Iowa Hill Miners Petition Our Supervisors to Go Slow.

They say They Are Doing No Injury—Sacramento Citizens Join the Petitioners—Who They Are.

Yesterday afternoon a committee of citizens from Iowa Hill, Placer County, composed of Messrs. S. M. Sprague, J. F. Brown and M. R. Gleason, appeared before the Supervisors and presented a petition on behalf of the people of the locality, requesting the board to withhold its proposed action looking to the procurement of permanent injunctions against the Iowa Hill hydraulic mines.

It was accompanied by a petition from merchants and business men of Sacramento to the same effect. Mr. Brown addressed the Board, urging its members to visit and examine the workings of the mines before proceeding to the extremely proposed. "If you are satisfied we are doing harm," said the petitioner, "then let the injunction issue."

Mr. Brown claimed that the top soil had all been removed, and that the mines were now operating in gravel, which was not washed into the river or its tributaries. The Sacramento County should insist on permanent injunctions, he hoped the terms thereof would be so modified as to permit the miners to dig for gravel beds, which would do no harm to the rivers or the valley lands. The petition reads as follows:

FROM CITIZENS OF IOWA HILL, PLACER COUNTY, CALIF., JULY 8, 1891. To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the County of Sacramento—GENTLEMEN: Whereas, proceedings have been commenced by the County of Sacramento to enjoin all the hydraulic mines which have been operating at Iowa Hill and vicinity during the season last past, and believing from the statements and affidavits filed in the several actions thereon, that there has been a gross misrepresentation of the facts and circumstances connected therewith, the undersigned citizens and residents of Iowa Hill, Placer County, respectfully beg leave to present to your honorable body a statement of the facts in relation thereto.

First—That the supply of water in this section for hydraulic mining purposes is very limited, the sources of supply being from the hydraulic mines, from fifteen miles above here, with a comparatively small area of water-shed, the previous main sources of water supply having been cut off by the dams being burned, and ditches broken and filled up, with no encouragement in the present situation of hydraulic mining to make the necessary repairs.

Second—That the periods in which the several companies are engaged in hydraulic mining do not on an average exceed sixty days for each season, and that the gravel operated upon is coarse and cemented so that but a small quantity can be removed. Third—That the gravel and debris from the said hydraulic mining flows into Indian Canyon, a tributary of the North Fork of the American River, and is deposited in said canyon at the junction of seven miles above the junction of said river. The said canyon having a very light grade, nearly all of said gravel and debris so deposited in said canyon remains indefinitely, not affected by any winter freshets, as the head and source of said canyon being but about four miles above the point of deposit, the amount of drainage into the same is very small; and as most of the heavy storms are accompanied with snow at the head of said canyon, which, within a mile of the head rises quite abruptly to an altitude of about twelve hundred feet above the point of deposit of said gravel and debris therein, the said snow and rain will have any material effect in the removal of said gravel and debris from said canyon.

Fourth—That the hydraulic mines in this section have of late years been worked in a limited manner with small heads of water and but a short period of time each season, and that the heavy and heavy the lighter deposits having been previously removed the gravel remaining is small in quantity, and of such character that it can only be removed by the working and mining the same would not be appreciable.

Fifth—That there is a considerable area of bed-rock in the section containing the mines in this section from working be dismissed or modified, as from a full knowledge of the attending circumstances may to your honorable body seem meet and proper.

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF SACRAMENTO—GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned citizens of the city and county of Sacramento, believing that the facts hereinbefore stated are substantially correct, would respectfully ask your honorable body to visit in person the mining section above mentioned, and herein referred to, to see and know and advise in person on the premises, and do or cause to be done therein as the end may require.

BLASTED LIVES.

Two Degraded Girls Who Say They Are From Sacramento.

When the names of Lillie White and Alice Davis were called for sentence for vagrancy in Judge Worley's court this morning, said the San Francisco Report of last evening, Bailiff O'Connor's usually pale face was covered with blushes as he approached the Judge and wiped away a tear.

"Your honor," said he, "those poor girls are so badly wrecked that they are unable to appear for sentence."

"They ought to be here," said the Judge, "for I have decided to send them to the House of Correction for three months."

"Don't sentence them for a moment," said O'Connor, "if they want to send you anywhere."

Then the slender bailiff descended into the gloomy prison with the agility of an athlete, and he was soon in front of the bars, before two pitiable girls.

"E-I-I," said Lillie White, "for we use six months," said Lillie White, "for we use six months to get cured," and the trembling victims in a morbid panic leaped helplessly into the gloom of the jail, the sound of sobbing being sung by four female members of the band of Hope.

While in the jail the girls confided to Judge Worley the secret of their downfall. They told him that they had belonged to good families in the country, one at Sacramento, and that they took morphine at first "just for fun," because a Chinese friend had told them how nice it was. Since arriving in San Francisco their longing for the drug has led them to the depth of degradation. When arrested on Third street they were taken to a room with negroes and the lowest class of white men.

DID SOME PUNCHING.

Brothers-in-Law Have an Engagement on J Street.

There was quite a little commotion on J street, near Sixth, yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock.

Two young men, whom it was afterward learned were John and Michael Desmond, were seen to hurry up the street and to enter Gordon's tailoring establishment. Then there was a rummup. Those who happened to be in the street saw the two brothers exercising their muscles on a young man who is employed in the establishment, named Harold Ritter.
