AT LOGGERHEADS. The Supreme Court could not agree in Vance's Case. Sheriff Stanley has returned from San Francisco with M. Vance, who was before the Supreme Court on a writ of habeas corpus. Vance, it will be remembered, was confined in the County Jail here for contempt of court, but he was released on bail pending an appeal in the shape of habeas corpus, and when the appeal was denied Vance insisted that his sentence and expired during the time he was out on bail. He was locked up again, however, and made an appeal for a writ of habeas corpus. The Justices were unable to agree upon a verdict, some of them inclining to the argument of Vance's attorney, A. W. Carpenter, and others to the contrary. The Supreme Court had decided that Mr. Vance was admitted to bail or re-

MRS. McCLELLAN'S MISFORTUNE.

In a Moment of Insanity She Smothers Her Babe.

Alleged Desertion and Ill Treatment by Her Husband—She Has Relatives Here.

The Fresno papers contain accounts of an unfortunate affair that occurred there on Friday last, resulting in the death of the infant child of a Mrs. J. A. McClellan, whose husband is a newspaper compositor there. It appears that Mrs. McClellan and her husband had separated, and she recently came to Sacramento County with her two children, making her home with her parents, several miles from this city. She returned to Fresno on Friday, and that night is said to have been discovered, by a visiting fireman in the same hotel, in the act of smothering her youngest child. An officer was summoned, and a little later, it is said, Mrs. McClellan was seen to thrust her finger down the child's throat. She was arrested and locked up, and the next morning the child died—reports state from the effects of the choking. One of the local reporters called on the mother at the jail, when she told the following story of her alleged wrongs: "I am 20 years old, am a type-setter, and have been married between two and three years. I lived in Los Angeles with my husband about two years. He is a printer, and when the strike threw him out of work he did not support me. He never tried to get work after he lost his job as a printer. He drank hard. "He came to Fresno and got work on a paper here. I followed him and he refused to care for me. He claimed that he was not making any money, and the same time was earning from $20 to $25 a week. "I wanted him to support the children, even if he would not support me. He took the children from me and left them with some family in the edge of town, and for a while he would not let me know where they were. "At last he gave them to me if I would promise to take care of them. I took them to my aunt's, near Sacramento. That was about three months ago. "My mother lives about four miles from Sacramento, and I have a room there. I went to live with them. They are well-to-do people, and were willing to take care of me. "But I wanted my husband to take the children, and wrote to him that if he would do so I could provide for myself. "My aunt gave me the money, and on Friday I came, having sent word to my husband to meet me at the depot. He did not meet me, but sent another man, with whom I refused to go. I went to the home of my mother. "They accused me of trying to kill my baby, and sent me to jail. That was only because I had no money. "Mrs. McClellan begged to be allowed to leave the jail, saying she would take her children and go to her home. She did not know of the death of her child, and the opinion was expressed that she was out of her mind. Her husband had left Fresno on her arrival there."

SWANSON'S JOY.

He is Fined Only $15 for Thumping One of His Men.

George Swanson, the well-known cat-dancer, who was arrested Wednesday evening for thumping one of his employees, James Denham, was brought before Justice of the Peace Henry yesterday. Swanson promptly pleaded guilty to the charge of battery preferred against him. "Yes, I plugged him," he said, "and I gave it to him good. He has been a nuisance around the ranch for some time. He called himself the John L. Sullivan of the place, and was always squaring off to everybody. He took a delight in telling the other hands that he was a regulation prize-fighter, and he was constantly abusing a boy who is employed there called Zwald, the man who says he killed two wives in the East. I got tired of his bullying, and thought I would take a little of the fight out of him—and I succeeded." The fact that Swanson is about half the size of Denham caused everybody to laugh when he made this statement. "I told Henry that he thought a fine of $15 would cover all the damage done and satisfy the law. "Much obliged—that's cheap enough," Swanson said joyfully. "Why, I'll pay that much again to give him another drubbing." Swanson promptly paid the fine and then invited all the court officers, spectators, etc., "down to the corner."

THE WEATHER.

It Improves Somewhat, But Yesterday Was Rather Hot.

The wind was from the south yesterday, and people suffered far less than for several days past, but for all that it was too hot for the comfort of those who were obliged to be on the street or had to labor outdoors on the outside. Reports received from various fruit-growing districts are to the effect that the hot spell has done a great deal of injury to the crops, in some of the more exposed localities the effect being to lay the crops especially on the moist bottom lands along the rivers—the loss will be very light from this cause, but out on the plains it looks fair to be quite heavy. The temperatures here at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. yesterday, according to the United States Weather Bureau, were 69° and 87°; while the highest and lowest were 100° and 66°, with gentle southerly breezes and a cloudless sky. The highest and lowest temperatures one year ago yesterday were 81° and 54° and one year ago to-day were 87° and 54°. During the entire month of July in 1890 there were but three days on which the temperature was 100° or lower, and they were the 23d, 26th (102°) and 27th (101°).

Chosen Friends' Installation.

Last evening the following newly-elected officers of Friendship Council, No. 65, O. C. F., were installed: Councilor, J. Neil Dodson; Vice-Councilor, Mrs. A. M. Teit; Prelate, Mrs. M. L. Johnson; Secretary, E. R. Teit; Treasurer, E. H. Koffler; Marshal, Frank W. Carpenter; Vanden, Mrs. M. E. Schardin; Guard, C. D. Monaghan; Sentry, Ferdinand Gledic. Members of the council and visiting brothers and sisters enjoyed a pleasant evening after the council work was concluded.

In the Police Court.

The examination of Peter Rintoul, charged with burglarizing a room in the Clinic building, was partly heard in the Police Court yesterday. The defendant was given until to-day to subpoena witnesses in his behalf. The case of Mrs. Christman, charged with battery, was continued until to-day. At dark move up M to Tenth, K to Second, to J, to Tenth and around the Plaza. Immediately the illiterate exercises will be held in the Plaza, Hon. E. C. Hart, Honorary Chief Cook of the Honor, William B. Hamilton; Post Larist, Fred E. Day.

Joseph Davis' Hallucination.

An insane man named Joseph Davis was taken from the Police Station to the County Jail yesterday to be examined by the Commissioners in Lunacy. Davis imagines that somebody is writing his biography, and in it they accuse him of having committed the Ivet murder at Mercy.

Output of the Potato Belt.

Immense quantities of potatoes were shipped East from this State during the month of June. The Southern Pacific Company handled more cars of that kind of "fruit" than in any previous year, even during the months of August and September, when the heaviest shipments are made.

Governor Markham Improving.

M. R. Higgins, Private Secretary to Governor Markham, received a telegram yesterday from General Johnson at Pasadena stating that the Governor was much better, and that the family were enjoying good health.

Syrup of Figs.

Produced from the laxative and nutritious Juice of California figs, combined with the medicinal virtues of plants known to be most beneficial to the human system, acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds and headaches, and curing habitual constipation.
