained second on Everett's bank and subsequently scored on Everett's bank error, in letting an easy grounder roll by him.

McGuirk's opportunity came again in the seventh inning and he drove out nearly the same kind of a hit that scored the runs in the third inning, but it was further and harder and he was safe on the third cushion before the ball had been fielded. Works, who had reached the initial on "four balls," sprinted around the bases on the long drive, and McGuirk pretty side landed him safe just in the nick of time.

At the San Jose club made its runs in the fourth, sixth and seventh innings, a couple of three-baggers by Stallings and another by Ehrig doing the business.

No fault could be found with the fielding of either club. Peoples made a couple of errors but he so seldom errs that his mistakes can readily be overlooked. McGuirk committed an error in allowing Ehrig to reach second base. He missed a throw ball, or rather dropped it and could not get it again in time to head Ehrig off at the center bag.

Stapleton played third base neatly, and kept up his batting record.

McCloskey, McGuicken and McVey did some good work in the out-of-order line. Speer and Spies caught their pitches well. Speer allowed a passed ball, but then this is not an unusual thing with the little catcher when he gets to worrying over the outlook when his club is behind.

Donahue umpired in a satisfactory manner.

Following is the score:

RELIEVED OF SUFFERING.

Death of a Young and Promising Nativite Son Sacramento.

Guy Thornton Platt, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Platt of this city, died at the residence of his parents, at 1115 D street, yesterday morning at 7:15 o'clock. Master Guy was born June 14, 1876, and hence was nearly 15 years of age. He will be buried on his birthday, next Sunday, the 14th, at 3 p. m., from the Calvary Baptist Church.

Deceased was a remarkably bright boy, and was loved and admired by a vast number of friends in Sacramento and vicinity, as well as in Los Angeles and elsewhere. He was a pupil in the Sacramento Grammar School, and was a general favorite because of his active, joyous life, and kind and loving disposition. He will be greatly missed by his schoolmates, who had learned to regard him as a leader. He was a manly, courageous, self-reliant boy, and though he was, when in good humor, full of youthful spirit and fun, yet he was always gentlemanly, kind and courteous, and was as much respected and loved among adults as among his playmates.

For nearly six months he had been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, which had extended to the heart. For nearly three months he had been in Los Angeles, where he was taken by his parents in the hope that the change would be beneficial. For the past three weeks he had been at his home here, as it was found that no benefit had resulted to him in the south.

He knew he was to die, and met his fate cheerfully, fearlessly and with the utmost composure. With his last words he sent kindly messages to his friends, and when the power of speech failed him, he still, by signals with his eyes, answered the loving questions of those about him, testifying his affection for them. He died, showing that heroes may be young in years and that even a boy may possess a dauntless spirit and a gallant heart.
